NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says

Mrs Jeanett Te schout, W Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped, sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use I was so promptly relieved that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

Matting Has Many Uses

Straw matting may be put to many uses beside the conventional one of covering floors.

Table covers may be made of the fine, closely woven Japanese matting hemmed at each end.

As a finish to the lower part of a wall matting which is not too heavy serves quite as well as burlap and is a change from the more usual covering.

Settee cushions may be made, or at least covered, with the fine, pliable kind of matting, to match the strip on the porch floor.

Window shades and awning to keep the sun off, which are tied back or rolled up when not in use, are also practical made of matting.

They are hemmed top and bottom and hung upon rings at the top which in turn are hung on little brass hooks screwed into the window frame or porch beam.

The New "Stoop" Walk.

Womankind is achieving a new walk—or rather, the new walk has been thrust upon her by the requirements of the present coat styles All the fashionable evening coats are drawn in at the bottom of the back and slope upward loosely at the front. This necessitates a measured rather mincing step which, with the slight bend of the body forward under the weight of the big fur collars and because of the necessity of lifting the skirts from the pavement or steps, produces a pretty, graceful and very feminine attitude, quite different from the rather independent stride engendered by the short skirts worn for the past season or two.

The bed, of course, is mother to the cradle.

Distance lends enchantment to the painted face.

"Provoked" the Indians.

When the late General Edward M. McCook lived in Pike's Peak he once presided at a dinner in honor of a famous Indian fighter, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Mr. Cook, as he then was, concluded his introduction of the Indian fighter with the words:

"I can find but one fault with the colonel's methods. I allude to his well-known custom of enlisting in his regiment only bald-headed men. To aggravate the Indians' feelings so cruelly as that is carrying war too far."

One Too Many for Him.

A man, who looked to be a giant in strength, brought his meek little wife before the magistrate, charging her with cruel treatment of himself, an uncontrollable temper and an incorrigible disposition.

The magistrate looked the big fellow over suspiciously and glancing sympathetically at his slip of a wife, asked the husband: "Well, sir, what have you to say for yourself? What business do you follow?"

"I am a lion-tamer, your honor," was the proud reply.

Knife Duels in Mexico.

A duel between cattle herders on the Mexican plains is about as savage and deadly a manner of fighting as one could possibly imagine. Each opponent extends his left arm, and a third party who has been selected to act as referee binds their wrists together with a thong of rawhide. He then places a knife in the right hand of each, and the fight is on. Needless to say, it does not last long. Every stab may be calculated upon to do damage, and it often happens that both duelists receive fatal wounds. Yet, in spite of the severe rules of the game, there are men who become experts and terrorize a whole neighborhood. They pride themselves on being able to strike so quickly and so surely that they can kill an opponent with the first blow and get away unscathed.—Exchange.

RICH MAN A SUICIDE

Anne Boleyn and the Lemon.

Who ever thinks of connecting such a commonplace article of diet as the lemon with the romantic history of ill fated Anne Boleyn? Yet indirectly she was the cause of its first introduction into England and so into popular notice. Henry VIII. gave such splendid feasts and pageants in honor of the coronation of Anne and of their previous nuptials as had seldom been accorded to queens of the blood royal. These kingly entertainments were in turn followed by the great civic feasts of London, for which the whole world was searched for delicacies to add to the splendor. At one such banquet, graced by the presence of the royal pair, a lemon was introduced as an elegant novelty. To an epicure such as Henry the acquisition of a castle in France would have proved less acceptable, and such was the importance attached to the discovery—so says an old biographer—that a special record was made of the fact that the cost of this precious lemon was six silver pennies!

An Architectural Curiosity.

There are many churches throughout England which are without tower or spire, but there are few churches which can boast of having a tower and spire side by side. One of these is the parish church of Ormskirk, in Lancashire. The tower is built over the porch at the west end, and the spire is placed as closely as possible to it. The origin of this architectural freak has not been ascertained, but there is a tradition to the effect that when Orme, the Saxon pirate from whom the town derives its name, decided to construct a kirk, or church, as an expiatory offering for his evil deeds his two daughters quarreled over the design for the structure. One determined to have a tower; the other was equally resolved to have a steeple. As neither of them would give way the pirate chief acceded to both their wishes, and the curious may see the tower and spire still keeping watch side by side on the surrounding country.

SOLDIERS ACTIVE AT SAN ANTONIO

Mexicans on Fence Watch Americans at Work.

HOSPITAL CORPS ON GROUND

Capt. William A. Wickline and Company of One Hundred Men and Three Officers Arrive from Washington.

San Antonio, March 13.—Seven barefooted Mexicans perched like scare crows on the top rail of the fence surrounding the property of the San Antonio Brick company and saw what there was to see in the cactus-strewn and mud-splattered yards of the railroad company's spurs. Under their steeple hats the Mexicans' faces were as immobile as those of wooden Aztec gods, only their eyes roved and from their lips came continuous thin streams of cigarette smoke.

What those passive Mexicans saw was "El Gringo" on the hustle. "El Gringo" in this instance was a great parcel of cavalrymen, artillerymen and horse wranglers, switchmen, roustabouts and mounted officers of the United States army, snaking stores, horses and cannon off cars innumerable. To the sad eyed brothers from over the Rio Grande this was an incomprehensible expenditure of energy, things were being done in a most remarkable manner.

There, from the fence on which the Mexicans perched, away over to the thin bridge that lifted above the network of tracks a half mile away was nothing but trains and more trains, standing side by side on brother spurs, waiting to be unloaded. Every hour or so a restless little switch engine would skitter down from the wilderness of tracks somewhere up the line, take a grip on a string of cars that had been emptied and go snorting off to return like a retrieving dog with a full string pushing ahead of its nose. The half hours were punctuated by the arrival of troop trains from the north and east, out of which infantrymen and cavalry troopers piled pell mell and marched off to the signal of the bugle.

The downpour of the night had converted the detraining yards into a contour map of bogs and small seas.

There into the midst of the flooded yards came the second battalion of the third field artillery, comprising Batteries D., E. and F., all the way from Fort Meyer, Va. In three sections they came, each train composed of stock cars for the horses, long links of flat cars, whereon the guns were blocked and strapped, and then at the end the tourist Pullmans for the men and the first class Pullmans for the officers. The sections were separated on their arrival by an hour and more, and as each nondescript string of cars which had traveled thus on passenger train schedule across the continent pulled into the yards men and officers set to work with ordered haste to remove their impediments.

Gun after gun and caisson after caisson were lowered from their places on the flat cars by block and tackle, harness came out of unnumbered piles of dunnage, whiffle trees rattled as the chain traces were being hooked up and with yelling artillerymen on both leaders' backs, flinging their arms and mouthing artistic oaths, the guns lurched through the yard that leads to the reservation. Before sundown every gun was packed on the hill designated in the blue print of the encampment.

Capt. William A. Wickline's Company C, of the hospital corps, one hundred men and three officers from Washington, pulled into the yards.

While Capt. Wickline's men were busy unloading medicine chests, cots and hospital supplies of infinite variety from one of the freght cars which just preceded the Pullmans, a train pulled up bringing the full complement of the third battalion, engineering corps, from Port Leavenworth, Kan.

CALLS MOVEMENT REHEARSAL

German Paper Infers That American Army Is Weak.

Berlin, March 13.—In commenting upon the mobilization of the army, The Koelnische says:

"While admitting that Washington's secrecy prevents determining whether the mobilization of the United States army is due to American fears of Japan's mighty army and the knowledge of her own weakness there are reasons for the belief that the present movement of troops is in the nature of a rehearsal of the mobilization which may be directed against Japan."

When the girl was placed on the stand, however, she refused to substantiate the charges

DELAY FIXING SALOON LIMIT

Representatives of "Wets" and "Drys" Appear Before Commissioners.

Brazil, Ind., March 13. — After listening to representatives of the "wet" and "dry" factions the board of commissioners deferred action on fixing the saloon unit and it is likely that the board will act on the matter next Tuesday.

Representatives of the Good Citizens' league, the would-be saloon men and residents of the city were before the board asking for various limits. The good citizens ask for a 1,000 population unit, some of the saloon men favored the unit, while other "wet" factions wanted a 700 or a 500 unit. Mayor Bray, speaking in behalf of the city of Brazil, stated that he was in favor of a 1,000 population unit if the Good Citizens' league would agree not to call an option election. Otherwise he would favor a 500 unit.

IN THE FLOOD

Jimmy Woods thought it was a funny flood. In fact he would have enjoyed it hugely had he only known the whereabouts of pretty Alice Morgan. As it was, however, he paced agitatedly back and forth on the little patch of roof upon which he was being borne swiftly down the broad, muddy stream. Undoubtly he was lucky to have even this small refuge from the waters, but he did not consider this aspect of the case. He thought only of Alice.

As Jimmy paced he glanced about him. On every side were chairs, trees, tables and various other articles swept from their abiding places when the dam burst. Fortunately most of the people had been warned and had left the city in time to escape. Had Alice been amoung them.

Suddenly Jimmy stopped his pacing and placed his hand eagerly above his eyes, shading them from the sun, as he gaze intently at some approching object. It was evidently a table or some other article, just awash, and with a woman clinging precariously to its slippery surface. Jimmy gasped. It was undoubtly Alice! Fortune and the stream bore Jimmy's roof and the other article together, and Jimmy had soon transferred the girl to his secure conveyance.

"Dear," cried Jimmy, as he hugged her close. "I was afraid—horrible afraid; but now that I have you here,—

The girl smiled up at him.

"I'm not afraid either — now," she replied.

Presently she sat up and brushed the water from her eyes.

"Do you know," she declared inconsequently, "the thing that is bothering me most now, is that we'll soon drift out of this county and it'll be days before the water will subside sufficiently for us to go back home. In the meantime we lose our residence in some other county before we can get a marriage license—and we were to have been married this week!"

Jimmy laughed heartily.

"Don't let a little thing like a little wait trouble," he cried, "after his narrow escape. Anyhow—hello," he cried suddenly, "what's that?"

Alice gazed in the direction at which Jimmy pointed and saw two men on a wobbly roof, rapidly approaching them. One man carried a pile of books under his arm while the other wore a white tie.

"As I live," cried Jimmy, "its the Rev. Samuel Boggs and that man with him is the town clerk—do you suppose— do you suppose, dear, that those books and papers the clerk has are"——

His question unfinished. Jimmy gazed ardently at the girl. She colored beneath his glance. In a moment the approaching roof had bumped into Jimmy's unseaworthy craft, and the two began floating peacefully down the stream together.

"Glad to see you, glad to see you," cried Jimmy effusively. "And say, Mr. Clerk, pardon the question, but are those blanks and documents"——

"Sure" cried the clerk, with an expansive smile, "when the flood came I picked up the only things near me, and here they are—the marriage licenses. Can I sell you one?"

"You bet," Jimmy yelled, happily, "and hurry up and tie the knot before we float out of the county, Mr. Boggs please. Alice's idea may be all rubbish, but I don't want to take any chances."

"After you've been two weeks in the house with one of these terrible handy men that ask their wives to be sure and wipe the tines of the forks, and they know just how much raising bread ought to have and how to hang out a wash so each piece will get the best sun, it's a real joy to get back to the ordinary kind of man. Yes 'tis so!" Mrs. Gregg finished, with much emphasis. "I want a man who should have sense about the things he's meant to have sense about but when it comes to keeping house, I like him real helpless, the way the Lord planned to have him."

In the Midlands, England, twenty years ago, the master told the boys to write each a short essay on Columbus, and the following is the only one that has withstood the ravages of the tooth of Time. We give it complete:

"Columbus was a man who could make an egg stand on end without breaking it. The King of Spain said to Columbus, 'Can you discover America? 'Yes,' said Columbus, 'if you will give men a ship.' He had a ship and sailed over the sea where he trough America ought to be found. The sailors quarreled, and said they bi eved there was no such place; but, after many days, the pilot siad: 'Columbus, I see land.' 'Then that is America,' said Columbus. When the ship got near the land was full of black men. Columbus said, 'Is this America?' 'Yes, it is,' said they. 'I suppose you are Indians?' 'Yes,' they said, 'we are;' and the chief said, 'I suppose you are Columbus?' 'You are right,' said he. Then the chief turned to his men and said, 'There is no help for it; we are discovered at last.'"

Husband—If a man steals—no matter what it is—he will live to regret it.

Wife—During our courtship you used to steal kisses from me.

Husband—Well, you heard what I said.

THE APOLOGIZERS

There was a whoop and a bang at the front entrance to the sanctum of the Angel Ledge Weekly Pioneer, and six feet four of armed aggressiveness bounded inside, defying the scribes, the presses and the pen, which some say is mightier than the sword.

"Show your smutty, smeary faces, you loose-jointed, bald-headed paper-writers! Come out and fight like a man! Don't skulk in a tub of ink like a coyote! We-o-o-w-w!"

The amiable visitor took a chance shot at the ancient revolving globe, boring a great hole somewhere in Kamchatka.

There was a sound of hurried shuffling in the back of the old printery, as if the timid paper-writers might suddenly have been called to their homes and loved ones. A pause followed and then somebody's blue eyes showed at a bullet hole made in a flimsy partition by some previous equally well intentioned visitor.

"What is it, please!" asked a soft, delicate voice.

"Oh! We-o-o-w! Wow!" yelled the big man. Do you know who I am? I'm Ripsnorter Rufus from Cayenne Gulch!"

The delicate voice was heard in a little chuckle. "Honored—immensely. Want to you your subscription, Mr. Ripsnorter?"

Ripsnorter Rufus growled like a caged tigress. "Naw, I just want to bite you in two and throw one half in Salt Lake and the other half over the north pole, for printin' mean, measly lies and falsehoods about me in your this here Pioneer paper. Some cross-eyed crawfish named 'Buttercup' writ a piece about me killin' five men. And I wishes it distinctly understood that it were six."

"Tut, tut!" This is too bad!" scolded the lightsome voice, and a young lady emerged from behind the flimsy partition. "The mistake shall be corrected with apologies, Mr. Ripsnorter Rufus; but you owe the Pioneer $15 for shooting holes in the office geography."

The girl was fair and trim, with the winsome light of mischief shining from her blue eyes and a becoming but determined flush in her cheek. The bad man from Cayenne Gulch lowered his smoking weapon and opened his immense mouth. "Well, you can hang me to the tallest pine on Hurricane peak! Are you the editor of this here Pioneer pub-li-cation?"

The girl bowed and smiled. "The same—as you would know, if you were receiving our interesting and informing little paper every Friday at $1 a year."

The bad man reached into a capacious pocket and pitched a bag of dust upon the table. "There, that'll buy you a new geography ball big as Cloud mountain and colored like the rainbow. And here's another sack so as you can send me the Pioneer for the next thousand years."

The girl wrote rapidly in a big ledger and placed the golden treasure in a small iron safe. "Thanks," she acknowledged. "The mistake shall be corrected, and next week I will put in a news note that 'The Honorable Ripsnorter Rufus paid the Pioneer office a pleasant visit.'"

The big man smiled sheepishly, but did not depart. Instead, he twirled about on his heels and plucked at his enormous black mustache. "Aren't there some way, I can't help you with this here fine, nice paper, miss?"

The fair editor secured a large bundle of copies. "If you would distribute these samples, it might increase my subscription list around Cayenne Gulch."

"Hun!" grunted the bad man, taking the bundle. "Any miserable skinflint that don't subscribe for himself and every friend he's got back east has me to fight."

At the door he still tarried. "I'd like to call some time and apologize in a nice, quiet way for the howling and shouting I did a while ago."

She smiled again. "Thursday evening. The Cayenne Terror is coming tonight and Captain Turner tomorrow night and Sagebrush Simpson the next night to apologize for acting the same way. Goodbye."

The bad man scowled at the mention of the other names, then, grinning resignedly, departed. The girl reopened the safe and weighed the treasure sacks. "They all do that way," she smiled, in tender revery.

The Man—Yes, it's a pretty hat.

The Lady—I bought it on your account.

The Man—Yes; you generally do.

"I once did that man a favor which placed him forever in my debt."

"I have often wondered why he hated you so."

It is sometimes difficult to distinguish between opportunity and temptation.

When a man is willing to admit that he is a crank the chances are he isn't.

When a man's money is tied up there is nothing like a wife to untie it for him.

NATHAN SIMPSON.

Jackson Prison Warden, Who Favors Abolishment of Task System in Michigan Penitentiarie.

SIMPSON HAS PLAN.

Would Have Prisoners Work Given Number of Hours Daily.

Jackson, Mich., March 14.—To establish a definite number of hours as a day's work for the inmates of Jackson prison is the latest reform proposed by Warden Simpson, and it is expected he will inaugurate the change in the near future. The warden believes the inmates have too much time on their hands to hatch up insurrection and plan insubordination.

Under the present system each convict in the various shops is given a certain amount of work to accomplish, and when it is finished he is at liberty to work or not, just as he pleases. If he chooses to work he receives overtime pay, but if he doesn't work he may loaf about the shop. The warden will now make every effort to ascertain the average length of time it takes an inmate to finish his usual stunt, and when this is determined he will make a reasonable addition of time in which an inmate may work on his own overtime.

Grand Lodge For Michigan.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 14.—Two new grand lodges of the Woodmen of the World to represent Michigan will be organized in the city before the Woodmen's convention, which opened here Monday evening. Michigan Woodmen have belonged to a jurisdiction embracing neighboring states, but now, with 6,000 members in this state, a jurisdiction to include Michigan only is to be formed. One grand lodge will be for the men and the other for the ladies' auxiliary.

Takes a Chew; Dies.

Jackson, Mich., March 14.—Asking the prison hospital nurse for a chew of tobacco, Charles Stanton, a paralytic inmate of the state prison, took the plug, cut off a slice, lapsed into unconsciousness and died one minute after taking his last chew. Stanton was seventy-five years old and was sentenced from Grand Rapids for five to twenty-five years for criminal assault.

Wets Win at Cedar Springs.

Cedar Springs, Mich., March 14.—By the margin of a single vote this village voted wet in the village election. The question of whether the local ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor in the village should be sustained or not was submitted to the people, and they voted 115 yeas to 116 nays. It was also voted to bond the village for $15,000 for electric lighting purposes and securing new industries.

Believe in Fewer Saloons.

Battle Creek, Mich., March 14.—Three big brewery companies, the Anheuser-Busch, Pabst and the Schlitz, together with the Battle Creek brewery, have thrown their interests into the local option battle here in an unexpected way. They pledge their support to a movement limiting the saloons to one for every 1,000 population, instead of 500, in case Battle Creek goes wet this spring.

Dies on Interurban Car.

Saginaw, Mich., March 14.—Mrs. Elizabeth Nichol of Bay City, seventy-two years old, died on the interurban car while on her way to Saginaw to visit her son. Mrs. Nichol was taken ill on the car and before it could be stopped she was dead.

Major General Hodges Retires.

Chicago (Special).—Major General G. L. Hodges, in command of the department of the lakes, U. S. A., has closed his active service in the army, having reached the age of retirement. General Hodges has served forty years.

TROOPS TO BE RUSHED FORWARD

Fresh Uprisings In Mexico Are Momentarily Expected

CLOSE TO TEXAS BORDER LINE

Fifteen Carloads of Ball Cartridges Held on Sidetrack, Ready to Be Rushed Forward at Moment's Notice. American Rebels Will Receive No Quarter From Mexican Government.

San Antonio (Special).—Orders directing the movement of a large part or the whole of the divisional army now assembled under the command of General William H. Carter to the Mexican border in the vicinity of Eagle Pass and El Paso may be issued within the next three or four days. These orders will follow immediately upon a fresh outbreak of the Mexican insurrection in the hitherto unaffected district south of the Rio Grande, which is known by General Carter and the chief staff at Washington to be but waiting the signal of hostilities.

The fact that the commander of the army now assembled in San Antonio has not neglected to take the most minute precaution against just the contingency that may arise across the Rio Grande before the end of the week is demonstrated by the order which has gone to the local officials of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroad not to disintegrate a trainload of ammunition which is due to arrive in the railroad yards within the next few days. The ammunition, thirteen carloads of ball cartridges, will be sidetracked and will be held in readiness to be rushed forward at a moment's notice.

Another indication that rebel uprisings are about to occur close to the border line is the information that the consulate of the United States at Ciudad Porfirio Diaz, the Mexican town across the border from Eagle Pass, is guarded. This fact has been verified by long distance telephone.

MEXICO WILL RESENT INTERVENTION BY U. S.

Mexico will resent intervention by the United States or any other country to protect the lives and property of citizens resident in Mexico. In a statement Senor De la Barra, Mexican ambassador to the United States, declared Mexico believes herself fully competent to protect all interests in the country, not only her own, but those of foreigners.

UNITED STATES DEMANDS RELEASE OF AMERICANS

Washington (Special).—An investigation having convinced the American government that Edwin Blatt of Pittsburg and Lawrence Converse of Los Angeles, held as prisoners at Juarez, Mex., had been captured on American soil, the state department has asked the Mexican government to release them.

FEDERAL FORCES WON'T SHOW MERCY TO AMERICAN REBELS

New York (Special).—What may be considered in effect the official Mexican reply to recent representations said to have been made by the United States, asking as liberal treatment as possible for Americans caught bearing arms on Mexican territory, is contained in a statement made by Jose Yves Limantour, Mexican minister of finance. In substance it is indicated that captured American allies of the revolutionists will have to take their chances with their Mexican rebel companions. The indication is strong that no preferential treatment can be accorded them. This is considered to mean that under martial law they might be summarily tried and executed.

Violates Quarantine; Fined.

Pontiac, Mich., March 14.—For violating quarantine in a scarlet fever case, Daniel Vernon was fined $5 by Justice Stockwell. Vernon boarded at a house which contained a scarlet fever patient, and he persisted in visiting the place after being warned by the health authorities to keep away.

SENATOR CLAPP.

Minnesota Statesman Who Spoke to State Legislators at Lansing Monday.

REBELS WON'T DROP GUNS.

McCreary's Peace Messages Fail to Stop Honduras Revolt.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras (Special).—Notwithstanding that several notifications have been sent by Fenton E. McCreary, the American minister, to the revolutionary forces under Colonel Ferrari that the peace conference in Puerto Cortez had agreed on peace, and urging the suspension of military operations, Ferrari has refused to comply with this request and has occupied positions threatening Tegucigalpa.

Slight skirmishes have occurred outside the city. It is reported that the revolutionary forces number about 500, while the government has 1,200 now under arms here.

WOULD REBUILD TOWN.

Officials of Dupont Powder Co. Will Pay For Loss Following Explosion.

Kenosha, Wis. (Special).—The Dupont Powder company officers and directors, after an all-day meeting in the ruins of their plant at Pleasant Prairie, have promised to rebuild the village and to pay every cent of actual loss sustained by any person as a result of the explosion.

Pleasant Prairie, Wis. (Special).—With the country immediately surrounding the wrecked Du Pont de Nemours powder mill, which blew up here, a waste of dismantled homes, the first action of the residents is to seek the elimination of powder works from their county. Indignation meetings, at which this demand was voiced, have been held in Pleasant Prairie and at Kenosha.

The powder mill blew up last Thursday, wrecking many homes and killing one man outright. Many were injured. Property loss, $1,500,000.

DISORDERS MARK STRIKE.

Fierce Riots Accompany Beginning of Express Drivers' Labor Troubles.

New York (Special).—Disorders approaching riots marked the inception of the second express drivers' strike in New York within a year. Hooting, jeering mobs gathered about the big stables of the Adams Express company. They dragged non-union drivers from wagons, beat them, released several horses by slashing the harness and sent them galloping away.

The strikers claim that 1,500 men are out; the company said that 300 would be an ample guess. Both sides declare for a finish fight.

TAFT BEGINS VACATION.

Temporary Executive Mansion Established in Georgia Hotel.

Augusta, Ga. (Special).—President Taft began his eight-day vacation Saturday and established temporary executive mansion in Bon Air hotel.

The president has a suite like those occupied by dozens of others. He dines with the other guests in the ordinary dining room.

John D. Rockefeller is one of the guests, but he and the president have not yet met.

SENATOR CLAPP AT LANSING

Minnesota Statesman Addresses Legislators.

SPEAKS ON DIRECT LEGISLATION

Western Statesman Devoted Much Attention to Subject of Initiative, Referendum and Recall, Which He Heartily Favors—Is Opposed to Reciprocity Bill.

Lansing, Mich., March 14.—Both houses held abbreviated sessions Monday night in order to listen to Senator Clapp of Minnesota, who delivered a lengthy address on popular government and direct legislation. He declared that the recorded history of 6,000 years shows that progress has only been made as a result of protest, and that the protest has always been made by the common people. He also took the view that no government could be so laid out in advance as to take care of changing conditions and times.

Senator Clapp favored the direct election of senators, and also the initiative, referendum and recall, to which he devoted a great deal of attention.

Previous to the joint session Senator Clapp was tendered a reception in the executive parlors, where the members met him.

Talking privately, the senator when askd his stand on Canadian reciprocity, declared that he was opposed to the McCall tariff bill.

DELIVERY FRUSTRATED.

Deputy, While Making Rounds, Discovers Two Bombs Concealed in Jail.

Adrian, Mich., March 15.—A desperate attempt at jail delivery was nipped in the bud here. Deputy Cross, who has charge of the prisoners, while making the rounds of the corridors of the jail here, discovered two bombs concealed in a window of the jail. Upon examination and analysis they were found to contain a high explosive in sufficient quantities to wreck the jail completely.

Other paraphernalia necessary to the success of the delivery was later found.

That the plot was not a success was ascribed to the fact that the prisoners were unexpectedly transferred, on the day set for the delivery, to the second floor of the building in order that repairs might be made on the interior.

FOX CONVICTED.

Murderer of Flint Woman Adjudged Guilty in Quick Time.

Flint, Mich., March 14.—Frank Fox was convicted of murder in the first degree by a circuit court jury. The jury was out for two hours, but their decision was made within an hour. The jury held that the shooting of Ella Blade in this city on Feb. 2 was premediated, notwithstanding Fox's claim to the contrary.

The Fox case established a new record in Genesee court annals for speed in a murder trial.

Will Be $6.50 Per Capita.

Lansing, Mich., March 14.—Auditor General Fuller estimates that the primary school apportionment in May will amount to $6.50 per capita, which is slightly larger than last spring. He has collected since July $816.168 in taxes for this fund, of which the railroads have paid $32,492; the telephone and telegraph companies $25,483, while in inheritance taxes there has been collected $397,345; in franchise fees $46.889, and in insurance fees, $343,958.

Burned in Fire; Dead.

Detroit, Mich., March 14.—Mildred Bayer, aged seventeen, daughter of J. T. Bayer, 469 St. Aubin avenue, is dead in her home from a shock following burns she received two months ago. The girl was standing near a stove when her clothing caught fire, burning half her body. She was recovering when her heart gave out.

THE GOO GOO GIRLS with the "ISLE OF SPICE" at the BRALEY OPERA HOUSE TO-MORROW NIGHT

IN MEMORY

The beautiful and impressive services of the Episcopal church were held at the late home of Wm A. Burlingame Wednesday at 3 o'clock p. m., after which the body was conveyed to Brookside and laid beside his wife who preceded him to the Eternal City five years ago.

Two beautiful hymns were touchingly rendered indicative of the life beyond. The pall bearers, life long companions performed the last act they could for their friend. They were: A. D. Lawrence, W. A. Bordine, Chas. Everette, Robt. Stretch, George Merritt and Elbridge Hyde.

Flowers have always seemed the best emblem we have to express our love and from the wealth of flowers surrounding the sleeper, they showed in what high esteem he was held by the many friends that he had made during his life in Tecumseh. He was born on the old homestead farm at Newburg, August 23, 1847 where his childhood days were passed. His mother died in his early manhood, she was a sister of Judge Stacy. His father lived to a good old age, dying about 10 years ago. Mr. Burlingame was apprenticed and learned his trade at the Brewer foundry and worked there almost continously during his life except for the last 5 years.

Wm. A. Burlingame and Ellen M. Chase were married March 13, 1873. To them were born 5 children, Merton, Roy, Leon, Fay and Florence who were all here for the funeral. Beside these, there are left to mourn his loss his two sisters, Mrs. Etta Merritt and Miss Augusta Burlingame and two little grandsons. Few father's are held in such high esteem and love as was Wm. Burlingame by his children, each one vieing with the other to do something to make his life brighter and happier and he repaying them with equal love and devotion.

It is always hard when the messenger comes from the unseen land to claim a loved one and is it hard for these children to give him up and say "All is well."

CARD OF THANKS

The children of Wm. A. Burlingame wish to express their most sincere thanks to their friends for the many kindness'es shown them during their late great bereavement.

FRANK M. CLARK

Frank M. Clark died at his home on Cummins St. at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning after a long illness of a cancerous nature. He leaves to mourn his loss his wife and five children Edward E. Clark of Adrian, Mrs E. E. Haviland of Raisin Valley, Mrs. P. H. Hensen of Tecumseh, Mrs. Chas. Tyran of Jerome, and Mrs. August Splett Stvesseer of Palmyra. Also fivegrandchildren.

He was a member of the Friends church in Tecumseh. Brief services were held at the home on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock and further services at Raisin Valley church. He was laid at rest in the Raisin Valley Cemetry.

A LETTER FROM LONG BEACH, CALIF., ON TIDES

I am almost sorry that I promised to attempt a portrayal of those great breakers which did so much damage here last summer and fall, for I feel very much like the boy who got up to speak a piece and forgot how to begin it and made a failure of it, which I feel will be the case with me at this time. However having put my hand to the plow—pencil I mean—I will not look back, but will go with you and your readers, down out onto our pier and take a look at the ocean in a tantrum. We will go out to a point where the breakers begin to break and where we can get a good view in all directions. Facing the west on the west side of the pier, we see at our right the many objects which are receiving the terrific pounding of the breakers, the piling of the spiral airship, the double whirl, the roller-coaster, the merry-go-round and the cement bulk-head bordering and protecting the cement walk and buildings of the Pike. On the east side of the pier the waves and some floating pieces of piling are battering the piling of our fine Auditorium, passing under it and coming out on the pavement on the opposite side. Looking to our left probably 150 feet out over the ocean we see what at first seems to be a ridge forming, extending hundreds and hundreds of feet from the pier, as it approaches us it grows larger and higher, while others are forming and following it in rapid succession. As the first one reaches us it has attained the height of 6, 8 or 10 feet. You know how some snowbank are formed by the wind, the top of the bank projecting over one side of them in an irregular formation, you see a like formation in these monster waves just as they break over with a rush and a roar, settling into a sea of foaming waters, rushing shoreward to beat against any obstacles that it comes in contact with and by which it is turned back to come in contact with the incoming breakers and the force with which they meet causes a loud report much like the booming of a cannon, which is heard at a great distance back. It is surely a grand sight to see them rushing in and breaking over into great sheets of foam, sparkling in the sun or moon light. But portions of the pier washed out where the force of the breakers was the greatest. Great timbers were broken, split and splintered, great iron rods twisted into many shapes, large cement caisons toppled over into the sea, taking with them large iron crossbeams, where they now lie upon the bottom. Farther to the west you see where they are beating against and undermining cottages, toppling some of them into the sea—but, pshaw, I may as well stop right here, for as I remember how it looked and read over this attempt to reproduce it in words, I see that I have made a failure of it. Those who have seen them those who have seen good pictures of them, will readily see my failure and those who have not seen them will get a very imperfect idea of their grandure.

Feb. 8—We have been having our winter rains, which have been a great blessing to this country for the rainfall of the must carry us through the summer. Although we have not had as much as the country could stand and be benefited by it, but there have been enough enough to insure excellent crops of all kinds. Today has been as perfect as a Michigan June day (no, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Graves, I am not lying or exagerating or lying about it). Yesterday and today have been as perfect in every respect as a perfect June day in Michigan. If the readers had gone with me down onto the pier this afternoon, they would have seen a far different sight from the one I attempted to portray. The tides were very low and the water very calm, men, women and children were sporting in the surf and on the sands. Projecting over the lower deck of the pier there could have been counted over 100 fishpoles and those who had them in hand were taking in some of those "six-inch fish, such as they were taking in the day that Mr. Wilson visited the pier, and some much larger "honest, now much larger"—by the way those insignificant "six-inch fish" are mighty fine eating. January 28th Mr. J. Miller of Los Angeles was nearly dragged off the pier, by a 272 lb. black sea-bass, which caught his line and with a jerk started to swim away. Mr. Miller hung onto a piling and onto his line while a man in a row-boat went out and broughthim in with a gaff. A few days later two young men and two young ladies were in a thirty foot launch just off the end of the pier when a 20-foot shark weighing about 400 pounds took one of the young ladies' hooks, after a hard battle of nearly an hour and after one of the men had been dumped into the sea, the monster was gaffed and brought in. So you see we occasionally catch something besides "six-inch fish."

Feb. 9—Another June day in mid-winter. On the streets and on the piers and Pike, were seen all styles of custemes, women in furs, women with heads bare, some with light wraps, some without any wraps, men with and men without any overcoats, some of the fishermen are women.

$10,000 FOR WOMEN' RESIDENTIAL HALL.

A generous gift of $10,000 has just been received by the University of Michigan toward the building of a residental hall for women students. The subscription comes from William W. Cook, of New York City, and formealy of Hillsdale, Michigan.

For the last two years officers of the Alumni Association and of the University know what are the needs of the Institution, and to elicit the active interest of the alumni in the welfare of their Alma Mater. The present gift is partly the result of such interest, aroused in connection with the National Michigan Dinner given at New York City, February 4, by the New York alumni of the University of Michigan. Mr. Cook is a graduate of the Literarp Department of the University in 1880 and of the Law in 1883.

It is hoped by the organization of alumni association in every community where there are Michigan graduates to keep the alumni in touch with the University. President Hutchins and officers of the Alumni Association are actively engaged upon this work of organization at the present time.

WOMEN AS SUPERINTENDENTS OF SCHOOLS.

That woman is well fitted to fill the position of superintendent of our public schools goes without question and it is to be hoped that her right and qualifications will not be ignored. A Nebraska paper states that out of the 91 counties of the state 41 have women acting in that capacity with salaries ranging from $1,000 to $1,500 per year. Seven of these are serving their fourth term of two years each.

Women seem to be appreciated for what they are worth in Nebraska.

DOPE DREAMS

BY TOM ACKERS

We read of new-found stars who will
With mighty wallop pound the pill;
Phenoms who will the infield play
In manner quite like Lajoie
The moguls tell us now and then
Of mute, inglorious, unknown men
Who can, with ease, usurp the job
Of mighty Honus or Ty Cobb.
It's funny that we never see
These bushers of such high degree;
I certainly would like to know
Why they dissolve and vanish so.
We hear of players who, tho' green,
Are quite the best that have been seen;
First basemen who can show Hal Chase
Just how he ought to play his place
And so it goes from day to day
In senseless, endless, tiresome way;
Until I think the time is ripe
For moguls to cut out the "pipe"

BEST BATTING TEAM PICKED ON PAPER

Players from All Leagues Compose It—Team Average 382—Bush Leaguer High With 423

What do you think of a ball club with a batting average of .382?

It is possible to pick one, from the baseball guides, just issued. Of course it would be a major league outfit, but it would make trouble for almost any pitcher. Its defense might not amount to much, but for pure, unadulterated slugging, just look over the following:

Forsythe, 1st, Cleveland Amer— 880
Lajoie, 2nd, Cleveland Amer.—.384
Miller, short, Newton, Kansas State —.361.
Phelan, 3rd, Kewanee, Central Association—375.
Patterson, center, Quincy, Central Association—417.
Cobb, right, Detroit, American—.385
Conley, left, Abilene, Central Kansas— 403.
Two [illegible], Salina, Central Kansas 423.
McGehee, pitcher, Jackson, Cotton States—.406

Team average, 382.

—Omaha News

Oldtime fans will remember "Billy" Sunday as a member of the Chicago National League base ball club and a nifty man in center field; also that he deserted the diamond for the evangelistic line of endeavor, in which his truly original style of delivery has attracted attention. The reverend gentleman opens in Toledo in April, which will give Tecumsehites a very favorable opportunity to study the curves of the most famous revivalist now before the public. He is now in Lima, Ohio, where he has had some converts, 1891 being taken over. And last Sunday there was 6,000 people out to here him, his collections, in Lima, have amounted to $7,972 39. Money in his new vocation as well as his former one.

Adrian has secured Billy Roes of Toledo from the "Mud Hens"—he is said to be a phenomenal wonder short stop, and is still in training with the Toledo Club at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Pitcher Reese of Adrian has been sold to Helena, Ark., on a straight cash basis. He was let go principally because he expressed an aversion to returning to the "end of the world" as ball players call the own.

Manager Smith has taken the trouble to send a contract to a young outfielder, Barclay, who hit only 381 in independent ball last season. Those who hit less than 500 in the fireside league are seldom considered.

One of the men who is looked to to brace up the Cub pitching staff is "Big Joe" Cook. Cook was with the Adrian club during the latter part of the 1909 season, being drafted by the Cubs and later farmed to Peoria, where he pitched last season.

"ISLE OF SPICE"

Those who desire a couple of hours rest and relaxation from the cares of the busy world; those who enjoy pretty pictures with all the picturesque environment that the delightful oriental locality of the Japan Sea renders possible; and all those to whom beautiful femininity, with sweet voices, handsomely costumed, appeals, are promised a rare treat in that piquant musical mixture, the "Isle of Spice," which B. C. Whitney's musical comedy company will present at the BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE, SATURDAY MARCH 18. There is a charm about the piece that never fails to win the appreciation of the most critical, and it is said to be a rare individual who, having seen this attraction once, can resist the desire to enjoy a second performance. The music is of that refreshing quality of which one never grows tired, the stage business is new, the ladies who constitute the chorus are young, pretty, and said to be the best singers and dancers on the American stage at the present time. The company, which is one of the largest in the musical comedy field, is headed by that clever comedian, Bobbie Woolsie, and he is ably assisted by Jack Leslie, Stanley Felch, Chas Vaughn, Wm. Burgess, Martin Packy, Marguaretta Felch, Celia McGowan, Jeni Perri, Allie Hammond and others who are well known in the musical comedy line.

FRATERNAL VISIT

Eastern Star.

A most delightful and interesting meeting was that of Thursday afternoon, when about 60 of the members of the Onsted Order of Eastern Star's visited our lodge. Dinner was served for the visiting lodge at the Barrett House and at 2:30 about 200 gathered in the Mosonic Temple for work.

The officers from Onsted conferred the degree on four candidates in a most perfect manner.

The W. M. Mrs. Dr. Ross being exceptionally fine as also were the various points of the Star. The candidates were Miss Carrie Palmer, Everette Exelby, Mrs Isaac Pilbeam and daughter Sylvia. At the close of the business meeting a very pleasing program was given.

Mesdames Hodges and Wood gave an instrumental duet, Mrs. R. S. Moore gave a vocal solo, Mesdames Moore and Ruthruff duet, John Keeney solo, Miss Nellie Mingay a recitation also responded to an encore. A solo by Mrs. McAlpine, a duet by Mesdames Moore and McAlpine and Mrs. Mary Mann and Mrs. Segar of Onsted also gave fine recitations. The whole program was in honor of St. Patricks Day, each one having something Irish for their theme.

After the program, lunch was served in the dining room, the place cards were decorated with Shamrock which made pretty souvenirs of the occasion

The afternoon passed all to soon and will be long remembered as a most pleasant event in the history of the Order.

Just as the evening shadows were falling the guests departed for their homes with hearty handshakes and wishes that we might soon meet again.

CATARRH GOES

So Does Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup and Asthma.

You can easily tell by reading the symptoms below, whether you have catarrh or not:

Offensive breath, frequent sneezing, discharge from the nose, stoppage of the nose, huskiness of the voice, tickling in throat, droppings in throat, a cough, pain in chest, loss of strength, variable appetite, spasms of coughing low spirited at times, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, loss of vital force.

C. A. Wright & Son have a sensible remedy (money back if it fails) for catarrh, called HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-me) which is a vaporized air, so antiseptic that when it is breathed over the inflamed and germ-infested membrane, it kills all germ life, gives relief in two minutes, and cures catarrh.

The price, including hard rubber pocket inhaler, is only $1.00. The inhaldr will last a lifetime, so that should you need a second bottle of HYOMEI, you can get it for 50 cents. Ask C. A. Wright & Son.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says

Mrs. Jeanett Te achout, W. Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble. Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped, sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use. I was so promptly relieved that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States

THE PRODIGAL

The little, morning-glory-mouthed phonograph crackled and rasped and supttered, then blared jerkily into Way Down Upon the Suwanee River Old man Stevens knocked the embers from his pipe and sighed heavily Aunt Letitia, his buxum wife, echoed the sigh.

"That there air was always Bud's favorite musical piece," she murmured. "And now I guess he's out on the wide, blue sea wishin' he could sit here at home and hear the phonograph play it."

A pretty, black-haired girl allowed a soft sigh of fond remembrance to creep into her dark eyes. "Bud was the nicest fellow in Huckleberry Hollow," she declared. "I'll bet he's a grand man by this time, running around over the world, seeing queens and world's fairs and battleships and Indians. I'd sure like to see Bud."

"There's where my heart am turnin' ever—" crackled the little phonograph. Everyone lapsed into silence, dreaming of the beloved absentee. The pretty, black-eyed Bettie stepped out upon the porch to drink in the warm fragrance of the moonlit, balmy night. When she re-entered with a hysterical little shriek, the company started up.

"What's the matter?" they cried in frantic chorus.

"A man! A man!" screamed pretty Miss Bettie.

The girl pointed shudderingly into the darkness. "Out there, skulking behind the trees—hiding like a robber."

The old man jerked up his double-barrelled shotgun. The male guests sprang outside and seized heavy limestone missiles. Out among the moonlit cedars the figure of a man flitted between the trees.

"Bang!" roared the old man's gun. Clatter-clatter! rattled the terrific volley of limestone.

"Don't shoot—look out—it's"— came in hoarse tones from the flitting figure.

"Bang!" went Farmer Stevens' other barrel. Clatter-patter! rattled the second limestone volley. The figure in the cedar clump bounded away with the speed of a frenzied gazelle. Old man Stevens reloaded and hurried after. The calm moonlit night was rended with the yells and cries of blood-lusting men. Clatter-rip-thud! went the limestone missiles after the fugitive. Pretty Bettie hurried after. Somebody went after Constable Jeff Skaggs. The man in front ran madly, desperately. The 13 Stevens hounds joined in the chase. It was too much for the skulker in the night, and by a foot's margin he obtained the refuge of a tall oak ahead of a panting hound.

"We've got him!" shouted the excited pursuers. "Come down, you prowlin' highwayman!"

Up in the leafy recesses the fugitive emitted something between a growl and a chuckle. "Got whom, you precious crazies! Can't you let a fellow surprise you?"

"It's Bud," cried old Mrs. Stevens, "come out of the deep, blue sea!"

"Bud," yelled Tommy and Sammy. "Bet he's killed a million Sioux chiefs!"

"It's Bud!" sighed pretty Betty "And I tore my new Chambray jumping rail fences!"

"Come down, Bud!" quavered old man Stevens, "I've wasted some good shells, but I'm plum-dab glad to see you, boy!"

Ten minutes later, as they brought out the fatted calf the morning-glory mouthed phonograph clackled

"There's where de old folks stay"—

The French Cook.

"Monsieur Escoffier," said the chef, "has just celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his entrance into the profession of cooking. All the hotels of can cooking at all. Do you know Paris sent over some of her greatest cooks to the anniversary supper at the Monico in Paccadilly Circus.

"Well, Escofficer is a great cook. He invented the 'peche Melba,' a compound of fresh peaches, ice cream and red wine. Escoffier, though, doesn't like our native Ameriwas the proud reply.

how he dismissed it on his visit here? He dismissed it in these words:

"'American cooking — hash every day—though it is true that raisins are added to the hash on Sunday, thus making it mince pie.'"

Caught That Time.

A college professor who was always ready for a joke was asked by a student if he would like a good recipe for catching rabbits. "Why, yes," replied the professor. "What is it?"

"Well," said the student, "you crouch down behind a thick stone wall and make a noise like a turnip."

"That may be," said the professor with a twinkle in his eye, "but a better way than that would be for you to go and sit quietly in a bed of cabbage and look natural."

PHILANTHROPY BY PROXY

Though the Irish Land League howled at him and cursed him for an absentee landlord, Lord Strathcannon could well stand comparison with his peers. He was ever the first to dip into his pocket when famine or distress held Ireland in its grip.

Dunn, his agent, went across the channel to England quarterly to give an account of his stewardship.

"'Tis improvident they are, your lordship," he said to Strathcannon. "They won't hear of co-operation at all, and they're cutting their own throats with their old-fashioned ways."

"What they want is some good, profitable industry that they will take up with enthusiasm," said his lordship.

"Sure, your lordship, you're too leninet with them. It was only last year that you bought every soul of thim a churning machine and ordered thim to use thim under pain of dispossession, and then you made them plant castor oil, and it would not grow"—

"Shut up, Dunn," said Lord Strathcannon. "This time I'm going to start a new industry altogether on my estates."

"It wouldn't be cabbages, your lordship?" suggested Dunn.

"Shut up you dunderhead!" shouted his master. "No, it isn't cabbages. It's Angoras. Do you know the profits in a herd of good Angoras?"

"Profits, bedad!" muttered Dunn, dismally.

Buy every man on my estate a pair of Angoras," said Lord Strathcannon. "They'll have the milk from the ewes, and the wool will find a ready sale on the London market. And then, when they're making their fortunes, why, we'll raise the rent on 'em," concluded Strathcannon, gleefully.

"But—but—" stammered Dunn.

"Not a word," shouted his lordship. "It's settled. Understand? Buy 'em at once and report progress to me in three months from today."

The tenants were accustomed to their master's whims. The Angoras were purchased and tended carefully. They increased prodigiously. Lord Strathcannon chuckled gleefully when he read his agent's report.

"Now is the time to shear them," he wrote back. "Establish a milk industry, sell off the kids, allowing for some natural increase, and let me know how many pounds of wool you get."

"He's mad," groaned Dunn, when he received this letter. "Bedad, I dare not show my face among the tenants, and they won't pay the rent." So he wrote back formally announcing his resignation.

Lord Strathcannon grew purple in the face. He packed his valise and left for his Irish estates on the night boat, appearing unexpectedly at Dunn's house the following afternoon.

"You scoundrel," he shouted, "how dare you resign? Take back your position instantly, do you hear me, sir?"

"Beg pardon, your lordship," replied Dunn, doggedly, "it's more than my life's worthy to try to collect the rent from thim. They say the beasts are eating them out of hearth and home."

"Why didn't you sell the wool, you scoundrel, as I told you to?" raved his lordship.

"Wool?" screamed Dunn. "Is it wool your lordship's talking about? Begorra, I had thim sheared as you wrote me, and what did we get? Seven miserable pounds of fur. Seven pounds of fur among the lot of thim, and the poor bastes looking like rats in a rainstorm."

Lord Strathcannon stepped back and looked at his agent critically.

"Dunn, are you mad, or am I?" he demanded. "If it is I, will you condescend to tell me since when fur has grown on Angora sheep?"

"Sheep?" cried Dunn, tearing at his hair. "Sheep is it your lordship meant? Begorra, heaven help me, 'tis cats I bought thim."

Pretty New Trimmings

Gold gauze, lace, leather and satin are being worked up into attractive forms for garments and hats.

Butterflies of white kid are made over wire and are placed at the side of a large hat.

Grapes of gold tissue, very much different from the huge jet or glass ones of a few seasons ago, are really artistic when combined with metallic laces and many-colored laces.

Colored kid is now exploited in leaf form. The foliage of leaves and buds is particularly becoming on velvet hats in the soft neutral shades so much in vogue. Silk and satin flowers, each petal edged with beads, are used on the crown and under the brim of an evening hat.

Fur plays a large role in trimming little turbans and large shapes. A little knot, a cabochon, an edge of fur on the brim and a band around the crown are some of the expressions of the milliner's art.

Of course the best thing with which to feather your nest is cash down.

Most of our irritability comes from hunting the r... places in the road.

MANIACS BEAT GUARD

Five of Them Escape From Government Hospital.

Don Guards' Clothing and Scale the High Wall—Authorities Recapture Two of the Lunatics.

Washington, March 20.—After beating into unconsciousness Henry Wentworth, a guard at the government hospital for the insane, five maniacs of that institution escaped.

The condition of Wentworth is critical, and only for the timely appearance of a negro attendant of the institution the lunatics probably would have killed him.

Upon the appearance of the negro the maniacs made for the guards' lockers and attired themselves in guards' clothes. Then they left the building, scaled the high wall and made their escape.

Two were recaptured, but the others are still at large.

Nine Flee Jail; Eight Caught.

Brunswick, Ga., March 20.—Nine prisoners escaped from the Glynn county jail, but all except one were recaptured.

Thomas J. Bray, vice president of the company, has been elected to succeed him. The offices of the Republic company will be removed to Youngstown, O., where a new office building is in course of erection.

He was 66 years old and is survived by a widow and one daughter, Miss Helen Brown.

Col. Brown was one of the five men whom Andrew Carnegie took as partners, and made millionaires. Col. Brown retired from business life twelve years ago.

TROOPS START FOR FRONTIER

Every Detachment of Divisional Army Soon to Follow.

FEARS FOR BIG PECOS BRIDGE

Southern Pacific Railway People Apprehend Danger for Great Steel Span Which Would Take a Year to Replace.

San Antonio, Tex., March 20.—The first troops of the army of 15,000 men of all branches of the service mobilized here under command of Gen. William H. Carter, have started for the border.

They will be followed very shortly by every detachment of every branch of the service now in the divisional camp at Fort Sam Houston. It has become positively known that the commander of the army does not expect to be here himself or that his troops will be here three days hence.

It is known where those who first leave San Antonio are going. They are the men of the Eleventh squadron of cavalry, who are going over the Southern Pacific lines to the west in the direction of El Paso. Where the rest of the army is to be sent is not known except to the small group of officers constituting Gen. Carter's personal staff. There is a strong belief among the colonels of regiments and their respective staffs that the divisional army 's bound for the border along the Rio Grande and west along the Arizona line where the chief streams of insurrecto support are carrying munitions of war across the line.

It may be said positively that the cavalry squadron is to be rushed out to the westward to meet a remarkable contingency. The officers of the Southern Pacific have urged the war department to give protection to their tracks and bridges in the disturbed districts.

Within the last week the insurgent bands that have been operating along the American border east of the Mexican town of Presideo del Norte have been known to have crossed into Texas more than once. A week ago a brush between insurrectos and federals which occurred partly on American soil was reported from El Paso.

The railroad people have notified the war department in Washington that they fear some contingency, whether the passing of American troops over their lines or an attempt of the insurrectos to embarrass the Diaz government by committing depredations on American property, will lead to the destruction of the great steel bridge which springs 225 feet above the Pecos. They could not replace the structure within a year, so the Southern Pacific people have told the department in Washington.

It was in answer to an imperative order from the war department to supply a guard for the Pecos bridge that Gen. Carter called upon the Southern Pacific and the representative of the Pullman company here to get together a train of eleven tourist and two standard Pullmans, man it and have it in readiness for instant departure. The viaduct is 215 miles west of San Antonio, about half way to El Paso.

There is another reason for sending the Eleventh cavalry squadron out ahead of the army. Recent reports have said that the insurrectos have established a base at Presidio del Norte, just across the Rio Grande from the American town of El Oro, and that through this point they have been receiving their largest shipments of arms and munitions.

CLEW TO SLAIN MAN

Kansas City Nurse Things Victim Found Near Chicago Is Friend.

Kansas City, March 20.—Police here found a possible clew to the identity of the murdered man whose body was found in a freight car near Chicago.

Mrs. Minnie Pool, a nurse, believes the dead man was a friend, Nicholas Bonci, a traveling man who corresponded regularly with her until Feb. 18. At that time he was in St. Louis and intended to go to St. Paul. The freight car was in that city on March 15. She says the description of the murdered man fits Bonci.

TREBLE BRIDGE GUARD

United States Infantry Patrols Rio Grande River Bank.

All Approaches to American Side of Bridges Leading to Juarez, Mexico, Closely Guarded.

El Paso, Tex., March 20.—All approaches to the bridges leading from the American side to Juarez, Mexico, were guarded by three times the usual force of United States troops. Heretofore only a small detail has been assigned to this duty, but at daybreak tents had been set up along the banks of the river and an entire company of infantry was sent to patrol the bank between the two bridges which form the main arteries of traffic to Juarez.

Scores of Mexican soldiers came to the opposite river bank to look across at the United States troops. It was a typical frontier scene, where the army of one nation might exchange salutes with that of another, while each remained on its own soil.

FARMER DROWNS AT FORD

Body Is Found in Buggy When Vehicle Is Pulled from River.

Hartford City, Ind., March 20.—Willard Griffith, 55, unmarried farmer, living northwest of this city, was drowned with his horse while attempting to ford the Salamonie river near Montpelier. His body was recovered in the morning when the dead horse was noticed floating on the surface of the water.

It is supposed that when he drove into the water he turned his horse downstream and sank to his death when the horse and buggy went into an abandoned stone quarry.

TOM JOHNSON NEAR DEATH

Wife, Son and Daughter Hurry to Cleveland from New York.

Cleveland, O., March 20. — Former Mayor Tom L. Johnson is believed to be near death. Close friends would not be surprised if the end came within a few hours. Mrs. Johnson, her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Mariani; her son, Loftin Johnson, and Mrs. Loftin Johnson hurried from New York for Cleveland.

The turn for the worse in the former mayor's condition came Wednesday. His physician has ordered that he discontinue all work on the biography which he has been writing.

Chicago Firemen Escape Blaze Which Is Fatal to One.

Chicago, March 20.—One man was killed and 300 head of cattle were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a square block of the huge network of pens in the Union Stock Yards here.

The body of the man trapped by the flames was found in the wreckage of a viaduct that fell among the perishing beasts below. A number of firemen narrowly escaped being crushed when the structure fell. Various commission firms owned the cattle destroyed. The loss is $25,000.

SMALL VOLUME MAKES TROUBLE

Little Red Book Costs Committee Clerk $4,500 a Year.

WORRIES DEMOCRATIC LEADERS

Record of Patronage Attached to House Is So Obnoxious that Author Will Lose His Job and Get No Other.

Washington, March 20.—A little red book five inches long, two inches wide, and a quarter of an inch thick, has cost Tyler Page, clerk of the committee on accounts of the house of representatives, $4,500 a year.

The little red book, compiled by Mr. Page, contains a complete record of all patronage attached to the house and at the disposal of the majority party.

It was issued a month or so before adjournment and already has caused the Democratic leaders untold worry. It is quite apparent, too, that the possibilities of trouble resulting from the tiny volume are not by any means exhausted.

Mr. Page, who lives in Montgomery county, Maryland, and has the reputation of being the fiercest kind of a partisan Republican, compiled the little book, he says, for publication with the laudable purpose of creating a useful record of house positions and salaries, but some of his friends say the waggish Tyler, believing as do some old time politicians in various sections, that merit may be laid up in heaven by worrying the opposition, really got out the volume to make misery for the Democrats. If the latter motive be accepted he succeeded beyond his wildest dreams, but it has cost him money.

In the sundry civil bill passed by the house there came very near being included a little paragraph creating Mr. Page official indexer of the house of representatives. He would have been mentioned by name as the incumbent of the job and would never have been removed except for official misconduct. At first no one had any objection to the proposition, but finally, just as the paragraph was about to be agreed to, a Democratic member of the appropriations committee who had been thinking hard for a moment, came to life with a question as to whether Mr. Page had not prepared a "devil's text book," which all newly elected Democrats had been perusing with interest.

"If that is true," said the Democrat in question, "I'll stay here until August if necessary rather than have that paragraph go in."

All the other Democrats on the committee being of the same mind Mr. Page was turned down with wonderful unanimity. Also he will lose his job as clerk of the committee on accounts when the new congress meets. The powers that be in the next house are up against a fierce proposition and it is a safe prediction that when the rows over patronage grow bitter as they are sure to do and the air is full of unpatriotic thoughts and unparliamentary language, the leaders will save a particularly violent anathema to breathe against the name and fame of Tyler Page, partisan, and his devilish little red book.

WASHINGTON LETTER

There is much interest in diplomatic and political circles in Washington concerning a possible peace treaty between the United States and Great Britain, a treaty which will have the potential effect of an alliance, although it will not be known by that name. President Taft in a recent speech on the subject of peace, said that he thought all questions, even including questions of honor, might be left to an international arbitration court, and Earl Gray, minister of foreign affairs for Great Britain, in a recent speech referred to President's speech and spoke earnestly in favor of a peace treaty between the two great English speaking nations

Those who have kept abreast with current history will remember that there have been two recent efforts to secure a ratification of peace treaties between Great Britain and this country, but inasmuch as the final ratification must depend upon the Senate, these treaties struck snags in that body. Some of these snags were removed on the 4th of March last, and it is believed now that the treaty will meet the approval of the Senate and that Secretary Knox and Ambassador Bryce are at work in preparation of an agreement to be submitted to Congress, though perhaps not earlier than the regular session which will assemble next December. There will doubtless be more or less opposition in the Senate to friendly proposals between this and the mother country, but, as remarked, some of the snags have been removed. Senator Root of New York, who is chairman of the Carnegie Peace Foundation for which ten millions of dollars were recently donated by Mr. Carnegie, will doubtless do everything in his power in the Senate to promote this peace entente. He was Secretary of State during the second Roosevelt administration, and he is closely in touch with pacific and philanthropic endeavor. Mr. Carnegie has said that if two great nations like this country and England could roach an agreement to submit all questions even those involving honor, to an arbitration court, it would not be long before the other powerful nations would fall into line.

The Soul is safe in Heaven."

OBITUARY

FUNERAL OF MRS. S. S. WALKER

The funeral of Mrs. S. S. Walker was held yesterday morning at her home, Rev. A. M. Boyd, D. D., officiating. The remains were interred at Woodland.

Mrs. Beryl Brooks Walker was born July 8, 1876, at Milford, Mich. Her people moving to Ypsilanti, she was educated at the public school, the state normal and Cleary business college of that place. Coming to Jackson she entered the employ of the Withington-Cooley company and for twelve years, up to the time of her of her marriage, she served that firm faithfully and efficiently. She was united in marriage to Scovil S Walker May 18, 1909. Shortly after Mrs. Walker's arrival in Jackson she identified herself with the Presbyterian church uniting on profession of faith April 10, 1898, and for nearly thirteen years she was one of the most loyal and active of the younger members of the church, giving freely of her talents, time and money to the church of her choice. For years she was active in the work of the Christian Endeavor society but the organization in the church in which she was most deeply interested and did most effective work was the young people's Bible class. Largely due to the efforts of Mrs. Walker and kindred spirits this class became the largest in the Sabbath school, and was noted for its large numbers, social spirit, genrous giving and loyalty to the church. Mrs. Walker was also a member of the King's Daughters and took an ardent interest in the work of this society. Quiet and unassuming though she was, no one could come in contact with her in business, social or church life without feeling that to her the religion of Jesus Christ was a real and vital thing. There is left to mourn translation of Mrs Walker, her husband, her father and mother, four brothers and one sister, besides a large circle of friends and relatives.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOOL FOR LENAWEE CO.

At a meeting of the County School officers on Friday last, the question was discussed as to the advisability of having an Agricultural School where students could attend and receive instruction along the lines of scientific farming those graduating from the eighth grade in the country schools being eligible. A short course of a few weeks and one that could be easily grasped by the average student.

It was also talked that the Raisin Valley Seminary which is now vacant would be a good place for the school. State Superintendent of Public Schools Wright was very favorably impressed and promised to make every effort posible to bring this about. He would confer with Mr. Hensel and try to have it brought before the next session of the supervisiors.

The 40 acres of ground connected with the seminary makes the site so much more desirable. Every one who heard the talk is in favor of the movement and the school officers want Lenawee to be the first county to enlist in this work.

Hear! Hear! hear! This way—get your tickets for Lenawee County Fair.

OPERA HOUSE

Again the Opera House was taxed to its utmost Saturday night, even standing room being at a premium, the people always responding generously, when Mr. Marks brings on a good play, which has endeavored for a number of years, this year marking one of the most successful, both in Stock Companies and the higher priced shows

The "Isle of Spice" was a rattling good musical comedy, making one forget their cares and bring forth a hearty laugh. The comedians were exceptionally fine. The leading perts were well taken and the chorus in their pretty costumes added much to the play.

Adrian the Scene of a Fierce Fire Saturday Night

About midnight of Saturday last Adrian was awakened to face one of the worst fires in its history.

The fire broke out in the grain Elevator at the plant of the Detroit Milling Co. on Logan St. It is thought to be a case of spontaneous combustion. Four buildings of the group belonging to the company were completely distroyed, entailing a loss estimated at $200,000.

The fire started just before midnight and lasted until 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Geo. Coller a fireman suffered fearful injuries in the discharge of his duties.

Four buildings, 4,000 barrels of flour, and 10,000 bushels of wheat were totally destroyed. The hugh Cement Elevators escaped, these contained about 200,000 bushels of wheat.

The watchman Andrew Ayers completed his round just before 11 o'clock and was busy in the engine room. Every thing possible was done to avert the disaster, the bystanders lending a helping hand where possible and it was by the most ernest and hard work that the flames were at last controlled.

A most delightful time was enjoyed by all, each on viewing pleasures of the evening. The Knights have lately been fitting up rooms for a kitchen and dining room adding much to the convenience of the hall when entertaining.

A dainty lunch consisting of sandwiches, salad, pickles, jello, cakes and coffee was served. This the 5th military party of the lodge was pronounced one of the best ever held in Tecumseh. GRANGE MEETING

A very pleasant afternoon was spent at the Grange Hall on St. Patrick's Day, and those who partook of the Chicken Pie dinner could desire no more. After the dinner hour was over, a short business session was held, followed by a program suitable to the day. Mrs. Newton Bryan gave a selection on the piano, this was followed by a reading on St. Patrick by Mr. Grey of Holloway. A trombone impersonation song by Mrs. Bryan, next came a discussion on "The greatest need of the farmer, more help—more acres or more education. Which? This was discussed by Albert Howard Joseph Eaton and Dr. Waldron.

Mrs. Hurry then gave a select reading, closing the program for the afternoon.

The ladies in waiting for the occasion were beautifully decked out in Ireland's own green, their dainty aprons very effective and coquetish bows that perked so saucily on their heads were an added charm. The souvenirs for the occasion were small green flags with a wreath of Shamrock surrounding the harp and "Erin Go Brach" for the motto.

Supper was served later and all felt that it was a day well spent.

PEERLESS LAMB FENCE CO.

Selling Stock to Unknown Purchasers at $7 a Share

It had been rumored in Adrian for several days that, purchasers from outside were buying up large holding in the stock of the Peerless Fence Co. This has now become public news and it is now believed that a majority of the Stock has changed hands.

Chas. G. Hart, President of the Co. was the first to sell and later a number of the other Stockholders were approached and also sold. The purchasing is handled by Walby & Clay's bank, who pay in drafts on a Cleveland bank. So far it is unknown who the purchasers are or what the outcome may be, but the fact is encouraging to those who are anxious over the future business of Adrian that the price paid shows the value of the business as a going concern.

The other fence companies as far as heard from have recieved no such proposition and it is concluded that they have no stock for sale. They have all had a profitable business during the last year and the prospects are fine for another this year.

BASEBALL

Ex. Manager "Bo" Slear of Jackson will umpire in the Southern League having been signed by Pres. J. P. Bowen as one on his staff of Arbitraters for 1911. This is welcome news to his many friends who feared they would lose him from this circuit. As the Jackson authorties held him in suspense so long it was almost impossible for him to land a job.

There is no doubt but he will make good in this position for he is absolutely square and he though may be hasty he is willing to acknowledge when he is in the wrong. Tecumseh will watch his course with interest as in a way he belongs to us, his wife "Toosie" Elliott, being a Tecumseh girl in whom all are interested. Success to "Bo" Slear!

At present "Bo" is suffering with a bad hand. While working about the about the shop of Withing & Cooley he injured it in some way and blood poisoning has set in. Although not particularly dangerous it may trouble him for sometime, it is badly swollen and inflamed and has to be kept in bandages.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most postive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says

Mrs Jeanett Teachout, W Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped, sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use. I was so promptly releived that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

Gets Anonymous Letter Because of Danville Bribe Probe.

Danville, Ill., March 20.—Isaac Woodyard, former foreman of the grand jury investigating vote selling and bribery here, has received an anonymous letter threatening him with personal violence for his activity.

Woodyard declared he would give $500 to know who wrote the letter, but did not reveal its exact contents.

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the sallow complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. Jas. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family.

This remedy is a vast improvement over cathartic tablets and salts, which only do good for the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results. It is pleasant to take and does not gripe. It is especially good for all those who cannot stand a violent purgative.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

LIMANTOUR HAS MADERO'S TERMS

He Is Bearing Them to Diaz for Consideration.

PRESIDENT EXPECTED TO BALK

Though He Is a Stubborn Man, Insurrectos Expect Him to Treat with Them or Revolution Will Increase in Violence.

San Antonio, March 20.—Word from Mexico City indicates that the preparation for an instant movement of Gen. Carter's army may have bearing on the political squabble in Diaz's capital. An English mining engineer and financier from Mexico City, named Pursell, who passed through San Antonio on his way north, said that upon the events of the days immediately following Limantour's arrival in Mexico City would depend the solution of the complication of the whole situation across the line.

"Limantour is indeed the man of the hour down here," Mr. Pursell said, "for he brings with him the possible solution of all the difficulties. It now lies between him and Diaz as to whether Mexico is to pass through this crisis or not. All of Mexico knows that Limantour was in conference with the Madero family in New York, whom he used to serve as legal counsellor, that he brings with him from them the irreducible minimum upon which Francisco Madero and his insurrectos will conclude a peace, and that this demand is for great reforms, including a fair election and a real representative government.

"There is great doubt about Diaz accepting these terms. He is a very stubborn man and he will not eat humble pie easily. But Mexico expects him to accept them—at least to treat with the insurrectos as if they had a fair grievance. If he does not the revolution will surely gain in violence and strength and there will be a very grave situation for Diaz to face."

Mr. Pursell added that recently the people had been as prone to blame their grievances on Diaz's ministers as upon the president himself, but that of late there had been a growing manifestation of anger against Diaz. He confirmed the report of the stoning of Diaz's palace, as reported in these dispatches, saying that several had been arrested as a result of the affair, but that it had no political significance except as an indication of the growing unpopularity of Diaz in the federal district.

LIMANTOUR AT CAPITAL

Governments Arrive at Agreement About American Prisoners.

Washington, March 20.—A telegram was received at the Mexican embassy announcing the arrival at Mexico City of Senor Limantour. It is of course known that Senor Limantour carried with him important messages bearing on the present situation in Mexico.

An agreement has been reached by the two governments whereby action in the case of Blatt and Converse, the Americans who were arrested by the Mexican authorities, will be expedited. There is an earnest desire on both sides to settle without delay the controversy that has developed over the arrest of the Americans.

SKELETON MYSTERY SOLVED

Danville, Ill., Woman Identifies Ring Found with Bones.

Noblesville, Ind., March 20. — The mystery surrounding the finding here a few weeks ago of a trunk filled with parts of a human skeleton and containing a peculiarly carved ring was solved with the receipt of a letter from the widow of a brother of Eugene C. Woodmansee of Danville, Ill., identifying the ring as one that belonged to Woodmansee.

Woodmansee came here forty-four years ago to wed Miss Sarah Virt and procured a license. A few hours before the ceremony the bridegroom disappeared. It is supposed he was murdered for the $500 which it is known that he had.

PLAGUE IN BRAZIL

More Than Twenty Cases of Bubonic Reported at Porto Alegro.

New York, March 20.—More than twenty cases of bubonic plague have been discovered in Porto Alegro, Brazil, according to cable dispatches received here from Buenos Aires.

Brazilian authorities are said to be much alarmed over the prospects of

FIGHTING IS NOT VOTING NECESSITY

Plea of Men That Women Cannot Go to War Absurd.

"IF women cannot fight and do police duty they should not have the right to vote."

A good argument, truly, just as Brutus was an honorable man.

But it seems rather inconsistent that the men who are incapable of fighting—the lame, the old, the blind and the infirm—should vote. If from these should be taken the vote then women might consistently be debarred for the above reason.

The argument has rather a comic aspect when one thinks that this objection is generally urged by some bald, bespectacled old clergyman or a corpulent, elderly physician who would expire with fatigue if forced to march a half mile in double-quick time.

To limit the right to vote to those who are qualified to fight would be to render voteless about three-fourths of the male citizens of the United States. I am speaking of the men of leisure and professional men and those who live by the work of their brains, not by the labor of their hands.

Of the unskilled laborers, however, statistics will show that only a very small portion is physically disqualified. Would it not seem unfair to take away the vote from the brain of the professional men and give it to the brawn of the unskilled laborer?

Why, therefore, since these same men who cannot defend their country in case of war be given the vote when the women (who in the first place have not been found incapable of fighting who, also, do not fight), are deprived of this right.

Some other, more reasonable argument must be found for excluding women from the ballot box than this.

As for the police duty, it would seem that the women contribute toward the policing of the country in just the same way as the majority of men; they help pay for it. The police are paid out of the tax money which is levied on men and women alike.

In New Zealand women have had complete enfranchisement for 14 years and at this day a proposal to draw the line of sex in politics would be heralded with ridicule. It would appear as ridiculous as disqualifying a man because he had freckles.

Sir Joseph Ward, premier of New Zealand, says that "women in legislation have been a sane, healthy influence which makes for purity in politics, and that while mainly democratic in spirit and devoted to the protection of public interests, rather than private privilege, they are a balancing force."

It would seem that 14 years is ample time in which to decide whether women have made good in politics or not. And if, after 14 years, Sir Joseph and New Zealand have decided in the affirmative, why then should the United States, a country which has never given woman suffrage a trial, decide against it.

Refreshments Served in New Way for Children

The hostess who can think up a new way of serving refreshments at a child's party will be repaid for the trouble taken by the interest and fun the youngsters will extract from it.

But novel and highly successful was the manner of serving the goodies at a party lately given. The children were asked to come into the dining room. They found on the table a small centerpiece and a vase of carnations and on one corner a large package. When this was opened it was found to contain a cloth which the mother looked at in surprise but spread on the table.

The hostess then dispatched one of the children to obtain a package from the china closet and this was found to contain paper napkins. A third box on the sideboard contained delicious sandwiches.

By this time the children were becoming interested and when a little girl was sent out into the kitchen to find a hen's nest excitement ran high, for she discovered it to be a dish of deviled eggs reposing in the crown of a farmer's hat.

A large box under the library table revealed several pounds of fine candy.

Cheese Biscuits.

Rub two tablespoons of butter into six tablespoons of flour, add three tablespoons of grated cheese, a little salt, pepper and grated nutmeg. Mix the yolk of an egg with a little cold water. Make the whole into a paste, roll out thin, and cut into shapes of biscuits. Bake till a nice brown.

When a man hears that a boy has been drowned, he fears it may be his boy, the same as he fears it may be his house when he hears the fire whistle.

If women are so amiable and sweet, why is it that other women do not care for them as roomers and boarders?

AN INITIAL HINT

A good scale of sizes to use in embroidering initials on household linen is as follows:

Tablecloths, letters two inches long.

Napkins, letters three-quarters of an inch long.

Sheets, letters two inches long.

Pillowcases, letters one inch long.

Other articles, size of letters proportioned accordingly.

Fashions in marking change, so that anywhere from half an inch to four or even five inches long is the mode, but these are safe and sane measurements for the conservative embroiderer.

"ALL TO VIOLA"

"I see it."

Herbert Hammond's hand shook so that the wine in the glass he held was sprinkled over the white cloth.

"I see it all now," he continued, addressing Martin Journall, the little white-haired lawyer who sat opposite him. "I could not believe my uncle died without a will, and I believe that the cablegram he sent me the night before he died is that will."

"Impossible," replied Journall. "Didn't you tell me yourself that the message was in his private code, the single word, 'altoviola,' and his name, 'MacAra,' and that its meaning is, 'Return instantly'? No, my boy, your uncle left no will and all his fortune goes to you as the only heir."

"I know no will has been found, but the mistake of a letter is easily explained—it has just occurred to me that what he wrote was "All to Viola."

"But," continued the lawyer, "even if your foolish idea should prove true, who is Viola?"

"I don't know," replied the young man "but I recollect now some talk which I heard as a boy which makes it seem possible that there is a Viola. My uncle lived in Donegal as a boy, and it is there I will begin my investigation."

* * *

The night was dark and rainy and Herbert stood on the platform of a station in Donegal. There was not a car in sight to take him to Dummaghery, his destination. His questions to the stationmaster elicited no answers that helped him until that official pointed to a trap into which a young woman was just climbing.

"There's Miss Butler; she's going yer way and might give ye a lift." The stationmaster explained the matter to Miss Butler and she readily consented.

An hour later, when Hammond clambered out of the cart, he was convinced that even if his quest was a bit Quixotic, it had its compensations.

After a few inquiries he found himself at the door of a squalid sod hut. The door was opened to his knock and he was ushered into a vile smelling room, occupied by three dirty, ill-kempt men, while by the fire crouched a wizened crone, unkempt, unclean, toothless.

"The saints have led ye to the right place," said one of the ill-visaged men when Herbert had explained his errand. "There," he pointed to the old grave, "is all that's left of Viola Neal Ara."

* * *

"There is no doubt in the matter," said Harold to Journall in the inn of the village some months later. "I have gone into the matter thoroughly. My uncle married Viola when a young man and left her because of a quarrel. Throughout the years since he regularly sent her money, I am convinced that he wishes his fortune to go to her, and it shall."

Here they are interrupted by the announcement of Mrs. and Miss Kathleen Butler, whom Herbert introduced to his lawyer as the widow of an officer and her adopted daughter, who had driven him in her cart the night of his first arrival.

"Herbert," exclaimed Miss Butler, putting her hands in his, "I have come to save you. Mrs. Butler has told me all the old crone is not Viola. Mae Ara. She is the twin sister of Viola, who was my grandmother and died when my mother was born. My mother died when I was a baby and Mrs. Butler adopted me with my grandfather's consent."

"But as you are Miss Kathleen," said the lawyer, "the theory of the cablegram falls through."

"I called her Kathleen," said Mrs. Butler. "She was christened Viola."

"Then my idea holds good," exclaimed Herbert, putting his arm around the girl.

"If it includes you," she replied shyly, "it is certainly 'all to Viola.'"

"Shou'd anyone call this afternoon, Mary, say that I am not well," said the mistress one day to a new servant, fresh from the country. "I'm afraid I ate a little too much of that rich pudding for dinner, and it, or something else, has brought a headache; so I am going to lie down."

Half an hour the mistress from her room near the head of the stairs heard Mary say to two ladies, who had called for the first time:

"Yes'm, Mrs. B—is at home, but she ate so much pudding for dinner she had to go to bed."

"Here's a nickle," said the thrifty housewife to a tramp at her door. "Now what are you going to do with it?"

"Well, mum," replied the hungry man, "if I buy a touring car I shan't have enough left to pay my chauffeur; if I purchase a steam yacht, there won't be enough left to defray the cost of manning her; so I guess, mum, I'll get a schooner and handle it myself."

BORDEAUX-NEW YORK

It happened in 1927, but I remember it as if it were yestreday.

Aviation had, of course, made mighty progress since Bleriot made his famous trip across the Channel, but though there was now a regular line of aeroplanes between Calais and Dover nobody had yet succeeded in flying across the Atlantic.

In 1927 young Stockefellow, the American billionaire, offered a prize of 1,000,000 francs to the person who made the first flight from Bordeaux to New York.

One million francs! The prize was a tempting one, and 30 men announced themselves ready to compete for it, among these Marius, the famous aeronaut of Marseilles. All the world was in suspense and the odds were 25 to 1 that he would win the prize. He had a few months before invented a motor of marvelous speed, weighing only 10 kilos, and he felt confident that going at its slowest speed he would cover the distance between the two cities in between 32 and 36 hours. If he went full speed he boasted that half an hour would be enough, but he admitted he did not think his aeroplane would be strong enough to stand the strain.

As soon as he had arrived at Bordeaux, Marius began to put together his machine, assisted by M. Crin, a very skillful mechanic, but of a very jealous and unpleasant disposition.

The night before the start, M. Crin, who had been drinking heavily, was severely reprimanded by his master, because he came near wrecking the aeroplane by coming down from an immense height at full speed. Crin said nothing but swore that he would get his revenge. Marius once more tested his machinery, found that it worked to perfection, and went to bed early to get a good night's rest.

He had a very pleasant dream. He came in far ahead of the others, of course, and at his arrival at New York was greeted by a crowd of hundred thousands gathered in Van Courtland park, where the race was to finish. He was carried in triumph, invited to more banquets than he could have attended in a year, and scores of beautiful American girls besought him to marry them on the spot.

In the meantime the angry mechanic, thirsting for revenge, entered the shed where the aeroplane was kept, and when he came out again he was grinning most unpleasantly.

At dawn Marius took his seat in the aeroplane, seized the steering wheel, pressed a button, and like Mahomet a few centuries before, went straight up into the air. When he had risen far enough to be sure not to be caught in the adverse currents of air over the Atlantic, he looked at his compass and set the course straight for New York.

For an hour he saw nothing but the clouds below and heard only the low buzzing of the motor going at its lowest speed. He had said he would not force his machine, but he had counted without his temperament. Like all Provencals, he was a born chatter box; he must hear himself talk, the loneliness began to annoy him, the silence became oppressive, and at the end of five hours he exclaimed quite aloud "I can't bear this," and put on more speed.

An hour later he sighed: "Sacre bleu! this is getting tedious. I must get there," and he made the motor go a hundred times faster.

Towards 11 o'clock he made fast the helm and began to lunch. He kept on lunching until nearly dinner time, occasionally increasing the speed of the motor.

At night he wrapped himself in his fur coat, stretched out full length in his chair and was soon sound asleep. It was a bright day when he woke up.

"I believe I must soon be there," he said, and as soon as he had finished his breakfast he descended a little to make out something grown below. Was it land or sea? He went lower still. It was land.

"Good heavens," he exclaimed, "I must have passed New York!"

As he looked down he was dumbfounded to discover that instead of coming toward him, the fields, the woods, the houses were running away from him—he was going backward, and must have been going backward all the time—M. Crin, his mechanic, had reversed the handles controlling the motor.

Everything was lost.

He bowed his head and came near crying. Some distance away a few miles behind him he discovered a large city steadily drawing nearer. He stopped the motor, reversed it, and making a great curve he swept gracefully downward.

When he came nearer he discovered an immense crowd yelling itself hoarse, and he shouted down:

"I beg your pardon, but would you kindly tell me where I am?"

From a hundred thousand throats came the cry, "New York!"

"I beg your pardon!"

"New York! New York! New York! Marius had traveled around the world backward through the air, and still came in an easy winner.

BOY SCOUT

How It Came to be What It Means

Ernest Thompson Seton and others have been active in organizing various societies for the originator of th eidea but General Sir S. S. Baden-Powell of the British army completed the form and adapted it to modern methods. Commenting on the many men of to-day who are not fully develloped physically, mentally or morally, he thought it time that something should be done for the youth of his native land to present a nobler manhood than that of the present. To stir the youth of the country to greater activity to strengthen them in every way There seemed but one way to bring this about and he initiated this scheme which combines education with recreation. It has been tried and found successful in Great Britton alone the scouts now number nearly half a million and Germany, Russia, Dominion of Canada and the United States have taken it up with enthusiasm.

The Local Council of the Boy Scouts of America with head quarters at New York City represents all denominations the public schools, the Y. M. C. A. the press, the law, medicine, military life etc It is surely an organization for the youth of the land.

A boy must take this pledge before he becomes a scout "I give my word of honor that I will do my best 1st to do my duty to God and country 2nd To help other people at all times 3rd To obey the Scout law." He is placed on honor and it will be his aim to be worthy of the the trust.

DISTINGUISHING MARKS FOR MARRIED PEOPLE

In New Jersey the matrons have an organization in which they have prepared a bill to present to the legislature--providing that every married man shall wear a thumb ring whenever he is away from home. They also provide that a penalty of two years imprisonment and a fine of $500 should they fail to keep the law.

The Rev. Francis Rawel, a native Methodist minister of New Zealand, has suggested that married women also have some distinguishing mark and said he would call President Taft's attention to the matter. His idea was to tattoo the women on the chin.

The picture of the Rev. gentleman's wife appeared in a late Chicago Record Herald, but there was no mark on her chin. As usual it is easier to preach than to practice

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Just the right medicine for backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease and all urinary irregularities. William F. Schramm, Adrian, Mich. says: "I had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for several years. My back ached so severe that when I stooped over I could hardly straighten up and there were always sharp pains in my sides and often felt dizzy and weak. The kidney action was irregular and painful. I used Foley Kidney Pills only a few weeks and now I am a well man once more. They cured me entirely of a long-standing case of kidney trouble and I shall always recommend them highly.

A Fierce Night Alarm

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages fly before it. 50c. and $1.00 Trial bottle free. Sold by C. A. Wright & Son.

Time is money—especially when you hire an automobile by the hour.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

Neutralize and remove the poisons that cause backache, rheumatism, nervousness and all kidney and bladder irregularities. They build up and restore the natural action of these vital organs.

Attacks School Principal

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c. at C. A. Wright & Son.

Domestic troubles should be bottled for home use only.

A SPECIAL MEDICINE FOR KIDNEY AILMENTS

Many elderly people have found in Foley's Kidney Remedy a quick relief and permanent benefit from kidney and bladder ailments and from annoying urinary irregularities due to advancing years. Issac Regan, Farmer, Mo., says "Foley's Kidney Remedy effected a complete cure in my case and I want others to know it.

Sold By All Druggists.

"Foley's Honey and Tar is the best cough remedy I ever used as it quickly stopped a severe cough that had long troubled me" says J. W. Kuhn, Princeton, Neb. Just so quickly and surely it acts in all cases of coughs, colds, lagrippe and lung trouble. Refuse substitutes.—Sold By All Druggists.

THE MIDDLE AGED MAN.

Why He Thinks It Is Rheumatism That Bothers Him and Not Gout.

"Can anybody tell me," said the middle aged man, "the difference between rheumatism and gout? Now, not being very well versed in medical science, knowing very little in fact about osteology or therapeutics or anatomy, materia medica or pharmacopoea, I wouldn't undertake, myself, offhand to say; but in a general way I would say that gout is an ailment that attacks the rich and rheumatism the poor; and, being not what you would call a rich man, I suppose what I've got is rheumatism.

"I have read in novels and seen pictures of portly gentlemen of middle age or rather more who sat in great easy chairs and with one foot all swathed up in bandages stretched out in front of them supported on a foot rest. This is the old gentleman, living in a fine old manor house or in a splendid mansion in town, who is described in the novel as being testy and choleric—choleric, as I understand it, meaning not that he has cholera or anything of that sort but an uneven temper; and this old gentleman with foot thus done up in bandages and supported on a foot rest has gout.

"But several of my symptoms are different. I don't live in an old manor house, nor in a mansion in town; and however disposed I might be to be testy and choleric, I have to keep my temper, and I don't swath my foot in bandages and recline it on a foot rest. I have to keep more or less on the move.

"So I suppose that in the absence of the familiar gout symptoms we might safely diagnose my case as one of just plain rheumatism; but I guess my rheumatism hurts me about as much as the gout of our testy and choleric old friend hurts him."

SPRING OPENING

Millenery Store Miss Myrtle Foster

A beautiful spring day greeted the people on Tuesday and the opening of spring goods at the Millinery Store of Miss Myrtle Foster was exceptionally fine. In fancy hats the helment shape seems to take the lead with a promise of large hats for summer wear. The trimmings are largely floral in their design. Napoleon helments how ever being decorated with the butterfly or moth in most exagerated size. Cabuchons made of lace and beads from 3 to 4 inches across are much used and are very pretty. Black and white combinations are very good. The prevailing color however is coral, and coral and pearl beads are used quite freely.

We notice a special line of Gage and Corl Knot hats that were very The rooms were crowded with ladies who were anxious to see what the spring style had in store for them. The decorations were very tasty and the lovely day outside and the beauty within was a happy combination for the day.

ROBBER CATARRH

Steals Energy and Will Power From Its Victims

Catarrh robs its victim of energy—some physicians say will power. That may be the reason why thousands of catarrh suffers haven't ambition enough to accept this fair and square offer by C. A. Wright & Son which they make without any whys and wherefores or red tape of any kind.

C. A. Wright & Son says, "we guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, or money back," and that offer is open to every reader of the Herald.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is the purest Australian Eucalyptusr combined with Thymol and other germ killing antiseptics.

Pour a few drops into the small vest pocket HYOMEI inhaler and breathe it into the lungs over the inflamed membrane infested with catarrh germs

It is pleasant to use—it kills the germs, soothes the sore membrane, and cures catarrh; if it doesn't your money back.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at druggists everywhere, and at C. A. Wright & Son's. A complete outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs $1.00.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most postive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says

Mrs Jennett Teachout, W Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use. I was so promptly relieved that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

Kitty—inveterate flirt though she was, really loved Claude in her heart of hearts. The thought that her impetuous temper and wilful folly had perhaps endangered his life outweighed all consideration of self. He was a man of glorious physique, getting full share of masculine strength and good looks; but, as she reflected ruefully, Hercules was often stricken down in the vigor of his manhood, whilst the pigmy flourish.

"Dearest," she whispered, pressing her lips to his cheek; "dearest, speak to me. Oh, what shall I do!

"Miss Forrester!" exclaimed an amazed voice at this juncture.

The owner of the aforesaid voice—an Adonis of boyish aspect, gazed with wonder at the strange tableau before him.

Kitty raised a blushing but defiant face to his.

"Can't you see," she demanded aggressively; "that we've met with an accident! I'm afraid Mr. Mildmay has injured himself in saving me from drowning. Go and get help at once. Don't stand there—staring—like a—a—moonstruck calf! Go."

Jack Fenton, accustomed to the imperious moods and outspoken language of his goddess, departed to fulfill her bidding in sorrowful bewilderment, his youthful day-dreams ruthlessly dispelled.

Then Kitty, as though she were not sufficiently damp already, burst into tears, and fell to kissing Claude's hands in an agony of repentance.

"Kitty, darling, don't cry like that," exclaimed Claude, suddenly sitting bolt upright and slipping his arm around her waist.

Kitty gasped.

"Oh-h-h! If anyone should see us," she said: although she had entirely overlooked this contingency hitherto. "I was afraid that—that——"

"That you were going to lose me," Claude observed, gravely; albeit there was a twinkle of amusement in his eye. "You did not know that I was subject to—to—spasms—of the heart, did you?"

He sprang to his feet, and lifting her in his arms kissed her—unheeding her vehement protest.

"You have behaved disgracefully, Mr. Mildmay," she informed him. "I do believe you have been shamming all the time."

"Don't you think that your conduct in trying to drown me was enough to cause—spasms—Kitty?" asked Claude, slyly. "But never mind that—let us forget it. Tell me that you love me, kiss me again as you did just now, sweetheart—my own sweetheart."

Vowing that he had taken her at an unfair advantage, and that they would both catch their deaths of cold, and she would never—no never! speak to him again, Kitty fled from him in the direction of "River Lawn." But Claude smiled as he betook himself more leisurely to his bungalow, for he knew right well he had conquered and that wilful little Kitty was his—at last!

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the sallow complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. Jas. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others.

These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family.

This remedy is a vast improvement over cathartic tablets and salts, which only do good for the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results, is pleasant to take and does not gripe. It is especially good for all those who cannot stand a violent purgative.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

9 Year Old Girl Breaks The Swimming Record

Although but 9 years old, Mildred Wyman of Brookline, has made a record hitherto unequaled by any swimmer of her age. Like a tiny mermaid, she is altogether at home under the water and to see her diving, floating, swimming on the water or beneath its surface, one would think that here was her native element.

She took her first leson in swimming at the baths at Brookline when she was but 7 years old, and so far has outclassed any girl or boy of her age in her antics in the water.

When one thinks that there are not many men who can swim as far as eighty feet under the water and then calls up a mental picture of a tiny maid performing this feat, we begin to understand the amount of confidence in her powers and thorough fearlessness and love for this form of exercise she must entertain.

Only a few days ago she made the record of swimming seventy-five feet under the water, a record hitherto unapproached by any swimmer, boy or girl, of her age.

She would seem to be a particular favorite of that hoary old monarch of the seas, Neptune, judging by the length of time he permits her to remain in his realm. In a recent contest she remained under the water so long that fear crept over the large crowd attending, and even the instructors became a little apprehensive but after giving them all a thorough fright the dainty little water sprite came bobbing up at last, not a bit the worse for her prolonged sojourn with the fishes.

Here, it would seem, is an illustration that woman has proved her equality if not superiority to man, for little Miss Wyman has outclassed all boys near her age.

If the 9-year-old swimmer does but continue to progress in her art at the rate which she has hitherto gone, it would seem safe to prophesy that she will rival the wonderful Annette Kellerman, whose meteoric advent as a record breaking swimmer was so widely heralded.

The little maid bids fair to be a prodigy of prodigies, whose mind is developing quite as rapidly as her swimming muscles, for not only does she excel in swimming but she rates at the head of her class in her different studies.

As an all-round exercise, swimming is unequaled, for there is scarcely a muscle in the body not in action when one makes the different swimming motions. It gives one powerful chest and back muscles, and with good chest expansion the lungs are greatly strengthened.

Rainy Day Outfit For The Well-Dressed Girl

A pair of knickerbockers to save her petticoats is one of the most sensible investments of the girl who goes out in the rain. They are worn with warm woolen stockings or high leggings and are much better than draggled skirts.

Rubbers and high shoes, or, at any rate, high and preferably stormproof shoes attend each rainy-day walk of the well-dressed girl who does not trifle with low shoes and gaiters in the wet.

Instead of furs—the fitted mufflers of knitted silk and wool—or cotton, clasping snugly around the throat, are suitable for wet days. They are washable, so that white ones can always be kept snowy.

Knitted waistcoats are almost a necessity, to be slipped on under the thin raincoat.

A new rainy-day hat has appeared that should prove useful to the girl whose hair hangs limp and straight in the rain. It is a small and trim toque, trimmed with wings and fitted in front with a bewitching little false curly "bang." One must, of course, purchase a hat "banged" to match one's hair. The bangs are put on sparsely enough to suggest nature and not the hair emporium.

THE LAMP WICK.

Although the day of the lamp is passing some persons prefer the glow in the reading room to be from oil. That brings us to the question of wicks.

If you wish to prevent wicks from "smoking" when first lighted, it is a good idea to boil them before use. Immerse a few wicks in boiling vinegar and place the pan at the side of a stove for two or three hours. Drain off the liquid and hang the wicks up

SALT LAKE'S GROWTH.

That interesting and enthusiastic prophecy of the elder Bowles in his book, "Across the Plains," published in stage-coach days, that Salt Lake City was to be a rival in size of San Francisco, has not been realized, but the Morman capital is now showing great growth. When Bowles saw the place it could hardly have had more than 10,000 inhabitants, and it must have been pure Mormon. Ten years ago it had about 53,000, and now it has just short of 93,000. The rose of the desert is thus the greatest town between Denver and San Francisco. It is no longer pure Mormon, however, and indeed, must have nearly a majority of Gentiles. Nor does it promise to become the cosmopolitan resort that Bowles expected it to prove, though its growth of more than 75 per cent in 10 years indicates that it will probably overhaul in another decade some of the slow-growing cities between the Mississippi and the Rockies. Los Angeles rather seems to promise some such development as Bowles prophesied for Salt Lake City. The Mormon capital, meanwhile, has sufficient distinction of its own as a triumph of industry, energy and faith over adverse conditions.—Boston Herald.

LONDONERS LOSE MANY UMBRELLAS IN YEAR

POLICE AND OTHERS PICK UP MORE THAN 20,000 RAIN STICKS.

London, Eng. — Crime is declining in London, according to the annual report of the commissioner of police for 1909, just made public. Compared with 40 years ago, the population of the city has daubled, and the number of felonies has decreased. The police are catching a larger percentage of criminals now than ever before, and recovering more property.

An interesting feature of the report is the passing of the hansom cab. Although 3299 of these vehicles peculiar to London are still licensed, the number is less than half the former fleet. The explanation is found in the growth of the taxicab business—3,956 taxis were licensed.

Absent minded Britons left 25,004 umbrellas lying around for the police and others to pick up. After remaining three months, unclaimed lost articles are turned over to the person who found them. In this way one man was given an unclaimed $465 and another received $230.

STREET WORKING FOR RATE BOOST

SPREADS ALARMING REPORTS OVER BUSINESS CONDITIONS TO MAKE SENTIMENT.

ALSO MAKE THREATS

Say That Unless Increase Is Granted They Will Cancel Equipment Orders.

New York, N. Y.—That "business conditions" are being manipulated with an eye entirely on the effect they will have in manufacturing sentiment in favor of railway rate increases, was the view taken by business men generally who are not "Wall street insiders" today.

They laugh at the pessimism being scattered abroad by all connected with the stock market in any capacity and smilingly insist that the country is all right.

The street, however, believes the statement attributed to James J. Hill that "business conditions are far from satisfactory" is true. Outside business men ask why this is so.

They say economic conditions were never better and money rates were never more liberal than at present, when, under ordinary circumstances with holiday buying and crop movements in progress, money should be tight.

According to the New York Bureau, organ of the street, the reason for the unrest being voiced by big financiers is "because railroads and other large corporations have decided to proceed cautiously until the rate question and perhaps one or two other important matters are settled."

The executive committee of the Railway Business Men's association in its report recently, said unless the rate increases are granted orders for new equipment will be cancelled and their plants forced to shut down.

For that reason they appealed to the public to agitate in favor of rate raising. Attorneys for the shippers who are protesting rates, however, say this is an untenable position.

They say that if the commission rules against the latter will save money now being spent but will also have to go out for new business which will necessitate increased equipment.

Rumors that all is not satisfactory in the iron and steel trade is said by steel men who are on the inside to be due to the fact that independents are under selling big combines.

The steel corporation continues to operate its mills at an over-capacity of 40 per cent based on a normal consumption but independents are shading prices. They have all the business they can demand, for steel, it is claimed, continues to exceed the supply.

Big street leaders insisted today, however, that the attempt to make the Hill interview responsible for the break in the markea is stretching the point.

The larger houses, it is said, have an understanding that there is to be no "sky-rocketing of securities" while conditions are as at present and so prices in steel common, Union Pacific and Reading were jammed down "more as a warning than for any other reason."

MRS. CLARA M. GETCHELL.

Two weeks ago Sunday, Mrs. Getchell visited her brother Robert Quackenbush and said she was going to visit her sister, Mrs. Bernard in Britton, the coming week, later the neighbors not seeing her and her curtains being up as usual, thought that there must be something wrong and telephoned Mr. Quackenbush to that effect, he went through the house and finding nothing out of the way, concluded she had gone over to Adrian to visit a sister there, meanwhile Mrs. Bernard was expecting her at any time and Sunday drove up to visit her and take her to Britton for a visit, not finding her, she started for home.

Mr. Waldron her nearest neighbor, feeling worried over her absence, looked about through the barn and other places and finally looked in the window of the out-house and saw her sitting there, where death had overtaken her, probably on the evening of Tuesday, March 14.

The physican pronounced it apoplexy, she having had a slight stroke about Christmas time

She was the wife of the Rev. J. M. Getchell, a former minister of the Universalist Church, to whom she was united about 20 years ago, he preceding her to the better land seven years ago. Mrs. Getchell was a woman of a beautiful character, quiet and unassuming, but of sterling worth.

Her funeral was held this afternoon at the Universalist Church, the Rev. S. Louise Haight having charge of the services.

He had assisted his son in getting some wheat ready for the market and after sweeping the barn floor went into the house and complained of feeling ill and that he was sure his time had come. His wife, five sons and two daughters survive him He was 67 years old last December. Mr. Anderson and wife resided in Tecumseh for two years but growing homesick for the farm they moved back to Macon just a year ago. The funeral was held this morning at 10 o'clock at the house with Masonic funeral at the grave in Brookside.

FURIOUS FUN, FROLIC AND FRIVOLITY

FOUND AT THE LENAWEE COUNTY FAIR, ALSO THE HAREM AND THE HOBBLE SKIRTS

Big Financial Success for Civic Improvement Society

Tecumseh Society Appearing in Full Force, in Good Humor and Bound To Be Pleased With Everything

The Lenawee County Fair, given to raise money for a Sanitary Fountain for our village has come and gone, it was a grand success, as staged and carried out. It was a big financial success, the ladies to clearing $112.38. The performers could not have had a better person to drill them than Miss Boch, who was the author of the play. She had as able assistance—Mrs. Ira Rogers, Mrs. George Tiffany, Miss Mingay, Mrs. Alberts, and many other belonging to the society.

As the curtain rose, it took one back to the old county fair, with side shows in evidence. The old time bedquilts, the rag carpets, the fancy work lead one to wonder where they found them and they were of much interest to the spectators There were signs of all kinds, calling attention to the various departments.

Floyd Ager was barker and had many attractions to offer tothe people, the snake charmer, the wild man of Borneo, the Spanish dancer and many others.

All classes of people were present as is usual at such a time, even good Parson Briggs (B. J. Pulver) with his his prayer book, as he plead with the town boys not bet on the races. He seemed slightly embarassed when called upon to tend the baby, thrust into his unwilling arms.

The mother of 15 children (Mrs. Service) and Aunt Mary (Mrs. Stahl) were there to see the sights and the German lady (Elmer Mellon) Mrs. Switzenberger with her family were as good as a side show.

The widow (Miss Boch) and the widower (Orley Wood) afforded much amusement as all the world "loves a lover", the women sympathising with the suitor and thinking what they would say in her place.

The bride and groom were there holding hands (Miss Mingay and Ovid Marsh), he proclaiming in a loud tone of voice that he would spend two days wages on her.

The Society Ladies from Boston (Mrs. Rogers and Mrs Alberts) were there strutting around quite leisurely.

Shelley Southwick as the dude, was the right man in the right place, it not being hard for him to fill the bill.

The Auto Boys were trying to stand in with all the girls at the fair and were good at flirting.

The choruses were all good and well received and were exceptionally good for the short time that had been spent in training.

The Teddy Bear Chorus by the little girls, holding their Teddy Bears, appealed to everybody. The Tramp Chorus by the little boys in their rags and tatters, with their corn-cob pipes, was fine. The Yip-I-Addy Chorus was well rendered as was the Cowboy Chorus, the soloists doing finely. Lynn Rogers as soloist in the Farmer Chorus was a success. Bonnie Brown soloist in the College Chorus acquitted herself nicely.

In the Mendelssohn Chorus, Miss Vera Shaw was fine. The Fluffy Ruffles Chorus by the older of the young people, Miss Nellie Mingay soloist was one of the best things of the evening. The See Saw Chorus was one of the prettiest things ever, the draping of green and white with Easter Lillies and colored electric lights the the pretty dresses of the girls, the young men in their dress suits and the graceful motions all combined to make it a most spectacular scene. Miss Brush as soloist adding much to the enjoyment of the chorus.

Mrs. Grace Moore as the Spanish dancer, sung and danced in a manner pleasing to the audience.

The curtain went down at 10:30 on the final scene and if the proverb, "laugh and grow fat" be true, each one in the audience must have added to their avordupois, as it was a continual laugh from start to finish.

D. T. & I. CASE ABOUT ENDED.

The discussion of the payment of the Wage Claims by a score of lawyers in Detroit leads to the end of the long litigation following the receivership of the D. T. & I. railroad will soon be ended.

The Warring factions met in New York last week and finally agreed to agree. And will unfold their plans to Judge Swan April 10th.

The request of the receivers for the money to pay the labor claims brought the lawyers together in Detroit Monday January wages alone amount to $20,000 and it was agreed by all that this must be paid at once. Judge Swan will allow the receivers to borrow $150,000 for the payment of salaries and other running expenses.

Fore closure proceedings are pendings and final arrangements will be made April 10. It is quite evident that as the case now stands it is pay up or close down the road.

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. IT GROWS HAIR

Here Are Facts We Want You to Prove at Our Risk

Marvelous as it may seem, Rexall "93" Hair Tonic has grown hair on heads that were once bald. Of course, in none of these cases were the hair roots dead or had the scalp taken on a glazed, shiny appearance.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic acts scientifically, destroying the germs which are usually responsible for baldness. It penetrates to the roots of the hair, stimulating and nourishing them. It is a most pleasant toilet necessity, is delicately perfumed, and will not gum or permanently stain the hair.

We want you to get a bottle of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and use it as directed. If it does not relieve scalp irritation, remove dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and promote an increased growth of hair, and in every way give entire satisfaction, simply come back and tell us and without question or formality we will hand back to you every penny you paid us for it. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. The B. J. Pulver Drug Co.

FOR CONSTIPATION

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy and are notable for their agreeableness to the palate and gentleness of action. They do not cause griping or any disagreeable effect or inconvenience.

Unlike other preparations for a like purpose, they do not create a habit, but instead they overcome the cause of habit acquired throug the use of ordinary laxatives, cathartics and harsh physic, and permanently remove the cause of constipation or irregular bowel action.

We will refund your money without argument if they do not do as we say they will. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. The B. J. Pulver Drug Co.

FAIR NOTES

Did you notice little John Deming in the Teddy Bear chorus at the County Fair? He's all right.

Pink lemonade was at a discount at the "County Fair." Did you get some?

The little soloists at the "County Fair" did splendidly. Ella Mathias, Marjorie Rosacrans, Alberta Deming, Helen Deming, Lillian Kennedy, Clement McClelland and Harry Duncan were roundly applauded.

Mrs. Sweitzenberger was everywhere present even helping some of the ladies exterminate the vermin at the County Fair.

TO THE VOTERS OF LENAWEE COUNTY

Four years ago last January I assumed the duties of Prosecuting Attorney of this County.

During my four years as Prosecuting Attorney I endeavored to look after the duties of the office in a fearless and conscientious manner. I believed in investigating the circumstances surrounding a case before brining the same into court. This method greatly reduced the number of criminal cases tried in Justice Courts as well as in the Circuit, and consequently was a great saving to the tax-payers of the county, but only in jury fees, but also witness fees and incidental court expenses. By such a course, not only money was saved to the county, but the time of the court was not occupied with needless criminal work and therefore the civil cases could be more readily disposed of.

As Prosecuting Attorney my aim was to give the people a careful, economical and conservative administration of the office and to enforce the laws without fear or favor. Of the result the public must judge.

If elected to the office of Circuit Judge I shall strive to do my full duty anp endeavor to see that all litigants are fairly treated, and that the work of the office is carried on in ar an economical and conservative way as is consistent wish justice to all. I am a firm believer in law enforcement and appreciate the importance of the office.

Thanking the public for past favor and assuring you any future favors you may show me will be appreciated, I am,

Respectively,
Burton L. Hart.

ST. ELMO

For the benefit of those that have not read St. Elmo recently, everyone seems to have read this famous novel some time during the forty years that it has ranked as the seventh seller, it may be stated that Willard Holcombs stage version, which is the only one that ever received the sanction of the authoress, Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson, preserves as far as possible within the dramatic limits of time and space the main incidents and atmosphere of the original romance. According to this Edna Earl, granddaughter of a poor but worthy old blacksmith of Chattanooga, is the unintended witness of a duel in which St. Elmo, a young aristocrat of Georgia, kills Murry Hammond, his boyhood chum and son of his old tuter, the Rev. Mr. Hammond. It afterward transpires that St. Elmo had ample justification for seeking satisfaction under the then prevailing code of honor, but when in after years accident and ambition to make Miss Earl the protage of his mother and the pet pupil of the Rev. Mr. Hammond. She regards the young aristocrat with fear and aversion, based upon the belief that he is the murderer, whose wealth and social position have enabled him to escape punishment.

ST. ELMO will be presented at the BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE next MONDAY, APRIL 3.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most postive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says.

Mrs. Jeanett Teachout, W. Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble. Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped, sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use. I was so promptly relieved that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

THE FLYER THAT NEVER HALTS

But Keeps Going Steadily Without Body or Wings or Wheels.

"The only flying thing that never breaks down," said the man with frost in his hair, "is the one commonly known as Time; nothing ever the matter with that; it flies steadily with never a stop.

"Other flying things that we know of burst their carbureters, or bend their shafts, or break their propellers, or get out of gasolene, or they bend their wings or blow up or burn, or there's something the matter with them so that they can't be kept flying, but the flying thing called Time keeps right along without requiring even any oil on its bearings, the one and only perpetual motion, which nothing can stop. It never speeds, it keeps going always at the same steady uniform gait, whether on the earth or in the air, but it never stops, and so, soon or late, it leaves men and all their works behind.

"I'd like it if I could help the flying machine men; I would do it if I could; but I'd like better to be able to stop or at least to check or slow down the flight of that greatest of all flying things, though it is without body, or wings or wheels, the flyer that we call Time."

Heard in Some Households.

Absolutely no consideration for me.

You are driving me to desperation.

Your treatment is beyond endurance.

A weaker woman would be driven into a mad-house.

I am surely losing my mind.

I never had a moment's peace.

You are making my life a hell on earth.

You are driving me to an early grave.

I am simply worn to the bone.

Never get one kind word.

Oh, why did I leave home?

I can never open my mouth.

Oh, if the grave would only open and take me in.

I am all unstrung.

I am on the verge of nervous prostration.—F. J. W., in Life.

The Limitations of Royalty.

The late King Oscar of Sweden was the least conventional of monarchs, but he had to courtesy to custom, nevertheless.

The King and Monsieur Bonnier, the botanist, met as strangers, the New York Sun's foreign correspondent says, while out in search of flowers near Stockholm. They were soon the best of friends, and Bonnier suggested lunch at his inn:

"Come home with me instead," said the other.

When the way led to the palace gates Bonnier hesitated.

"I'm sorry," said his companion, "but I happen to be the king of this country, and this is the only place where I can entertain my friends."

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance; that usually they work too drastically, and are nauseating and too powerful for the little one's stomach.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. L. Davis of 181 W. Harrison street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something pure, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains tonic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

An Angel of Mercy.

"Gentlemen, I was not always a rich man," said the cigar drummer as he lighted another of his samples and sat back to enjoy it. "No; it is only for the last ten years that I have wallowed in luxury."

"You were poor as the rest of us before that time?" queried one of his listeners.

"I should hate to tell you what straits I was ofetimes driven to. I will relate only one instance. I found myself in Boston, out of money and out of work. I walked the streets two days without food. I walked until I fell down exhausted."

"And then came the banker and took you under his wing?"

"No, sir. I was lying in the street, dying as I thought, when a lady who was passing that way in her carriage saw me and descended, and after a few words of encouragement and hope, she took the rings from her ears and put them in my hand."

"And you lived on?"

"I did."

"And you sold those earrings and the money gave you a start."

"Exactly."

"And did you ever find the name of the angel?"

"I did. As soon as fortune began to smile on me I traced her out and put a two-dollar bill in her hand and spoke a thousand words of gratitude."

"A two-dollar bill!"

"Yes. The earrings were Rhinestone, and that was their original cost. So you see, gentlemen"—

But they called him a liar and fled his company.

One Book Authors.

Robert Burton, the author of "The Anatomy of Melancholy," may claim this honor. His book has stood the test of time as few books have. Professor Saintsbury writes that "all fit readers of English literature have loved him." Lamb praises "the fantastic great old man" and, indeed, borrowed from him many a choice phrase. Among other remarkable "one book authors" may be mentioned Sir Thomas Malory, whose famous collection of Arthurian romances is one of the imperishable treasures of the English tongue; Richard Hooker, whose "Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity" is still a standard book on the constitution of the Church of England, and Gilbert White, whose immortal "Natural History of Selbourne" is still read with pleasure and profit.

WHAT BETTY THOUGHT

"No, I couldn't describe my ideal man."

Betty's blond head was outlined against the big blue satin pillow which she had brought from the parlor couch to the library as soon as young Frost had telephoned her that he would call that evening. It was a rich shade of blue—an effective background for a Dresden china face.

Betty's eyes rested on her own slim white hand, whiter than ever as it lay upon the dark blue of her gown, and young Frost's eyes naturally followed the innocent lead of hers. The briefest of examinations showed conclusively that it was a very pretty hand.

"No, I cannot describe my ideal man," said Betty. "Of course," she continued, after a scarcely perceptible pause, "I have some ideas about him. He must be strong—in character as well as physique. I must feel that he is stronger than I am."

"I understand that," young Frost asserted so cordially that Betty hardly repressed a smile. She had met the same situation before, but had yet to meet the man who did not believe he could easily measure up to this ideal.

"Why do you ask?" she inquired, oh, so innocently! "Have you an ideal woman?"

"I certainly have," replied young Frost, with grave emphasis.

"And you know how she looks, even?"

"Yes, I do."

"Would you mind telling me about her?"

"I've wanted to for a long time."

"She has the sweetest, most unselfish, sincere nature imaginable," began young Frost. "She has a way of compelling the best there is in you to rule you.

"I think it's because she's so good and true herself, and trusts so completely in the goodness and truth of other people that you couldn't bear to disappoint her. It keeps you up to your highest mark when you're with her, and when you're away from her — his voice softened — "when you're away, if you happen to drop a little, the thought of her pulls you up again."

Betty's eyelids were down. She had never heard herself described like this.

"It seems to me these things come first—before mere personal appearance," Frost went on, "but she's beautiful to look at, too. Her hair is very heavy. It's blond. Not exactly golden—more of a soft, pale brown."

H'm said Betty to herself. Everybody else says golden.

"She dresses it very simple," said young Frost, "in a way that shows it's all her own hair. It's a great contrast to the fashionable, upholstered head, but she's so genuine, clear through, that anything of that sort would be distinctly out of character."

"Men are so innocent," Betty thought tenderly; for one of the thick braids wound smoothly round her head was attached only by hairpins.

"She's tall, for a woman, and graceful. She mostly dresses in a dark shade. I'm not much on colors, but when she isn't all in white, I should say she usually has on a plum-colored dress—deep and rich, you know—with a little white lace round the neck."

The dimples tried to come in Betty's cheeks as she heard this groping masculine tribute to her fancy for being known as the "girl in dark blue." Gown after gown she had bought, all of the same color, and she always had them made with a touch of white about the face, just as he had noticed.

"She has nice hands—slender; and good shaped—but they're not the kind that are beautiful because they never do anything between manicuring times. Theyre helpful, capable hands."

Betty felt suddenly unworthy. "What color are her eyes?" she murmured, without looking up.

Frost hesitated. "What's the matter with that candle on the bookcase?" he asked suddenly. "See how it flares."

"I think it's perfectly safe," was the demure answer, made without a flicker of Betty's downcast lashes. "The shade has a mica lining; it can't take fire. You didn't tell me the color of her eyes."

There was silence. Frost went over and examined the candle. On the way back he moved two chairs and picked up a magazine which had slipped from the table, but Betty was not to be surprised into looking up.

"It's queer that I should have to stop and think," he said, finally sitting down again. "They—well, they're blue, that's what they are."

"They are'!" A pair of unmistakably brown eyes opened wide and looked reproachfully at him, but if Frost was surprised he faield to show it.

"They are." he repeated, firmly. "Now that I see your brown eyes again I'm perfectly sure that hers are blue."

"Hers!" Betty's face but faintly expressed the chagrin she felt as her thoughts flashed back through the past few minutes. She was completely off her guard.

"Yes, my mother's eyes are blue." Frost leaned forward and masterfully possessed himself of Betty's hand. "You're so like her, Betty. That likeness was what first drew me to you, and since I've come to know you for yourself—Betty, dear"—with a sudden glint of mischief—"can't you feel that I'm stronger than you are?"

"I ought to hate you," she whispered without withdrawing her hand, "but I don't."

Microbes.

"Speaking of the ark," he said, "I saw a little boy at play with his Noah's ark the other day. I watched him put aboard all the people, all the painted animals, and then I saw him place carefully in a sheltered spot two tiny splinters of wood.

"'What are they, my son?' I asked.

"'Them's microbes,' said he.

"It had never occurred to me before, but there must, of course, have been a pair of microbes in the ark."—Harper's Weekly.

Thorwaldsen.

Thorwaldsen was a Dane, born in Copenhagen, Denmark. It is hard to answer your question about his greatest work. He worked along various lines—that of the classic mythology, that of religion and that of history, and the question you raise would be answered differently by different people. One might say that his "chief work" was the "Mars," another "The Twelve Apostles," and still another the "Lion of Lucerne." Pretty nearly everything that Thorwaldsen did was great.

For a Loaf, All Right.

As the tramp looked at Mrs. Godard he felt a thrill of hope. Here was surely an easy and benevolently inclined person. "Could you gimme a dime to buy a loaf o' bread?" he whined.

Mrs. Godard's guileless soul looked out at him through her nearsighted eyes, and she fingered her purchase hopefully.

"I have only a quarter here," said she, "and I'm really too tired to walk home."

"Sure, I can change it for you," said the tramp, cheerfully, as he took out a dime and a nickel; and not until Mrs. Godard was half-way home on the car did it occur to her that there was anything unusual in the transaction.

Microscopic Writing.

A remarkable machine made by a lately deceased member of the Royal Microscopical Society for writing with a diamond seems to have been broken up by its inventor. To decipher the writing it is necessary to use a 1-12 inch objective, which is the high power lens physicians employ for studying the most minute bacteria.

"Only Us Chickens."

The same thing that prompts one to say yes in answer to the query, "Are you asleep?" may have influenced the negro in the following story from Life:

It was a dark night, and the owner of the chicken-coop, gun in hand, was investigating certain suspicious noises he had heard.

"Who's in there?" he called at the open window.

Erastus, inside, replied softly and reassuringly, "Ain't nobody heah 'cep'in us chickens."

SAVING $1,000,000 A DAY.

The most striking application of the contention of Attorney Brandeis before the interstate commerce commission, that by scientific operation a saving of $1,000,000 per day could be affecting by the railroads of this country, is that this possible saving be proposed as an alternative for the proposed general advance in rates. If the railroads need an increase of net earnings, and if such a substantial increase can be made by more systematic operation without reducing the scale of wages or salaries, why should rates be advanced? For, aside from the need of greater revenue, the railroads should be ready to adopt the most scientific and economic policies compatible with efficient service.

It cannot be said that Mr. Brandeis has conclusively sustained his contention, but he has offered testimony from both expert railroad men and the scientific men of other lines of business that must be given reasonable consideration.—Kansas City Star.

INSURANCE MEN UTTER WARNING

ASK COMMERCE COMMISSION TO GO EASY ON RATE QUESTION.

FOR POLICY HOLDERS

Their Money to Extent of Millions Invested in Rail Stock Says Ide.

Washington, D. C.—The interest of the life insurance companies with their 20,000,000 policyholders, in the avoidance of any decision that might impair their investments in railroad securities, was called to the attention of the interstate commerce commission today by George E. Ide, president of the Home Life Insurance company of New York.

Mr. Ide testified that he appeared before the commission in its investigation of the proposed increase in freight rates as the spokesman of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents and the vast army of policyholders. He declared a false step by the commission would seriously affect a vast number of citizens who were indirectly, but intimately related in the prosperity of the railroads and whatever action the commission took would be regarded as a precedent to guide the commissions of the various states.

Mr. Ide declared that the individual investor had his rights, but was unable to appear for himself. Under the general economic system, the small saver who might become the future capitalist was a partner in these enterprises. He contended that anything affecting unfavorably the prosperity and extension of the railroads ultimately would be felt by the small saver whose welfare was of vital importance to the upbuilding of the nation.

"Of the entire bond issue of the steam railroads of this country amounting to $9,118,000,000," said Mr. Ide, "the life insurance companies doing business in New York state hold $1,139,000,000, or one-eighth. The 20,000,000 policyholders are all collectively and individually interested in the integrity of this investment. Any move which even sentimentally affects unfavorably the railroads of the land will strike a blow at these securities. It is not necessary to reduce the railroads to a condition of bankruptcy before the value of the underlying securities is affected."

"Why such trepidation at this time," asked Commissioner Lane, "when last year was the best year the railroads ever had?"

"It is to the future," replied Mr. Ide. "I know that such sentiment exists."

Mr. Ide said that the plea for investment security integrity might well be extended to safe guarding the savings banks and educational institutions.

E. E. Williamson, freight commissioner for the commercial organizations of Cincinnati, resumed his testimony, telling about the "remarkable good" financial condition of the American railroads. He said that since the Hepburn act the public had been contributing greater revenues to the railroads and the effective enforcement of the law against rebates practically spelled the difference between bankruptcy and prosperity for the railroads. He declared that the basis of credit of nearly all the railroads was good.

He told of what he termed a pessimistic pamphlet prepared by Chairman C. C. McLain, of the truck line association, which, he said, was distributed by railroads, though it seemed to "bear the market against themselves," the document deploring the rates situation as threatening the stability of the railroads. He severely criticised that pamphlet as reflecting upon railroad security integrity.

He dwelt upon a letter in reply which his commercial organization had sent to President Brown of the New York Central, deploring such a pronunciamento from the railroads. He told of the purchasing agents of the Chicago Great Western, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, and the Chicago & Eastern Illinois, soliciting signatures of shippers to head off opposition to increases in rates, a similar letter being sent out by the Griffin Car company, a railway supply concern of Chicago.

Fixity of Purpose.

The man who succeeds above his fellows is the one who, early in life, clearly discerns his object, and toward that object habitually directs his powers. Even genius itself is but fine observation strengthened by fixity of purpose. Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly grows unconsciously into genius.—Bulwer-Lytton.

HON. J. L. O'MEALEY

Democratic Candidate for Circuit Judge, Lenawee County

In the issue of the Telegram of March 2, figures were presented showing where great savings had been made in the expenses of the jury during the past few years.

It was shown that an appropration of $10,000 was cut to $5,000, and had the advice of the County Treasure been heeded it might have been made even lower. His instructions were that $3,000 would be sufficient for this year that there was $8,000 in the jury fund at the time.

These figures alone might mean little, but as a matter of fact the records of the court will show that a great volume of business has been handled, one case in particular taking nearly ten days. Over a dozen burglars have been attended to, besides the numerous other cases; but the work has been handled with such dispatch that the expenses have kept to a minimum and the treatment of the lawbreakers has been such as to discourage that sort of work.

Judge O'Mealey filled his petition in the regular manner under the law and made known the fact that his desire to serve the people another term if they are satisfied with his work. On the other hand the candidate on the opposing ticket made the public statement that he absolutely, unconditionally and unquestionably would would not make the run if his party placed him on the ticket. It canuot other wise be construed but that a party making such a statement has but little interest in the office

Statements have been made to the effect that the present judge has taken undue personal interest in cases that came before him, but this argument has been presented by attorneys who have beeu touched by the judge's determination to keep the cases moving and reduce the expenses of the court, which is a very satisfactory fault, if such it may be called on the part of Judge O'Mealey.

Headlines in the daily papers from time to time have been "Big reduction in court expenses," Circuit court working fast," etc. This fact has been used by those who oppose the the present judge to show that he interference might be addmitted but when it means a saving of thousands of dollars to the taxpayers os the county few voters would care if the feelings of a few attorneys were injured a trifle.

The people want a judge who uses his best judgement both in disposing of criminals and his attentions to the disposition of the people's money.

Adrian Daily Telegram.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE COUNTY OF LENAWEE

Judge O'Mealy has shown himself to be an able, as well as an incurruptable judge, and he has administered the law regardless of the social, political or moneyed position of the offender, placing his duty to the people above his own political future, personal gain and even friendship.

As long as he is judge it will not always be so easy for the law breaker to escape the consequences of his crime by the mere payment of a fine.

Bank robberies and jail-breaking have become common in the State. The knowledge that a fearless and just man sits on the bench will have a salutary effect in ridding the County of thugs and desperate criminals residing in a border State and operating in Michigan.

The way in which Judge O'Mealy has presided over his Court in the last two years proves him to be a remarkably able man, and one peculiarly fitted for his difficult position

I appeal to the Voters of Lenawee County to demonstrate that they can rise above party considerations and that they will not be influenced against their better judgement by factions who oppose Judge O'Mealy solely because he has been an IMPARTIAL judge.

I am registered as a Republican, am not a personal friend of Judge O'Mealy; he would not know me from Adam. I am merely actuated by an earnest desire to see a man retained in an office for which he has shown himself so well fitted, and for the Welfare and the best interests of the County of Lenawee.

ST. ELMO

For the benefit of those that have not read St. Elmo recently, everyone seems to have read this famous novel some time during the forty years that it has ranked as the seventh seller, it may be stated that Willard Holcombs stage version, which is the only one that ever received the sanction of the authoress, Mrs. Augusta Evans Wilson, preserves as far as possible within the dramatic limits of time and space the main incidents and atmosphere of the original romance. According to this Edna Earl, granddaughter of a poor but worthy old blacksmith of Chattanooga, is the unintended witness of a duel in which St. Elmo, a young aristocrat of Georgia, kills Murry Hammond, his boyhood chum and son of his old tuter, the Rev. Mr. Hammond. It afterward transpires that St Elmo had ample justification for seeking satisfaction under the then prevailing code of honor, but when in after years accident and ambition make Miss Earl the protage of his mother and the pet pupil of the Rev. Mr. Hammond. She regards the young aristocrat with fear and aversion, based upon the belief that he is the murderer, whose wealth and social position have enabled him to escape punishment. For three acts there after it is a duel between St. Elmo and Edna Earl, aristocrat and ambitious plebian, the old south, the new, a contest, complicated by their love which grows stronger through the rivalery and interference of interested persons, until it eventually overrides pride, difference in social rank and wealth, and is brought to a happy ending.

ST. ELMO will be presented at the BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE next MONDAY, APRIL 3, by the same excellent company that presented it here last year, with MISS ALICE BOLTON as EDNA EARL and WILBER CHAMBERS playing the part of ST. ELMO.

THE EAGLES

The Eagles soared high on Monday evening last, when the losing side in the contest for securing new members for the order had to furnish the banquet for the crowd. A most delightful evening was passed and amid a cloud of smoke the ways and means for the advancement of the order was fully discussed. Ten new members were taken into the Order. Every member living in town was present and letters were received from several who were unable to be present from out of town. The night was a stormy one but it was pleasant inside. There will be another contest in May and the 4th Monday night will be observed in like manner. The names of the new members are: A. A. Smith, G. J. Ziehr, F. B. Ellis, Ralph Smith, W. L. Coller, Karl Kaiser, John W. Rowe, Floyd Russell, Frank Rippley, and Claire Camburn.

L. O. T. M. M.

Celebrating the 25th anniversary of the organization of this order the L. O. T. M. M. gave a banquet Monday evening to the K. O. T. M. M. at their lodge rooms. There was a fine turnout and a most elaborate supper was served and an interesting program was also given. Later in the evening cards were in order and nine tables of pedro were played. A reminscent social time was enjoyed by all and the evening was one long to be remembered.

MILLINERY OPENING

Miss Nettie Pierce

Friday and Saturday March 24-25

The pleasant store of Miss Pierce was in gala dress on Friday and Saturday of last week. Gay ribbons, bright flowers and hats of every discription helped in the display. In Milan braids noted were those for young ladies in extreme size but of the finest texture, and the drooping shapes in the dainty hats for the children with trimmings of forget me nots, lillies of the valley and ribbon roses were beautiful indeed. Navy and coronation blues were quite noticeable and with the bright trimmings were very effective. The Nacre shades in braids and flowers were quite striking and becoming to every one.

Miss Pierce also displayed some beautiful persian bands that lend themselves nicely to the trimming of a hat. A beautiful black hat with coral trimmings in bands and flowers was on display and was much admired Everything was bright and charming and made one long for the pleasant spring days and a pretty hat for the spring-time

"Do it now!"

MONDAY CLUB

The Monday Club held their regular meeting on Monday afternoon. The regular program was given. Miss S. Already Out of Commission

The front door bell way out of repair. Mother in a hurry instructed John to put up some sort of a notice to that effect, so that the visiting public would be notified. John is long on foot-ball and short on the mysteries of punctuation. He finally evolved this sign, which a startled neighbor brought in to the mother:

"PLEASE KNOCK THE DOOR BELL OUT OF ORDER."

Just the right medicine for backache, rheumatism, Bright's disease and all urinary irregularities. William F. Schramm, Adrian, Mich., says: "I had a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for severel years. My back ached so severe that when I stooped over I could hardly straighten up and there were always sharp pains in my sides and often felt dizzy and weak. The kidney action was irregular and painful. I used Foley Kidney Pills only a few weeks and now I am a well man once more. A Fierce Night Alarm is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c. at C. A. Wright & Son

FLOATING SLUM OF CANTON.

Where the Poor of a Great Chinese City Live.

Stand beside the imperial custom house at Canton China, and let the eye range down the river toward Hong Kong. As far as the sight can reach lie boats, boats and again boats. These are no ordinary craft, mere vessels of transport plying hither and thither, but the countless homes of myriad Chinese, in which millions have been born, have lived and died. They are the dwellings of the very poor, who live in them practically free from rent, taxes and the other burdens of the ordinary citizen.

The Tankia (which means boat dwellers), as the denizens of these floating houses are called, form a sort of caste apart from the rest of the Cantonese. The shore dwellers regard them as belonging to a lower social order, and indeed they have many customs peculiar to themselves which mark them as a separate community. How the swarming masses of them contrive to support existence is a mystery, but their chief mode of employment is in carrying merchandise and passengers from place to place. In some cases the daughters of the family go ashore to work in factories; but the year's earnings of a Chinese factory girl would scarce suffice to buy a single hat for her western sister. Of course as against this low rate of pay the standard of living is correspondingly different.

The houses which make up these vast floating slums are of all sizes. Some are but fifteen feet long. From there cramped dimensions, however, they range up to a length of fifty or sixty feet. A boat large enough to accommodate a family of moderate size can be obtained for $20, and since the anchorage is free it is obvious that the Tankia effect many savings impossible to the shore dweller.

Sufficiently Marred.

"You want [illegible] pose," said the lawyer to whom Mrs. Donovan's husband escorted her on the day after she and Mrs. Leahy had indulged in a little difference of opinion.

"Damages!" echoed Mrs. Donovan, shrilly. "Haven't I got damages enough already, man? What I'm after is satisfaction."

Some girls ripen into womanhood and some are plucked green.

Randal's mother had talked to him many times as to the importance of getting home early when she allowed him to play with the children in the neighborhood. Recently, after many promises of an early return, he came home late as usual.

"Mother's little boy cannot go out to play any more for two or three days, until he learns to keep his word," his mother said in despair.

"Well, mother, I don't see how you ever expect me to learn, if you don't let me practice," was the unexpected reply.—Lippincott's.

Salmon's Rapid Growth.

It is said that a 20-pound salmon which was caught in Scotland not long ago had attached to one of its fins a small silver plate marked "935B."—Upon inquiry it was found that this label had been put on the fish by the Loch Lomond Angling Improvement Association in December, 1907, in a river feeding the lake.

The records show that it then weighed ten pounds, and thus in the space of 18 months it has doubled its weight.—Forest and Stream.

PEERLESS FENCE CO.

While the people who had their money invested in Anthony Fence Co. are applauding the fore-sight of their Directors in disposing of their company so as to realize a premium of ten per-cent on their holdings or $11 per share, the stockholders of the Peerless Company, formerly the Lamb of Adrian, are condemning their officers for placing them in a position where they are virtually compelled to sell at a big discount, the price being but $7 per share, a reduction of $3 from par. Some of the irrate holders are even threatening legal action.

BLANCHARD COUNCIL NO 34.

A special assembly of Blanchard Council No. 34, R. & S. M., was held at Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon and evening. About 25 visitors from Manchester and a number of Clinton Companions were present.

At 2:30 the Royal Master's degree was conferred by Blanchard Council, followed by work in the Select Master's degree, which was conferred by the officers of Adoniram Council of Manchester. A fine banquet was served at 5:30 after which the Super-Excellent degree was conferred on a class of 4 candidates, 2 from Tecumseh and one from Manchester and Clinton Grand Lecturer Arthur H McCloud of Detroit was present and complemented the work very highly. It was a very enjoyable Masonic assembly.

HOSPITAL AT INDUSTRIAL HOME

As a result of the investigation of the conditions of the Industrial Home by the committee of the House of Representatives. They are quite undecided how to report the matter as to the approporation asked at this for running expenses and a hospital of so discription. The accomodations are far from being sufficient, as not more than 7 people can be cared for at one time and the home has to be quarantined in case of an epidemic. It is thought that $20,000 would be sufficient to do the work. The members of the board expressed themselves in the favor of the requests of the home management, but Gov. Osborn's economy message stares them in the face and they fear the extras will not be allowed.

The idea of the management is to have enough hospital space so that every girl who enters can be kept apart from the others a sufficient time to decide if she has symptoms of any contagious disease, after which she would be free to join the other inmates, also this extra room would be used for those who fall ill in the home.

R. L. Taylor resident member of the board will go to Lansing and present the case to both the Senate and the House Committee and try to secure an appropriation.

ROBBER CATARRH

Steals Energy and Will Power From Its Victims

Catarrh robs its victim of eney—some physicians say will power. That may be the reason why thousands of catarrh suffers haven't ambition enough to accept this fair and square offer by C. A. Wright & Son which they make without any whys and wherefores or red tape of any kind.

C. A. Wright & Son says, "we guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh, acute or chronic, or money back," and that offer is open to every reader of the Herald.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) is the purest Australian Eucalyptus combined with Thymol and othe germ killing antiseptics.

Pour a few drops into the small vest pocket HYOMEI inhaler and breathe it into the lungs over the inflamed membrane infested with catarrh germs

It is pleasant to use—it kills the germs, soothes the sore, membrane, and cures catarrh; if it doesn't your money back.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at druggists everywhere, and at C. A Wright & Son's. A complete outfit, which includes a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs $1.00.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Tecumseh Citizens Show the Certain Way Out

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most postive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Tecumseh citizen says

Mrs Jeanett Teachout, W. Oneida Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "I again take pleasure in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to persons afflicted with kidney trouble. Last fall my kidneys became disordered and I suffered from pains in the small of my back. If I stooped, sharp twinges seized me and for a few seconds I was unable to straighten. Too frequent passages of the kidney secretions also annoyed me greatly and the doctor was unable to help me. Doan's Kidney Pills were so highly spoken of that I procured a box and began their use. I was so promptly relieved that I continued taking the medicine until my trouble disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

IS FOR FORTIFICATION

Sen. Money Stands Firm For Safe-Guarding of Panama Canal.

Washington, D. C. — The fortification of the Papama canal will have the unqualified support of Senator Money of Mississippi, minority leader of the upper house of congress.

"Those who talk about neutralizing the canal by treaty don't know what they are talking about," said Senator Money to the United Press today. "When the question of a canal first arose in 1897 I stood for an American canal and for fortifying it I have not changed my mind.

"If Japan or any other country declared war they would not serve notice in the newspapers. They would seize the canal first. Moreover in the clash of war treaties are silent.

Despite neutralization of the Suez canal by treaty the English closed it for eight days while they bombarded Alexandria.

If we are going to leave the Panama canal unfortified we might as well ask the English to tear down their fortifications at Gibraltar and elsewhere along the Mediterranean."

Despite Representative Tawney's objections it now looks as if the fortification measure will have the approval of a majority in congress.

AID TO LONGEVITY.

Dr. Jacques Bertillon, the eminent French physician and an acknowledged authority, announces the conclusion that matrimony is the greatest aid to longevity. He says if men and women would reach a good old age they must marry. This, he says, is established by statistics gleaned from all over the world. A married man or woman has, he says, thrice the chance of a good long run as a bachelor or a spinster. In further illustration of this contention that the wedded life is best for men he shows that the mortality among widowers is greater than the average among married men. So he recommends them to look out for a new partner—that is, at any rate, if they are under 60. This is his advice to young men:

"Marry; you will do well, even from a selfish standpoint. But watch carefully over your wife's health, as even from this egotistical point of view her loss will be a terrible misfortune, for your life depends in a great measure on her own."

Dr. Bertillon finds that the mortality among widows is much greater than among married women of the same age. The death rate of widows from 20 to 25 years of age, he says, is twice that of married women of the same age.

Men are less careful of their habits and are unable to live so near the ideal life when deprived, either by design or circumstance, of the watchful care of a wife. When we live under the rule of matrimony we gain. When people leave this influence they suffer, he concludes.—Woman's National Daily.

Kills A Murderer

A merciless murderer is Appendicitis with many victims, but Dr. Kings New Life Pills kill it by prevention. They gently stimulate stomach, liver and bowels, preventing that clogging that invites appendicitis, curing Con [illegible] Chills, 25c. at O. A. Wright & Son.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an anndyance; that usually they work too drastically, and are nauseating and too powerful for the little one's stomach.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free sample bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is the best way to begin on it. Mrs. L. Davis of 187 W. Harrison street, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1710 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample and now they write that they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something pure, mild and natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains tonic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sick headache, sour stomach and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A FAMILIAR ALARM.

It must come with something of a shock, after the generous not to say lavish, appropriations for the military establishment, which have been increasing with leaps and bounds since the war with Spain, to find such universal pessimism among our leading generals over our unpreparedness for war. A few weeks ago it was lack of officers and the general inefficiency of our army system. Later it was that nothing short of a standing army of 250,000 was worth while, followed by declarations for conscription. Now comes Major General Leonard Wood with the disheartening statement that, although we are spending one-fourth of our national income on the army, weak spots are visible in all directions. The most serious, he says, is the shortage in field artillery, estimating that it would take 50 years at the present rate of appropriation to get all the field artillery needed. Then there is a lack of reserve ammunition for both the field guns and the coast defense. There is only about half the field artillery required as a complement to our present regular army and organized militia which, it is further pointed out, would be only part of the forces mobilized in case of war with a first-class power.

After reading these gloomy pictures of our absolute unpreparedness, not to say helplessness, the ordinary citizen may be pardoned for the natural inquiry as to what is being done with all those millions that have been devoted to the army since 1898. Doubtless they have been honestly expended, but if these weak spots of which General Wood speaks are so important, it would seem that some of that money should have been spent in remedying them.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

BANK OF FRANCE BIG ORGANIZATION

FOUNDED BY EMPEROR NAPOLEON IT HAS GROWN TO HERCULEAN SIZE.

MILLIONS IN VAULT

Great Financial Institution Begun February 13, 1800, With Little General Subscribing Stock.

New York, N. Y.—The Bank of France, over whose counters the greatest international transactions are carried out, was organised in its present form, Feb. 13, 1800, by Napoleon. It was constituted in the form of a joint stock company with a capital of 30,000,000 francs. Napoleon headed the subscription list with 30 shares.

The capital was increased to 45,000,000 in 1803, to 91,000,000 in 1848 and to 182,000,000 in 1857 at which figure it still remains. The nominal value of the shares is 1,000 francs, but they are quoted at the Bourse at over 4,000 francs. The number of shareholders has increased from 13,767 in 1860 to 31,249 in 1909. One-third of these holders do not have more than one share each. Fifty per cent have no more than two shares each.

The privilege, or franchise of the bank expires December 31, 1920, but will of course, says a writer in Moody's magazine, be prolonged by the state. The bank has no branches in foreign countries, not even in the French colonies. But there are 127 branches in France's chief cities and 73 sub-offices in minor centers. The Bank of France does not accept any bills for discounting unless the latter are created in France or, at least, indorsed by two French signatures; all advances of money which it makes must be guaranteed by French securities, themselves guaranteed by the state; its bank notes are circulated only within the territory. Finally, all the members who make up the general assembly of share holders, as well as the governor, the two sub-governors and the whole of the employes, who number 6,400, must be of French nationality.

The governor of the Bank of France receives an annual salary of 60,000 francs each. These figures will no receive only half that amount 30,000 francs each. These figures will no doubt, appear miserable to a number of American financiers, who certainly would not be satisfied with that income.

For all its national characteristics the Bank of France is a private joint stock establishment, with private capital, and not an establishment of the state, that is the reason why it has been able during the Franco-German war in 1870 to keep entirely safe its real property, its metallic reserve and all its securities as being strictly private.

The Bank of France has the sole right to issue bank notes; this right was for the first time granted three years after its foundation, in 1803, and has been renewed ever since, the last prorogation dating 1897 for a period of 23 years.

It is an interesting point to know how the state has regulated the issue of bank notes. The Anglo-American nations have adopted what they call the currency principle, according to which the emission of bank notes exceeding the metallic reserve is limited to a certain amount of capital invested in state securities kept by the banks and the interest of which constitutes their profit of emission.

In Germany another principle, merely empirical, has been adopted. The issue of bank notes can reach but can not exceed three times the amount of the metallic reserve. In France the emission is regulated by what has been termed the banking principle. The bank can issue bank notes freely and create to itself a new capital, but the latter can be used only for two banking operations, whence the name banking principle, viz., discounting bills and advancing money upon securities.

No bills can be discounted unless payable within three months and signed by three clearly responsible persons, and advances of money are granted only upon first rate securities strictly described by the law, and only for a certain percentage of the securities. The bank has therefore the full representation of its bank notes in short dated, first rate titles and bills of commerce.

There is consequently no relation between the metallic reserve and the circulation of bank notes. The state modifies whenever it is necessary, the maximum of emission, which is at the present moment 5,800,000 francs. In fact, the metallic reserve amounted—per the weekly balance sheet of Aug. 11—to almost four and a quarter billion francs more than three-fourths of its gold.

In order to secure the enforcement of the regulations, the state has not only a general power of control, but it keeps to itself the exclusive right to appoint the governor and the two sub-governors. On the other hand, the state is entitled to a portion of the net profits over and above stamp duties and taxes of all sorts which the Bank of France is bound to pay, just as any other private establishment of the same kind.

First of all, there is a special stamp duty on all bank notes; in the year 1908 the amount of money received by the state on that account was less than 1,400,000 francs for an average circulation of 4,800,000 francs in bank notes. In 1897, when the privilege was prorogated, the state stipulated from the bank that it should pay the treasury an annual royalty of "the eighth part of the average rate of discount, multiplied by the amount of the 'circulation productive,'" that is to say, by the amount of advances of money granted and discounted bills.

In 1907 this royalty reached 7,357,000 francs; the total amount of money received by the state on that account from 1897 to the end of 1908, exceeded 55,000,000 francs. On the whole the taxes which the bank has to pay in exchange for its privilege, reach about the fourth part of the net profit. Besides, the bank must grant to the state a permanent advance of 180,000,000 francs, without receiving any interest—unless the current account of the state, kept at the bank, is less than the above figures and only for the amount wanted to complete the said figures.

In exceptional circumstances, however, the bank may be allowed to lend nearly any amount of money to the state; during the Franco-German war the advance of money granted in most exceptional circumstances and only for a limited period of time, the bank notes had a "cours force" that is to say, could not be exchanged for gold or silver at the bank counters, but the French public understood perfectly well that such measure was but temporary and the bank notes in both cases circulated without losing anything—or, indeed, very little of their nominal value.

The ordinary banking business of this establishment is on the most extensive scale. The "virements" or transfers of credits in 1908 amounted to 170,000,000,000 francs, so that the Bank of France may be considered as the clearing house of the whole French nation. In that same year there were 22,000,000 bills discounted and collected representing 13,000,000,000 francs. The very smallest bills down to five francs are accepted by the bank; this makes the establishment as popular as possible and the accounts of all sorts, which in 1897 numbered only 27,304, amounted in 1908 to 91,458.

Paris is the world's reservoir of money, the primary market and center of the credit machinery of international commerce. She always has ready cash in abundance, always a stable bank rate, and, consequently, always cheap money. She is constantly financing the other two great financial centers of the world. The rate of the Bank of France is kept steadily and firmly, year in and year out, at three per cent.

Within the last 10 years the rate of discount has been raised only twice, and for a very short period of time, to 3½ per cent in March, and four per cent in November, 1907, but only in sympathy with the Bank of England and the Imperial Bank of Germany, which had raised their rates of discount to six per cent and seven per cent. The three per cent rate was resumed by the Bank of France on January 23, 1908, and has not been changed since that time.

It is the one stable rate in the whole world, and thus constitutes the monetary balance wheel of christendom. While other markets fluctuate Paris is steady. This is possible, because the Parisian bankers is obliged to take less risks than bankers in London or New York and his enormous accumulation of ready money enables him to select his business and to conduct it conservatively.

Twice, for instance, within recent years this condition of stability and solvency has been well illustrated by the relief afforded to the Bank of England by the Bank of France—in two monetary crises in London—when but for that assistance the English bank must have suspended.

France is the only country that never borrows abroad, and thus the Bank of France is the only financial institution that is never in trouble. It is also the only monetary institution in the world through which, for example, such transactions as the cash payment of 200,000,000 francs in gold coin for the Panama canal or even the payment of the 100,000,000 francs in gold which America paid to Spain for the Philippine islands could have been arranged. Both these payments were made over the counters of the Bank of France.

A Financial Thought.

John Purroy Mitchell, New York's very young but very efficient acting mayor, said the other day to a reporter, apropos of a certain abuse:

"The conduct of these people is ominous. It reminds me of the famous financier.

"George," said the famous financier to his secretary, "I've been thinking!"

"Yes, sir," said the secretary, respectfully, "What about, sir?"

"Well, George," said the financier, "I can't help wondering where on earth the lambs get the inexhaustible stream of millions that we get from them."—New York Press.

"But," asked the defaulter, who was arranging for transportation to Mexico, "haven't you something special for tourists?"

"No," replied the ticket agent.

"Pardon me, but I have," chimed in the detective, appearing at that moment with a pair of steel bracelets; "here's something special for two wrists. Suppose you try 'em!"—Catholic Standard and Times.

THE FINAL SETTLEMENT,

Portraying the grave consequences that sometimes follow the sudden acquisition of wealth and power, "THE FINAL SETTLEMENT" will be the attraction at the BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE on FRIDAY, APRIL 7th.

Many problems of great social interest are contained in the production and a strong moral lesson is pointed out, depicting as it does the rise of a young mechanic, who though humble is both brilliant and ambitious. From this position of obscurity he rises through his own efforts to the presidency of a great iron trust.

In this exalted position of opulence and power the allurements of the social life in which he moves proves too much for him and he divorces his wife a woman of conservative, homely tastes, who, despite her husband's position, still retains her orthodox conceptions of life.

The man, after securing his divorce marries a beautiful actress, thinking that her talents and charms will enable him to obtain the social leadership he so much desires. This ambition proves fruitless and his subsequent disgrace and ruin and ultimate rescue in which hss former wife takes an active part, from the basis of the drama.

TECUMSEH CHIEFS BONES

Tecumseh, is always interested in anything that refers to her Indian name sake, and the following from London, Ont, will be of interest to all.

About a year ago the opening of a grave on St Annes Island said to contain the bones of Tecumseh, caused much criticism, both for unlawful disecration of the grave and over the possibility that these were not the real bones St Anne's Island has always been claimed as an Indian burial ground and now the board of trade of Wallaceville will bring forward evidence to prove that no mistake has been made. An aged Indian woman will furnish part of the proof that these are the bones of Tecumseh She was present when the grave was opened and stated then as elsewhere that the searchers were on the right track. Her statement was most emphatic. This may prove the truth of the matter.

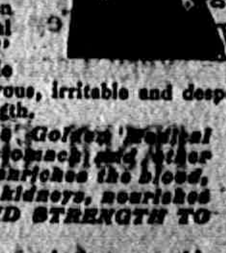
No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach



A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

Now Hudson is wondering why there was a decrease of 5,786,000 gals. of water this year among the consumers less than last years report. A strong argument in favor of local option this for every one knows that after a good booze there is an awful thirst that must be appeasd. We just wish the water works report had specified whether this shrinkage in water consumption was due to less drinking or whether less was used for other purposes. So long as water is used inside, outside and all the time it would be nice to know all about it.

BOOKS PERSONS OF NOTE LIKE

BIBLE, PLUTARCH AND PILGRIMS PROGRESS HEAD THE LIST.

ESSAYS AND POETRY

Shakespeare Comes In for Share of Honors Among the Poets.

Boston, Mass. — The current Christmas Endeavor World presents a symposium in which is set forth the books which noted persons say have been those most helpful to them during life.

The late Julia Ward Howe wrote six days before her death:

"I am so deeply indebted to books that it is difficult for me, so late in life, to discriminate among them in the way you would wish. I do remember reading Bunyon's 'Pilgrim's Progress' when between 8 and 9 years old. It made a vivid impression on my mind and in the first parties which I attended in early social life I seemed to find all of Bunyan's sinners, and but few of the saints. Leaving school I read Gibson's decline and Fall of the Roman Empire.' In latter studies of philosophy I was much impressed by Spinoza. Theodore Parker's preaching was very helpful to me."

Joaquin Miller, the poet of the Sierras, declares:

"I am frank to say that Plutarch's Lives' and his comparable comparisons is the one book, save the Bible in which I have found the most pleasure and profit."

John Burroughs, the eminent naturalist, gives his choice to Emerson's essays and to poems of Wadsworth and Walt Whitman.

In view of his "Five Foot Shelf of Books," ex-President Eliot of Harvard presents a most interesting reply.

"In reply to the letter asking me to name books outside the Bible I can only say, that, the books that have helped me are very numerous, and secondly, that I cannot name, any sample number of books which I think have helped me most, because it is passages in books rather than whole books which I have most frequently found helpful. Nevertheless, I perceive on reflection that the book to which I have most frequently gone for counsel or wisdom are 'Bacon's Essays and 'Emerson's Essays.'"

Henry Cabot Lodge says:

"There are many books in which I have found much that I cared for and I fear I cannot pick out one from the list with any sense of satisfaction."

Speaker Cannon wrote:

"On the Wabash sixty or seventy years ago books were not plentiful and I had access to but few. Among them were 'Plutarch's Lives' and Rollins' Ancient History,' both of which I found very useful. In poetry, after Shakespeare, I read and reread Burns with great profit. Scott and Dickens were my favorite authors of fiction, and in later years I learned much from McMaster's History of the People of the United States,' and Motley's Rise of the Dutch Republic."

Will Carleton, poet, editor and lecturer, says that in his youthful days he received the most benefit from "The Philosophy of Health," by L. B Coles, M. D., but he placed as a close second sthe plays of Shakespeare.

Congressman-elect Henry George Jr. gives credit to his father's work when he says:

"The book which has helped me most after the Bible, is 'Progress and Poverty,' by Henry George."

Erward W. Bok, magazine editor says he has been helped greatly by "Emerson's Essays."

Largest Oil Tanks.

Two concrete reservoirs for oil, said to be the largest in the world, are in the course of construction at San Luis Obispo, Cal., each of which will have a capacity of 1,000,000 barrels of oil. The reservoirs are to cost $500,000, and the oil to fill them will be piped from the Bakersfield, Maricopa, Coalinga and Midway wells. When the tanks are filled the oil in them will flow by gravity to the pumping station at San Luis Obispo, from thence will be pumped directly to the tank steamers at Port Hartford.—Popular Mechanics.

Trade in Sea Worn Pebbles.

A new industry is being started in Seaton which will provide employment for people in the winter. At present a large business is transacted in sea worn pebbles which are imported from the French coast, and it is hoped to capture part of this trade.

Trial orders from several large users of the pebbles are on hand, and gangs of men are engaged in selecting the pebbles from the beach at Seaton and the neighboring villages.—London Mail.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Banville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist, and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A Pawnbroker's Auction.

A deaf man coming into the auction room while a sale is in progress might believe that the auctioneer is an automaton, for he stares straight before him with seemingly unseeing eyes, his lips moving ceaselessly and rapidly and with a machine-like motion, which continues for many minutes at a time apparently without a pause for breath, while his cheeks are fluttering like the flanks of a spent horse. The auctioneer's profit is in a commission, and as his commission is the greater according as his sales are there, it is to his interest to keep things moving at top speed for the property he is selling is of too little value to make delay worth while on the chance of running up the price of any single article.

"Number 396 — gold-filled case, Swiss movement" (the use of the nominative "watch" is superfluous), cries the attendant at the show case, passing the article foward the auctioneer. "Five dollars," is the form of that functionary's chant, beginning at a top price and running it down until it is accepted by a bidder, when it may be run up again. However, the auctioneer of unredeemed pledges is not so prodigal of time and vocal effort as to use the entire word "dollar," or to make it two syllables of his numerals. Philosophy and articulation are sacrificed to celerity. Six and eight are the only two numbers he pronounces in full. He says ni for nine, sev for seven, fi for five, fo for four, t for three, tee for two, and dee for dollar; and employs the old New York State shillings — twelve and a half cents—in the verbal sub-division of the dollar, not only to reduce syllabic confusion, but to prevent the raising of bids less than twenty-five cents at a time. Thus a dollar and a quarter becomes doltee; a dollar and a half dol-fo, and a dollar and seventy-five cents, dol-six. Likewise bids must advance at least twenty-five cents at a time, since an advance of twelve and a half cents is out of the question, and such advances as five, ten, or twenty cents are impossible. Articles of very trifling value are occasionally bidden up in cents, to be sure, but the necessity does not often occur. — Frank Marshall White, in Harper's Weekly.

An Electrical Snow Melter.

A Berlin scientist advocates the use of electricity for clearing away snow. He claims that the method is cheaper than the one now in vogue. The apparatus consists of a platform, onto which the snow swept off the roadway is shoveled, and beneath which are a series of pockets formed of thin metal kept hot by electrical radiators. The snow falls from the platform into the pockets and is discharged as water from the hoppers. The platform may be mounted on wheels for transport to various parts of the town, and may be stationed near the street drains so that the water can run off, or the electrical heaters may be erected at special depots, to which the snow is conveyed: The requisite current may be taken from the town mains —Tit-Bits.

SOUTH WILL LOOSE NO CONGRESSMEN

CENSUS RETURNS "ARE" LIKELY TO SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE IN REPRESENTATION.

EASTERN STATES

Maine and New Hampshire Lose While Alabama Will Gain One.

Washington, D. C. — While many predictions have been made that under the reapportionment which will follow the completion of the tabulation of the census of 1910 the south would lose some congressmen, the returns so far made public do not bear out these predictions.

In fact, the first state on the alphabetical list—Alabama—a southern state, will probably gain a member of the house, while Maine and New Hampshire show up among those which in all probability will lose a member of congress each. Nor will the reduction in Maine be made because the state is considered henceforth a democratic state, but because its population has not kept pace in the last ten years with the population of other states, and the apportionment will be made strictly upon a population basis.

Each state, after being notified by act of congress how many congressmen it is entitled to under the apportionment following the thirteenth census, may district itself as it sees fit. Congress has nothing to do with that part of the affair. But congress alone has the right to apportion to the states the number of congressmen to which each is entitled in the sixty-third congress.

The house of representatives consists of 391 members. Under the first apportionment the number was 65. Since that time the number has increased after the taking of each census, partly through the admission of new states and partly through increased representation following increased population, till the membership now is 391.

Complaint has been made in recent years that the house has become unwieldy on account of its size; that the hall of the house of representatives is overcrowded, and that the number of members should not be materially increased. So potent are these arguments that it seems to those acquainted with conditions here that the apportionment under the current census will not materially increase the number of members. The chances are that the number of members under the next apportionment will not be in excess of 400.

The census bureau estimates the total population of the United States under the 1910 census at 90,000,000. If there are 400 congressmen in a population of 90,000,000 it is a show that there will be a congressman to every 225,000 of population. The ratio under the last census was one congressman to about 200,000 people.

Complete figures of eighteen states have been officially announced by the census bureau, which is more than one-third of the total number and the changes in representation in congress, indicated by these figures, do not show that any one section will gain or lose more than any other section.

Taking the populations as given out so far by the census bureau and dividing them by 225,000, it will be seen that Alabama would under this method be entitled to ten congressmen, one more than at present; Arizona, which of course has none now, to one; Connecticut to five the same as at present; Florida to three, as at present; Indiana to twelve, a loss of one from the present number; Iowa to ten, a decrease of one; Kansas to eight, as at present; Maine to three, a decrease of one; Massachusetts to fifteen a gain of one; Michigan to twelve, the same as now; Missouri to fifteen instead of sixteen as at present; New Hampshire to but one instead of two as at present; New Mexico to one new member; New York to forty-one, a gain of four; Ohio to twenty-one, as at present; Rhode Island to two, as at present, and Vermont to two, the same as now.

Whether the figures on the states not yet reported will show any further increase in southern states cannot be told now. It may be that some southern states as well as some northern ones will fail to show sufficient increase in population to retain their present number of congressmen under an increased ratio of representation. But certainly from the list already reported, it may be seen that the increase or decrease in representation can scarcely be called sectional.

A Condition, Not a Theory.

A sociologist in conversation with a practical person from the middle west concerning the labor problem in her part of the country thereby learned the lesson of the situation.

"Are there many men out of work?" he asked.

The lady admitted that there were quite a number.

"What," said he then, "do the unemployed do?"

"Nothing," said the lady. "That's the trouble."—Youth's Companion.

Nothing More to Be Said.

"My wife always lets me have the last word," remarked the meek looking man.

"Indeed!" exclaimed his friend in tones which implied a doubt of the other's veracity.

"She does, really. Whenever I say 'Yes my dear, you are quite right,' she stops talking immediately.—Exchange.

The Poet Again.

He had long hair and a pensive look. He wrote a poem entitled "Why Do I Live?" He signed it Augustus and sent it to a magazine. The editor wrote him as follows: "My dear Augustus the reason why you live is because you sent the poem by mail instead of bringing it personally."—Paris Modes.

61 WEST FORT STREET.

In Philadelphia.

Hammerstein's new opera house is the civic pride.

There are 181 doctors' signs in six blocks of Chestnut street.

A row of black men washing a row of white marble doorsteps gives a fine effect in chiaroscuro.

There are not nearly so many skyscrapers as in Buffalo; except in a few buildings the elevators run only when you ring for them.

The sidewalks are brick as New York's were a hundred years ago. There are still some open sewers in the middle of the streets. On washdays they run full and visibly soapy.

The Schuylkill water is always muddy. Part of the city now has a filtering system. The rest buys spring water.

There are almost no larger-beer saloons. There are no French and Italian restaurants. There are only a few hotels.

The many boat-houses in Fairmount Park along the Schuylkill are built solidly of stone.

Most of the dwellings are of red brick and nearly all small. Dr. Weir Mitchell in his new novel calls Philadelphia "The Red City." A fair house in a fair quarter rents for $25 a month.

Negro children attend all the public schools and the white people send theirs to private schools when they can raise the money.

A New Yorker can find more things different in Philadelphia than in Chicago or Denver.

The men average taller than in New York; there is less immigration of the small races.

Family and descent are taken seriously. Money will not buy social position—not at once.

Bill of Rights.

The Declaration of Right—1688-89—next to Magna Charta, the greatest landmark in the constitutional history of England, introduced no new principle into the British Constitution. Lord Macaulay says of this famous document that though it made nothing law which was not law before, it contained the germ of every good law that had been passed during more than a century and a half, of every good law which might thereafter be found necessary to promote the public weal. The Bill of Rights was the reaffirmation of Magna Charta with more emphasis.

Lattice Streens for Inns.

Many quaint old inns are to be seen in King's Lynn and the sign of the Lattice Inn is one of the oldest in existence. In the olden times the windows of inns were kept open, and in order to hide the revellers within a lattice screen, painted red, was placed in the window.

There is an old saying: "As well known by my wit as an alehouse by a red lattice." The lattices continued up to the beginning of the eighteenth century and when they disappeared from the windows they were adopted as signs. The latter are getting very scarce and it is questionable whether half a dozen could be found in this country.—Cycling.

"SLOW" DANCES ARE COMING IN AGAIN

New York, N. Y. — "Slow" dances are coming in again. Queen Mary of England, has brought about the new fashion and already New York is making plans for its adoption.

In London the debutantes are hard at work learning the new steps. Some of these steps are rather complicated, for they go back to the days of the minuet and other charming old world dances. It is almost a revolution.

The new dances are one of the first things in which the influence of the young English queen is being felt. Mary of England, is an admirer of anything that is beautiful and graceful.

She dislikes anything that is the slightest approach to roughness. The courtly manners and charming posturings and movements of former days always have been highly regarded by her.

That the new dances have her great approbation. Meantime the fashionable and gay Londoners are mourning a little. At any rate, they are obedient, since the merest suggestion of "England's first lady" is a command.

But the livelier dances of the last few years have been very popular. The "kitchen lancers," for example, has proved unfailing fellows of high society in London are a trifle dubious as to whether they are going to have such good times now that "slow" dancing has become an established thing.

"The tendency is so far away as possible from the rapid and gay dancing of the past," said a widely known dancing master in New York. "The English fashion will be adopted. In our dancing we follow England very closely.

Before the winter is over, so far as we can see it, many of the minuet steps will be in. How popular they will prove I can't say. They are not being taken up any too cheerfully in London from what we hear."

"Yes, slow dances and old world dances are being revived again," said Oscar Duryea. "We are getting away from the 'chicken hop' and the 'bear hug' as much as possible and making the tempo slower.

The idea now is to bring back many of the old dances and old steps from as far back as 20 years ago, in some cases even longer ago than that. These dances have come back under new names and somewhat modified. Today the most popular dance is the 'long Boston walk.'

What will lead in popular opinion six months from now it is difficult to say, but it certainly will be some slow step, suggested at least by one of the almost forgotten dances of the old world courts."

It will be interesting to note whether this revival of the spirit at least of the courtly old minuet and like dancing steps will have a marked influence on the costumes of men and women.

The idea is too new even in London for dressmakers and tailors to prophesy. But one thing is certain, that if the "slow" dance with anything like minuet steps becomes the thing, the short dancing frock of the debutante and all the young girls in fashionable circles must go.

With the old-time, measured step, it will have to be replaced by gowns with trails.

While the one modification in costuming is assured, others are possible. There is no question but the black coat and trousers and white waistcoat do not harmonize with the picturesque attitudes of slow and stately dancing. Knee breeches of black silk and black silk stockings would not be too much of an evolution for men if new dancing modeled [illegible] that of [illegible]

Freight Car Correspondence.

Some of the clerks employed in a big manufacturing office down on the lower end of Staten Island have instituted a new fad—that of correspondence by freight car. Upon the sides of every car that comes into the yards of the company—and almost every railroad in the country is represented by the legends on the cars—the clerks write their names and addresses. Not long after one string of cars leaves the yards picture post cards begin to come in from small towns all over the country and even in Canada addressed to those whose names were scrawled in chalk on the sides of the empties. The Staten Island clerks in turn send post cards to every address they find on the freight cars, and so the endless chain lengthens.—New York Sun.

TEXAS HIT BY STORM

Great Damage Is Wrought by Rain and Hail.

Storm Especially Severe in the Central Part of State—University Town Cut Off.

Houston, Tex., April 3.—A severe storm of wind, rain and hail played havoc with wire communication in Texas, causing considerable property damage of a minor nature, and gave rise to rumors of more serious results in isolated sections.

In Houston a stiff northwesterly wind was accompanied by hail and a dazzling electrical display. Rain followed, flooding the streets in the business section, the water in many places standing to a depth of several inches.

The storm was especially severe in central Texas. Austin reports a high wind, and Georgetown, where the Southwestern Texas university is located, was entirely cut off from communication.

Cisco, to the north, reports the most disastrous hail storm ever experienced in that section, lasting for several hours. Plants were stripped of their foliage and windows were broken.

Damage to a less degree was done in many other cities of the state. As far as can be learned no one was injured.

BOMB THROWING AROUSES JAUREZ

Mexican Soldier Is Killed and Three Others Wounded.

THIRD BOMB OUTRAGE IN MONTH

First Explosion Occurs Before "Red Light" Dance Hall, and Others Are Directed Against Soldiers Seeking Thrower.

El Paso, Tex., April 3. — An explosion of three bombs in Juarez shortly after midnight killed one man, wounded three others and is puzzling the Juarez police and military..

This is the third bomb attempt in Juarez in a month. To each of the others was traced some object. The first was an attempt on the life of Col. Manuel Tamborel, commanding the Juarez military company, the second was an attempt to wreck the temporary garrison of the Fourteenth cavalry, but this affair was apparently without cause unless the bomb throwers were making their way towards the public carcel (jail) and one of their bombs exploded accidentally.

The first explosion occurred in the center of Devil street, the main red light thoroughfare in front of a dance hall, "Lafavorite." The inmates of the hall rushed out in confusion and terror, and a woman pointed out two men on the roof of a building opposite and directly behind the jail. Rushing into this building policemen were met by two more bombs hurled directly at them. The first bomb blew Francisco Sonora, a soldier, to his death, scattering the body about the court of the house. The third bomb wounded three other men. The men wounded were Maximo Vasquez, member transporation corps, Mexican army, wounded in body; Captain Enulfo Ortiz, Twenty-Third infantry, internally wounded; Rafael Sorcini, employe of postoffice in Juarez, hole blown through body by leaden slug. The bomb throwers escaped.

Francisco I. Madero, Sr., father of the insurrecto chief in the field, Alonzo Madero, brother of the insurrecto chief, Roque Estrada, a Mexica city attorney, and Rafael Hernardez arrived here from San Antonio.

ONE OF MADEROS IS UNDER ARREST

Nabbed by Authorities as Soon as He Touches Mexican Soil.

HE IS HELD "INCOMMUNICADO"

First Denies Identity, but Is Recognized Positively by Means of Photograph—Has Had Little to Do with Revolution.

San Antonio, Tex., April 3.—Salvador Madero, brother of Francisco I. Madero, the head of the local Mexican insurrecto junta and the one who was recently talking about the peace that he and Senor Limantour were going to conclude in Mexico, was arrested by the Mexican federal authorities the minute he crossed the bridge into Mexico.

He is now held in the jail at Nuevo Laredo "in communicado." The arrest occurred while the train was standing at the platform. When representatives of the Mexican secret service stepped up to Madero and told him that he was under arrest he denied his identity. But he was taken to the office of a military commander and there, by comparison with a photograph, his identity was established. Madero was put in a cell without the privilege of communicating with his friends.

When Madero admitted his identity he said that he was hurrying from San Antonio where he had been spending a week with his brother to the bedside of his aged father, who was dying in Monterey. The officers of the Diaz government, believed, however, that he was one of the much advertised peace plenipotentiaries of the Maderists who was enroute to Chihuahua to meet Francisco Jr.

When news of the arrest of Madero came to San Antonio and was conveyed to the home of the Maderos there was great consternation. Those of the family remaining at home said that Salvador Madero had come to San Antonio four or five days ago to confer with his brother, Francisco, Sr., on the matter of an arrangement for a peace conference, but that he was nothing more than an adviser and that he had always been loyal to the Diaz government. He had been sent here at the behest of Limantour, they said, and it was true that he was hurrying to Monterey to be at the bedside of his father.

The prompt arrest of one of the Maderos who has had only a small part to play in the family's plans for the bringing about of a conference between the government and the rebel leader indicates that the Diaz government is not disposed to look kindly upon the Madero pretensions. And the blow must have fallen hardest on Francisco Madero, Sr., and his son Alfonso, who had left San Antonio secretly for El Paso.

MRS. C. T. YERKES IS DEAD

Widow of Former Chicago Traction Magnate Passes Away.

New York, April 3.—Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes died at her residence, 871 Madison avenue. She had been ill for more than five weeks. Last November she was seized with an attack of grippe from which she did not rally. Dr. H. H. Whitehouse, the family physician, said that heart trouble following a general nervous breakdown was the cause of death.

Mrs. Charles T. Yerkes was Mary Adelaide Moore of Philadelphia. Twenty-four years ago she was married to Mr. Yerkes, who had obtained a divorce from his first wife. Yerkes had just come from the Cherry Hill penitentiary where he had been imprisoned for seven months on a charge of embezzling made against him in Philadelphia. For ten years everything went well with the two. At the end of that time they had some osrt of trouble and separated.

AN OUTING ON MT. WILSON.

The dawn of April 3, 1910 broke cloudy and uninviting in Los Angeles. Leaving one's comfortable cot at 5 A. M., to assemble a modest breakfast, amid the snores of the remaining members of the household is not the most inviting task for the masculine sex. But once aboard the six o'clock car for the Sierra Madre with an agreeable companion, the prospect of new adventures with exciting scenes begin to unfold. The red two hundred horse power Pacific Electric car jumps to every move of the lever like the Kentucky bred charger at the touch of the spur. The newly-cut lawns and orange trees are greener and the half-hidden yellow globes more golden for the precious drops of rain have begun to fall. Peace and quiet reigns over the magnificent bungalows that line beautiful Huntington Drive, for it is Sunday morning. Seeking new adventures on Sunday?

Well, perhaps one should remain in the city, and attend Divine service behind some $75 hat, at some million-dollar temple or other fashionable place of worship, but were not the groves God's first temples? Did not Moses and Aaron and seventy two others of the most devout of the six-hundred-thousand wandering children of Israel ascend the Mount to behold the Glory of God? And was it not on the Seventh Day that God spoke unto Moses upon the Mount? The Angel of Peace seemed to prevade all nature to God's presence in all nature that morning.

The car-stop in Sierra Madre is about three blocks to the south of the real foot of the Mount Wilson trail. The broad well-kept oiled road which approaches the mountain has a regular ascent of about one foot in ten, Immediately upon the stop of the car these three blocks are covered with a motely crowd of adventurous "boys and girls" clad in every conceivable mountain-suit, khaki, corduroy and flannel, each one impatient to be the first at the summit. This crowd is made up of city clerks and tourists: sweethearts and adventurers, the aged and broken old man, perhaps on his last pilgrimage; but all are "boys and girls" for the first few and fascinating minutes of the ascent.

A number of the more faint hearted scan the heavens with a weather-eye and scared out by the few drops of the life-giving rain which is assuring spring verdure and bountiful harvests, they return with the cars to spend one of those gloomy California days in the city which homesick tourists tell you about.

But our thoughts are up the trail. Leaving behind the 300 or 400 slumbering souls in the peaceful village, we approach the broncho station, here a few of the less athletic in the crowd stop and secure the sleepy uncouth bronchos to carry them on the upward journey and no more incongruous a sight is often seen than some stately and fashionable matron seated upon a demure donkey of about her own weight.

Immediately upon leaving the oiled road which divides the village from the mountain, we begin an ascent decidely more steep and before we have proceeded many rods we observe that the earth at our right hand is rapidly dropping below us and that on our left is rapidly towering above us, the muscles of our limbs begin to rebel but we think that possibly after we round yonder bend in the trail it will become less steep. We round the bend only to find that our hopes were in vain and for nine long weary miles we climb everlastingly on and up. Often we are about to suggest that we stop and rest but on a second thought it occurs to us that that would be admitting inferior physical endurance to that of our companion and we would die rather than admit such weakness. Possibly he is thinking similar thoughts but he is a hardy mountain climber and the muscles of his brawny limbs keep up their rhythmous, everlasting flexing and reflexing with the same unerring acuracy of mother's old wooden-wheeled, iron-weighted clock that stood on the mantel. We get our "second-wind" and we are with him to the finish.

On entering the trail, we were impatient to make all possible speed. Many passed us in their eagerness to reach the summit, even frail girls tripped lightly past us, greatly to our discomfiture. Our ambition chafed at the thought that we were being distanced but our pioneer companion seemed incapable of varying his speed He appeared to take no notice of the passing of the more ambitios and his high topped number nines beat the trail with the regularity of heart-beats. Soon the wisdom of the veteran mountaineer became apparent. We began to overtake some of the over-ambitious ones who had lightly passed us and by the time we had reached the summit, we had over passed that whole merry, light-hearted and light-footed crowd of an hour or two before seated at the niches and side-canyons along the trail.

All the afternoon, hours after we had reached the goal, we could recognize faces of the morning's crowd just appearing at the top of the trail. Some of the weaker ones never reached the top.

The first three-quarters of the Sierra Madre trail up Mount Wilson clings to the west wall of Santa Anita Canyon. The general direction is north and up A mean line of the trail would very nearly point to the North Star. Early Michigan trails were defined by blazed trees at intervals but the path, for the entire distance, lies in one continuous L-shaped notch, every inch of which was hewn with a pick in the almost perpendicular side of the mountain. Its width varies from one foot to two and one-half, very rarely reaching four feet. Thousands of feet directly over your head tower the rock built sides of the mountain and thousands of feet almost directly under you yawns the precipitous abyss—on and on to the rapids and fall of the sparkling rivulet which is hurrying down to the valley to make the lawns and orchards green and golden. So awful is the thought of a fall down those rocks that you unconciously draw your clinched right fist to your heart rather than risk it naturally at your side. You dare gaze freely into the chasm as you journey along but at each peep over the edge of the trail you are forced over against the bank on your left by your inner-self as a protection from the jaws of death.

THE FINAL SETTLEMENT

Scene from "THE FINAL SETTLEMENT" one of the best dramas of the season, at the Opera House TO-NIGHT.

The succession of side canyons which run into Santa Anita Canyyn give the sides a corrugated appearance. A trail which follows such walls is naturally anything but straight. Like a long slender reptile, it streches its serpentine form upward into the clouds.

The upper one-fourth of the trail, after following the Carneige wagon-road for a few rods, takes its course on the west side of a shoulder of the mountain and Santa Anita Canyon is left behind.

This cloudy Sunday morning, while dark and gloomy in the valley below. was almost black in the deep folds of the canyon for we were in the clouds but suddenly, when near the summit, the gloom disappeared and the sun in all the brightness of June burst in upon us. We were now above the clouds. At the summit, some snow remained from a four foot fall of a week previous. People who had never touched the "beautiful" before were frantic in their snow-balling contests and stuffing it down each other's necks.

Besides the commodius hotel at the summit is the Carnegie observatory—really, several observatories—observatories in all stages of develeopment from the old familiar type which you point at the object observed, to the latest one which is a stationary verticle shaft 272 feet high, 86 feet of masonry composing the shaft below the surface or the earth and 186 feet of compound derricks carrying it into the heavens. The light rays from the heavenly bodies are bent by a mirror in a dome at the top and passed through an immense lens which collects them into recognizable forms and hurls them down the shaft to the observer seated at the bottom.

Don't be surprised if these wonderful machines prove to you that our dear old sun whom we have always supposed to be our sole source of heat light and electricity—which is life, is but an ordinary reflector of a very cheap type—molten rock. We have flattered our selves into believing our earth to be God's handiwork but science may yet prove to us that our whole universe is but a few particles of dust blown from some fair-sized planet on which our Creator was moulding.

Clear crisp sparkled the ozone-filled atmosphere at this more than a mile-high altitude while down among the rocks and crevices of the sides the dismal rain-clouds claimed all the space. Like two mighty armies, each rent and torn in the strife to hold the vantage point at the crest, these battled and all day, there waged a conflict for possession of the mountain top between the upper strata of bracing sunshiny air and the cloud strata below. All day long, like our boys in blue at Chatanooga, the rolling and tumbling cloud forces made onslaughts up the mountain side. Occasionally they gained the summit and sent their sprays headlong through the gnarled pines, only to fall back again a thousand or two thousand feet down the rocky sides and with each retreat like new islands appearing in a white foamy sea, the lower peaks and outposts of Old Wilson appeared to view from above.

With the departure of Old Sol with all his shafts of lavender and crimson streaming across a purple sky in a most glorious sunset down behind the blue peaceful ocean, the north wind from across the range became bolder and unable to longer resist its many marches and counter marches, the army of foamy clouds who had been its day long enemy "folded their tents like Arabs and quietly stole away." And long the gloaming could be seen, far out over the grand old Pacific, the vanishing sails of the ships of the air driven to their doom into the monsoons from the balmy equatorial islands.

Then what a wonderful world of green lay at our feet, all the shades and tints of green and then quietly, peacefully, like a beautiful flower closing its petals for a night's repose, settled the deepening twilight, and al silently, one by one, the stars of heaven came into being and simultaneously as though they were those heavenly stars mirrored back to us, came the lights of city, village and hamlet

Imagine, spread upon your dining-table. the very blackest velvet coverlet and sparingly sifted over this, a few of the finest particles of gold-dust Do not, like the good house-wife, carefully smooth out the coverlet but allow wrinkles and depressions to remain for hills and valleys. Face the south with the table before you and increase the particles of gold dust at a point slightly to your right and ten inches from your nearest edge of the table and six inches farther to the south, scatter more. With no other source of light in the room, turn on a quarter candle-power light in the ceiling—before you lies a second Gethsemane but a thousand times greater and a thousand times more beautiful than that garden of old. A million people are sleeping at your feet and possibly millions "Have laid them down in their last sleep." In the first thickly scattered collection of mundane stars lies the tracery of the of the streets of Pasadena, the city of millionairs and beyond that the more numerous lights of Los Angles, the city of tourists and entertainment.

Silently, one by one, the guests, awed by wonderful scenes and soothed by the slumbering logs in the immense fire-place, disappear to their rooms for the sleep of the just, not to rooms in main hotel but to little one room cottages about the grounds. Then unconciousness reigns supreme until all are awakened in time to witness a glorious sunrise, by that mountain alarm clock—the braying burro.

Now with the spirit of the Crusaders of Old, turning their faces homeward after a pilgrimage to the holy Mount Zion, to the Jerusalem of old, quietly, thoughtfully, filled with awe we make the decent in the dewy dawn We would gladly dwell on high forever but duty calls us back to the land of toil and ninety minutes after leaving the snowy slopes of the summit we are again in the valley amid the fragrance of rose and orange blossoms. The very air of those "Eternal Hills" tingles with God's presenco and truly, we have communed with Him.

ROYAL VALLEY COFFEES

It does seem as it the fame of these supurb coffee must have gotten here almost ahead of the coffees themselves, judging from the way they are going. Everybody is trying them; and they all say they're even better than we claim them to be. And the ARE, Royal Valley NERO, MASIGODD and TZAR coffees are prepared for you by a process which actually removes everything that does not contribute to the coffee's good, and retains only that which goes to make them richer, smoother and more satisfying. The aromatic oil—the rich coffee flavor—are especially prominent in ROYAL VALLEY COFFEES, and the bond-linen packages in which they are put up, prevent any evaporation. And because every berry is roasted clear through—but not burnt—these coffees are unusually strong-bodied. So that in ROYAL VALLEY you get not only finer-flavored coffees, but more economical coffees, because they will last longer. And NERO is only 25c. MARIGOLD 30c and TZAR 35c per pound at

SUGAR SECTION IN TEXAS OPENED

MILL WITH LARGE CAPACITY IS ESTABLISHED IN THE VALLEY LANDS.

ALONG RIVER BED

Reclamation of Thousands of Acres of Ground Adapted to Work.

Victorio, Texas. — With the reopening of the Guadalupe river to navigation has resulted in the reclamation of thousands of acres of valley lands adapted to the cultivation of sugar cane, and afforded many of these land their first outlet to market.

The erection of a modern sugar mill of large capacity here, providing a cash market for cane, and the establishment of a barge line on the river, affording transportation facilities, have placed cane growing on a safe footing in this country, and the industry will eventually become one of the most important in this section.

It is conservatively estimated that there are 50,000 acres along the river that could be converted into cane fields. This year there are 700 acres in the county planted to the staple, and next year the acreage will be increased to thousands, as under the changed conditions, many bottomland farmers who heretofore have been raising cotton and corn will plant cane. Three dollars a ton will be paid for cane at the mill this season, and the cost of river transportation will be 40 cents a ton. Cane produces on an average of 30 tons to the acre in this section and ranges from 20 to 40 tons. It requires only three tons to plant an acre of cane, and it is unnecessary to replant it here but once in five years, as compared with three years in Louisiana. The cost of production is very low, ranging from $12 to $14 an acre, and little labor is required. The planting season begins in the fall, and the harvesting season extends from October to January, it requiring about eight months to grow a crop. Cane has no enemy except frost, and frost comes too late in this section to hurt it. It is the safest and most profitable crop than can be grown in this country on lands adapted to its cultivation.

The sugar mill was removed here from St. Mary's, La., and cost when new over one hundred thousand dollars. It was purchased by the Victoria Manufacturing company and cost the company, including the expense of removing and rebuilding, about $8,000. It is a modern nine-roller mill, with a capacity of 500 tons of cane a day. It will make either white or yellow clarified sugar, both of 96 test. The daily capacity of the mill for making sugar is 220 barrels of 350 pounds each, and for making sirup three hundred barrels of 50 gallons each. The mill, building, including machinery towers, is four stories high, and constructed out of galvanized iron. It covers about a quarter of an acre, and is located on the river a few blocks below the light and ice factories, also owned by the Victoria Manufacturing company.

The river is now in perfect condition for navigation from its mouth to the Brownsville railroad bridge, and in a very fair state of navigation from the bridge to Victoria. The main trouble with the river at this time is the unprecedented low water, resulting from the continued dry spell upstream. However, the boats will experience little difficulty in navigating the stream in even its present condition, according to Capt. Charles Schuster, of Galveston, the engineer who is at present in charge of the government work here. He says the river is steadily rising, and will be in its normal condition in a few weeks.

The sugar cane plantations are located along the river for a distance of 12 miles downstream from Victoria. Next year the plantations will extend almost continuously from this point to both Mariana in this county and Tivoli, in Refugio county. The Astin interests at Tivoli have a fair crop of cane this season, and will largely increase it next. Capt. Touchey says the tug will make the 12-mile run three times a day sailing on a given schedule and making a systematic distribution of the barges, picking up the loaded ones and leaving the empties. The unloading process at the mill will be done by a steam crane capable of lifting three tons of cane at a single stroke and relieving a barge of its cargo in a few minutes. The Weldon and Riverside plantations are equipped with similar apparatus for loading the cane on the barges.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

OFFICIAL HEADS IN DANGER

New Mexican Cabinet Is to Remove Many Minor Officials.

Monterey, Mex., April 3.—A dispatch from Mexico City says: One of the far reaching effects of the recent changes in the personnel of President Diaz's cabinet is to be the wholesale removal of minor officials, state and district officers, that is scheduled to take place immediately.

Several changes have already been announced and it is reported on high authority that in some of the departments of the government there will be a clean sweep of all existing officeholders under the jurisdiction. Already several hundred minor officials throughout the republic have tendered their resignations in compliance with the suggestion that came from new heads of the government.

Message to National Congress Advocates Several Reforms.

Mexico City, April 3.—Committing himself to the advocacy of many of the reforms demanded by the revolutionists, although professedly bowing only to the influence of public opinion, General Diaz answered his critics through his semi-annual message at the opening of the national congress.

The principle of no re-election of the chief executive and incumbents of other elective offices and the reform of the electoral laws so that the privilege of the ballot may be enjoyed by those citizens "who are considered capable of voting" were advocated.

DEMOCRATS PLAN TO REVISE TARIFF

Adopt Program Not Limited by Taft's Reciprocity.

ECONOMY IS TO THE FRONT

To Save $182,000—Officers for Lower Chamber Chosen and the Rules Changed—Six Committees Put Out of Business.

Washington, April 3. — After three sessions lasting from early morning until late in the night, the Democrats of the house, in caucus, cleared the decks and prepared for the fight which is to begin Tuesday, when congress will assemble in extra session in response to the call of the president.

The majority adopted a comprehensive legislative program, which will be strictly adhered to, unless modified by a subsequent caucus. It differs materially and radically from the president's ideas of what the extra session should be.

The president's message will be confined to Canadian reciprocity, but the Democrats decided that they would enter upon tariff revision in addition to Canadian reciprocity and will pass a resolution providing for an amendment to the constitution for the election of senators by direct vote of the people; will pass bills for the admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood, for the publication of campaign expenses in advance of election, for the reapportionment of the house, for District of Columbia matters, and consider resolutions of inquiry and for the investigation of different departments of the government.

The important changes in the rules under which the new congress will operate are: The selection of committees by the house. A provision to prevent filibustering under the rule giving authority to discharge committees from consideration of bills. A provision permitting amendments to appropriation bills whenever those amendments will result in retrenchment of national expenditures. Authority for bills to come up twice for passage under the unanimous consent privilege.

Champ Clark of Missouri was formally indorsed for speaker and a list of officers was selected for the house, as follows:

Clerk—South Trimble, Kentucky.

Sergeant-at-Arms—U. S. Jackson, Indiana.

Doorkeeper—Joseph J. Sinnott, Virginia.

Postmaster — William M. Dunbar, Georgia.

Chaplain — Rev. Henry N. Couden, Michigan.

Another important change made is one providing for the discharge of committees, so that bills shall not be pigeonholed.

Preaching economy the house Democrats decided to begin pruning at home. A resolution which will effect a saving of $182,000 a year in the house pay roll, by the discharge of substantially one hundred employes, was adopted, in the reform line also, the caucus put out of existence six committees, those on militia, Pacific railroads, levees on the Mississippi, ventilation and accoustic, manufactures and private lands claims.

The ways and means committee submitted a full list of Democratic members of the various committees and it was adopted without change.

On the afternoon of April 14, beginning at 12 o'clock and ending at 6 o'clock, the soliciting committees will do their work.

He who floats with the current, who does not guide himself according to higher principles, who has no idea, no convictions—such a man is a mere article of the world's furniture—an echo, not a voice.—Henri Frederick Amiel.

Why.

Hubert Henry Davis, the playwright, who has spent much time in London, tells of an amusing interview between the owner of a publication in the British Capital, whereof George Bernard Shaw had been the dramatic critic, and Max Beerbohm, on the occasion of the latter's assumption of the duties laid down by G. B. S.

The owner advised Max of the salary that had been paid George Bernard, observing at the same time: "Being comparatively inexperienced, you, Mr. Beerbohn, cannot, of course, expect so much."

"Oh yes, I shall!" hastily interposed Max. "Indeed, I shall expect more! Shaw knows the drama so thoroughly that it is an easy matter for him to write of it, whereas I, knowing nothing whatever about it, shall find it dreadfully hard work!"

Women Fishermen.

On the coast of Holland, Belgium and Northern France the fisherwomen are a familiar sight, with their great hand nets and quaint costumes. Many of the towns have distinctive costumes by which their women can be recognized anywhere. Those of Mana-Kirke, near Ostend, wear trousers and loose blouses while their heads and shoulders are covered by shawls. They carry their nets into the sea and scoop up vast quantities of shrimps and prawns, with an occasional crab or lobster and many small fish. They often wade out till the water is up to their necks, and they remain for hours at a time in water above their knees, rarely returning until their baskets are full.

Steel from the Ore.

Two Australian inventors have found a new process for the continuous treatment of iron ore, which is to be exploited throughout the world. It is a process for directly converting the ore into malleable iron or steel, and is said to effect a saving of 25 per cent. After the ore is concentrated it is passed through a revolving cylinder and brought into contact with the deoxidizing gas; thence it falls into a bottle of molten iron and is converted into steel or malleable iron, the whole process being automatic.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

Real virtue scorns adulation; that's where it differs from brains.

Man's reason gets him into mischief that woman's instinct keeps her out of.

Any woman can understand a telegram because no woman understands punctuation.

A few men can undergo as severe an ordeal for themselves as all women can for other people.

No matter how it disgusts a woman for her husband to chew tobacco she can't help admiring him for being able to do such a hard thing.

A Great Artist's Great Hat.

A very great artist in New York wears a very large hat when painting portraits. So wide is the brim that his brushes must have long handles. He is obliged to have them made to order. The brim keeps him at a judicious distance from his canvas, makes his work broader, but it takes charity in a generous measure to believe that he wears the hat for the sake of his painting.

William Morris converted those of fine minds among his contemporaries to the belief that nothing should be placed in a home unless to serve some practical purpose, that the things for use should be useful, but that there should be no ornaments for garniture simply. How much we need such a theory now in dress! The hat of this great artist, with its brim so wide that only with long handled brushes can he reach his canvas, is only an aggravated form of the absurd vanities now prevalent in Greater New York. — Brooklyn Life.

Among the "Extras."

One of the things which help swell the traveller's expenses, both in this country and abroad, is the "extra." It may or may not be charged in the bill, but it is sure to be paid for. Probably even the most generous traveller, however, will have some sympathy for the gentleman in the following story, who was made to pay liberally for a certain annoying privilege.

During his stay at the hotel the weather had been very hot.

"Charles," said the landlord to the clerk who was making out the bill to be presented to the departing guest, "have you noticed that the gentleman in number seven has consulted the thermometer on the piazza at least ten times every morning during his stay here?"

Charles replied that he had.

"Well," said the landlord, "charge him the price of one dinner a day for the use of the thermometer."—Youth's Companion.

A Strange Sea Fish.

The angler, or fishing frog, of which a specimen has just been captured near Brighton, though nowhere common, seems more generally distributed around our coasts than some authorities suppose.

The angler is so called from the curious "rod and bait" formed by a modification of a ray of the front dorsal fin, which was formerly fancied to attract small fish; but the entire hideous body is a marvellous mimetic adaptation of the bottom of the sea, upon which the creature walks, using the pectoral fins for feet. This marine ogre has little value, except for museums; but the gall is used by Irish washerwomen to bleach linen, and in Iceland it is utilized for the manufacture of soap.—Westminster Gazette.

Augustus Montague Toplady was born in Farnham, England, November 4, 1740. Educated at Trinity College, Dublin. English clergyman and author, but hardly known now save as the author of the immortal hymn referred to. Died in London August 11, 1778.

MILLIONS FOR UNIVERSITY

Senator Borah Would Build a Great School in Washington.

Washington, April 10.—The establishment of the United States university in the national capital is provided for in a bill introduced by Senator Borah. It is proposed to furnish general training for the public service and an honorary "George Washington degree," in consideration of some distinguished service rendered to the nation is authorized.

The bill proposes an appropriation of $1,000,000 annually for ten years, to establish the university, and for maintenance there is to be appropriated $200,000 annually, with an additional $100,000 each year, over the sum of the preceding year, until the amount shall reach $1,000,000 annually.

JUDGE BARS RATE CUT

Decides Ordered Reduction Is In Violation of Constitution.

St. Paul, April 10.—Judge Walter H. Sanborn of the federal circuit court, in an exhaustive opinion, decided the Minnesota rate cases against the members of the Minnesota state railroad commission.

He said the effect of the reductions ordered was substantially to burden and directly to regulate interstate commerce, to create unjust discriminations between localities in Minnesota and those in adjoining states, in violation of the commercial clause of the constitution, and to take the properties of the railway companies without just compensation, in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the constitution.

STEAMSHIP PULLED OFF BAR

Tugs Liberate the Prinzess Irene, Which Starts for New York.

New York, April 10.—The little red flag on the jackstaff on the aft of the Prinzess Irene, which has been calling "keep on pulling" to the tugs that have swarmed around the stranded steamer ever since she went poking into the sands of the Lone Hill bar off Fire Island in last Thursday's fog, came fluttering down at half past three p. m.

In its place the German ensign went gaily up, the water under the propeller of the Prinzess began to churn furiously, the two little tugs that had been hauling at her stern let their whistles shriek and the Prinzess Irene was off for New York.

REV. DR. AKED SAYS GOODBYE

Preaches Farewell Sermon In Rockefeller Pulpit.

PLANS UNSECTARIAN CHURCH

Believes that All Denominations Should Gather Into One Body for More Effective and Extended Labors.

New York, April 10.—In bidding goodbye to his congregation at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked found occasion to give his view on orthodoxy, and again outlined his plan for a great unsectarian church.

"Denominations are nothing to me," he said, "but my church is. It seems to me that every Baptist paper that I see takes offense at my stand that 'all may be one.' If they represent the spirit of American Baptists I am not an American Baptist. I am an English free churchman, but I am in harmony with the American spirit.

"For more than sixteen years I ministered to such a church," continued the preacher, referring to Pembroke chapel in Liverpool, where immersion is not required for membership, "and you knew it when you invited me here and if you didn't it was your own fault, for these things were not done in a corner."

So many wanted to hear Dr. Aked's farewell sermon that standing room was at a premium for the morning service. A placard was posted on the lecture room doors asking seat holders to use that entrance and the crowd, which straggled out three deep for half a block on West Forty-Sixth street, waited until the first hymn was announced and then ushers placed as many as they could in unoccupied pews. The rest stood up along the walls of the church and in the rear of the gallery.

Dr. Aked leaves New York today in a private car furnished by Robert Scott Lovett, head of the Union Pacific lines and a trustee of the church. On Easter Sunday he will preach his first sermon as pastor of the First Congregational church in San Francisco.

MAY DO ITS OWN LIGHTING

Saginaw Board of Trade Favors Municipal Plant.

Saginaw, Mich., April 10.—What may lead to a city-owned lightning plant and commission government, was the report of the board of trade committee on the Lansing lighting plant. Saginaw has had considerable trouble over rates and the figures given, show what can be done if controlled by a commission.

Saginaw voted to revise the charter which may lead up to a commission government. The inspection of the Lansing plant and the gratifying results is the opening wedge to a change in the city's life.

Shoots Two Bank Robbers.

Washington, April 10.—The census bureau announced the population of Elgin township, Kane county, Illinois, as 27,246 in 1910, compared with 23,600 in 1900 and 19,183 in 1890.

BRYAN IS DISAPPOINTED

Does Not Like Election of Martin as Minority Leader.

Claims He Voted with Aldrich—Peerless Leader Speaks Good Word for Luke Lea.

Washington, April 10.—In an interview William J. Bryan, whose followers in the senate were routed in the Democratic caucus Friday by the election of Senator Thomas S. Martin of Virginia as minority leader, voiced his disappointment over the result:

"I regard the election of Mr. Martin as minority leader as unfortunate for the party," said Bryan. "He is the Aldrich of the Democratic party in the senate and represents the ractionary element. Only two senators on the Democratic side voted with Aldrich more frequently than he did and one of those is no longer here.

SENATOR LUKE LEA.

"The line, however, has been drawn and we make a much better showing this year than two years ago. We have seventeen progressives now and they include nearly all the new Democratic senators. Unless the progressives are less earnest than the progressive Republicans a number of progressive Democrats will be substituted for Martin and his followers two years hence.

"I am glad to find Senator Lea a leader among the progressives. There has been neither variableness nor shadow of turning in his course. The rule of seniority was invoked in behalf of Martin, but it will not stand examination. That rule may do in the army. In representative government the man who is still in the senate because the people have not had a recent opportunity to put him out ought not to speak with more authority than the man who comes fresh from the people."

PLAN OF ACTION IS MADE PUBLIC

Program of Democratic Majority In House Announced.

RECIPROCITY IS PUT FOURTH

Democrats Place Popular Election of Senators First and Then Publicity of Contributions and Statehood.

Washington, April 10.—Legislative plans of the Democratic majority of the house, made known from a reliable source, indicate that the Republican senate speedily will be given important measures for action.

The definite outline, subject to further caucus ratification, lists as follows the order of legislation to be pushed forward by the ways and means committee as soon as the house organization is completed:

Popular election of United States senators.

Publicity before elections of campaign contributions.

Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

Canadian reciprocity.

Revision of schedule K—the wool schedule—of the Payne-Aldrich bill.

Revision of the cotton schedule.

Beyond this the present organization does not extend, other tariff matters and general subjects being left for further consideration, dependent a great deal upon time.

It also practically has been decided that the Canadian reciprocity bill to be brought forward by Chairman Underwood will be almost an exact duplicate of the McCall bill. It will carry no tariff rider.

Leading Democrats when asked what they would do if the senate immediately passed the Canadian reciprocity bill and then indicated its readiness to adjourn declared that the house would not adjourn. The Democratic leaders expressed confidence that the president would not exercise his authority to adjourn the extraordinary session should a dispute arise between the two houses of congress over adjournment.

Independence, Kan., April 10. — A motion for a new trial made by A. A. Truskett, convicted March 20 of killing J. D. S. Neeley, the wealthy Lima, O., oil man, at Caney, Kan., on Jan. 7 last, was overruled by Judge T. J. Flannelly and Truskett was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Truskett is seventy years old and is a member of one of the oldest and wealthiest families in this part of the southwest.

Woman Wins the Mayoralty.

Hunnewell, Kan., April 10.—It now appears that Mrs. Ella Wilson will be mayor of this town after all. She has been given her certificate of election. The city council yielded to the city attorney and acknowledged Mrs. Wilson victor.

Marshall Makes No Gain.

Washington, April 10.—The population of Marshall, Mich., was 4,236 in 1910, compared with 4,370 in 1900.

Monster Dirigible Balloon for that Purpose Projected in Berlin.

Berlin, April 10. — A huge airship, intended for transatlantic travel, is projected here, and a company capitalized at $2,000,000 has been formed to finance the scheme.

The proposed dirigible will be eight times larger than Zeppelin's new Deutschland. The plans call for a vessel 775 feet long, driven by thirty motors. It will be able to carry 200 passengers in addition to a crew of 100.

A SALLY FROM A MOTORMAN.

A WASHINGTON steet-car was getting under way when two women, rushing from opposite sides of the street to greet each other, met right in the middle of the car-track and in front of the car. The car stopped, too, but the women did not appear to realize that is was there. Certain of the passengers, whose heads were immediately thrust out of the windows to ascertain what the trouble was, began to make sarcastic remarks, but the two women heeded them not.

Finally the motorman showed that he had a saving sense of humor. Leaning over the dash board, he inquired, in the gentlest of tones:

"Pardon me, ladies, but shall I get you a couple of chairs?"

TOWNSEND IN WASHINGTON.

Senator Townsend is hard at work and is advocating a reform in the senate already, seeking some means to prevent another movement such as Senator Owen of Oklanoma made at the close of the last session in forcing consideration of the admission of Arizona to Statehood. Senator Townsend may introduce a bill to make filibustering impossiole at any or all times. It is hoped the Senator will maintain the same activity to the end of the session.

AN ECHO FROM RUSSIA

The recent Russsan outrage in the far Caucasus, in which two Englishmen were killed is of interest to Michigan people as the wife of James Mac Garvey one of the murdered gentlemen was formerly Miss Julia Williams of Mt. Clemens.

Mr. Mac Garvey whoes home is just out of London at beautiful Ealing has been at Grosny Russia over a year where he owns oil wells and refineries. His manager Mr. Barnard of London was with him but his wife did not join him there at first on account of the disturbances in that country. Just before Christmas she went to him however.

A letter was received a few days ago by friends in Tecumseh giving details of the horrible affair with clippings from the London papers containing telegrams from St. Petersburg.

They were sitting at supper when they heard a commotion outside and Mr. MacGarvey went to the door to be met by a crowd of robbers and murderers armed with long knives and pistols. They killed both the men and wounded Mrs. MacGarvey who fainted away. Mr. Barnard did not die instantly but took Mrs. Mac Garvey up in his arms and fled with her into the court then dropped dead at her feet. They had first killed the guard who was always at the door and the telephone operator, and wounded the cook.

Mrs. Mac Garvey was at the Vladikankas Hospital two weeks. When she was able to be moved her daughter and her husband Dr. P. Stanley Blaker of London began the journey home with her, five days constant travelling. They were safeguarded by Russian officials to the Turkish frontier whence Turkish officials conducted them to the German frontier where they were met by English Consul. Her condition is still very serious and fears are entertained for her mind. The remains of Mr. Mac Garvey were taken back to England at the same time March 18th.

Julia Williams Mac Garvey is a friend and school mate of Miss Addie and Emma Rogers.

MICHIGAN MORE THAN A LOCAL UNIVERSITY.

Recently the president of Yale contrasted the universities of the East with the state universities of the west. The state universities all impose very low fees upon the students who live in the state, but discriminate usually more or less against non-residence. Naturally, he contended, the state university, by its policy of discrimination, tends to become more and more local in character. This he felt to be undesirable, as it would tenc to divide the republic of letters along state lines, and to foster a local spirit in national politics in place of the broad national patriotism that should prevail.

"We do not want a republic of letters to be organized too sharply on state lines,' said President Hadley. "We need to have places where the best men from different parts of the country can see each other and know each other, can toil together and play together, car form a coherent publicsentement which shall prevent the possibility of that disruption in thought which alone creates the langer of political disruption."

Michigan, it may be said in comment upon President Hadley's view, is the one state whose university has up to the present time given its students the advantages of this broad national character. Take away this characteristic and there is lost to the university and the state the one great qualifiedly and admittedly preeminent among the state universities.

FRANCE BOASTS OF NEW REST CURE "SOMNARIUM"

Paris, April 1.—The peaceful and sleepy Touraine is the adopted home of a new "rest cure," quite properly called the "Somnarium."

When a patient enters the somnarium he leaves the world behind. Al clothing of ordinary life must be checked and locked. New simple garments are worn instead.

Not only their clothes must be left off and new ones provided, but names as well. The patients go under the names of the rooms they occupy. And the rooms are named after famous physicians.

No medicne is taken. Patients' rooms, however, are painted a color believed to be beneficial to the particular ailment from which they—the patients, not the rooms—suffer. For instance, patients suffering from neurosthenia or dipsomania are placed in rooms painted blue. When the patient has reached the convalescent stage he is transferred to a green room, this color not only being soothing but a tonic as well.

The only other duty of the patient is to sleep. If he cannot sleep the physicians in charge induce sleep in various ways, until the patient is able to sleep of his own accord.

The above from an Omaha paper seems one of the most sensible cures of modern times and a somnarium in our own country would not come amiss there is many a worn out person to whom such a rest would prove a blessing.

Constipation causes headache, nausea, dizziness, languor, heart palpitation. Drastic physics gripe, sicken weaken the bowels and don't cure. Regulets act gently and cure constipation. 25 cents. Ask your druggist

COMMUNICATION

A chain letter asking for stamps to to raise funds for a hospital in N. S. W., Australia, and purporting to be authorized by the Government is circulating in this State.

The fact of any Australian institution appealing for help outside of the country is unprecedented, so much so that when Madame Melba in 1903 made an appeal for the drought stricken districts, the Government cabled within 24 hours after learning of the same, had the subscription list closed, and the funds returned to the donors. I therefore wrote to the Attorney General, and received the following reply, which may save time and stamps of the people who receive chain letters.

Chief Secretary's Office,
Sydney, 14th January, 1811.

Madam:

In reply to your letter of the 25th November, addressed to the Attorney General and Minister of Justice of this State, and by him transmitted to this Office, enquiring whether a "chain letter" regarding the St. George's Cottage Hospital, Rockdale, Sydney, is genuine, I have the honor to inform you that the Hospital has has been in existence for some years, but that the chain letter had not the endorsement of the Government when it started, nor is it the wish of the Hospital that should continue.

I have the honor to be,
Madam,
Your most obedient servant,
Signed, J. S. Coghlan,
Under Secretary.

TECUMSEH MAY SEE "THE BLUE MOUSE"

We understand that theatre goers of Tecumseh may have a chance to see Clyde Fitch's newest comedy "THE BLUE MOUSE." That attraction is playing at the Lyceum at Detroit all this week. They haye an open date the latter part of April and if suitable terms can be arranged on, the big prodvction will play Tecumseh some time the last of this month.

The company is under the management of The Shubirt's, starring MISS GRACE MERRITT, and is without a doubt, one of the best comedies as as well as attractions that will be seen here.

BASE BALL

After much deliberation and an appeal to the National Commission, it has been decided that Giencke belongs to the Adrian Baseball Club. He was secured from Bay City last July, an agreement existed between Giencke and the Bay City Club, that he was to be a free agent at the end of the season. When the exchange was made, the agreement was not fixed up properly and Adrian still claimed him. It is thought that he will be sold, as there are several who want him, as he is a very desirable party.

Danny Jenkins, heavy hitting and speek outfielder of last years Tots has returned a signed contract to Adrian asking leave of absence until April 18. His contract is most welcome to the Adrian Club as the outfield will now be ranked with the best in the league. Jenkins is now playing in exhibition games with the Danville Club, hence his wish for leave of absence.

It is estimated that nearly 400 ball players will begin drawing salaries from 16 league clubs on April 12, when the season of 1911, over $800,000 will have been paid out before the season is ended. Players in the National and American leagues will receive higher wages than ever before, the prices paid for players having reached the top notch.

MONDAY CLUB

The closing meeting of the Monday Club was held last evening at the pleasant home of Mr and Mrs. Fred Rosacrans. The rooms were filled to their utmost capacity with an appreciative company. In the absence of the president Mrs. A. James, Mrs. C. A. Wright presided in a most able manner. The following program was given:

An instrumental duet by Mrs. Wood and Prof. McAlpine was delightfully rendered and was heartily applauded. Miss Ethelyn Garlinghouse presented a paper on Russian women which was very interesting, tracing their history from the days when they were little better than slaves to the present time, when they rank among the first with other nations. Peter the great was first to advance the life of women, before this they sought relief from their troubles with the various religious sects, in nursing the sick and other like duties, later Alexander further paved the way for their betterment, schools were instituted and woman soon took her place among the higher ranks as teachers and reformers, entering the professions and doing good work, the medical profession attracting many and it is estimated there are now 52 women doctors in St. Petersburg. Mrs. Grace Moore gave two solos to illustrate the versitile talent of Tschaikowsky, one "Sad is my Heart" being a wailing cry of of one oppressed with grief, the other a merry song "My Vow." Mrs. Moore gave a short talk on this author which added great interest to her singing. Following came a trio by Mesdames Moore, McAlpine and Ruthruff "Thou Art Like Unto a Flower" by Rubenstein which was exquisite. Prof McAlpine gave a piano solo, also by Rubenstein, he prefaced it by a description of his theme, the rippling water, the boat song, the Cathedral bells, the striking of the hour of twelve, all of which held the listener spell bound until the last note. "Thee I Think of Marguerita" by Meyer-Helmund as sung by Miss Mattie Colwell was very fine. Mrs. Wood and Prof. McAlpine gave an instrumental duet "The Polish Dance" in their own charming manner. The closing quartette, "The Wedding Song" by Poniatowski as sung by Mesdames Moore and McAlpine and Messrs Dickinson and Slater was one of the jolliest and merriest and was a fitting number for the closing of the program.

This evening was a fitting close to an instructive and very enjoyable year.

CORDELIA WALLER

Miss Cordelia Waller passed to her rest at 12:30 a. m. Monday. She suffered the second stroke of paralysis about a week ago and failed to rally. Her funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, at the house, at two o'clock.

Miss Waller has been an invalid for several years and has been a most patient, brave sufferer, always with a cheerful word and pleasant smile for all, never a murmur over the pain and distress that she suffered day by day. For a number of years she and her sister, Mrs. Mary Kennedy, have lived together.

And to her who is left alone, the loving sympathy of her friends is given in this, her time of sorrow.

To her who has left us, the struggle and burden bearing of life are ended, and we trust that like one who awakens from a troubled dream, she has awakened to see life's endless morning break and find herself at home with all the loved ones gone before.

"We are glad that she has lived
thus long,
And glad that she has gone to her reward,
Nor, deem that kindly nature did
her wrong,
Gently to disengage the silver cord."

BILLY SUNDAY

ARRIVED IN TOLEDO SATURDAY

Preached His First Sermon Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

The opening of the Tabernacle for the Billy Sunday meetings was a great event for Toledo. It is estimated that over 9000 people can be seated and a choir of 1000 voices were in attendance. Every precaution has been taken to ensue the safety of the audience. A complete system of ushers has been organized, there being 200, and a certain number of these are responsible for the ten exits on each side of the building and the three at each end. Every preparation has been made for this great revival effort. For weeks the churches have been working and praying for the success of the work of Billy Sunday. He is ably assisted by Albert Gill who has been with him for the part four years and has been his advance courier, building tabernacles and stirring up the people to the necessity of the work.

A VISIT TO PANAMA.

The Duluth Herald contains a very interesting account of John H. Darling's recent visit to the Panama Canal. Mr. Darling was a former resident of Macon and will be remembered by many in Tecumseh.

Mr. Darling has a fine government position which he has held for the last 26 years. He is at the head of a corp of engineers, in charge of the improvements of the rivers and harbors in the Duluth-Superior District.

Mr. Darling goes on to say of the Canal, that it is a work of such large and stupendous proportions, that all eyes are turned toward it and many tourists are visiting the isthmus and more would go if they realized how delightful the climate is at this season and how easy it is for one to get provided one has the money.

We were met at Colon by members of the Canal Commission who took us in charge and had a week's program arranged and laid out for our week's stay

That the sanitation of the Canal Zone has been affected at great cost is true, but it was a very important matter and necessary to secure laborers and mechanics to do the work. Mosquitoes and fevers have been eliminated and the locality is healthy, the death rate comparing favorably with the Northern Cities.

The common laborers (colored) receive 10c an hour, for a nine hour day. White employes are paid very liberally. There is an army of 35,000 on the isthmus and the monthly payroll is about $1,500,000.

Each member of the party was presented with a cane made from the original ties of the Panama Railroad, which had been in place about 58 years. They are of lignum vitae and make an interesting relic.

WHAT NEXT?

Dr J. N. Kellogg of Battle Creek in speaking before the Southern Teachers Association in Indiana remarked, "If the denizen of the earth do not revesse uterly their mode of living within the next 250 years, we will all be lunatics. Our filthiest habit is wearing clothes, we eat rheumatism along with our bread and potatoes. If we stuck to the food of the monkeys we would not suffer the terrible diseases which are now afflicting the race."

It is quite a relief that the Doctor has put the disater off for 250 yrs. as we of the present will not know much about it and we doubt if any will be willing to go back to the diet of the monkey.

PROMISES TO TAKE OVER D. T. & I. RY.

Ex-Senator Foraker Says One of Big Lines Will Rehabilitate Bankrupt Concern.

Former Senator Foraker, representing junior creditors of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad in the course of an argument before Judge Swan yesterday, that the negotiations are on with one of the great railroad systems of the country which proposes to take over the D. T. & I. and furnish it with traffic and equipment. Mr. Foraker declined to give the name of the transportation company.

The argument was in connection with a hearing at which the New York Trust company as senior creditor of the D. T. & I. demanded a decree of foreclosure on a mortgage valued at approximately $4,500,000. The junior creditors opposed this, and asked four weeks delay. Judge Swan denied the petition for immediate foreclosure and granted a delay of two weeks.

The attorneys for the junior creditors represented that a decree at this time would mean a loss of millions of dollars for their clients. Attorney I. M. Dittenhofer, representing junior bond holders, presented a plan of reorganization which he said will provide $10,000,000 that will pay all the roads debts and satisfy all claims for labor.—Detroit Free Press.

John B. Smith, Chicago Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For several years I suffered a great deal from backache, caused no doubt, by disordered kidneys. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time I was relieved. I have not had a serattack of the trouble since. I have previously told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I then said in their favor.

SHE TOLD HIS FORTUNE

The girl broke the silence that had fallen upon the two persons in the rather formal room known as the "parlor."

"I want so much to read your palm," she said. "I've been studying palmistry for nearly a week, and I know just lots. Of course, I'm not like a professional, but, anyhow, I think it's fun. You won't mind, will you?"

The young man, who seemed rather anxious than otherwise to submit his fate to her judgement, yielded his palm.

"My! what a nice big hand," she cried admiringly. "It's better to have big hands than little—or is it little than big? Anyhow you have a splendid line of life. It looks as though you might live to be ninety. Aren't you glad?"

"That depends the young man said. "Is yours a long one?"

"You'll be very successful in the law," she went on. "And even make money in it."

"Look here!" broke in the young man. "You're reading from what you know. I've been a lawyer for a long while."

"Yes, but look at this line!" she cried triumphantly. "That means the law."

"That isn't a line. That's where I cut myself on the sardine can last month at the picnic, he said. "Nearly had blood poisoning and nobody paid any attention to it. Wasn't there a lovely moon, though?"

"Looks as though you were going to have lots of trouble," she murmured. "Here's a line of influence that's awfully strong, but I don't see any divorce or anything."

"I don't see any wife yet," he said, gloomily. "How's anybody to get a divorce if he hasn't even got a wife?"

"Oh, but you're going to get married," she assured him. "But, of course, a palmist can't tell what she looks like."

"If you can't, nobody can."

"Please don't interrupt. You have a hollow hand and that means disappointment, but you have a perfectly lovely fate line, and that means you are never going to be disappointed. You'll never be a social success."

"I am crushed to learn it," he said dolefully. "Can't I take a course in correspondence school lessons on 'How to Be Liked?' Don't you have to hold my hand to read it?"

"It isn't necessary."

"It keeps slipping off the chair arm," he said. "Besides, when you take it the psychic circuit, or something like that, seems more complete, more satisfactory."

"You have lots of humps in your hand," she went on, unheeding. "It looks as if those that ought to be small are large, but I'm not sure. You are going abroad."

"Ask fate to make it a wedding trip," he said. "Go on."

"One journey ends in a disappointment and on one you are going to be ill."

"I'm always seasick. Go on."

"You've always been strong, but your nails seem to indicate heart trouble and nervousness."

"That's right," he confessed. "One causes the other, but neither is incurable if given proper care."

"You've had lots of flirtations."

"There you know, you're wrong."

"Well," she hesitated, "I'm not sure whether they're flirtations or only worries; but, anyhow, there they are."

"A flirtation is a worry."

"How do you know?" she asked "Here's a thing that looks like a feather duster. I wonder what that means?"

"A clean sweep," he said. "The world is mine."

"Well, maybe," she went on. "Jupiter, Mercury and the sun are all nice and big."

"I seem to possess all the planets. I suppose you think I want the earth?"

"You can make speeches and you are going to die a long way from your birthplace."

"And all alone? Is there no one who will throw out the life line to me?"

"Don't be foolish for this is serious. I wish I could remember whether or not it is a good thing to have sticking-out lines on the line of the head.

"Give me the benefit of the doubt. Now, tell me more about the heart."

"I never go back," she said, definitely. "I've finished with your heart."

"Really?" he asked, drawing away his hand. "What are you going to do with it—chuck it?"

"Please give me your hand again."

"No, I'd rather have yours," he said. "I know I could read you a first-rate fortune. Let's see it."

Reluctantly she held her palm out, and he took it in his own.

"These wiggly lines under your middle finger show you are going to marry a lawyer," he said. "And your fate line says there's no use your squirming, for I'm going to keep this hand, no matter what you do. May I?"

"I—I don't seem able to help it," she faltered. "I can't get it away."

"And don't want to?"

"Not—not awfully much."

"Come on let's go out on the porch," he said softly. "I can tell fortunes better out there."

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it, as it cured them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 405 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dungan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

STABS PRISON OFFICIAL

Convict Tries to Kill Captain Kane—Blames Religious Literature.

Joliet, Ill., April 10.—Richard Honick, a life convict from Cook county, serving time for the murder of his schoolmate, Walter Koeller, attempted to kill Captain M. J. Kane in the shoe shop, and succeeded in making two deep slashes with a sharp knife across the face and neck of the officer before he was stopped by Guard William H. Reynolds.

Honick said he punished Kane because the officials had persisted in leaving religious literature in his cell.

A KING'S HOBBY.

The late king of Siam had an extraordinary hobby—that of collecting empty match boxes of all nations. In this connection an interesting story is related. During one of his visit to this country the king while passing down Bond street one afternoon accompanied by two members of his suite espied an empty match box which had been discarded by its owner and thrown away into the middle of the thoroughfare.

Without a moment's thought the monarch dashed into the middle of the crowded traffic, grasped the much coveted treasure and was nearly run over by a passing cab. The fact, however, that he was able to add a new specimen to his collection—gathered under such circumstances—more than compensated him for the risk which he had run.—London Daily News.

SPARROWS KILL TURKEYS.

English sparrows kill turkeys in Rhode Island, according to Dr. Philip B. Hadley. They convey the "blackhead" disease, whose fatal prevalence among turkeys is threatening the ruin of turkey farming in the state. Dr. Hadley says that poultry, generally game birds and some wild song birds, have the amoeba or coccidium, which causes the disease, and so why he lays all the blame to the English sparrow does not quite appear, unless because the little pest has earned so bad a name on other accounts. The British grouse are troubled in a way similar to the turkey. And the seriousness of the case is illustrated by Dr. Hadley in the statement that whereas thirty years ago Block Island alone used to send out more than 40,000 pounds a year the turkeys now raised there can only be counted by dozens.

PEACE EFFORTS COME TO NAUGHT

Juan Sanchez Azcona Confidentially Tells All about It.

SEVERAL CONFERENCES HELD

Representatives of Rebel Junta Met Emissaries from Limantour in New York and in San Antonio.

San Antonio, April 10.—Following the collapse of the projected "peace negotiations" between the Maderos and representatives of the Mexican government, which were to take place either at Chihuahua or El Paso, Juan Sanchez Azcona, the member of the Washington junta of the insurrection, who has come down here to assist in the work of the San Antonio branch of the rebel management, issued what he said is a full history of the peace negotiations.

Stating that the earliest proposals came from Ernesto Madero, one of the Coahuila branch of the rebel family which is still loyal to Diaz, and requested a meeting at Corpus Christi, Tex., in February, which fell through because of suspicions concerning the integrity of the delegate who was to represent Diaz, a second statement says that the next important step was the meeting in New York between Francisco I. Madero, Sr., and Senor Limantour, "an old friend." Of this meeting, which was carefully veiled in New York, the man of peace says:

"In the course of conversation, both deplored the present events in Mexico and deemed it expedient to make an effort in behalf of the welfare of the country to see if it was not possible to arrive at some arrangement, which, assuring that peace would come within a short time, would give the satisfaction sought by the insurgents. With this object Francisco I. Madero arranged meetings, strictly private, between Limantour and Dr. Gomez and Gustavo Madero, members, these last two of the directorate of the revolution.

"Our representatives had four interviews with Mr. Limantour in the presence of Francisco Madero. These interviews, I repeat, were private, and once Mr. Limentour was put in possession of the demands of the revolutionists, by our representative, he deemed it convenient for him to present these demands to the president of Mexico and his ministry.

"The representatives of the insurrection sent information of the proceedings to Don Francisco I Madero, Jr., who at the time was on the field of operations in Chihuahua. He was asked to favor us with his opinion on these matters and to dictate his orders.

"In the last days of March there arrived in San Antonio Don Rafael Hernandez and Don Salvador Madero, representing confidentially Mr. Limantour. The representatives of the insurrection thought it well to call me here from Washington, and on the evening of March 31 we had a conference, in which the revolutionary element was represented by Don Roque Estrada, Don Jose Maria Pino Suarez, Don Gustavo and Don Alfonso Madero, and by me. Like other efforts this meeting was not of any official character. There was no presentation of credentials by Hernandez and Madero other than the simple declaration on their word of honor, that they came as representatives confidentially of Mr. Limantour."

DEPREDATIONS NEAR TUXPAN

Band of 300 Rebels Seems Bent Chiefly on Pillage.

Tampico, Mex., April 10.—The news of the revolutionary uprising in the vicinity of Tuxpan, about 100 miles south of Tampico, has caused excitement among the people of the city and surrounding sections. A force of troops left here for the scene of the disturbances. Detachments of rurales are also on their way to the Tuxpan district from points in the state of Vera Cruz.

Arrivals here from Tuxpan report that the band of rebels number more than 300 well armed and mounted men and that they apparently are bent on pillage more than anything else. Besides robbing a train on the Furbero and Tuxpan railroad the rebels attacked several ranches in the vicinity of Tuxpan, robbing the owners of money and live stock.

Police Find Sack of Bombs.

Laporte, Ind., April 10.—Considerable excitement was caused here by the finding of a sack filled with bombs loaded with explosive powder in a coal car in the Pere Marquette railroad yards. The police department was advised and the bombs, of which there were more than a score, were taken outside the city and exploded. It is believed the bombs had been used in mining operations in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. S. E. Payne Is Ill.

Washington, April 10.—Mrs. Sereno E. Payne of Auburn, N. Y., wife of Representative Payne, is seriously ill at her apartments in the Burlington in this city. Mrs. Payne is sixty-six years old.

FLOODS THREATEN FARMERS

White River Starts on Rampage That May Prove Expensive.

Petersburg, Ind., April 10.—The heavy rains of the past few days have caused the east and west forks of White river to rise rapidly, and the main river left its banks and began flooding the bottoms. Farmers up and down the river fear a repetition of last fall's flood. Practically no corn land has been broken in the bottoms, and the wheat planted in the bottoms will be a total loss.

Patoka river, eight miles south of here, is out of its banks. Much corn was left in the bottoms last fall, and if the river continues to rise efforts will be made to have it removed to the hills, together with live stock.

Damage by Heavy Snow.

Middletown, N. Y., April 10.—Trees broken down, and uprooted, wires of all kinds down, the first alarm system out of commission and great damage to fruit trees is the result of one of the heaviest snow storms that ever visited this section in April.

PROFIT IN CIVIC ADVANCEMENT.

"We are coming to understand that not only should our bridges be beautiful, but our public buildings must be beautiful, our river banks must be beautiful, the homes of the poor as well as those of the rich must be beautiful and, being beautiful, will be such as the poor as well as the rich can live in safety, profitably, wisely. As we clean and beautify and make splendid the cities and the towns in which we live, as we tie them together into more and more efficient corporate units, struggling for the common welfare of us all, we shall find that the unlovely things in human nature, in our own nature, the dishonesties, the foulness, the dishonors that have held back so long and so terribly the progress of mankind, will be more and more impossible. A city materially beautiful will be spiritually beautiful also."—President Flavel S. Luther, Jr., of Trinity College.

A VALUABLE INVENTION.

An Illinois wise man comes forward with a simple device which should fill a long-felt want, particularly in those homes where daughters are fairly numerous. This new ornamental and useful bit of furniture is the gumboard, and will be found suitable for parlor, dining room or bedroom. Hung on the wall with the names of all gum-chewing members of the family arranged in a circle about it, and a polka dot indicating the spot to store the gum, and properly ornamented with ribbon to match the wall paper, it should be a joy forever. It will not only relieve the plaque or the picture of kin that has become tiresome, but it will save the bottoms of the chairs and table, the carpet, and occasionally the gum. The gum board is simpler than the flying machine, but it was a long time getting here, considering the demand.—Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

WHY WASTE HIS BREATH?

Teacher—Now, Tommy, suppose you had two apples and you gave another boy his choice of them. You would tell him to take the bigger one, wouldn't you?

Tommy—No, mum.

Teacher—Why?

Tommy—Cos 'twouldn't be necessary.

Sons of Butchers.

Three of the stained glass windows in the Hall of the Butcher Guild, London, contain the portraits of Cardinal Wolsey, William Shakespeare and Daniel Defoe in recognition of their connection with the meat trade.

The Cardinal was the son of a "respectable" butcher at Ipswich in Suffolk and "The Immortal Bard" assisted while a youngster a butcher in his native town of Stratford-on-Avon.

Defoe, nowadays known as the author of "Robinson Crusoe," but in his day an adventurer and secret agent of his Government, was the son of a butcher in Fore street and a member of the guild.—National Provisioner.

FISH THAT IS NOT AFRAID.

Pike Darted at a Man's Hand—Another Bit a Fisherman's Arm.

The boldness of a pike is very extraordinary, writes an angler. I have seen one follow a bait within a foot of the spot where I have been standing; and the head keeper of Richmond Park, England, assured me that he was once washing his hand at the side of a boat in the great pond in that park when a pike made a dart at it and he had but just time to withdraw it.

A gentleman now residing at Weybridge in Surrey informed me that walking one day by the side of the River Wey near that town he saw a large pike in a shallow creek. He immediately pulled off his coat, tucked his shirt sleeves and went into the water to intercept the return of the fish to the river and to endeavor to throw it upon the bank by getting his hands under it.

During this attempt the pike, finding he could not make his escape, seized one of the arms of the gentleman and lacerated it so much that the wound is still very visible.

Random Shots.

I shot an arrow into the air, it fell in the distance, I knew not where, till a neighbor said that it killed his calf, and I had to pay him six and a half ($6.50). I bought some poison to slay some rats, and a neighbor swore it killed his cats; and, rather than argue across the fence, I paid him for dollars and fifty cents ($4.50). One night I set sailing a toy balloon, and hoped it would soar till it reached the moon; but the candle fell out on a farmer's straw, and he said I must settle or go to law. And that is the way with the random shot; it never hits in the proper spot; and the joke you spring, that you think so smart, may leave a wound in some fellow's heart.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

Where the "Good 'uns" Were.

One of the mottoes which, though good, are rarely applied, is "A place for everything and everything in its place." A writer in the Dundee Advertiser tells of a London cab-driver who seemed to think that affairs were ordered after this pattern. As he sung down the Strand, an American sitting beside him asked him to point out the spots of interest.

"Right you are, sir!" agreed the driver, touching his hat. "There's Luggit 'ill, where they 'ang 'em."

A little later, "There's Parliament 'ouses, where they make the laws wot does it, across the way. An' there's Westminster Habbey, where they buried the good 'uns wot didn't get 'anged!"

One Thing He Could Not Have.

Although there was no sort of toy which could be bought and for which Harold had expressed a desire that was not in his possessions, he still had his unsatisfied longings. "I know what I wish I was, mother," he said one day, when his own big brother had gone away and the little boy across the street was ill.

"Yes, dear," said his mother. "Perhaps you can be it, Harold; mother will help you. Is it to play soldier?"

"No, indeed!" said Harold, scornfully. "I just wish I was two little dogs, so I could play together."

Important Personage.

A King's coachman is a personage of no small importance. Certainly the coachman to her late Majesty Queen Victoria had a befitting sense of the dignity and responsibility of his position. On the occasion of the Jubilee of 1887 he was asked if he was driving any of the royal and imperial guests at that time quartered in Buckingham Palace. "No, sir," was his reply. "I am the Queen's coachman; I don't drive the riffraff."—London Chronicle.

Chinese Pirates.

Piracy is no new thing in the waters around Hong Kong. As long ago as the thirteenth century the island of Hong Kong was a piratical stronghold, and for centuries the Chinese government was unable to drive the sea robbers out. All craft passing what is now Hong Kong harbor were compelled to pay tribute. The higher elevations of the island served as lookout stations, and no boat that approached was permitted to leave until it had paid toll.

Improving Mad Dogs.

Boston has a hospital for the treatment of dogs suspected of having rabies, and several cases have been improved, though the veterinaries do not say they have cured the dogs of hydrophobia. They have merely improved some dogs suspected of the disease.—Worcester Telegram.

EASTER DISPLAY

Miss Hough's millinery store was in Easter trim this week for the display of Easter hats. Large hats in most beautiful braids and fancies with flowers in all the dainty colors of spring vied with the more modest toques and turban shapes, each one prettier than the other in their construction. Flowers were never more charming than this spring, the smaller blossoms seeming to take the place of the huge flowers of years past. The window was beautiful with lillies of the valley and modest rosebuds. Coral trimming was used quite freely. It would be hard to tell just how the display impressed one, and we would suggest that you all go and see for yourselves.

REV. JONES HAS RESIGNED

PRESBYTERIAN PASTOR FORMERLY OF TECUMSEH WILL LEAVE PIPESTONE MINN. AND GO TO KEWANEE, ILLINOIS.

The following clipped from the Pipestone County Star will be interest to the many friends of Rev. W. F. Jones;

Rev. William F. Jones, for the past two and a half years pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Pipestone, has resigned to accept the pastorate of the Presbyterian Church of Kewanee, Ill. At the close of the morning service on Sunday, Rev. Jones read to the congregation his resignation, which is to take effect immediately after April 16th. Rev. Jones' resignation, which did not come entirely as a surprise to the congregration, as it was recently announced that he had received a call from the Kewanee Church and had taken it under consideration.

Rev. Jones pastorate in Pipestone has been marked by able, earnest and aggressive work, and his influence has been strongly felt both within the church and throughout the community as a whole. He has actively identified himself with enterprises that were for the uplift of the community, in the matter of the Pipestone Chautauqua for instance, his efforts being a strong factor in bringing about the success of the undertaking. It will be with much regret that the church and the people of this city will witness the departure of Rev. Jones and his estimable family, but all will wish them success and happiness in the new field of labors to which they go.

The Men's Club has decided to tender a general reception in honor of Rev. Jones and his family on the evening of Friday, April 14th, at the church.

Young Men's Club

ENTERTAINED TUESDAY EVENING IN HONOR OF DONALD HEESEN, OF TOMAH, WISCONSIN

A very pleasant company numbering about 40, assembled at the Young Men's Club room Tuesday evening. When all had assembled, they visited the Royal Theatre and upon returning, progressive pedro was in order with nine tables of players. Music both vocal and instrumental was also indulged in. A fine two course lunch was served by the Young Men, to which all did ample justice.

Donald Heesen in whose honor the party was given, expects to return to Tomah the first of the week. His friends have enjoyed his visit and regret his speedy departure.

SYMPOSIUM OF TECUMSEH RESEARCH CIRCLE

A most delightful evening was that of Tuesday, when the ladies of the Research Circle and their guests met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Mills.

The spacious rooms were charming for a gathering of this description and were soon filled with about 75 ladies. As first upon the list of good things for the evening, at 6:30 came a fine three course supper, the colors of the Club, green and white, being nicely carried out, in the various viands.

Mrs Claude Crittenden of Grand Rapids opened the program with a fine instrumental selection, after which Mrs. Andrew Wilson, the retiring President extended a hearty welcome to the guests assembled. She then introduced the toast-mistress of the evening, Mrs. Alberts, in a few well chosen and polited remark on her proficiency in the matter of toast.

Mrs. Alberts very gracefully rose to the occasion and in introducing the various participants of the program did so in a very pleasing manner, giving each one a general introduction to the company.

Mrs. Thomas McCann, with Miss Mayme Kaiser as accompanist, favored the company with a very fine solo,

Mrs. Milburn Keysor, the incoming president, had for her theme "Spectacles," something made for the betterment of optical vision, also objects for our mental vision and in a very clear manner showed how each could be helped by their aid.

Mrs. Wm. Mobbs pointed out the many ways for the making of spoiled children, it is hoped that none will think it wise to follow her suggestions in that line.

Mrs. Geo. Sanford was well qualified to respond to "Farmers' Cheer" and did so in a very happy manner, her illustrations being right to the point. She has surely found the key to the situation and can find cheer wherever she may be put.

A delightful solo by Mrs. R. Meade, with Mrs. Hodges at the piano, gave great pleasure to the company.

Mrs. J. J. Belcher in a very graphic manner, described a day at Niagara and one could almost see the various points of interest as she spoke of them, and to those who had been there everything came back to them in a flash, though it had been a number of years since Mrs. Belcher had visited the falls, yet nothing was forgotten.

With a rich Irish brogue Mrs Andrew Taylor gave a fine recitation of the poor distracted mother, who after years of struggling and saving to educate her favorite son, received a letter from him that dashed her hopes to the ground, for she thought he had disgraced them all by going behind a bar. Her relief was just as great, when her neighbor, reading the letter told her that he was now a lawyer and admitted to the bar.

Another musical selection by Mrs. Crittenden completed the program. A general hand-shaking and good-nights closed this very pleasant evening.

"THE BLUE MOUSE"

Tecumseh will see "THE BLUE MOUSE." Mr. Mark informed us that the contracts were signed yesterday, whereby Clyde Fitch's newest comedy "THE BLUE MOUSE" will be seen at the Bradley Opera House, Monday, April 24th.

This is a city production in every sense of the word and having an open date, were induced to fill same here by Mr. Mark giving them a first money proposition of $300. The company is playing at the Lyceum Theatre, Detroit, all this week.

They will play here at the same scale of prices as Detroit and all the other cities they play, viz 25 cents to $1.50. The first floor will be 75c and $1.00 with a few at $1.50, the gallery admission 25 cents with the first two rows reserved at 50 cents.

"THE BLUE MOUSE" is a big production and has one of the largest casts ever seen in a play of its grade. It is not a musical show but a first class comedy. It is an A. No. 1 production and deserves the support of the theatre going public of Tecumseh and vicinity.

Peas on Toast

To prepare peas nicely for service on toast is one of the simplest methods of cooking them. Take a can of peas and after heating them drain off a little of the liquor and season the balance with pepper and salt.

At the last moment before serving add a little rich cream, pour over thin slices of buttered toast, and sprinkle lightly with paprika. This dish is quite as attractive as it is tasty and easy to prepare for a luncheon course.

IN TWO MINUTES

Easy and Quickest Way to Break Up a Cold

If you want instant relief from cold in the head or chest, or from acute catarrh, try this:

Into a bowl of boiling hot water pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) hold your head over the bowl and cover head and bowl with towel. Then breathe the pleasant, penetrating, antiseptic vapor deep into the lungs, over the sore raw, tender membrane, and most gratifying relief will come in a few minutes.

Druggists everywhere will sell a bottle of HYOMEI for 50c. Ask for extra bottle Hyomei Inhalent.

Don't be stubborn. Don't be prejudice. There is not a particle of morphine, cocaine, or any injurious or habit forming drug in HYOMEI.

Give it a trial at C. A. Wright's & Son risk. They guarantee it. It is made of eucalyptus and other grand antiseptics. It will chase away the misery of catarrh or any affliction of the nose and throat in a few minutes

You can get a trial sample free by writing Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Tecumseh Readers Are Learning the Duty of Their Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow; Urinary trouble, pain.

Doan's Kidney Pills will help yours.

Tecumseh people endorse our claim.

John B. Smith, Chicago Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For several years I suffered a great deal from backache caused no doubt, by disordered kidneys. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time I was relieved. I have not had a severe attack of the trouble since. I have previously told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I then said in their favor.

REVOLUTION IN RURAL SCHOOL WORK

Omaha, Nebraska. — "Hey, there, Bill, lend me your thimble until recess. I left mine at home."

"Can't do it, Jimmie; I wanted to borrow your thread yesterday and you wouldn't let me have any."

"Let me borrow your shears, Johnny. Mine are dull and I've got to cut a skirt out of this gingham."

"O, go on, Henry. Buy your own shears."

"Now, boys and girls, I want you to all be here early in the morning. Bring your sewing bags and each of you bring a spool of No. 60 black thread. And, too, I want you to all come prepared to take a lesson on how to bake a mince pie."

The foregoing is a sample of the conversation that will be heard in Nebraska rural schools after New Year. A new course of study has been indorsed and both boys and girls will be given practical lessons in domestic science. In the future the Nebraska boys will be instructed in the secrets of baking bread, pies and cakes, sweeping and all kinds of housework, including cutting out garments, sewing and mending. The girls are to be given practical lessons in farm chores. They are going to be taught how to milk, feed the pigs, harness horses, pitch hay and to plow.

Pity the teacher. All teachers are now brushing up for the new branches, which are numerous, but will not bring one penny additional salary.

After January 1 next the man who applies for a rural school in Nebraska must successfully answer questions relative to the baking of bread, pies and cakes if he is to be employed. He will have to detail the correct method to employ in boiling potatoes and he must know something about fancy and plain needle work, besides being able to do a first-class job of patching.

The woman teacher is not going to escape, for before she obtains a certificate to teach she must tell how much wheat, oats and barley to sow to the acre, how many kernels of corn should be put in a hill and when to plant potatoes. She will have to give her version as to the kind of seed to sow on certain kinds of land, how to prune trees and when to plant vegetables. It will be a revolution in rural school work.

Washing the Hairbrush With Ammonia and Water

Hair brushes need to be washed frequently, because of the perspiration of the head, which readily retains the dust in the air. The best brushes may be ruined by careless washing and if the bristles are allowed to become soft, a hair brush becomes practically useless for its intended purpose. Many persons cleanse their hair brushes by covering them with wheaten flour and simply rubbing the bristles together. This method, however, is not thoroughly satisfactory.

To keep your brushes in good condition proceed in the following manner: Have two dishes of cold—not hot—water. To the first dish, which contains, say, a quart of water, add a desertspoonful of ammonia. Now take your brushes one by one and keep dipping the bristles up and down in the water, being careful not to wet the backs, and in a minute or two the dirt and dust will come out of them as if by magic, leaving them beautifully white. Now dip up and down several times in the second dish, containing the clean water, to rinse them. Shake well and place to drain across a rack or towel horse.

No soap is needed and no rubbing with the hands.

Only a Slight Error.

"They done what they should have done," remarks a New York politician who has a careless stenographer. Probably he really said "should have did."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Quick-Working Machinery.

In a single minute a machine which cuts up wood to make matches will turn out 40,000 "splints," as they are called.

What proportion of men get a helpmate in a wife?

It is the height of cruelty to send the children to school on circus day.

If you can't afford something you crave try and persuade yourself it is not good for you.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either also may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it, as it cured them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dungan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

OUR HARDWOOD FORESTS.

Only a Limited Area to Supply the Constantly Growing Demand.

It will be remembered that there are no hardwoods on the Pacific Coast. Except in a comparatively small area in south-eastern Missouri and Arkansas the hardwoods are not known west of the Mississippi River, while in the States north of the Ohio, where oak was formerly abundant, there is none remaining today. In fact the principal source of supply for these woods is the very limited area in the higher mountains of western North Carolina, part of Virginia, West Virginia, eastern Tennessee and southeastern Kentucky, while from fifty times this entire area in the remaining States of the Union the demand is constantly increasing.

Forest conditions in the Cumberland Mountains are far better than in other portions of the United States. The rainfall is ample to secure most rapid growths. The soil has not been eroded to such an extent as to make renewals difficult.

An abundance of low growing shrub and herbage keep the soil cool and moist and maintain soft fertility, while much of the region contains a fine stand of the more valuable oaks, hickories, poplar, hemlock and walnut. The latter can be quickly secured by supplying the seed.

A Rabbit-Exterminator.

Many a robin has been hunted with salt, and many a rascal has got rich by selling bug powder with explicit directions to "take the bug between the forefinger and thumb, open his mouth, and drop in two grains of the dust." Here is the newest idea:

Australia, as is well known, is infested with rabbits—a most destructive and multitudinous pest. Not long ago a man invented the following plan:

You go out into the field from which the rabbits are to be removed. You saw down a tree, and on the slant of the stump you paint a black spot. Then you keep very quiet, so that the rabbits will come back from their burrows and feed as usual.

When a large enough number has collected, you clap your hands sharply.

The effect will be electric. The rabbits will jump in haste for their burrows. At least one is sure to mistake the black spot for his hole and make for it. Invariably he will dash his brains out. This process, repeated often enough, is warranted to exterminate the rabbit forever.

The reports do not say whether there are any rabbits left in Australia.

British Titles Claimed by Foreigners

An interesting parallel in the peerage of Scotland to the Barony of Fairfax, the claim to which has just been decided, is the Newburgh earldom, the holders of which have for more than a century been Italian nobles. In 1757 Cecilia, granddaughter of Charlotte Maria, Countess of Newburgh, became the wife of Benedict, Prince Giustiniani, and in 1793 her son Vincent became de jure the sixth Earl, although he did not claim the title. Since that time the Scottish peerage which was confirmed by the House of Lords to Vincent's daughter has been distinctly foreign and quite dissociated from this country. On the death of the third Baron Gardner the claimant to the title was one Alan Hyde Gardner, the son of a Mohammedan Princess and the husband of an Indian wife.

Killikinnick.

"We ran out of tobacco while fishing in the Canadian wilds," said a clubman. "Our guides put up on to killikinnick, and we smoked that for ten days. It wasn't bad.

"Killikinnick is the inner bark of the red willow. You dry it, then you cut it up. It really tastes like tobacco. The Indians always use it when they can't get the real thing, and I understand that there are certain brands of Canadian tobacco that are flavored with killikinnick."—Washington Times.

Quite Probable.

It is evident that the young man who writes th news items in the Willowby Times wishes always to be on the safe side and exercise due caution in his statements.

"When Mr. Lemuel Hawkins entered the bedroom on the ground floor of his farmhouse one day last week," wrote the careful news-gatherer, "he found that a cow, probably astray, had made her way there from the open door."

Confusion of Tongues in India.

India has about 150 different languages, most of them unwritten, and it not unfrequently happens that Indians drift into Calcutta who can find no one able to understand their vernacular. Not a little trouble is caused by such visitors. The courts too frequently have trouble with litigants and witnesses who talk a language that neither the Court nor the court interpreters understand.—Consular Report.

An Inherited Failing.

A native of Annam, Indo-China, sentenced in Paris for theft, wrote the following apology to his employer: "All Annamites, whether emperors, mandarins, secretaries, literary men and others, are born thieves. It is a grave and deadly complaint, and there is no cure for it. I know people do not like thieves in France but it cannot be helped."

BIG CATCH OF SNAKES.

The plague of venomous reptiles was so great in Bosnia that a price was put on every pair of fangs. Last year's chase, says a Sarajevo, resulted in the capture of 273,340, for which the government paid £2,714.—Pall Mall Gazette.

"The Honorable and Respected."

A curious old Bavarian custom is just about to be altered in Bavaria by the Minister of Justice. Criminals executed in the prison of Straubing have hitherto been buried with memorial crosses placed over them stating, "Here lies the honorable and respected so and so" if the criminal were a married man, while the graves of the condemned and executed bachelors bore the words "Here lies the virtuous so and so."

It has now been decided in future to inter them without any such complimentary remarks.—London Standard.

Astonishing.

New Electric Table Lights.

The tungsten filament has made possible new and artistic electric table lighting effects without the necessity of running wires up under the table or dropping them from the ceiling to provide the current. Instead the new table pieces are self-contained, being provided with a single storage cell capable of supplying current for three tungsten lamps for fourteen hours. — Popular Mechanics.

The Marrying Age in London.

From 21 to 25 is easily the London girl's best marrying age; 14,832 of the 33,449 London spinster brides were married at that age, while there were only 103 brides of "sweet seventeen," and one of 15 years old. More London men marry also between the ages of 21 and 25 than at any other time in life.—London Express.

WHERE CLOVES COME FROM.

The principal source of the world's clove supply is Zanzibar and the neighboring island of Pemba, East Africa. A 10-year-old plantation should produce twenty pounds of cloves to the tree. Trees of twenty years frequently produce upward of 100 pounds each. Besides the buds the stems are gathered and form an article of commerce, commanding one-fifth the price of cloves and having about the same percentage of strength. To this is due the fact that ground cloves can be bought at a lower price than the whole cloves. Dundee Advertiser.

THE RULING PASSION

On the third day out from Liverpool, when a group of passengers were gathered around a card table in the smoking room of the Catelard, the captain suddenly appeared.

"Gentlemen," he said, "each of you will please take his money. There is a professional gambler here."

And suddenly a tall old man rose up from his seat.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I believe the captain refers to me. Am I correct, sir?"

"I believe that we are old acquaintances, Mr. Fergus," the captain answered.

"Then let me call you to witness, sir, that I have not crossed on any ship of your line for a year past. You have kept track of me and know I am speaking the truth. Gentlemen," he continued, "I am a professional gambler, or rather used to be. At present I am going home to America for good and all. I have quit the game, but I do love a friendly hand of poker, and it's hard on an old man to deprive him of his only pastime. Let me play with you, boys, and I will agree that every time we separate, after a game, I will divide my winning among you all and bear my own losses."

There was silence for a full minute. Then a young Englishman arose.

That's a fair offer," he said. Let the old gentleman play. Let us accept Mr. Fergus' offer in the spirit in which he has made it."

The captain shrugged his shoulders and turned away. The players unanimously resolved that the old man should be permitted to continue.

Fergus was true to his word. At the end of every session he scrupulously divided his winnings, and he bore his losses, coming out about even in the voyage. After the fourth day the stakes ran high. The chief winner was a short, fat man, who handled his cards in the manner of an expert. On the night before the ship docked the young Englishmon flung down his cards and left the table abruptly. Fergus encountered him later, pacing the deck in agitation.

"What's the matter, son?" he asked.

"I'm ruined," answered the Englishman shortly. "I've lost $2,000—all I had in the world. And it's your confederate that's fleeced me," he cried, wheeling upon Fergus. "You dirty thief; why, I got you into the game."

"Tush, son!" said the old gambler, "Don't accuse honest men until you can prove something."

"Prove!" 'cried teh Englishman, bitterly. "It's as plain as t pike-staff. And if you were my own age"— He turned away and flung himself down the stairway. Fergus paced the deck puffing at his pipe, apparently lost in thought.

But when the play broke up for good and all he accosted the fat man outside the smoking room.

"Pleasant evening, he remarked.

"Yes answered the fat man, shortly.

"Come down, don't be grumpy with your old friend, Aly Milligan," said Fergus, "You wouldn't have won that three thousand odd but for my strategy. How much are you going to cough up?"

"So thats your game, is it?" remarked Milligan. "Not a cent, Mr. Fergus. You cant blackmail me. What did you do to help?"

"Kept quiet when you substituted you phony deck," said Fergus. "The pack in your inside pocket. Now, what do I get for keeping still?"

"A hundred, curse you!" said Milligan.

"Not enough, old boy. Two thousand's my price."

"You want—two-thirds?" cried Milligan.

"Or I'll put the captain wise."

Milligan pulled out his pocketbook.

"There, take it, then, you thief—you dirty thief!" he shouted, peeling off the bills, "I'll put the gang wise, though, I may be a gambler, but I wouldn't be a slimy hypocrite like you."

He counted out the last bill and thrust it into Fergus' hand. Then he stamped wildly away, cursing under his breath.

The old gambler counted the bills, rolled them into a wad and went down to the Englishman's cabin. Outside he hesitated. He looked at the money turned away, and stood irresolutely, fingering the bills. At last, with a fearful effort, he knocked. The Englishman came to the door.

"Son," said the old gambler, "you got me into the game, and Fergus don't go back on a friend. I've got your money back—some of it." He counted off the bills. "Five hundred—a thousand—twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen"—the old man paused. "That's all I get back, son," he stammered; "er—er—oh, curse the luck! here's another five hundred."

French Woman Fails in Plan to Remain in America.

Offers $10,000 to Any Man Who Will Marry Her, So She Will Not Be Sent to France.

New York, April 17.—The center of interest at Ellis island is a tall, attractive looking French woman, dressed in the height of fashion. She is Annie Gold, arrested in Portland, Ore., after being ten years in this country, and ordered deported at the expense of the government, as an undesirable alien.

According to the immigration authorities the woman has $55,000 in cash and about $50,000 in jewels. At the time of her arrest she offered $10,000 to any citizen of the United States who would marry her that she might not have to be sent back to France.

In view of the excitement caused at Ellis island by her offer, she will have a guard of two deportation officers and a special matron until she sails.

INQUIRY INTO VOTE BUYING

Reports of Evidence Obtained at Danville Will Be Received.

Danville, Ill., April 17.—Renewal of the investigation of the vote buying in Vermilion county by the grand jury which reconvened today is expected. Less than fifty indictments were returned by the jury during its six weeks' session and when it adjourned until April 17 Foreman John Goodwine, Isaac Woodward, former foreman, and several others held a secret conference and decided to continue the inquiry.

"We haven't finished our work," Mr. Woodyard said. "We intend to go ahead. We will show no fear or favor and I feel confident that the politicians will be given some of the biggest surprises of their lives."

$201,961 NOW IS ON DEPOSIT

Forty-Eight Postal Savings Banks Show Increases.

OPEN ACCOUNTS NUMBER 4,307

Postmaster General Hitchcock Calls Postmasters of Forty-Five Additional Offices to Assemble for Instruction.

Washington, April 17.—In a statement made public by Postmaster General Hitchcock it is shown that $201,961 was on deposit at the forty-eight postal savings banks at the close of business March 31, as compared with $133,869 on the last day of February, an increase of $68,092. The number of open accounts increased from 3,664 to 4,307 in March and the average balance per depositor from $36.54 to $46.89. These banks were opened for the receipt of deposits on Jan. 3.

By May 1 Mr. Hitchcock hopes to have forty-five additional offices open and ready to receive deposits. A few days ago he issued orders for all the postmasters of the recently designated offices to assemble on April 21 and 22 at certain places where the system has been in operation in order that they may get a practical demonstration of its operation. Instead of bringing the postmasters to Washington as was done originally, inspectors will be sent to certain of the postal savings offices to assist in explaining the operation of the system.

Since the inauguration of the postal savings system there have been deposited in the twenty-two offices west of the Mississippi river $148,699, as compared with $75,556 received in the twenty-six offices east of the Mississippi river. Though the average amount of each deposit for the month of March was approximately $28, there were more certificates issued of the $50 denomination than of any other, in fact more than one-fourth of all issued were of that denomination. In Leadville, Colo., 255 fifty-dollar certificates were issued in March out of a total of 455, whereas in Norwood, Mass., 140 one-dollar certificates were issued out of a total of 347.

Sugar Beet Pioneer Resigns.

FACING STRIKE CRISIS

Pennsylvania System Must Confer or Shopmen Will Quit.

Labor Organizations Are Active and Ultimatum Is Given Manager Long.

Pittsburg, April 17.—A crisis is looked for early next week between the Pennsylvania system and the organized shopmen, unless General Manager Long, with headquarters in Philadelphia, agrees to meet representatives of the union and adjust differences.

The men voted three weeks ago to strike unless the road cease alleged discrimination against organized workmen. They have decided to lay down their tools as soon as a conference is denied or in case of a conference Long refuses the workmen's demands.

The ultimatum has been forwarded to Long. In the meantime thirty-five organizers are at work in the shops in addition to the American federation of Labor and the general committee of the union.

The committee representing the workmen was given a conference with General Superintendent O'Donnell and one with Superintendent Morrow here. Both denied discriminations and refused to agree to adjust the questions in dispute. The committee then addressed a communication to General Manager Long.

DAY OF BIG TREES PAST

Few Remaining Logs Are Sought Eagerly at Good Prices.

Owensville, Ind., April 17.—"When I was a young man we burned logs like those. We would roll them into a big pile and burn 'em," remarked an old settler when his attention was attracted by a procession of log haulers driving into town. "Timber must be pretty scarce," mused the old man, as he scanned the different loads.

The lumber mills face a tree famine. Trees like those delivered at the mills nowadays were considered useless thirty years ago. Less than twenty-five years ago the supply of timber in this section of the "pocket" was thought to be inexhaustible. The remaining few trees command fancy prices.

GIRL BETRAYS WIRE TAPPERS

Starts Inquiry Which Discloses Theft of Electric Current.

Logansport, Ind., April 17.—A young woman who was recently discharged from her place as a servant in a household here, reported to the city officers that her former employer was stealing electric current from the city light plant wires.

The girl's story proved to be true and the family has promised to pay in full for current used. Others have been caught using a fuse, and the servant's story has started an inquiry that has led to the placing of city meters in several imposing homes where the secret fuse had been employed.

Child Drowned at New Baltimore.

New Baltimore, Mich., April 17.—Antoine De Vegan, the six-year-old son of the caretaker at Bay Court, the institution here conducted by the Detroit Associated Charities, lost his life as the result of falling off an old barge on which he and his little sister were playing. The latter fell in too, but was resuscitated after being pulled out.

Traction Line Employes Hurt When Axle on Car Broke.

Greenwood, Ind., April 17.—A broken axle on a gravel car caused a wreck on the Indianapolis, Columbus and Southern traction just north of Southport.

Clark McMullen, a section foreman, whose home is in Greenwood, was painfully injured about the legs, but not seriously. Albert Young, also of Greenwood, suffered two broken ribs and injury to spine. His condition is serious.

Good Clothes

Clothcraft suits aren't built for looks alone—They're built for wear. The 'inside facts' reveal a judicious use of hair-cloth and canvas. The button holes and pockets show the same careful work that custom tailors bestow upon there high-priced products.

The suit shown in illustration is a fine example of what a good suit should be. The shoulders lend a well built, solid appearance to the figure. The back bangs gracefully, and the sleeves are just the right size and length. The whole suit seems a part of the man. Small wonder that our sales thus far have exceeded all previous years.

Have you bought your spring suit yet? $10 to $22 invested in Clothcraft Clothes will give you the largest returns for you money.

We're expecting you.

FLOWERS IN SEALED BOXES.

A Scheme of the Florists Which Prevents in Leakage in Delivery.

Florists have hit on a new wrinkle in delivering flowers. After the flowers have been packed in boxes and the boxes are tied up in fancy style with ribbon, the ends of the ribbon are sealed to the box with wax and the florist's private mark stamped thereon.

This is not to add style to the package, but serves a strictly useful purpose. It was not an uncommon occurrence for flowers to leak on the way.

Two dozen American Beauties would shrink to one dozen. Sometimes the chance of detection was slight, as the recipient would not know how many flowers were sent in the case of a gift, and in the case of a large order few persons would take the trouble to count them, and a half dozen might well slip away unnoticed.

So the florists seal the packages now and temptation is removed from the path of those who deliver them.

Try to know at least as much about your own business at you do about the other fellow's....

One of the hardest persons to handle is the man who puts his criticism in the form of a joke.

It is hard if people do not appreciate you, but it is worse if your undershirt sleeves keep pulling up.

REOPENING OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH AT BRITTON

The re-opening of the Christian church on Sunday was an event that attracted large audiences at each of the services, taxing the building beyond its seating capacity. The morning program was most beautiful and faultlessly rendered by the little folks under the direction of Mrs. Cyrus Smith.

In the evening the chorus choir of thirty voices rendered a program which showed training and proficiency to a high degree, The church was opened during the entire day and many people availed themselves of the opportunity of coming to see the flowers and decorations, the ladies of the church remained about the building and seemed delighted to escort the visitors through the various rooms of the church.

Few if any towns in Southern Michigan have a better if as well arranged, and equipped church for the accomodation of the growing work as the Christian church now has and one of the pleasing features of it all is that the announcement was made by the trustees that the church is free from indebtedness on the completion of the work and that the past year has been one of the most prosperous in the history of the organization.

WASHINGTON LETTER

The special Session of Congress in its second week has taken up its legislative work with great vigor and the Democrats are encouraged to believe that much work will be accomplished during the legislative session. By a vote of 296 to 16 the bill proposing a Constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of United States Senators was passed. Only one Democrat opposed the measure. The other 15 voting against it were Republicans. The Canadian reciprocity bill has also been favorably reported. Mr. Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee announced that the list tariff measure will be reported before the end of the week. Among important bills introduced was one to regulate the traffic in cold storage products, another to increase the prestige of the American merchant marine, a third to regulate the issurance of injunctions and another bill to change the date of the inauguration of the President to the last Thursday in April. This last bill has often been up in Congress and it is an effort to extend the term of the short session and to fix the date inauguration which has become a national pageant, attracting hundreds of thousands of people, to a time of year of fairer weather than the proverbially cold and stormy 4th of March. It is probable that before this is in print the Canadian reciprocity measure will have passed the House. The Democratic leaders have fully decided to go into the agricultural schedule and make important changes which the demanded during the tariff discussions of last year. Other schedules not included in the general legislative program it is expected will be broght before the House probably during this month. The succes of the House in passing the bill providing for the popular election of Senators has had an exhilarating influence on the minds of the majority leaders, and they are hopeful that much important legislation may be enacted.

EASTER AMONG THE CHURCHES

Easter morning dawned bright and fair, Nature put aside her clouds and tears and echoed the glad refrain that was thrilling the hearts of all the people. "Christ is risen, he is risen indeed, Alleluia."

At an early hour the bell of St. Peters Episcopal church pealed forth the glad story and called the faithful to worship The sweet voices of the singers were lifted in notes of rejoicing over their risen Lord, and the short sermon and holy communion was a fitting beginning of the holy day, surely God was in his holy temple at that hour.

At the Presbyterian church the morning service was participated in by the church and Bible School, the pastor giving a short sermon on the Easter lily. A musical program being also given, the solos by Messrs Dickinson, and Slater, Mrs McAlpine and Miss Edyth Wilson being exceptionall fine. The anthems and hymns were full of inspiration, the whole hour being a tribute of praise to Him who rose from the dead to save his people.

The western sunlight streaming through the stained glass windows at the Baptist Church flushed the scene with splendor, the royal purple, the rose, the gold, and the green being fit colors for this Easter day and the decorations of white and green were very beautiful. The choir assisted by local talent rendered in musical numbers the story of the cross, each selection being prefaced by scriptural reading by the pastor. The wonderful story of Christs death and resurrection from the grave, thrilled and filled the hearts of those who listened with wonder and love for Him who bore the cross the suffering and the shame that we might be saved. Though despised, rejected and laid in the tomb, hewn from the rock on the green hill far away, yet his words echo back to his disciples "Be Ye Comforted, Ye that Mourn" and when the strife was over, a deep peace came upon his people. The hour was full of tender memories and as the benediction was chanted each one felt "It is good to be here, this is none other than the house of God and the gate to heaven."

At the Methodist Church a chorus of youthful voices gave the great Oratorio "The Easter Evangel" beginning with Christ's Triumphal Entry into Jerusaleum, the glad hosanna's pealing forth in joyful numbers. "The Agony in Gethsemanre," when at midnight the suffering Savior prayed alone, the trial and rejection He was despised and rejected by men, and the crucifixion, All were brought forth by the chorus in music that carried the listener through the whole sad story and made him feel that there could be no doubt of Christ's coming to earth for mans redemptien, the burial in the tomb by Joseph of Aramathea, the three days waiting for the awakening, the grand triumphal resurrection from the dead his appearing to the two Mary's, his walk to Emmaus and his final ascension into heaven were forcibly portrayed by the full choir and the soloists. The final chorus "Now is Christ Risen" was a fitting closing to an hour fraught with solemn feeling for Him who hath loved us and hath redeemed us by his own precious blood. The recitations and select readings were very fine. The program will be repeated next Sunday at 5 o'clock service. With the bright sunshine, the spring flowers and the songs of gladness everywhere this was a joyful Easter.

BRIEF AND BREEZY

Canadian reciprocity has been carefully groomed for the special session of Congress.

Some of the alleged boodlers in Illinois must have wretched reputations as regards veracity, since the jury will not believe them after they have confeseed.

It is the President's honest opinion that the wollen tariff schedule is not all wool or a yard wide.

Every woman should have an aim in life, even if she can't hit the side of the barn with a brick.

"THE BLUE MOUSE"

Here is how "The Blue Mouse," a Salemer, for $2,000 a month, gets a clerk promoted to the post of division superintendency of a trolley line. Mr. Clyde Fitch wrote the story and what is said to be one of the cleverest companies of farce players will relate the story at the Bradley Opera House next Tuesday, April 25th. when E. J. Carpenter brings the German-American success to this city for the first time.

The clerk, Rollett by name, loves his wife and desires to improve their condition. His superior, Lewellyn, president of the Inter-State Railroad, is also married, but to a shrew, which fact seems to inspire him to flirt with every pretty woman. Therefore Rollett hires "The Blue Mouse" to impersonate his real wife and flirt with Lewellyn, paying her highly if she will capture him for an order appointing him division superintendent. Here is opportunity for suggestiveness, but so masterfully has Mr. Fitch handled the story that any thought of the gross is removed and the audience reaps only hearty laughs. Of course, Mrs. Lewellyn is drawn into the trouble, as well as the real Mrs. Rollett and her father of Cohoes, who unexpectedly drops into the city. The first act shows the office of the rail road; the second takes place in the "Inner-Apartment" of "The Blue Mouse." It is during this act that Mr. Fitch has arranged an auction sale which is highly diverting and so much out of the ordinary as to prove one of the novelties of the play. Three act in all are required to tell the story.

Value of Manure Spreaders

By the use of a manure spreader, your manure will go one-third further than if spread by hand. You will also see a difference in the crop in the same field, if part is spread by hand and part by a spreader.

Don't look at the cost of a spreader, but look at the situation in this way—If you have 150 loads per year and if a spreader will make it go one-third further, you have as much ground covered as if you had 200 loads.

If we should offer to draw and spreader on your farm 50 loads of manure each year, you would accept the proposition at once. Now why do you delay in buying a spreader as the earnings are the same.

The New Low is the most up-to-date spreader on the market. It is 18in lower, built of steel, is the strongest machine we ever have seen or heard of and you will agree with us after seeing it.

Don't delay or wait, Phone us, or better still, come and get one we will arrange the terms to suit your particular situation.

EASTER PARADES IN THREE CITIES

Notables, Fashionables and the Rest In Procession.

200,000 AT ATLANTIC CITY

Famous Board Walk Leads Country In Brilliancy of Display, but New York and Chicago Make Claims to Attention.

New York, April 17. — There is a good old bromidiom to the effect that there isn't any Easter parade in Fifth avenue nowadays, and that there has not been anything resembling it for several years. Maybe not.

But when the most wonderful avenue in America is jammed as it was Sunday with girls and automobiles and celebrities of Broadway and "society," hansom cabs holding bull dogs and folks, violets, newest hobble skirts, taxis and limousines, lownecked hacks decked with beauteous women, cathedrals and lesser churches spilling high hats and more violets upon the pavement at noon and again at 4 o'clock, mounted and putteed cops dashing up and down the avenue between close clusters of automobiles trying to regulate traffic, camera men from newspapers, news asosciations and magazines hanging on facades, pavements looking like Forty-Second street at 5 o'clock Christmas afternoon, when more than 17,000 matinee girls in their glory are spilling out of all the theaters in the neghborhood —if that isn't an Easter parade, there never was one in the town nor in the world.

THRONG ON BOARD WALK

Atlantic City Entertains Easter Throng That Is Bigger Than Ever.

Atlantic City, April 17.—Atlantic City had the greatest parade of its history. Over 200,000 people were on the board walk at noon in brilliant sunlight that flashed on hats and costumes of every color and a brisk and chilly northwest wind failed to dampen the ardor of the promenaders.

At midnight Saturday every cafe and restaurant on the board walk was packed to the limit, but the bad weather and fear of storm kept down the seashore population to a figure estimated at 50,000 less than last year. When the sun broke out bright in the morning, however, a rush began and by noon crowded trains from New York and Philadelphia had dumped enough new comers in the resort to break all records for Easter.

Half a dozen harem skirts were the features of the costuming, but the big feature of the day was the wild coloring of straw hats worn by women promenaders. Every possible tint that could be found in the millinery exhibit

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building. Monticello, Ill.

A plot to destroy the large bridge on the National at Salinas, between Monterey and Laredo is alos reported. A force of 100 federals are guarding the structure. The railroad between Monterey and Torreon is torn up. The arrival of federal troops at Tuxpan, state of Vera Cruz, is reported to have restored tranquility to that district and the American and other foreign oil companies have resumed operations.

It is stated that the doctor is now in communication with Mexico City relative to conditions on which peace may be secured and all fighting cease. The message was addressed to Francisco I. Madero. Whether it reached him is not known, but the local junta officials do not believe that he is close to Juarez.

REBELS STRIKE AT RAILROADS

Seek to Put Channels of Commerce Out of Business.

MOVING ON STRATEGIC POINTS

Ticket Purchasers Are Not Now Guaranteed Uninterrupted Passage to Destination—None of Carter's Army to Move.

San Antonio, Tex., April 17.—Railroad officials of the connecting lines in the United States believe that before the end of this week Mexico City and all of northern and central Mexico will be cut off from communication with the outside world save by the seaports of Vera Cruz and Tampico and the lines connecting those two cities with the interior.

The line of the National railway entering the United States at Laredo, Tex., and passing down the Monterey and Saltillo to Mexico City now is the only avenue out of Mexico to this country remaining open. It was temporarily cut near Vanegas, in the state of San Luis Potosi, and rebels are reported to be moving on a half dozen strategic points along the line south of the border with the purpose of stopping traffic on this last of the international commercial channels.

The Mexico City Pullmans on the International, Great Northern train connecting with the main line at Laredo came in here on time, filled with women and children, many of them the families of Mexican residents of Mexico City. These passengers said that all along the line north of San Luis Potosi, the railroad offices were giving notice that the purchase of a ticket into the United States would not guarantee passage. Freight was being accepted only subject to indefinite delay.

No word of the receipt of any orders for the supplementing of the American troops patrolling the line in the vicinity of Douglas, Ariz., or El Paso came out of the division camp under command of General William H. Carter. The sending of the Sixth cavalry from Des Moines, Ia., to augment the small guard at Douglas, where another battle between insurrectos and federals at Agua Prieta is imminent, instead of detaching the Ninth and Eleventh cavalry for the purpose from the division here, is taken by army officers to indicate a real necessity for keeping the division mobilized here intact.

New Registration Figures Show Total of 5,381 Students In University.

Ann Arbor, Mich., April 17.—Registrar Hall of the university has just finished counting noses and there are exactly 5,381 at the big university this year, two less than last year.

Five countries represented at Michigan last year are not represented this year—Chili, Costa Rica, New Brunswick, Persia and Scotland. However those five countries only furnished five students, and this year there are two representatives from Ireland and one from Asia Minor, neither of which was represented last year. Further than this, the latest registration statistics show the rather amazing fact that China sends more students to the University of Michigan than does Ontario, the former country sending thirty-four natives and Ontario twenty-five. This is an increase of twenty-three students from far off China over last year.

CHICAGO PARADERS SCATTER

Many Miles of Boulevards Traversed by Auto Parties and Pedestrians.

Chicago, April 17.—Chicago has no boulevard upon which the notables of society, political, stage and sporting life exhibit themselves in a distinctly Easter parade

Her several promenades were brilliant with fashionable plumage when the widely-scattered churches turned out their great throngs of fashionable worshippers, and through the afternoon, though the weather was a bit cold, the walks were alive with strolling humanity and automobiles containing brilliant parties of well-dressed people flashed over asphalt in a never-ending procession.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Illinois and Indiana—Fair in southern, unsettled in northern portions today; Fair, light to moderate variable winds tomorrow.

Wisconsin—Fair and warmer today; fair, cooler in western portion, moderate southeast to south winds shifting to northwesterly by tomorrow.

Two Burned to Death.

Sebewaing, Mich., April 11.—While passing the home of Peter Beath, a Hungarian beet worker, four miles east of here, John Lauch, a neighbor, discovered that the house was on fire. He broke open the door with an ax. Lying on the floor near the door he found the bodies of Mrs. Beath and her six-year-old son. The woman had attempted to kindled a kitchen stove with kerosene, and the can exploded.

Leaves Office; Becomes Citizen.

Pontiac, Mich., April 11.—Eli Simpkins, whose term as a member of the board of public works expired when the old common council went out of business by reason of the new commission taking the reins of government, on the same day was made a citizen of the United States, Simpkins had received but his first papers previous to this.

FEAR PLAGUE; WILL WAGE WAR ON PESKY RATS

Experts Declare Rodents Greatest Germ Carriers In Existence.

LONDON (Special)—Unless England speedily gets rid of its rats it is certainly going to have a plague epidemic, according to nearly all the British experts. The rats are certainly infected. They have already passed disease on to a few human beings. It will not be long before they will be passing it on to a great army, the experts declare, unless they are exterminated.

"We are sleeping on the edge of a volcano," says one medical authority, writing in the London Morning Standard. "Those who have worked in the East and have seen the plague in its many forms are quite convinced of the fact.

"The rat is a strangely clever animal. When disease, and epecially such diseases as plague, attacks the rats they begin at once to migrate. Hitherto the migrations of rats have not been closely followed, but as soon as it is realized that the passing of rats from one part of the country to another may mean a streak of disease and death, statistics are sure to follow.

"Just at present there is a movement of the rats. It has been observed by many farmers. It is from Suffolk southwestward towards Rentfordshire. Rat plague exists in Suffolk. It requires only certain favorable conditions to enable the baccillus carried by the rat flea to have its effect in causing plague in human beings.

"A plague-stricken rat is easy to recognize in India because it is generally to be seen in the streets. One can easily catch them, for they seem to cross their legs and trip up in a sort of a drunken delirium. In England the rats probably go through the same phases of the disease but they are hidden away and thus are never seen.

"In India the rats, by their peculiar behavior, give warning of the plague; which is very sure to come to human beings soon after it has come to them.

"In England we have no such deficite warning. Many deaths have already been put down to some malignant form of pneumonia but were really caused by the bacillus.

"The quaranitne surveillance around our coasts is as nearly perfect as possible but our inland work is non-existant."

REVEAL PLOT TO RETAKE PORTUGAL

Spies of Republic Learn of Scheme to Re-seat Manuel.

MADRID (Special)—This city is swarming with Portuguese spies who are investigating the report that the Duke of Oporto, uncle of deposed King Manuel, was recently here on a secret mission, looking to the restoration of the Portuguese monarchy.

A dispatch from the city of Oporto says that the plot has been exposed there and that several arrests have been made and much incriminating correspondence seized.

Pie in Art.

An artist in Chicago tells of a lady in that town, who, with her maid, went to purchase a still-life picture for her dining-room.

She selected a canvas on which were painted a bunh of flowers, a pie cut in two, and a roll, and was about to pay twenty-five dollars, for it when her maid approached to whisper in her ear.

"Excuse me, ma'am," said the servant, "but you are making a bad bargain. I saw a picture very much like this sold the other day for fifteen dollars."

"And was it as good as this?"

"Better, ma'am. There was a good deal more pie in it."—March Lippincott's.

The fall of a King of a foreign country is not as important as the fall of a neighbor.

By the time people become thoroughly accustomed to dull times, business gets better.

"THE BLUE MOUSE"

Caught in Germany, "THE BDUE MOUSE," a mischievous but harmless creature, has been imported to this country by Clyde Fitch, who in the importing process, has constructed what is said to be the most laughable farce comedy ever produced "THE BLUE MOUSE" which comes to the BRADLEY OPERA HOUSE next TUESDAY, APRIL 25, is an adaption from the German. In its native land it ran for over a year and is still tickling the risibilities of the Emperor's own. It remained for Clyde Fitch to capture, then acclimate the rodent, throw it a bit of cheese and ask New York to nibble with it. The first nibbling took place at the Lyric Theatre where thousands nibbled for over a year. A scream went up which extended from ocean to ocean.

Mice do multiply, so Mr. E. J. Carpenter captured charming little Wanda Ludlow, told her to get as many fine clothes as she could comfortably wear during the period of three acts and said, "You're The Blue Mouse." But clothes do not make the part of "The Blue Mouse," for Clyde Fitch in creating the character of Paulette Divine, a Salome dancer, who bears the rodent's name, has given the stage a wholly new type. However, in the play Miss Ludlow is not called upon to "Salome" so that her clothes are quite appropriate although an insight into what she could do is had when, during the auction of her furniture and personal effects (which takes place during the second act) she offers for sale to an old gentleman a few yards of beads which "was my Salome costume." The prospective purchaser inquires, as he surprisingly scans the costume, "How could you stand it?" "Why," replies the "Blue Mouse" innocently, "the stage was steam heated."

FRATERNAL VISIT

O. E. S. at Clinton April 20, 1911.

About 60 members of the O. E. S. braved the inclemency of the weather and went to Clinton Wednesday afternoon for a fraternal visit with their sister lodge. On reaching their destination the train drew them up to Main street, so they had but a short distance to go to reach the hall.

A large delegation of the Clinton Chapter were in readiness to receive them and after a short time spent in greeting, Lodge was called to order. The degree was conferred by the visiting members upon two candidates Mrs. Totten and Mrs. Johnson. At the conclusion of the meeting a banquet was served, one with a big B. for such a bountiful repast was spread before them, and it is needless to say that they did full justice to their entertainers in this line.

Though the rain fell in torrents outside yet within everything was bright and cheerful and the evenings entertainment under the supervision of Frank H. rd was very fine. Several informal speeches were made, recitations and choice musical selections completing the program The Tecumseh visitors were lothe to go when the hour for departure drew nigh and in parting they assured their entertainers that the visit had been one of unalloyed pleasure

JUDGE—ALDRICH

Although the storm without made the evening dark and dreary yet within in the pleasant home of Chas. Judge and wife of Clinton everything was bright and beautiful for the marriage of their niece Miss Etta Judge to Mr Wilson Aldrich of Tecumseh Pink and white carnations were used freely as decorations about the house. The bride was daintily arrayed in a white satin messaline dress and carried a boquet of white roses.

At the appointed hour they took their places unattended and the Rev. O. C. Kemp in the words of the beautiful Episcopal ceremony pronounced them man and wife After congratulations a fine collation was served. About 35 guests were present and most delightful evening was spent. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

Later in the evening the newly wed couple drove down to Tecumseh to their new home when an imprntu reception committee were in waiting not being fully informed as to the when and how of their coming the committee were in waiting for sometime but their greeting was none the less hilarious.

ROYAL VALLEY COFFEE.

Its a good plan to get away from the idea that the ONLY coffee is the kind that Grandmother used—the carelessly-grown, crudely-prepared coffee much of which was, and is, harmful in effects and anything but the best in flavor.

This world is progressing. Coffee, like everything else, should improve and ROYAL VALLEY COFFES are the very best evidences of that improument.

For purity, richness and strength, Royal Valley NERO, or MARIGOLE, or TZAR is the very best coffee on the market today for the money—in Tecumseh or any-where else.

NERO is 25c, MARIGOLD 30c and TZAR 35c a pound.

Value of Manure Spreaders

By the use of a manure spreader, your manure will go one-third further than if spread by hand. You will also see a difference in the crop in the same field, if part is spread by hand and part by a spreader.

Don't look at the cost of a spreader, but look at the situation in this way—If you have 150 loads per year and if a spreader will make it go one-third further, you have as much ground covered as if you had 200 loads.

If we should offer to draw and spreader on your farm 50 loads of manure each year, you would accept the proposition at once. Now why do you delay in buying a spreader as the earnings are the same.

The New Low is the most up-to-date spreader on the market. It is 18in lower, built of steel, is the strongest machine we have ever seen or heard of and you will agree with us after seeing it.

Don't delay or wait. Phone us, or better still, come and get one we will arrange the terms to suit your particular situation.

OLIVER

The No. 1 Cultivator may be fitted with many different styles of gangs. No question about exactly suiting you.

EASIEST of all cultivators to guide, raise and lower—that's saying a good deal, but it's true.

The Olivers now make a Riding Cultivator. When you see it you will say they should have done it before.

It was used two years in all the big corn states before they said much about it.

Now they say—and it's a fact—that this new OLIVER implement absolutely guides, raises and lowers easier than any other cultivator on earth.

That it does better, easier, slicker work in all soils and conditions. and—

That it comes nearer making a day's cultivating seem like a picnic than any other cultivator.

Come and see it, and also take a look at Oliver Plows of various kinds—extra good this year.

John B. Smith, Chicago Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For seven years I suffered a great deal from backache caused no doubt, by disordered kidneys. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time I was relieved. I have not had a serious attack of the trouble since. I have previously told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I then said in their favor."

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.

The ingredients, as attested under oath, are Stone root (Collinsonia Canadensis), Bloodroot (Sanguinaria Canadensis), Golden Seal root (Hydrastis Canadensis), Queen's root (Stillingia Sylvatica), Black Cherrybark (Prunus Virginiana), Mandrake root (Podophyllum Peltatum), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no druggist could imitate.

This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sane remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing but Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will do you half as much good.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

OIL BLAST KILLS FOUR

Explosion on Tank Car Filled With Gasoline.

Besides the Killed Ten Others Were Injured, Four of Whom May Not Recover.

St. Louis, Mo., April 24.—An explosion of a tank car filled with gasoline killed four persons and injured ten others, four of them perhaps fatally. The car was standing on the Wabash tracks at the plant of the Bell Oil company.

The dead are Mrs. Emma Dalivitz, a railroad watchman and two pedestrians.

Their clothes were blown off their bodies and all were found 100 feet from the car. Four of the injured at the city hospital, according to the attendants, cannot live because of the extent of their burns.

Three small buildings caught fire from the blazing fluid and were partly destroyed.

OIL FIELDS OF ILLINOIS

Federal Expert Says State Will Rank with California as Producer.

Chicago, April 24.—Illinois and California are destined to become leading oil-producing states of the Union, according to Dr. David T. Day, petroleum expert of the United States geological survey, who delivered a lecture on "Recent Discoveries of Petroleum in the United States" at the Art Institute.

"The development of the oil fields in the vicinity of Centralia is one of the most important Illinois industrial events in a half a century," he said. "The closeness of the field to Chicago makes it possible to pipe the oil to the world's largest refinery at Whiting at small expense. The fuel value of the oil fields in California has raised that state from the status of meager manufacturing possibilities to that of one of the richest."

BUILD BIG PAPER MILL

Battle Creek Will Have Another Industry Soon.

Battle Creek, Mich., April 24.—Confirmation is given the rumor that the Michigan Carton company, a young industry locally, will erect a $200,000 paper mill here the coming summer on land now occupied by the Dr. Perkins Sanitary Refrigerator company. This building, a three-story brick, will be torn down.

John Driessen, superintendent of the Standard Paper company of Kalamazoo, has been engaged as the local superintendent. One hundred men will be employed as soon as the mill is finished.

GUILTY OF WIFE MURDER

Chicago Man Convicted by a Jury on Circumstantial Evidence.

Chicago, April 24.—Carl A. Badsing was found guilty of poisoning his second wife, Mrs. Mabel Reid Badsing, by a jury sitting before Judge Kersten in the criminal court.

The jurors, who returned a verdict based on circumstantial evidence, deliberated one hour. Badsing was sentenced to life imprisonment. A motion for a new trial was made by Badsing's attorneys.

North China Plague Extinct.

New York, April 24.—Word came by cable from Bishop James W. Bashford of the Methodist Episcopal church that the plague is now extinct in North China and has been almost entirely stamped out in Manchuria.

RUNNING DOWN THE WRECKERS

Clue Came from Brass Bits Soldered to Alarm Clocks.

DETECTIVE BURNS AT WORK

Found Little Points of Similarity in Several Explosions and Through Them Was Led to Men Now Under Arrest.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 24.—Comparison of bits of brass soldered on the backs of two small alarm clocks gave William J. Burns his first important clew in his pursuit of the men accused of having blown up the building of the Los Angeles Times in this city last October. Two abortive attempts to explode infernal machines made possible the comparison.

The first infernal machine was found after an explosion among some steel girders in the foundry of A. Louis & Sons in Peoria, Sept. 4, 1910. Some fault in the mechanism caused the clock's work to fail, and it passed into the possession of Burns. A few hours after the destruction of the Times building, two more infernal machines were found—one at the home of General Harrison G. Otis, owner of the Times, and the other at the home of F. J. Zeehandelaar, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, long the foe of the closed shop.

The "plant" at the Zeehandelaar home was removed intact. Burns found it identical with the Peoria one.

Burns began to check carefully other dynamite explosions as they occurred. In every case he gathered evidence tracing the explosions to the three men now being hurried to Los Angeles. It is considered certain that James McNamara is the man who was known in San Francisco as J. B. Bryce and who negotiated for the explosive used to wreck the Times building when it was purchased at Fiant, Cal., several weeks before the Times was blown up. As the other men do not answer fully to descriptions of Bryce's companions on the trip to Giant, it is believed two more men will be arrested as accomplices, aside from other arrests which probably will be made to ohid certain persons as witnesses.

The two McNamaras and McManigal were indicted secretly in this city Saturday, April 15, after Burns had telegraphed a request that such action be taken accompanied by meager portions of the evidence obtained. His telegrams were in cipher and hours were required to translate them. The grand jury, which previously had indicted Bryce, David Kaplan and M. A. Schmidt, reassembled with the utmost secrecy and returned true bills against the men Burns wanted. It is surmised that Schmidt and Kaplan are still to be caught.

The three prisoners now being brought to Los Angeles would arrive Tuesday if they were brought through direct, but precautions are being taken to guard them, both from a mob which might attempt violence or a demonstration by workingmen who believe them innocent. It is certain that an attempt will be made to smuggle them into the city.

OLD COPPER VEIN FOUND

Sewer Diggers Uncover Mineral Wealth Under Monticello, N. Y.

Monticello, N. Y., April 24.—A large and supposed valuable vein of copper was discovered in the center of this village. The discovery was made by the C. S. Lambs company, which is putting in a sewer system for the village. The copper was found at a depth of fourteen feet. Local experts pronounce it a fine quality, and a sample has been sent to New York city assayists.

The older residents of Monticello believe the find will lead to a copper deposit, the location of which has been lost for nearly a century.

LABORS OF DYNAMITERS

Explosive Fraternity Has Been Busy of Late Years.

Bridges, Tunnels, Buildings and Shops Have Been Lifted Skywards.

Pittsburg, April 24.—The arrest of McNamara for alleged connection with the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building has given much satisfaction to contractors here. About five years ago several structural bridge companies declared in favor of an open shop. Immediately afterwards a series of dynamite outrages were begun, principally on the work of the American Bridge company. One after another of the bridges, buildings, tunnels and shops have been dynamited within the past five years, until the list reaches almost one hundred.

The National Erectors' Association is composed of the companies fighting the bridge and structural organization.

A partial list of properties destroyed is as follows: Plant of the Milwaukee Fuel company, Milwaukee; work in Cleveland being done by the Brown Hoisting and Conveying company; Peoria, Ill., bridge shop. An explosion took place several weeks ago at the court house, Omaha, being erected by Drake & Caldwell, Columbus, Ind., and within the same hour an explosion took place at the shops of the Drake & Caldwell company, Columbus. A dynamiting outrage took place about six months ago at Detroit, when a pier to a bridge was blown up.

Heyl & Patterson of Pittsburg have been recent sufferers from dynamiting. Four plants of this company were blown up in quick succession. The last took place on the night of March 25, when a new ore bridge for the Erie railroad at Randall, O., was wrecked and $90,000 damage done. The bridge had been leased to Piakands, Meathew & Co., of Cleveland, and is being rebuilt. The Heyl & Patterson company suffered losses on plants at Milwaukee, Duluth and Erie.

In all these outrages no trace of the dynamiters was discovered, although all were laid at the door of unionists.

Witnesses In Murder Trial Thus Far Agree as to Details.

Logansport, Ind., April 24.—Every witness put on by the state in the trial of Samuel A. Michael, charged with murder, has testified that Michael was the aggressor when he shot and killed Levi Pippinger.

All have testified that Pippinger was retreating when Michael fired the fatal shot. Each has asserted that Michael shot without provocation. Tuesday or Wednesday the defense will begin its testimony. The courtroom is crowded at every session of the hearing.

ARMISTICE TO BE PROLONGED

Contestants In Mexico Extend It for Five Days.

PEACE THOUGHT TO BE NEAR

No More Defenses Are to be Built, but Insurrectos May Import Food for Themselves and Horses, and Clothing.

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—The armistice between the insurrectos and the federals has been extended for another five days. The time dates from the hour when Francisco I. Madero put his signature to the terms. Prior to that, General Juan J. Navarro, commanding the federal troops in Juarez, had already signed the document.

The agreement provides that there will be no fighting during the term of the armistice and that each side will take no further steps to reinforce or construct fortifications while its terms are in operation.

The insurrectos are to be given permission to take food for themselves and horses, also clothing, from El Paso or Juarez without molestation. These supplies are to be passed over the international bridges between El Paso and Juarez without payment of duty to the federal officials of Mexico. The Mexican officials are to have a right to search the supplies for arms or ammunition, but agree not to molest anything that is not ammunition of arms.

The peace negotiations are to be carried on from El Paso. Dr. Vasquez Gomez, in charge of the Washington confidential agency of the insurgents, is expected to come here at once. The Madero family is now here and Messrs. Oscar Braniff and Esquivel Obregon, congressmen from Mexico City, have been here for several days representing President Diaz, their personal friend. The senior Madero, father of the rebel chieftain, and Rafael Hernandez, are close friends of Finance Minister Jose Yves Limantour.

All the peace advocates are jubilant. The father of the insurrecto leaders, Messrs. Obregon and Braniff, unofficial commissioners from Diaz, and others interested in peace, appear to believe that a basis has been reached on which they can settle. Nothing is said here of the report that Madero might be made vice president of Mexico, and very little credence is given it.

It is understood that the peace terms will include the pledge on the part of the Mexico cabinet that all reforms recommended by General Diaz in his last message be carried out in good faith and that general amnesty will be granted to all men in the army who will go to their homes in peace.

Frozen Flowers.

The possibility of preserving the freshness of flowers by refrigeration was discovered some time ago, and has been carried out with success. The flowers are plucked before they are full grown, and placed in the refrigerator during transport. When they are taken out and put in water they return slowly to life and completely open without having lost any of their color or vitality. A curious fact is that the natural development of the flower, after being suspended by the cold, proceeds at a much slower rate, so that the flowers remain fresh in a room much longer than they would have done under ordinary circumstances. One advantage of the discovery is that some beautiful foreign species may become more generally known, such, for instance, as the beautiful iris, which grows profusely in a wild state in South Africa, and the magnificent blooms which waste their sweetness on the declivities of the South American Andes.

PLAN TO BEAUTIFY UNIVERSITY CAMPUS

An effort toward beautifying the campus has been initiated at the University of Michigan. Dead or diseased trees will be removed, an attempt will be made to close paths which have been worn across the lawn, and ornamental shrubs and flower beds will be set out.

That the campus was not beautiful and that very little was being done to make it beautiful has been recognized at the University for a number of years. Since Mr. Aubrey Taaldi has come to the University to take charge of the work in Landscape Design, he has been endeavoring to interest other members of the faculty and the officers of administration in the work of campus improvement. President H. B. Hutchins, Secretary Shirley W. Smith, Dean M. E. Cooley, Regent Clemente, and others have taken an active interest, and in consequence a small apprpriation has been secured for the shrubs.

Superintendent of Grounds James H. Marks is cooperating with Mr. Tealdi in the actual work of improvement. As the campus is so densely wooded as to make it impossible for grass to grow in places, some of the smaller trees which have become diseased will be removed. This has just been done about Tappan Oak in order to give the historic old tree an opportunity to develop as it should.

At present it is planned merely to accomplish three things: to give due care and opportunity to the trees and grass which the campus already possesses, to add a collection of various ornamental shrubs and plants, and finally to inculcate a greater feeling upon the part of students and faculty for the beauty which a university campus should possess. The tendency "to cut corners" and "to go cross lots is an evil perhaps more generally practised at Michigan than any other university campus. To arouse interest in the work of campus improvement Mr Tealdi will give a public lecture for students of the University sometime in April on "The Campus and What to do With it." The date of the lecture has not yet peen announced.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

Arbor and Bird Day

A PROCLAMATION

By the Govenor

By Legislative enactment, the Governor is authorised to set apart one day in the year to be known as Arbor and Bird Day.

The importance of the proper observance of an Arbor Day is becoming more apparent every year. The problem of conservation of our natural resources is one of national proportions, and faithful remembrance of the day is furnishing the people of our commonwealth with a clearer understanding of the economic value of forest and bird preservation.

While the purpose of the day is to stimulate the pride and interest of the people, the State should also be concerned in the adoption of a far-sighted policy of conservation and reforestration, thereby creating value as well as adding comfort and beauty for the benefit of present and future generations.

For the first time in the history of Michigan, the Governor is requested by Senate resolution (No. 55, introduced by Senator L. Whitney Watkins) to call attention to the importanee by protection and encouraging song and insectivorous birds, not only for their economic, but for their aesthetic, value. This is a commendable action. It is desirable to teach an intelligent appreciation of the pleasures and benefits to be derived from birds. Almost all birds do more good than harm. The balance of value is clearly in favor of even all the hawks, except two It is much better to let a harmful bird escape than to run the risk of killing a bird of value. Great care should be exercised that birds are not killed or molested in their nesting places. A person who will put bird boxes and otherwise take an interest in our feathered friends, will be well repaid. Every farmer should be a bird guardian. To be interested in and kind to birds is a sign of gentleness and makes one better.

Tree planting on private and public grounds is recommended, and it is requested that all public schools and places of learning throughtout the state, will hold appropriate exercises to call attention to the importance of saving our birds and trees. Espeial attention is called to the forest-fire laws. Campers should exercise care in selecting a place for a fire, and should extinguish it before leaving. Nor should trees and shrubs be needlessly marred by hacking with an axe or otherwise.

Therefore, I, CHASE S. OSBORN, Governor of the Commonwealth of Michigan, do hereby issue this my Proclamation, designating May 2, 1911 ARBOR and BIRD DAY THROUGH OUT the COMMONWEALTH and earnestly urge its observance.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this thirty-first day of March, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and of the Commonwealth the seventy-fifth.

By the Governor:

CHASE S. OSBORN

Frederick C. Martindale
Secretary of State.

Miss Adah Ames arrived home from her visit in California Thursday night. She reports a most delightful winter, which was of great benefit to her, and she hopes to return again in the near future.

"THE BLUE MOUSE" exactly as presented at the Lyric Theatre, New York, for 14 solid months—at the Opera House, TO-NIGHT.

A. S. VanWinkle was in Lansing Sunday to see his son, Roy. The doctors assured him that so far everything was working favorably. He has two nurses and his mother staying with him. There are eight members of the Class of 1911, sick with the same fever, typhoid, at this time.

In glancing over the columns of a Charlotte paper, our eyes were held by a reference to one of our Tecumseh girls and we are proud to give our readers the benefit. The M. E. Church of Charlotte gave an Easter entertainment and the following speaks for itself. The alto solo by Miss Kreidler came next and the manner in which she sang the difficult Gounod number "Easter Eve," elicited a great deal of favorable comment on her ability. Miss Kreidler has a rich, full contralto voice, and sings with a great deal of feeling. She also sang in several Quartettes.

Speaking of the "Billy Sunday" meetings Rev. J. W. Dunning writing to a friend says: "I hope you people will be able to go to Toledo and hear Mr. Sunday. I am convinced he is doing the greatest work for Christ since the days of Paul and after eight weeks, since he left Portsmouth, it looks greater than ever. I was not strong for him before he came but was willing to work with him, and I don't believe now one can over emphasize the worth of the work or the man." Mr. Dunning's friends will be pleased to know of the result in his own church, receiving 197 members since the Sunday meetings and a total for the year of 253. At the annual meeting this month a raise of $200 salary was voted him.

MEMORIAL DAY

Would it not be a good plan to begin early to consider what each one can do for the celebration of this day set apart in remembrance of our soldier dead.

The times are so full of events of the present, that the younger generation are apt to forget how much they owe to those who fought and died to save us a country. We are proud of our country, we honor our flag and are ready to challenge any one who would say one word against them, but we fail to realize the fearful cost of life that was paid to keep our country the widows and orphans that gave husbands and fathers for their country's honor. Just one day set aside in 365 of the year to drop a flower on each grave to render fitting tribute to their memory. Think of it now friends and be ready to lend a helping hand to make the coming memorial day one long to be remembered.

A QUIET HOME WEDDING

At the Home of the Brides Parents Mr. and Mrs S. J. Anderson at North Adams April 19, 1911

Last Wednesday April 19 at Pleasant View Farm, the home of the brides parents Mr. and Mrs S. J. Anderson, Russell Meredith Smith of Britton was united in holy wedlock to Anna Lavina Anderson in the presence of the immediate families, the impressive ring ceremony was used, Rev. R. W. Merrill officiating.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of old rose silk foulard, the groom wore conventional black. In the three years Mrs. Smith has lived here she has endeared herself to a host of friends. She was active in church work and will be greatly missed. Mr. Smith is a prosperous young farmer in Britton and of excellent character.

The happy couple left for a short wedding trip to Detroit, after which they will begin house-keeping in Britton. Among the many useful presents received was a check of £4 from her grandparents in northern Ireland. Their many friends unite in extending congratulations. Mrs. Smith was formerly Anna Anderson of Ridgeway and well known at that place.

TROOPS MOVED TO BOUNDARY IN FEAR OF WAR

Italy and Austria Said to Be Ready to Fly at Each Other.

ROME (Special)—That Italy and Austria are ready to fly at one another there is not the least doubt. Feverish excitement prevails here over the almost open breach which has arisen between the two countries over several questions, mainly that of the boundary.

This week Austria moved a large number of troops to a point near the boundary line, and immediately following this Italy hastened an equally large number to oppose any action on the part of the Austrians.

Trouble between Italy and Austria has been brewing for some time. There have been many disputes, and it is said that Germany has done much to keep these two countries on the verge of war.

Should hostilities take place the whole of Europe would soon become embroiled in one seething mass of war and bloodshed owing to the many entangling alliances.

England is watching the situation very closely.

An Atchison man claims he can tell the minute he hears a woman's voice whether she wants to vote or not.

Polishing Stove

If the kitchen stove is polished with a rag dipped into the blacking the fingers are bound to become much soiled, but if a blackboard eraser is used instead a good polish is the result and the fingers preserved from unsightly stains.

THE BEST OF ALL.

A man dropped his wig in the street, and a boy picked it up and handed it to him.

"Thanks, my boy," said the owner of the wig. "You are the first genuine restorer I have ever seen."

NEVER OUT OF WORK

The busiest little things ever made Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength languor into energy, brain-fag into mental power; curing Constipation Headache, Chills, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Only 25c at C. A. Wright & Son.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. P. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TOWN ON TAFT RANCH

Brother of President Will Expend Large Sum on Texas Property.

Portland, Tex., April 24. — John G. Willacy, business representative in Texas of Charles P. Taft, returned from Cincinnati, where he conferred with Mr. Taft regarding the proposed improvements upon the latter's ranch here. Mr. Willacy says that Mr. Taft has approved plans for the enlargement and the rebuilding of the town of Portland, involving the expenditure of more than $2,000,000. The town is located on the Taft ranch.

The cost of the improvements that are to be made this year will exceed $600,000. Besides establishing a model town Mr. Taft will have a deep water channel constructed and a harbor created near Portland. Several large manufacturing plants will be installed, Mr. Willacy says.

Another Way of Working It.

The fair damsel was surprised to see him.

"Why, Mr. Spangler," she said, "you called last night."

"I know it, Miss Mildred," brazenly answered the rising young politician; "this is the re-call."

An hour or two later, as he seemed impervious to hints that it was time for him to go, she gave him the imperative mandate.—Chicago Tribune.

THREE ARRESTED AS DYNAMITERS

John J. and James McNamara and McManigal the Men.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND IN BARN

Secretary-Treasurer of Iron Workers' Organization Is Being Taken to Scene of Alleged Crime in Los Angeles.

Indianapolis, April 24.—Three detectives have been in charge of the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers since they were raided and all the books and papers have been removed to the police station, to be submitted to the grand jury.

The prosecutor went carefully over some of the books, and it is believed that others in the union besides John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, James McNamara, brother of the preceding and alleged head of the wrecking crew of the Iron Workers' union, and Ortie E. McManigal, McNamara's lieutenant, the three who have been arrested, charged with complicity in the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times office and are now being taken to that city, were either actively connected with the dynamite plots or were cognizant what was going on.

T. F. Jones, in whose stable which McNamara had rented, was found dynamite sticks, was questioned by the police and gave a description of three men who had accompanied McNamara to the stable at different times. He was not positive as to dates, but the officers believe that it can be shown that these trips to the stable preceded only by a few days the explosion that occurred at other places, and that the dynamite used in these explosions was carried away by the men who always had a large grip. The theory of the officers is that McNamara stored the explosives in the basement of the Central Life building and just before it was to be used he would take some of it to the Jones stable and then supply the men there with the amount they were expected to use. They argue that this would be safer than having it carried out of the building in the city. Jones' stable is a mile west.

There is no doubt in the minds of the detectives and police here that J. J. McNamara is the head of the dynamiting organization that has blown up more than a hundred buildings in the past three years. They are satisfied that McNamara is not only the head of the criminal organization, but that he was its inspiration and has directed all its movements, purchasing the dynamite and deciding where and when the explosions should occur.

The evidence at hand shows conclusively that the movement was not aimed specially at opponents of the international union of which McNamara was an officer. Such confinement of acts of violence would have attracted attention to the bridge and structural iron workers alone, and the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, the wrecking of houses in which non-union men were employed here, and of structures on which non-union men of the trades were employed in other places was a part of the system to distract attention from the iron workers as the prime movers in the conspiracy against life and property.

The finding of dynamite in large quantities in the actual possession of McNamara, both in an old stable which he had rented and in the basement of the American Central Life building in which he had stored a box of the explosive after having the consent of the custodian, is regarded as conclusive. If anything had been wanting to prove that this explosive was to be used in criminal operations it was found when a dozen of those peculiar devices konwn as time locks for exploding dynamite were found in a barrel in the same basement and near it coil after coil of fuse, all going to show that the man who owned the death dealing combination was equipped for whosesale destruction of property.

M'MANIGAL CONFESSES.

Tells How 112 Men Were Killed and $3,500,000 in Property Destroyed.

Chicago, April 24.—The existence of a remarkable document setting forth in its ninety closely typewritten pages the story of how 112 men were killed, property worth more than $3,500,000 destroyed and how arch plotters, outrivalling the Borgias in their thirst for blood, sat in secret council and condemned to death innocent workingmen, became public here. It is the story told by Ortie McManigal, the structural iron worker arrested with John J. McNamara of Indianapolis, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James W. McNamara.

MOUNTAIN WORK SPECIAL STUDY BY ARMY MEN

Use of Artillery In Natural Strongholds Very Interesting.

WASHINGTON—(Spl.) — To study the problems encountered in mountain artillery work, a special board has been created by the secretary of war which will give its entire attention to this phase of artillery studies in the United States army.

The board, consisting of three artillery officers, has been ordered to take station at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, and will act as a sub-body of the general field artillery board.

At Fort D. A. Russell, the army has two companies of mountain artillery, and the topographical environment is especially adapted to this practice.

Considered tactically, the problems of the mountain artillery service are identical with those of field artillery. The distinguishing feature is the problem of transportation.

Guns and equipment must be provided which can be taken into places that are inaccessible to the usual light and heavy artillery batteries.

The much abused army mule plays a leading, if not the principal role in mountain artillery operations.

Gun, gun-carriage, ammunition, and all parts are packed upon mules, and the field of a mountain battery's operations is practically unlimited; a mule can reach places almost inaccessible to man.

The gun used almost universally is of 2.95 inch bore, and fires two sizes of shells weighing 12.5 and 18 pounds respectively. The gun is short and stubby, being only 31 inches in length. It is effective at 4,000 yards, which, considering the shortness of the barrel, is a remarkable demonstration of the advance in artillery since the Civil war.

In level country, this gun may be hauled by a mule, but in the hills it is always "taken down" and the various parts divided between four mules.

The gun barrel is loaded on one mule, being placed on a specially constructed saddle. Upon a second the cradle of the gun is placed, while a third carries the trailer of the carriage, and a fourth the wheels and paraphernalia for loading and cleaning the gun.

Other mules are loaded down with boxes of ammunition, usually 20 rounds to a mule. The loads are so divided that each mule carries a weight of about 330 pounds.

Soldiers assigned to mountain artillery batteries become highly proficient in packing and unpacking guns. The feat of unloading parts of the gun from four mules, assembling them, loading the gun, and firing it has been performed in less than 25 seconds. Packing upon mules is an art in itself, and requires long study.

Mountain artillery has been put to practical use in the campaigns against the Moros in the Philippines. The Moro country is a succession of mountains and swamps. Officers who have seen the necessity for mountain artillery are enthusiastic over the possibilities of the usefulness of the present experiments, and are watching with interest the progress in its development as indicated by the creation of the special board.

It is quite possible to break a man's head without anything coming out of it.

Daisy Mayme's Mission

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton came into this world she brought happiness with her, and, for five years, she let her parents remain in that deluded state; then she began their training.

"I was sent into this world with a mission," she told them, in actions, long before she could use the words, "and that was to bring you two up properly. It is a great responsibility to train parents, and I hope I have your assistance."

She took possession of the parlor when she was 10, and before she was 12 had reduced her father to such an apologetic state that he coughed behind his hand when in her presence at 14 she began to weed out her mother's list of friends as regularly as a truck gardener weeds a vegetable patch.

"It is important. We don't know many you seem to know," she explained, and there was no gainsaying Daysey Mayme.

At 16 she fell in love with a man she wouldn't have spoken to if he had come into her life when she was 20; and, in the next four years, was engaged so often that her mother began to mark her linen with all the letters in the alphabet to be on the safe side. She spent many hours looking out into the dark, and was more lonesome when with her family than when alone.

When she was very young she suspected her mother might have done better in her marriage, and now that she was 16 and old she knew it, and tried to make the best of her mother's bad bargain by making her father all over.

She had the prettiness of 16, and walked as if she owned the earth and was on her way to take possession.

During every one of her numerous marriage engagements, all the world was forgotten and she lived only for Him. At one time her father failed in business; she thought with only greater joy of the man who was to rescue her from a sinking ship. Her mother fell ill, but the Man was ill at the same time, so her mother's greater distress did not worry her. Through all the sorrow at home she stood aloof, not because she was selfish, but she was in love!

Nothing touched her, nothing distressed her, and nothing mattered so long as she had HIM.

She lost her prettiness as the years came, and began to get an expression on her face like that on the face a clock that has stopped.

"This will never do," said Daysey Mayme, and as she had left love and romance behind, she went in uplift clubs and religion. It was in this period of her life that she transferred the Appleton family's hope of salvation from the humble church of which they had long been members, to a more aristocratic one, and introduced Lent into the home.

All of which explains why Daysey Mayme is particularly busy; she is making out a list of Lenten sacrifices for her father, mother and brother.

"It means so much to them," she said, "to have some one point out what they ought to give up."

TROOPS MOVED TO BOUNDARY IN FEAR OF WAR

Italy and Austria Said to Be Ready to Fly at Each Other.

ROME (Special)—That Italy and Austria are ready to fly at one another there is not the least doubt. Feverish excitement prevails here over the almost open breach which has arisen between the two countries over several questions, mainly that of the boundary.

This week Austria moved a large number of troops to a point near the boundary line, and immediately following this Italy hastened an equally large number to oppose any action on the part of the Austrians.

Trouble between Italy and Austria has been brewing for some time. There have been many disputes, and it is said that Germany has done much to keep these two countries on the verge of war.

Should hostilities take place the whole of Europe would soon become embroiled in one seething mass of war and bloodshed owing to the many entangling alliances.

England is watching the situation very closely.

NEVER OUT OF WORK

The busiest little things ever made Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, languor into energy, brain-fag into mental power; curing Constipation Headache, Chills, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Only 25c at C. A. Wright & Son.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is itself one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello Ill.

TOWN ON TAFT RANCH

Brother of President Will Expend Large Sum on Texas Property.

Portland, Tex., April 24. — John G. Willacy, business representative in Texas of Charles P. Taft, returned from Cincinnati, where he conferred with Mr. Taft regarding the proposed improvements upon the latter's ranch here. Mr. Willacy says that Mr. Taft has approved plans for the enlargement and the rebuilding of the town of Portland, involving the expenditure of more than $2,000,000. The town is located on the Taft ranch.

The cost of the improvements that are to be made this year will exceed $600,000. Besides establishing a model town Mr. Taft will have a deep water channel constructed and a harbor created near Portland. Several large manufacturing plants will be installed, Mr. Willacy says.

THREE ARRESTED AS DYNAMITERS

John J. and James McNamara and McManigal the Men.

EXPLOSIVES FOUND IN BARN

Secretary-Treasurer of Iron Workers' Organization Is Being Taken to Scene of Alleged Crime in Los Angeles.

Indianapolis, April 24.—Three detectives have been in charge of the offices of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers since they were raided and all the books and papers have been removed to the police station, to be submitted to the grand jury.

The prosecutor went carefully over some of the books, and it is believed that others in the union besides John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, James McNamara, brother of the preceding and alleged head of the wrecking crew of the Iron Workers' union, and Ortie E. McManigal, McNamara's lieutenant, the three who have been arrested, charged with complicity in the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times office and are now being taken to that city, were either actively connected with the dynamite plots or were cognizant what was going on.

T. F. Jones, in whose stable which McNamara had rented, was found dynamite sticks, was questioned by the police and gave a description of three men who had accompanied McNamara to the stable at different times. He was not positive as to dates, but the officers believe that it can be shown that these trips to the stable preceded only by a few days the explosion that occurred at other places, and that the dynamite used in these explosions was carried away by the man who always had a large grip. The theory of the officers is that McNamara stored the explosives in the basement of the Central Life building and just before it was to be used he would take some of it to the Jones stable and then supply the men there with the amount they were expected to use. They argue that this would be safer than having it carried out of the building in the city. Jones' stable is a mile west.

There is no doubt in the minds of the detectives and police here that J. J. McNamara is the head of the dynamiting organization that has blown up more than a hundred buildings in the past three years. They are satisfied that McNamara is not only the head of the criminal organization, but that he was its inspiration and has directed all its movements, purchasing the dynamite and deciding where and when the explosions should occur.

The evidence at hand shows conclusively that the movement was not aimed specially at opponents of the international union of which McNamara was an officer. Such confinement of acts of violence would have attracted attention to the bridge and structural iron workers alone, and the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building, the wrecking of houses in which non-union men were employed here, and of structures on which non-union men of the trades were employed in other places was a part of the system to distract attention from the iron workers as the prime movers in the conspiracy against life and property.

The finding of dynamite in large quantities in the actual possession of McNamara, both in an old stable which he had rented and in the basement of the American Central Life building in which he had stored a box of the explosive after having the consent of the custodian, is regarded as conclusive. If anything had been wanting to prove that this explosive was to be used in criminal operations it was found when a dozen of those peculiar devices konwn as time locks for exploding dynamite were found in a barrel in the same basement and near it coil after coil of fuse, all going to show that the man who owned the death dealing combination was equipped for whosesale destruction of property.

M'MANIGAL CONFESSES.

Tells How 112 Men Were Killed and $3,500,000 in Property Destroyed.

Chicago, April 24.—The existence of a remarkable document setting forth in its ninety closely typewritten pages the story of how 112 men were killed, property worth more than $3,500,000 destroyed and how arch plotters, outrivalling the Borgias in their thirst for blood, sat in secret council and condemned to death innocent workingmen, became public here. It is the story told by Ortie McManigal, the structural iron worker arrested with John J. McNamara of Indianapolis, secretary of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and his brother, James W. McNamara.

MOUNTAIN WORK SPECIAL STUDY BY ARMY MEN

Use of Artillery In Natural Strongholds Very Interesting.

WASHINGTON—(Spl.) — To study the problems encountered in mountain artillery work, a special board has been created by the secretary of war which will give its entire attention to this phase of artillery studies in the United States army.

The board, consisting of three artillery officers, has been ordered to take station at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, and will act as a sub-body of the general field artillery board.

At Fort D. A. Russell, the army has two companies of mountain artillery, and the topographical environment is especially adapted to this practice.

Considered tactically, the problems of the mountain artillery service are identical with those of field artillery. The distinguishing feature is the problem of transportation.

Guns, and equipment must be provided which can be taken into places that are inaccessible to the usual light and heavy artillery batteries.

The much abused army mule plays a leading, if not the principal role in mountain artillery operations.

Gun, gun-carriage, ammunition, and all parts are packed upon mules, and the field of a mountain battery's operations is practically unlimited; a mule can reach places almost inaccessible to man.

The gun used almost universally is of 2.95 inch bore, and fires two sizes of shells weighing 12.5 and 18 pounds respectively. The gun is short and stubby, being only 31 inches in length. It is effective at 4,000 yards, which, considering the shortness of the barrel, is a remarkable demonstration of the advance in artillery since the Civil war.

In level country, this gun may be hauled by a mule, but in the hills it is always "taken down" and the various parts divided between four mules.

The gun barrel is loaded on one mule, being placed on a specially constructed saddle. Upon a second the cradle of the gun is placed, while a third carries the trailer of the carriage, and a fourth the wheels and paraphernalia for loading and cleaning the gun.

Other mules are loaded down with boxes of ammunition, usually 20 rounds to a mule. The loads are so divided that each mule carries a weight of about 330 pounds.

Soldiers assigned to mountain artillery batteries become highly proficient in packing and unpacking guns. The feat of unloading parts of the gun from four mules, assembling them, loading the gun, and firing it has been performed in less than 25 seconds. Packing upon mules is an art in itself, and requires long study.

Mountain artillery has been put to practical use in the campaigns against the Moros in the Philippines. The Moro country is a succession of mountains and swamps. Officers who have seen the necessity for mountain artillery are enthusiastic over the possibilities of the usefulness of the present experiments, and are watching with interest the progress in its development as indicated by the creation of the special board.

It is quite possible to break a man's head without anything coming out of it.

Daisy Mayme's Mission

WHEN Daysey Mayme Appleton came into this world she brought happiness with her, and, for five years, she let her parents remain in that deluded state; then she began their training.

"I was sent into this world with a mission," she told them, in actions, long before she could use the words, "and that was to bring you two up properly. It is a great responsibility to train parents, and I hope I have your assistance."

She took possession of the parlor when she was 10, and before she was 12 had reduced her father to such an apologetic state that he coughed behind his hand when in her presence; at 14 she began to weed out her mother's list of friends as regularly as a truck gardener weeds a vegetable patch.

"It is important. We don't know many you seem to know," she explained, and there was no gainsaying Daysey Mayme.

At 16 she fell in love with a man she wouldn't have spoken to if he had come into her life when she was 20; and, in the next four years, was engaged so often that her mother began to mark her linen with all the letters in the alphabet to be on the safe side. She spent many hours looking out into the dark, and was more lonesome when with her family than when alone.

When she was very young she suspected her mother might have done better in her marriage, and now that she was 16 and old she knew it, and tried to make the best of her mother's bad bargain by making her father all over.

She had the prettiness of 16, and walked as if she owned the earth and was on her way to take possession.

During every one of her numerous marriage engagements, all the world was forgotten and she lived only for Him. At one time her father failed in business; she thought with only greater joy of the man who was to rescue her from a sinking ship. Her mother fell ill, but the Man was ill at the same time, so her mother's greater distress did not worry her. Through all the sorrow at home she stood aloof, not because she was selfish, but she was in love!

Nothing touched her, nothing distressed her, and nothing mattered so long as she had HIM.

She lost her prettiness as the years came, and began to get an expression on her face like that on the face of a clock that has stopped.

"This will never do," said Daysey Mayme, and as she had left love and romance behind, she went in uplift clubs and religion. It was in this period of her life that she transferred the Appleton family's hope of salvation from the humble church of which they had long been members, to a more aristocratic one, and introduced Lent into the home.

All of which explains why Daysey Mayme is particularly busy; she is making out a list of Lenten sacrifices for her father, mother and brother.

"It means so much to them," she said, "to have some one point out what they ought to give up."

There are about seven million Filipinos inhabiting 300 different islands.

Warped consciences, like shrunken window frames, keep the stokers busy.

AMBASSADOR O'BRIEN.

Senator William Alden Smith Is Urging Secretary Knox to Transfer Grand Rapids Man to Berlin.

COPYRIGHT BY HARRIS & EWING

Washington, (Special).—Senator William Alden Smith had a heart to heart talk with Secretary of State Knox on Monday relative to the senator's request that Ambassador O'Brien be promoted from Tokio to Berlin. But Secretary Knox said that at present it does not look as if the department could make the change. He spoke of the great value the administration placed upon Mr. O'Brien's work at Tokio. It is believed nobody will be named for the place at Berlin until after the Canadian reciprocity agreement has been disposed of by congress.

PRESIDENT TO VISIT MICHIGAN

Will Be Kalamazoo's Guest In September.

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 25.—President Taft has accepted an invitation to visit Kalamazoo, Mich., in September, the date to be fixed later.

President Taft's visit is an acceptance of an invitation extended Saturday by Mayor Charles H. Farrell and John H. Burke, president of the commercial club, presented to the president through former Senator J. C. Burrows.

The president promised last year to visit Kalamazoo, but was unable to do so. During a call made by the former Michigan senator, the president was reminded of his promise and the invitation was renewed in a telegram sent by the mayor and Mr. Burke.

Preparations have already been started to make the event a great reception for the president by the people of southwestern Michigan.

FIRST BREAK IN STRIKE.

One Grand Rapids Factory Signs Up and Resumes Work.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 25.—The first break in the furniture strike situation is said to be a victory for the strikers. The Marvel Manufacturing company, a comparatively small factory employing between seventy-five and 100 men, has signed an agreement with the union and has resumed operations.

The agreement covers a year. It is understood the concern is not a member of the Furniture Manufacturers' association.

Senate Refused to Try Russell's Case.

Lansing, Mich., April 24.—By a vote of 77 to 19 the house adopted an impeachment resolution directed against Warden James Russell of Marquette prison, charging him with corrupt practices in office and crimes and misdemeanors, which is the language of both the constitution and the statute.

But the senate flatly refused to entertain the impeachment charges brought by the house against the warden, and it now looks as if there will be nothing to detain the senate after May 2. Senators still hold the opinion that Warden Russell is not a civil officer under the meaning of the constitution; that he is the chief guard or keeper of the prison and ranks in the same category as other employes of the prison under control and direction of the prison board. Failure of the house to include members of the prison board in the impeachment gave the senators opportunity to reject the impeachment charges. The senate is judge and jury in such cases and the Russell affair in all probability will end with this action of the senate.

Aldermen on Strike.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 24.—The village of Detour, at the mouth of St. Mary's river, a year ago elected a no-license council, and no saloons were allowed. This spring the license men secured a majority of the board of trustees, standing three and three, with a liquor president. Now the prohibitionists refuse to attend a council meeting, and, lacking a quorum, no licenses can be granted. Both sides have retained counsel, and the matter is to be carried into

BLAME DROVE ONE TO SUICIDE

Woman Resident of Little Town Hanged Herself After Gossip Placed Responsibility at Her Door — Husband Hired Detectives, and Government Employe's Arrest Followed.

Cadillac, Mich., April 24.—Lloyd Evans, postmaster at Moorestown, has been arrested on a charge of arson. Moorestown is a settlement in Missaukee county. The postoffice and general store burned some time ago, and a woman resident was accused by gossips of having set the fire. She felt so badly because of it that she hanged herself in the attic of her home. Her husband hired a detective, and it is as a result of investigations by this man that the postmaster is himself accused.

One Man Drops Dead During Excitement at Lake City.

Lake City, Mich., April 25.—After the fire was nearly over, and after the danger to the town was quite over, Lloyd Steffens, sixty-nine, who had been one of the valient members of the bucket brigade which fought back the flames that consumed several buildings, dropped dead in the street. His death was the only fatality during the fire. He left a widow and several children.

The fire started in the living rooms over Corwin's store. Under a heavy northwest wind twenty-five buildings were blazing throughout the town, and it required the population in bucket brigade formation to keep these places safe while the fire raged in the business district.

MAKE SOO GRAIN CENTER.

Rep. Anderson Says U. P. City Would Benefit by Reciprocity Treaty.

Washington (Special).—"Canadian reciprocity is going to prove a great disappointment to Minnesota and elsewhere, I believe," declared Representative Anderson, insurgent Republican, who beat Tawney of Minnesota for the nomination. "It is going, I believe, to transfer the center of the milling industry of the United States from Minneapolis and St. Paul to Sault Ste. Marie."

Michigan representatives agree with Representative Anderson. The Soo, with its tremendous water power and its commanding location, is declared to be the ideal center of the milling industry. With the barriers taken down on Canadian wheat it is believed the Soo will become the center of the greatest grain region in the world.

School Money Very Low.

Lansing, Mich., April 25.—Unless some of the big railroads pay their taxes to Auditor General Fuller before May 1, the annual apportionment of the primary school money, about May 10, will fall considerably short of the amount issued last year. At present there is just enough cash in the primary school fund to apportion at the rate of $2 per capita. Auditor General Fuller says that the last school census shows an increase of 14,388 children of school age, and the state must receive approximately $4,000,000 more in order to bring the apportionment up to $6.50 per capita.

ARMISTICE HALTS MEXICAN WARFARE

Rebels Are Losing Patience Over Madero's Procrastination.

El Paso, Tex. (Special).—By acceptance of a four-day armistice, Francisco I. Madero has put an end to the Mexian revolution without gaining a single tangible thing. It is very doubtful if real warfare will be continued at the end of that time unless the attack on Juarez is resumed, which is altogether unlikely.

All public sentiment here, both Mexican and American, are against Madero's procrastination. By this single act he has lost nearly all that he has gained in feeling for his cause.

Even among his own army is there outspoken distrust of Madero's good judgment. They declare that a man who expects fair play from official Mexico is an ordinary fool.

Washington Sees Peace Near.

Washington (Special).—Notwithstanding rumors of general dissatisfaction in Mexico, it is generally believed in official circles that a long step towards restoring tranquillity in Mexico has been taken.

Washington (Special).—Senator William Alden Smith has been commissioned by the citizens of Mackinac island to invite the British and French ambassadors to attend the celebration of the 131st anniversary of the founding of old Fort Mackinac, which occurs July 16, 1911. The senator will do as requested, and if he cannot secure an acceptance from them, will endeavor to fill their places with some other notables.

LABOR HEAD ACCUSED OF DYNAMITING

McNamara, Secretary of Iron Workers', Arrested in Connection With Los Angeles Times Explosion-

UNION LEADERS DECLARE AFFAIR A CONSPIRACY

Western Federation of Miners Will Contribute Defense Fund of $250,000. Detective Burns Declares It Is Beginning of One of Greatest Criminal Prosecutions Country Has Ever Known—Men Implicated in Seizure of McNamara Arrested on Kidnaping Charge.

FIRST STEP OF LABOR LEADERS IN FIGHT TO SAVE M'NAMARA

Indianapolis (Special). — Walter Drew, counsel for the National Erectors' association; W. J. Ford, district attorney of Los Angeles county, Cal., and Frank Fox, a chauffeur, have been arrested on warrants charging kidnaping in connection with the arrest of John J. McNamara. A warrant has been issued for Detective Burns on the same charge.

The arrests and issuance of the warrant constitute the first step in the fight of the union leaders in behalf of the accused labor leader, James McNamara

Indianapolis (Special).—After many months of investigation, directed by William J. Burns, a private detective, John J. McNamara, international secretary of the Bridge and Iron Workers of American, the headquarters of which are in Indianapolis, was arrested Saturday charged with complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times on Oct. 1, 1910, and the plant of the Llewellyn Iron works in Los Angeles. McNamara is charged with murder.

The warrant is based on an indictment found by a grand jury in Los Angeles and was served by Detective Burns, accompanied by Indianapolis detectives.

McNamara was spirited out of Indianapolis in an automobile, and under a heavy guard of detectives was hastened aboard a Santa Fe train for Los Angeles. The books of the labor organization found in the Indianapolis office were cofiscated by Detective Burns and are now in his possession.

The arrest of John McNamara followed the apprehension of two alleged dynamiters, James McNamara and Ortie McManigal, in Detroit.

The detectives were apprised the two men intended to blow up the Michigan Central tunnel at Detroit and trailed them to the city, where they were arrested.

They were taken to Chicago, where McManigal is said to have confessed to eighty dynamitings, in which 112 people were killed and $3,500,000 property damage done. He is also said to have implicated John McNamara.

A raid on the Indianapolis office of McNamara resulted in his arrest and in the finding of explosives in his office building.

The three prisoners were taken to Los Angeles for trial.

Labor men all over the country declare the affair is a "frame up" against union labor, and a grand jury in Indianapolis will investigate the charge.

Samuel Gompers declares the whole affair a conspiracy on the part of capital to disrupt organized labor.

"This is the beginning of one of the greatest criminal prosecutions the country has ever known," declared

Dundee high was given a trimming by Tecumseh high on the local diamond Wednesday afternoon by a score of 24 and 2. Kemp, the local pitcher, had the visitors at his mercy, holding them scoreless until the ninth inning when, after two were out, he eased up and an error, a double and a passed ball resulted in two runs. Tecumseh won the game in the first inning when 8 runs were made. The visitors gave a poor exhibition of fielding and this largely accounted for the big score against them. YOU CAN HAVE Better Coffee.

Yes, BETTER coffee—and it needn't cost you as much as your old coffee cost you.

Look here! Wouldn't it be better to pay, say, 25c for a good, strong coffee than 20c for a poor, weak one? Wouldn't it be better economy?

ROYAL VALLEY COFFEES are fully one-third stronger than any other at 5c less per pound. They're stronger than any other at the SAME price per pound, because they have so much more "body" and so much more of that rich coffee-oil.

And it's because they are stronger that they are CHEAPER, because you don't need to use so much of them to have your coffee strong enough.

Coffee without that bitter taste—without that burnt flavor—without that muddy color: richer, stronger, purer coffee will be yours when you use Royal Valley NERO at 25c, or MARIGOLD at 30c, or TZAR at 35c per pound—and you're money ahead besides.

Ask anyone who has tried one of these delicious blends. Try one of them yourself—TO-DAY.

The Petition follows:

To the President and
To the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh.

Gentlemen:—

Whereas increased business requires the erection of a new and larger macaroni factory, and whereas it is our desire and intention to erect said factory in Tecumseh provided reasonable assistance is forthcoming from local investore and reasonable conveniences are accorded us by the municipality; and, whereas we have an option on a suitable factory site adjoining the Corporation on the South of Winona Park Addition and West of Evans Street we desire to ask your honorable body if in case such option is exercised such property purchased and arrangements made for the prompt erection of our new factory whether you will not be willing to extend both the sewer and water mains along Evans St to a point contiguous to said property to be occupied by us and permit us to properly connect therewith?

It is our intention to erect a factory structure approximately 325 feet long by 60 feet wide and to employ more than twice as many people as at present.

While other towns are offering many inducements to secure new factories we believe that you will agree with us that it is wise to cling factory which you already have retaining in Tecumseh a factory which will unquestionably prove a great benefit to the community.

Trusting that our request will meet with your approbation, we are,

Very respectfully yours,

ONE BIG FOOL
But He Dosen't Live in Tecumseh Nor Read the Herald

A man in Connecticut gave a doctor a specialist in catarrh, $50 to cure him of this common yet most obnoxious disease.

The specialist gave him a bottle of medicine and told him to use it.

The fool took the medicine home, took one dose, put it on a shelf and made no further effort to follow instructions.

Three months later with the medicine still on the shelf he told a friend that the specialist was a fake; that he had paid him $50 and still had catarrh.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) won't cure catarrh if you don't breathe it; it will if you breathe it regularly.

Furthermore, you don't need to give a catarrh specialist $50 to cure you of catarrh, for the specialist is yet to be born who can write a better prescription than HYOMEI.

C. A. Wright & Son and druggists everywhere guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh or money back. A complete outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs only $1.00. Separate bottles of HYOMEI if afterwards needed cost but 50 cents.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Tecumseh Readers Are Learning the Duty of Their Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty. When they fail to do this the kidney's are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow: Urinary trouble, pain.

Doan's Kidney Pills will help yours. Tecumseh people endorse our claim.

John B. Smith, Chicago Street, Tecumseh, Mich., says: "For several years I suffered a great deal from backache caused no doubt, by disordered kidneys. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a short time I was relieved. I have not had a serious attack of the trouble since. I have previously told of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills through the local papers and at this time I gladly confirm all I then said in their favor.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c, Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Four Trunk Tree.

One of the interesting features of Bridgewater's most attractive thoroughfare, Summer street, a village highway lined on both sides with New England's favorite elm, is the four trunk tree of that popular species which forms a natural archway to the mansion house of the late Eleazer Carver of cotton gin fame.

It was this same reputable Massachusetts mechanic who also gave Bridgewater its four trunk tree curiosity, and so unconsciously at the same time reared a monument for himself which is likely to last for years to come, for the people of the immediate neighborhood are very proud of their Carver tree attraction and they will preserve it for future generations with most zealous attention.—Boston Globe.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in its sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is mild, pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste—you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in that way and now write that it is their one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello Ill.

WEST. MINERS WILL COLLECT GIGANTIC DEFENSE FUND

Denver (Special).—The Western Federation of Miners stands ready to levy an assessment of $5 upon each of 50,000 members as a defense fund for Secretary McNamara of the Structural Iron Workers' union.

This statement was made by C. H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, who said:

"I consider the entire affair a frame-up.

"The charge that dynamite was kept by McNamara in the headquarters of his organization is silly. It is very easy to hire 'Orchards' to plant dynamite where the detectives who paid them to plant it can find it."

"Conspiracy," Says Congressman.

Washington (Special).—Representative Frank Buchanan of Illinois, former president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, denounced as a "conspiracy against organized labor," the arrest of J. J. McNamara of Indianapolis, secretary-treasurer of the organization. Mr. Buchanan paid a high tribute to McNamara, whom he said he knew well, and declared his implicit faith in the latter's innocence.

ENGLAND WILL GET BUSY ON IMMIGRATION

Restrictive Regulations to Be Established for Admission of Aliens.

LONDON (Spl.)—Home secretary Winston Churchill, who runs the police department all over England, has given it out definitely that there are going to be some new restrictive regulations established concerning the admission of aliens into the country.

He has explained that it is impossible to tell yet exactly what will be done but that the general idea is to enlarge the present powers of expulsion and to render the authorities' rights of inspection more effective than at present.

No rule will be established, however, the home secretary added, for the exclusion of political refugees, nor will any system of registration of aliens be established, as in continental countries.

The home secretary's announcement appears on its face to imply that Great Britain is getting tired of being a haven of refuge for political exiles from all over the world.

But this isn't what it really means. It is England's answer to the pressure recently brought to bear upon it to compel Scotland Yard to become a mere section of the international police of Europe.

It is only within two or three years that England has had any trouble with its various colonies of political refugees. It was practically the only country in Europe which gave them shelter and the refugees appreciated it.

They did not propose to lose their one place of refuge and they set their faces resolutely against any act of violence against the British government.

But in spite of the influence of the better class of these men there has been difficulty of late—real Russian terrorist outrages. The English authorities couldn't understand it. Neither could the refugees at first. But the various European revolutionary organizations are more or less international in their character. They did a little investigating and presently they gave the police the benefit of the result of their researches.

The outrages weren't the work of genuine political outlaws, they said, but of ordinary criminals engaged by "agents provocateur" from Russia and other continental countries to make the British hate the politicals.

If this object could be accomplished, so the politicals said, there would be no place for them to be safe in at all, and the despotic rulers of the countries they were forced to flee from could hunt them down and exterminate them at their leisure.

The home office evidently accepted this information as true. At any rate it is not going to be coerced into joining the rest of Europe in its war upon men whose only crime, as the English see it, is resolute opposition to the oppression of mere despotic governments. But it does intend to use a little more discrimination in future.

In fact, the English are rather proud of their exiles. "Voltaire, Montesquieu, Alfieri and Cavour did not run away from their own countries," says the Times, in a discussion of the record. "They came to England as to a warm fireside and never forgot the duty which they owed to us.

JAY GOULD TAKES WIFE

Third Marriage In Year In the Wealthy Family.

Miss Anne Douglas Graham, Daughter of Hawaiian Princess, Weds Rail Magnate's Son.

New York, May 1.—The third wedding within the year in the George J. Gould family took place when Jay Gould, the second son of the railroad magnate, and Miss Anne Douglas Graham, only daughter of Mrs. Hubert Vos, were married in St Thomas' church.

The bride, whose mother before her marriage was Princess Kaikilani of Hawaii, was given away by her stepfather, and Kingdon Gould was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stires, rector of the church.

The wedded couple will probably go to the Adirondacks for their honeymoon. They will go to England later as the guests of Lord and Lady Decies. The latter is a sister of Mr. Gould.

FIRE WIDOWS LOSE FIGHT

Court Holds $211,000 Fund Not in Danger and Refuses Injunction.

Chicago, May 1.—Judge William Fenimore Cooper refused to issue an injunction against the custodians of the $211,000 stockyards fire relief fund. Hearing on the application for a receiver, also asked by the firemen's widows—who desire an immediate distribution of the money—will be had later.

Attoreny Rosenthal represented the committee in charge of the money, and John J. Coburn acted for the widows. Frequent verbal clashes between the lawyers lent color to the hearing. Nearly all the widows were present.

CITY TREASURER OFFICE VOID

Attorney General Holds No Such Position Is Provided For.

Springfield, Ill., May 1. — Attorney General Stead and State's Attorney Burke gave out opinions that the city treasurer named by commissioners under the commission form of government is not a de facto officer.

County Treasurer Edmands of Sangamon county, therefore, has been advised to turn over money to the treasurer elected a week ago in Springfield. It is probable that mandamus proceedings will be instituted to test the act of the general assembly.

FALL OF ROCK KILLS TWO

Neglect of Miners to Test Ground After Blast Blamed.

Calumet, Mich., May 1.—Joseph J. Kestner, aged thirty-six, and married, and Thomas Dodge, aged twenty-three, miners, were instantly killed by a fall of rock following a blast in No. 16 shaft of the Calumet and Hecla mine on Osceola-Amagloid vein.

Testimony before the coroner's jury showed that neglect on the part of the men in not testing the ground after the blast resulted in their death.

Marquette's First Mayor Dead.

ARRESTED FOR BOGUS COINING

Officers Capture Two Expert Counterfeiters In Ohio.

MADE SILVER AND GOLD PIECES

Farm Nine Miles North of State Capitol Is Raided and Implements of Manufacture Are Found.

Columbus, O., May 1. — Two expert counterfeiters, who have been manufacturing and passing bogus silver and possibly gold coin, were landed by United States Secret Officer Michael Bolan of Cincinnati, and Deputy United States Marshals Bauer and Shillin of this city.

The raid was made upon a tip furnished last Christmas by Chief of Police Carter of this city, who had been apprised of the circulation of spurious money. The plant was discovered through the medium of a search warrant issued to Mr. Bolan, at the home of Marion Wilcox, a farmer, living near Worthington, nine miles north of the capitol. In the barn were found molds for $10 gold pieces and for all denominations of silver money. In a milk house were a forge, a crucible and base metals used for making the coins.

Wilcox was picked up on the road driving a load of hay to town. The officers picked up also Mahlon Sells of Chaseland, a suburb, an ex-convict, who boarded with Wilcox. Sells confessed that he had learned to make counterfeit money while a prisoner for desertion from the army at Fort Sheridan, near Chicago. He was found working as a laborer on an electric railway, having chosen this lowly occupation to throw off suspicion.

Mr. Bolan asserted that "the goods" turned out were calculated to deceive the average handler of money.

MARSHAL SENT TO WORKS

Fair Haven Peace Officer Pleads Guilty of Abusing Mother.

Port Huron, Mich., May 1.—William O. Shirkey, marshal of Fair Haven, was sentenced to sixty-five days in the Detroit house of correction. Shirkey pleaded guilty to a charge of abusing his aged mother, and making threats against her. Notwithstanding that Shirkey is a peace officer, he has been arrested before on charges of drunkenness.

It is probable that steps will be taken to remove him from office, as the citizens of Fair Haven are aroused over the man's brutal actions toward his mother.

THREAT TO KILL BURNS

Writer of Letter Says He Blew Up Los Angeles Times Building.

Chicago, May 1.—William J. Burns, head of the National Detective agency, received a letter threatening him with death. The letter, which was dated New York and signed "M. J. Schmidt," and stated that Burns, his son Raymond and District Attorney Fredericks of Los Angeles, would be "blown to atoms if the McNamara brothers were convicted."

The writer declared he was the guilty person. "I blew up the Los Angeles Times building, and the McNamaras are innocent," he states.

Damage of Many Millions Is Already Done.

Flames Cover Tract Half Mile In Diameter and All Wires Are Down.

Boston, May 1. — A disastrous fire, the loss from which has already amounted to many millions of dollars, is raging in Bangor, Me. At an early hour it covered a diameter of half a mile. The Western Union wires and the telephone wires went down almost immediately, and the Postal went out of commission soon after. It will be late before details are obtainable.

Bangor, next to Chicago, is the chief lumber depot in the United States. Its population is approximately 22,000. The city is on the Penobscot river, which taps the forests of Maine and brings to the city logs and sawed timber. In Bangor are many saw mills and planing mills and the pulp and paper mills, also use quantities of pulp wood brought down by the river and the railroads.

The city is sixty miles from the mouth of Penobscot, lying at the head of navigation. There is deep water communication with the sea and many ships clear annually for foreign ports and the coastwise trade.

Beside the lumbering and shipping industry, Bangor had furniture factories, machine shops, boot and shoe factories and foundries.

The Kenduskeag stream, so-called, empties into the Penobscot at Bangor, dividing the city, the sections of which are connected with bridges. The Kenduskeag and the Penobscot, which is dammed immediately above the city, furnish water power for the factories and mills.

Negro Wins French Prize.

Ithaca, May 1.—It was announced that the Prix de Honneur in the competition for literary prizes offered by the Society of French Professors of America has been awarded to James B. Clarke, the Cornell negro student, whose articles on the negro question at Cornell provoked a storm of comment, resulted in the anti-negro petition of the co-eds, and brought out the statement by President Schurmann, that negro women had a perfect right to live in Sage college.

To Ask $500,000 for Prison.

Joliet, Ill., May 1.—That a recommendation for an appropriation for $500,000 for preliminary work on a new state penitentiary will be made by subcommittees on finance of both houses of the Illinois legislature is the conclusion drawn as the result of a meeting here between the legislative bodies and the prison removal commission.

ELEVEN LIVES LOST IN WRECK

Remarkable that Casualty List Did Not Reach 100.

CARS DERAILED AND BURNED

Disaster at Martin's Creek, Pa., Causes Grief Among Friends of Teachers from Utica, N. Y.—Cause Is Not Known.

Easton, Pa., May 1. — Eleven lives were lost in the derailment and burning of the Utica Teachers' special near Martin's Creek. The railroad men themselves say that the most remarkable feature of the wreck was that 100 were not killed in the terrific shock and the sudden sweep of fire.

Flames were rushing from end to end of the track. The passengers were burned. Half a dozen teachers got to the ground with their hair ablaze. For minutes after the Utica women were tearing skirts from each other. One ran an eighth of a mile across a plowed field trying to loose herself from a burning skirt. It was lucky that Farmer Dan Hilliard saw her distress.

Of the dead there were three in the Easton hospital— Eleanor Rutherford, a teacher, of 96 West street, Utica; Charles M. Person, the train conductor, of Stroudsburg, and M. W. Vanoy, the engineer, of Trenton. There seems no reason to doubt that eight had died in the fire. From the mass of ashes and twisted iron the wrecking crew removed fragments of four bodies. More could be seen, but until the embers cooled it was impossible to reach them.

Professor C. Augustus Burton, principal of school 20., and president of the Utica Teachers' association, said that he had sent word home that these six teachers, all of Utica, perished in the flames: Sophie Kuoult, Blandina street; Mrs. Mary Allen, 100 Mandillve street; Sarah Jones, Part avenue; Susan Sessions, Jessie Walker and Louise Lindsman. Stewart F. Day, secretary to Mayor Frederick Gilmore of Utica, sent word to the mayor that after a talk with the Pennsylvania railroad officials he was convinced that no further hope should be held out to the relatives and friends of the six.

Besides the seven teachers four employes of the Pennsylvania are dead—Person, the conductor; Vanoy, the engineer; Harry Wilmer, the baggage agent, and Joseph Bicknell, the tourist agent, whose home was in Philadelphia.

The fire made such headway that it was impossible for assistance to reach the victims.

The investigation made by Professor Burton and Vincent Brown and Miss Marion Haskins, one of the heroines of the wreck, determined definitely that at least fifty of the teachers were burned or cut or bruised.

The cause of the wreck is not known as yet. The railroad officials were unwilling to furnish information to relatives or friends of the teachers.

You have to give it to good old Joe McGinnity. He is the Iron Man yet, and the official records for 1910 show that he can still outlast and outwear any pitcher in the profession. They don't work as often as old Joseph, none of them, and his work remains of high grade material to the finish.

During 1910, McGinnity for Newark, N. J., pitched no less than 61 games, or parts of games, and was on the slab for a total of 408 innings That trims them all. Mattern of the Boston Nationals worked in 51 games, but was in only 320 innings. In the American league not a single pitcher got into as many as 50 games. Walsh, Coombs and Johnson tolled in 45 each, and Johnson did the most work with 374 innings.

Brown of New Britain, Conn., pitched 52 games and George of the York team in the Tri-State pitched 53. Fanning of Galesburg in the Central association pitched 51 games and 387 innings.

Floods, Fogs, Fleas

FLOODS

Southern California has suffered more from floods this year than for many previous years, the principal damage has been in the lower lands, which received the water flowing from the mountains and foot hills, besides that which they would naturally receive. Thousands of acres in Los Angeles Co. were under water for several days. A few trestles, bridges and railroad beds were washed away or damaged, and a few cheap houses on some of the lowest lands were damaged.

In the north-western part of our city is a low place which was under water, but the city proper is high and and dry and strictly free from any such flooding. A messenger boy had to don a bathing suit in order to deliver a message to one of the families in one of the little cottages surronnded by water The damage done by high water sinks into insignificance when the amount of good done to the whole country, by the rains which caused the flooding of the low lands is considered. Besides the good the rains have done, they have added indescribable beauties to the whole face of nature, mountains, canyons, foothills and valleys are clad in their garb of green and are beautiful to look upon and the beautiful poppy fields, once seen never forgotten, owe their beauty to the rains, which have caused some tourists to inconsiderately growl and grumble.

FOGS

Fogs? Yes, we have fogs. The following is an authentic statement of sunshine and fogs, "The highest number of clear days ever recorded for one year was 291, the lowest number recorded was 53, the average number of absolutely clear days is 185. This means days when the sky was cloudless the entire day. There are many days when it is slightly cloudy for a while in the early morning hours then clears and remains so for the rest of the day." Our foggy or cloudy mornings and days are a disappoint- to tourists from the East and they at once form unfavorable opinions concerning this state when back in their own states they have fogs and fogs and then more fogs. Back in Michigan we used to say: "a winter fog will freeze a dog." I remember getting bewildered in one of those winter fogs there in an attempt to pass through a clearing of oak grubs on a little prairie in Cass County.

Our fogs like our rains are a blessing to this country for they keep the atmosphere free of all malaria. I have never heard of any one getting the malaria here in California, but many come here with their systems filled with it and get rid of it in our pure invigorating climate, where thousands of people sleep summer and winter, in screen porches in preference to indoor sleeping rooms

FLEAS

These little pests are annoyance an to every person who comes in contact with them, they annoy some more than others and to some they are a torture, poisoning them and causing great itching and causing blotches to appear. However they do not infest all sections of the country, there are but few places inland where they are at all troublesome. I think that all beaches are infested with them, we found them the most troublesome at Oceanside, where they made our lives miserable, for they were in the carpets, in the beds, on our clothes, on the cat and dogs We have them here in Long Beach where they are bad enougn but owing to our many miles of paved streets and alleys they are not as bad as they are in places where the streets are dry and sandy. The farther back we get from the ocean the less troublesome they are. People lounging on the beach sand carry them home on their clothes and in so doing get them into the houses.

HOW TO GET RID OF THEM.

There are powders and lotions used with some degree of success but we find the most successful way is to hunt them, catch them—when we can and crack them. If we see a person very uneasy in church or at any public gathering we know pretty well what the trouble is.

April 14.—To-day we had for a few hours, one of our Santa Ana dust storms, (no alkali dust) the worst for a year. It was bad but it did not keep me from working out doors all the time. Those "Santa Ana's" are very annoying to every one but they do no particular damage, only to the temper of some tourists

I was very much interested in Mr. Bradley's Mt. Wilson trip. For about 4 years we lived within a half-mile of the trail and made two or three journies to the "quarter way house." Mr. Bradley certainly is an entertaining writer. I had thought of writing up our trolley trip to Mt. Lowe but if Mr. Bradley took that wonderful mounnain trip, I will gladly give way to him.

Had a very pleasant visit one after noon with Mr. H. B. Eaton and hoped to meet his family, bnt have missed that pleasure. Our latch string is always out to all Tecumseh people whether we know them or not.

POINTERS FOR THE MOTRIST

The Proper Care of Spare Tubes and Envelopes.

The averege motorist has learned by experience to take proper care of the mechanism of his car, but he too often neglects his tires. Ordinary care accorded spare envelopes and tubes is good insurance, and will save the motorist much trouble and money.

A few suggestions at this time regarding the proper care of tires may benefit the reader.

Never carry spare tubes unprotected in the tool box—they will inevitably come in the contact with sharp tools and greasy substances, resulting in their serious injury. It is a well known fact that oils and grease are are deadly enemies to rubber.

Exposure to strong light and varying degree of temperature is also very injurious to rubber, robbing it of its elasticity and making it brittle. All of these dangers are overcome by the use of water-proof cloth bags made especially for carring spare inner tubes These are supplied by all accessory dealers.

Motorists sometimes carry spare tubes in the original cardboard boxes. The jolting of the car in motion causes the tubes to chafe against the sides of the boxes, eventually weakening or even wearing away the rubber. Unless the tubes are to be stored in the garage they should always be taken from the orginal boxes and placed in tube bags.

Most of the above hints may also be adapted to spare envelopes—exposure to strong light and dampness being particularly injurious. An envelope should never be unprotected on the roof of a car, or left uncovered in the garage. Waterproof wrapper or cases are made especially for the protection of spare envelopes, and their use will mean a big saving to the automobile owner.

In this connection the Michelin Tire Company of Milltown, N. J., is publishing two instruction books which contain much tire information of value to the motorist. By writing direct to the above company, both volumes will be sent free.

ATTACK

BY GOV. OSBORNE ON JUSTICE BIRD.

Gov. Osborne has vetoed the bill allowing Supreme Judges to live where they please, and has made a direct attack on JusticeBird suggesting that he move to Lansing or resign It had been generally understood up to three days before the veto, that the former would sign the bill, and the veto was unexpected.

Justice Bird expressed much surprise at the governors attack on himself. He claims he has spent pratically all his time in Lansing living at the Downey house. Since his appointment to the Supreme bench in June 1910, and not one cent of his traveling expenses has come from the state. As he is now sure of being in Lansing for the next 8 years he will move his family at once.

Col. Graves of Adrian in a letter to the Times gives his opinion of the action of Gov Osborne in his attack on Justice Bird and keenly regrets his unkind criticism, the more so as Jstice Bird was only appointed to fill a vacancy. And was not certain of being re-elected.

It is evident the governor, is feeling his oats and election to office has flown to his head.

VALUABLE HINTS IN PLOWING FIELDS

Have the field true on all sides; that is, it may be longer one way than the other, but each side should be straight so if you plow straight when you start, you will have the dead furrows even and no wedges at the end.

There will also be no odd shaped pieces in the center to make a lot of extra turning.

The crooked way is used by many, who start a furrow any old place on one end of the field and drive to the other end without a mark to go by. A little crook with people of this kind does not seem to be of much importance, but crooked furrows always take extra time and are a nuisance in general.

Another thing which saves much time, particularly in harvest, is a space which should be left between the fence and the field unplowed. This should be about 16 feet wide, and should be sown to grass. This strip will save going through the grain with a binder, and back, and it also saves the hired man a lot of extra work in shocking, as he can start as soon as the reaper does and will not have to wait until a swath is cut in which to place the shock.

Ice Harbor in Ohio River.

In connection with the million dollar dam that has been constructed in the Ohio River twelve miles below Cincinnati the United States Government has built an ice harbor in which the river craft may take refuge in the winter and early spring from the masses of floating ice that has caused millions of dollars worth of damage in past years.

The harbor is solid concrete, reenforced with steel, and is the first to be built in the Ohio. It is large enough to afford ample protection against ice runs to all the craft in its vicinity.—Popular Mechanics.

DID BACON SLAY SHAKESPEAR?

DR. OWEN CLAIMS HIS CRYPTOGRAPH PROVES IT

Detroit Doctor Confident He Will Reveal A Story That Will Astonish The World.

Dr. Ovlile W. Owen of Detroit, is in England at the present time digging in the mud of the river Wye, for manuscripts which he believes Lord Bacon concealed there.

He declares that the cypher which is guiding him reveals the fact that Lord Bacon killed Shakespeare and burned the head of the Bard of Avon in a box which is now being reclaimed from the river.

Archeologists claim that the structuer is that of a foundation for a Roman bridge, but the Doctor insists that tallies exactly with the forecast of the cypher.

Dr. Owen is carrying on his work on the property of the duke of Beaufort, claiming he was directed to this particular spot by the Cryptograph left by Bacon to establish his claim to the authorship of the Shakespeare plays and numerous other work.

The Doctor is firm in his belief, and also believes that the structure is the long hidden cache containing the papers. A vast amount of mud and stones will have to be moved before the box, if such, can be reached and no future developements are looked for at present.

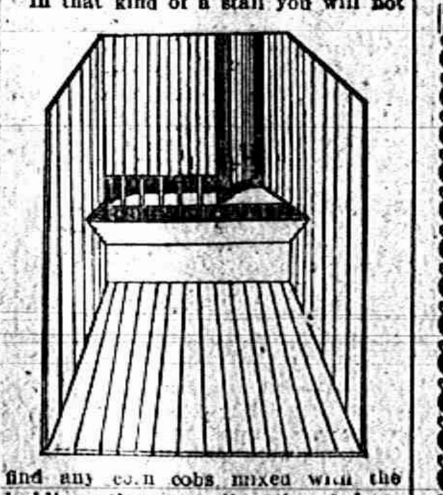
Dr. Owen is an enthusiastic Shakesperian student, and is working with a will for developments.

Tecumseh people are much interested in the Dr., as his wife was a former Tecumseh girl Miss Mabel VanCamp, and also for the outcome of the work in which he is engaged.

A GOOD STALL IS EASILY MADE

Farmer is Judged By Care He Shows About the Stables.

We can safely judge a farmer from his stable. If when you go into a man's stable you see his horse standing in good, dry straw a foot deep in a roomy box stall, the hay-chute arranged so that all the hay is eaten as it is pulled from the cute, a good, roomy feed-box, one deep enough so that when a feed of chop is put in, the horse will not throw it all over before he eats it, you may know the owner is a good horse man.



In that kind of a stall you will not find any corn cobs mixed with the bedding; they are all gathered from the feed boxes and placed in a barrel and used for kindling.

There are other things by which we may judge as to the class in which a farmer belongs. If the farm dwellings and outbuildings are neatly painted, and the fences and gates in good repair, you will not see haystacks or straw-piles standing out all winter, or see this farmer husking out corn in April so as to get it out of the way for another crop.

It is the little things that make farming pay, and the little things make the losing game, too.

When a man discovers he doesn't amount to much and never will, we have a notion he is as disgusted as the woman who discovers that she is getting whiskers.

You may have observed that a girl has more faith in her fiance than a wife has in her husband, and there are other indications that men don't bear close acquaintance very well.

Sometimes parenthood doesn't develop all the patience in a woman or man. She never knows her capacity for patience till she picks out a crochet pattern, and he doesn't know his until he trains a dog.

If a woman has to have her cook stolen, anyway, she would rather have a man steal her, and marry her, than to have her taken by another woman. —Atchison (Kan.) Globe.

Corn Planter

The first planter to introduce the 2-3-4 changeable drop passed the experimental stage, other planters who copy the devise are in the mist of experimental trouble.

Has a foot lever so powerful and convenient that you lift the planter from the ground at the end of the row by the use of both feet, not using your hands at all nor changing depth lever, thus assuring you of even planting at all times.

Both wheels drive like a mower as each have ratchets.

The change from drill to hill so simple that any boy can make the change in a moment, has a sibgt feed dropping.

You can have both edge and flat plates, plain or fertilizer.

Dont buy a planter until you see the NEW WAY, as it is as much ahead of other planters as a planter is ahead of the old hand drop way.

SATISFIES THE MAN WHO WANTS THE BEST.

Standard Sewing Machines

Not much argument is necessary for a Sewing Machine in every home, They mean less work, money saved on clothing—better things to wear.

The main question is where to buy the machine. You don't believe in buying a cheap pair of scissors, do you? You know they would be poorly tempered made of cheap steel so could not cut well and would break easily. Neither would you pay four or five dollars simply because they were a good brand.

MACHINES $15 TO $50.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble, Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the trouble."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The successful aviator looks down on other folks.

The aeronaut would sooner acquire broken records than broken ribs.

When an aeroplane takes a drop we do not think it is a bargain.

Can an airship manufacturer be said to be doing something to uplift the race?

"General, the enemy flies," will have a new meaning when aeroplanes are used in warfare.

"A little of this goes a long way," said the aeronaut as he flicked the ash from his cigar.

Aviation has one advantage over other modes of travel—you can always be sure of making good time on the return trip.

Jewel Thief's Ruse.

A novel method of defrauding a jeweller was successfully carried out by a Paris thief. He drove up in a carriage to the jeweller's shop with his right arm in a sling, and was ostentatiously attended by a footman carrying a rug. He selected jewels to the value of £250, and when the moment came for payment, asked whether the jeweller minded him sending his man home for the money.

No objection was taken to this course, and then there was another request. "Would you mind writing for me?" asked the customer. "I have hurt my arm. Just write, 'Please give Robert £250,' and sign it 'Henri.'" The jeweller wrote the note and in fifteen minutes Robert was back with the cash.

When the jeweller went home a light dawned. "What," his wife asked, "did you want that £250 for?" The thieves had made the jeweller, whose name was Henri, pay for the gems with his own money.—London Globe.

If you are careless the habit is liable to get you into trouble. Some day you are liable to neglect something of real importance.

MEN AND HATS.

Character most assuredly was apparent in the manner in which Napoleon wore his hat, which was set firmly on his head with a slight suggesting of leaning forward. Washington wore his hat squarely planted. Andrew Jackson threw his hat on, as did Lincoln, and for General Grant, he jammed it down well over his head in all directions. General Lee wore his well on top of his head, with just the slightest list to one side, and Stonewall Jackson pulled his well down in front. Perhaps the reason many of the generals wore their hats tightly down on their heads was because they had to be on horseback. But the determined characters were evidenced even when on foot, by such characteristics.

Most artists of all times have shown—when ot affecting some idiosyncrasy—a great deal of carelessness about the way in which their hats sat on their heads. Among literary men this has been the same, though not to such a marked degree. Dr. Johnson always wore his soft hat down on the right side of his head, as if expecting a sudden blast of wind and thereby becoming one of the famous exceptions to the "careless" rule.

To the man who wears a derby over one ear there is not the palliating excuse that the cavalier of former times could give as a reason for wearing his hat set jauntily on one side; for, by reason of his heavy plumes, the cavalier necessarily wore it in a position that makes a modern derby wearer when affecting such a style one of a class of toughs or "tin horn" gamblers.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

BURGLAR [illegible] PRISON CELL

Asserts He Looks Forward to Being Cured of Morphine Habit.

Fort Wayne, Ind., May 1.—Howard H. Dewseese, alias John Morton, entered a plea of guilty to burglary in the home of Dr. G. W. McCaskey, where he obtained a $400 diamond.

He was given a term of from ten to twenty years in the penitentiary. He said he was willing to go to prison to be cured of the morphine habit. He explained that he needed money for "dope" and so broke his rule of never pawning his "swag" in the same town.

Vincennes Starts Sane Fourth.

Vincennes, Ind., May 1.—Toy pistols, cannon crackers and explosives will not be sold by Vincennes merchants this year. The board of police commissioners declared for an "absolutely safe and sane Fourth," acting this early so merchants would not stock up with the dangerous fireworks.

Dashes for Liberty; Caught.

Saginaw, Mich., May 1.—Claude Gregory, wanted in Toledo on the charge of selling mortgaged goods, made a dash for liberty after talking with Chief Kain. For several blocks he led in the race, but was overhauled after a hard run. Three officers corraled him on the river front.

MODEL YOUTH A BURGLAR

George May, Acquitted on Insanity Plea, Found Guilty.

Rockford, Ill., May 1.—George May, who was a model youth by day and daring robber by night, was convicted of burglary after one juror had held out twenty hours for acquittal.

May's arrest last July cleared a long series of burglaries which had baffled the police. In a cave under his workshop stolen goods ranging from toilet articles to an electric motor were found. The value of the loot, none of which he ever sold, exceeded $2,000. His confession astounded his friends. He was tried last fall on one indictment and acquitted on a defense of insanity. Since then he has worked steadily in one of the factories he robbed. Insanity was the plea on the second trial. If another trial is refused he probably will be sentenced to the penitentiary.

Nearly Beheads Self with Razor.

Calumet, Mich., May 1.—Eugene Sapelso, aged fifty, took his own life here by almost severing his head from the body with a razor.

Four Atchison sisters have worn the same dress to be married in. This is the right way to treat a father.

Among other costly fallacies might be mentioned the "good bet if you lose." There are no good bets if you lose.

Origin of Firewater.

When the Hudson Bay Trading company began its trading among the Indians it was found that by selling the Indians liquor they could more easily be induced to trade their peltries. The first whisky or intoxicant of inferior quality was distilled in England and brought to America in large barrels, but in transporting it overland it was found more convenient to divide it into small kegs. The traders soon became aware of the fact that by diluting the whisky with water more furs could be obtained. This was practiced for some time, but the Indians learned that good whisky poured on a fire would cause it to flame up, whereas had the whisky been diluted the fire would be quenched. It was by this [illegible] experiment that the term "firewater" became a common word among [illegible] Indians. A chief who had experienced the bad effects of whisky among his people said it was most certainly distilled from the hearts of wildcats and tongues of women from the effect it produced.—Red Man.

Symbolism Didn't Appeal.

"Charlie," sorrowfully sighed the young lady in the parlor of the concrete house on Washington avenue, "it is nearly 12 o'clock."

"Yes, Belinda," was the breathing response of her poetical companion, who was stifling on the sofa beside her, "the minute hand is drawing closer and closer to the hour hand, and when the time of midnight is chimed the two hands will be even as one. Oh, darling Belinda," he continued as he literally simulated the action of the minute hand, "may not the coming together of those two hands be symbolical of us?"

She broke away and stood firmly on her feet. "No, Charles Henry Smith," she retorted angrily, "those two hands will remain as one but a single second, and then the minute hand will divorce itself and go on its way alone. No, Mr. Smith, a minute hand that doesn't stick isn't the kind of symbolism I want!"—Boston Post.

FARMERS ARE TO STORM CONGRESS

Demonstration against Canadian Trade Bill Planned.

300 TO ENFORCE PROTEST

Agriculturists of Northwest Will Descend Upon Congress in Force Latter Part of This Week—Two Senators Lead Them.

Washington, May 1.—A demonstration against the Canadian trade bill will be made before the senate committee on finance by northwestern farmers the latter part of this week.

The arrangements for this affair are in the hands of Senators McCumber and Smoot, who are bitterly opposed to the agreement. The farmers' invasion was planned some weeks ago. The Grangers of the northwest deluged their representatives in congress with protests against the Canadian bill and finally one of them suggested that the farmers should appear here in person. Northwestern senators and representatives approved the idea, and now the announcement is made that the end of the week will witness the arrival in Washington of "two train loads of farmers," each and every one of them guaranteed to be a real agrarian.

If the "farmers' invasion" realizes the expectations of those who have charge of the arrangements it will be one of the most picturesque affairs ever staged before a committee of congress. According to the two senators the delegations, comprising 300 or more, will be made up exclusively of farmers, who want to tell the senate through the committee of finance that the ratification of the Canadian agreement would be a bad thing for the agricultural states of the middle and northwest.

There are persons in Washington unkind enough to say that the "farmers' invasion" will prove a disappointment to those behind the movement. They predict that the delegation will be made up in the main of professional agriculturists and former officeholders. For example, it is pointed out that the Grangers from North Dakota will be headed by former Senator Henry C. Hansbrough of that state, who will appear as spokesman for farmers, but who is really not a farmer himself.

PLAN GENERAL STRIKE

Purpose to Present Organized Labor in Great Protest.

Day J. J. McNamara Goes on Trial Is to be Signal for Wide-spread Walk-Out.

St. Louis, May 1.—A general strike of every laboring man in the United States, to be called on the day J. J. McNamara, now in jail in Los Angeles, Cal., in connection with the blowing up of the Times building there last winter, comes to trial is to be labor's protest against the alleged "kidnapping" of McNamara, according to a circular prepared by the Industrial Workers of the World, a Chicago organization, controlling 50,000 men. This circular, which will be sent all over the United States in a few days, was read here by William D. Haywood, to a massmeeting of 1,000 Socialists and labor unionists who packed Aschenbroedal hall to hear Haywood, who five years ago, with Moyer and Pettibone, was "kidnapped" in Denver and rushed by special train to Boise City, Ida., on a similar charge to that which McNamara must face.

According to Haywood's plan as outlined in the circular and for which he stands sponsor, the Socialists are expected to organize the workers outside the labor unions and persuade them to quit their jobs on the day McNamara comes to trial, while the union men are expected to join in the movement.

COOK ADMITS HE FAKED HIS STORY

EXPLORER SAYS HE WAS HALF CRAZED BY EXPERIENCES IN FROZEN NORTH.

WANTS SYMPATHY

Writes His Story for Magazine and Tells Everything Fully and Freely.

New York, N. Y.—Dr. Cook has confessed. The announcement has been made by Edward F. Hampton who paid $50,000 for Commander Peary's story of his trip to the North Pole.

In "his own story" the first installment to be published in the magazine, Dr. Cook frankly admits that he does not know whether he reached the North Pole.

In the opening article, dealing particularly with the psychology of his adventure, the man who has been alternately lauded as the greatest explorer and denounced as the most colossal faker of the age, declares:

"Did I get to the North Pole? Perhaps I made a mistake in thinking I did. Perhaps I did not make a mistake. After mature thought I confess that I do not know absolutely whether I reached the pole.

"This may come as an amazing statement, but I am willing to startle the world, if, by so doing, I can get an opportunity to present my case.

"By my case I mean not my case as a geographical discoverer, but my case as a man. Much as the attainment of the North Pole once meant to me, the sympathy and confidence of my fellow men mean more.

"Fully, freely and frankly, I shall tell everything—and leave the decision with you. If, after reading my story you say, 'Cook is sincere and honest; half crazed by months of isolation and hunger he believed that he reached the pole; he is not a 'faker' —then I shall be satisfied."

Dr. Cook tells his life story and pictures the overpowering ambition for exploration that beset him until finally it culminated in his effort to reach the pole.

He declares that at the time he convinced himself that he had discovered the pole, he was half mad. He spent two and one-half years in his quest and during that period endured hunger and privation that, he says, would unbalance any mind.

Cook declares that it would be impossible for any man to demonstrate that he had been to the pole. He characterizes the far north as a reign of insanity, "where one cannot believe the evidences gathered by one's own eye."

He says that he had always looked upon the discovery of the pole as an achievement for his own personal satisfaction—for the satisfaction of a craving and desire that was greater than any other factor in his life

When he found how tremendous a sensation his statement that he had attained the pole created he was overcome with bewilderment.

His study of his own psychology is described by those who have read his narrative as a "wonderful piece of descriptive writing."

One of the most remarkable facts brought out by his story is that in all the time he has been away, with the shrewdest newspapermen in the world on his trail, with newspapers offering sums that range into the thousands for the slightest definite news of his whereabouts, he has never worn a disguise and has never taken any unusual precautions to conceal his identity.

Part of the time his wife has been with him, and part of his children, too. The children are now in a retreat in France, and Dr. Cook and his wife are in Europe.

Most of the time during his exile he has been in London. He has gone among Americans there with the utmost freedom and at times under his own name. Only a few guessed his identity.

With the opportunity for thought that his exile has given him—he says he never even had time to sleep more than three or four hours a night between his arrival in Copenhagen and his disappearance from New York—he has found growing stronger and stronger the desire to return to his own country to be understood by his countrymen. He realized better than any one else the esteem in which he was held.

"I have been called the greatest liar in the world, the most monumental impostor in history," he says in starting his story, "I believe that in a very undesirable way I stand unique, the object of such vituperation and suspicion as have assailed few men."

It was this realization that set Dr. Cook to work on his story. He has said since beginning the preparation of his narrative that to him the honor of discovering the North Pole no longer means anything.

His sole desire is to make the people of the United States realize just what he went through during his two and one-half years in the Arctic fastnesses, and to make them see what process of thinking or lack of thinking it was that led him to do the thing which confirmed to the average mind the worst suspicions against him

Dr. Cook has been working on his story since August and has revised so that every point is said to be clear.

The Suez Canal.

It is certain that in ancient times a canal connecting the Mediterranean and Red seas did exist. Herodotus ascribes its projection to Pharoah Necho, 600 B. C. The honor of its completion is given by some to Darius, by others to the Ptolemys. How long this canal continued to be used we do not know; but, becoming finally choked up by sand, it was restored by Trajan early in the second century A. D. Becoming again useless from the same cause, it was reopened by the Caliph Omar, but was finally closed by the "unconquerable sands" about A. D. 767, in which state it has since remained. This ancient canal, from Suez to Bubastis, on the east branch of the Nile, was ninety-two miles long, from 108 to 160 feet wide, and fifteen feet deep.—Washington Times.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent."—Hon. S. W. Matthews, Commissioner Labor Statistics, Augusta, Me.

NOW IS TIME TO SEE TO DRAINS

Care Should Be Used in Spring With Tile Water Carriers.

To get the best service from our tile drains we must look to their activity several times each year, and especially so during the winter and spring season.

As much as one-half the tile drains upon our farms right now are not giving good service for varied reasons and are surely not profitable to the owner in such condition.

On our farm our tile drains empty chiefly into large open ditches and creeks and are quite easily kept from clogging, yet with a little carelessness in neglecting some of them they may quickly become clogged and useless.

Along these open ditches and creeks we find various methods of clogging up our tile drain outlets employed which we must look into carefully, during the spring season.

Some thoughtless hunter in quest of rabbit plugged a chunk of wood into the drain in order to keep his game from entering and left the outlet clogged.

Then we find that musk rats working along the open ditches have dragged ears of maize, grass and stalks into some of the outlets for nesting purposes.

With us we carry an iron rod with hook shaped upon one end and drag this foreign material from the tiles.

Freshets often wash away some of the tiles, and often undermine the bank, causing heavy sods to drop down completely burying our outlet, our only recourse being to shove this obstruction away, while other outlets with freezing and thawing have became clogged up from silt washing down, causing the water to be forced upward before emptying from the drain thus backing up water, making the drain inefficient.

We find this trouble mostly where short drains exist or those with little grade, lying dormant much of the time. We find it time well spent to go over our oulets several times each season.

Then back in the fields we can in the spring time spend some time profitably taking note of the operation of our drains, whether they are collecting and discharging the water from the soil in a proper manner.

For instance we found where the drain ceased to operate sixty rods back into the field from the outlet. We dug down and there lay two large muskrats completely clogging the drains above.

In another instance we found where a crawfish crawling up a drain found a fissure large enough to work his way through, and in doing so clogged the drain full of stiff clay at that point.

This latter work can be profitably done when the frost is leaving the soil.—Geo. M. Brown.

SPRING LAMBS NEED A WORLD OF CARE

At eight to ten days of age lambs will begin to eat. At that time a creep should be built which will give them access to a food box containing grain and a trough with hay. Box, trough and feed should always be kept sweet and clean.

A good grain ration for lambs is made as follows: Mix one third part of oilmeal with one part each of bran, oats and fine corn meal. Red alfalfa hay or the second cutting of alfalfa hay are the most desirable form of roughage. Of the two alfalfa is to be much preferred.

It is a good idea to keep up the grain feed right along until the lambs are sent to market. By so doing the lambs are kept fat all the time and are ready to be turned into cash on short notice should the market take a sudden rise.

For Early Onions

Much earlier and finer onions can be grown if sown in large boxes or a hot bed, and this kept moist and loose on top till the strong young onions are transplanted to the garden. So many early onions are delayed, if not absolutely discouraged and ruined by the surface of the ground becoming crusted or hard from showers, when they are two inches or so high and weakly. All this is avoided by sowing thinly in large boxes or hot beds and resetting. This might not do for large amount of onions, but for the family, or early ones, it surely pays.

Wha'd'yathinko'that?

A rube from off his father's farm,
With bulging chest and brawny arm,
Went south to slam the ball.
In spring he traveled with the team
And, wonderful as it may seem,
He stayed with it till fall.

For many rubes there are who play
Until the season's under way—
Then beat it to the woods.
Some linger with the big league band
A little while and then are canned—
And some produce the goods.

Shrinking Dress Goods.

When making up washing materials it is important to shrink the goods before cutting. All such materials as duck, madras, linen and cheviot shrink an inch in a yard the first time they are washed, and it is quite possible that every time they are washed subsequently they will continue the shrinking process to some extent.

An expert dressmaker recommends a simple and satisfactory way of shrinking washing goods. "Fill a bathtub," she says, "one-quarter full of clear water. Fold the material in a clean towel, to prevent dust settling on it; place it in the water, and let it remain there all day and over night. Then hang it up dripping wet to dry. It will take a long time to dry, but it will dry in time and be smooth enough to make up without ironing. When the dress or blouse is complete, dampen and press."

It will be heaven sure enough if there are no first of the month bills there.

UNIONS PREPARE FOR BATTLE

Ten Firms Affected by Electrical Workers' Strike—Unions Claim Upper Hand in Furniture Workers' Struggle, and Declare Factories Are Completely Tied Up.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 2.—One hundred and fifty concerns in Grand Rapids have declared for an open shop.

While the unions not only those connected with the furniture industry but all, have been industriously adding members to their rolls, the employers' association has also been busy, and every concern which employs labor is being importuned to line up against organized labor so far as the closed shop is concerned.

About 80 electrical workers struck Monday for an eight-hour day and 40 cents an hour. Ten firms are affected by the strike. Three signed the scale presented by the union.

In the furniture strike, the manufacturers have announced that they want men with which to operate their shops, that local men will be given first chance, after which outside labor will be importuned to come here. The unions declare that they have the 59 plants so effectively tied up that the employers will be unable to operate them with all the men they can get here and elsewhere.

AMUSEMENTS

THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH

Whenever it is announced that one of the "Howard" musical comedies is a coming attraction, it causes much local comment as the theatre-goers of to day fully realizes that it will be a real treat from a musical standpoint, Mr. Howard is without a doubt becoming the greatest musical writter of the age; in the past two or three years he has written the music to no less than a dozen of our most successful light operas. Among those which were the most successful were "The District Leader," "The Time, the Place and the Girl," "The Girl Question," "A Stubborn Cinderalla" "A Prince of Tonight," "The Golden Girl," "The Goddees of Liberty," and the sensation of them all, "The Flower of the Ranch." This delightful comedy will be seen in this city on Thursday May 11th, at the Bradley Opera House.

The entire production will be seen in this city as it was produced for Mr Howard two years ago when it ran 150 nights in New York City and six months in Chicago, at the Garrick Theatre, Aside from its success in the dramatic and musical line, it is a play that holds the entire audience from the rise of the curtain with interesting stage settings of ranch life in the golden hills of California.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES,

The most important dramatic motion picture film that has ever been issued by any company in America or Europe is "A Tale of Two Cities," just produced by the Vitagraph Company of America. The picture is in three parts, or reels, and runs nearly an hour, not including intermissions between the reels. It thus furnishes the entire performance, and will be exhibited at the Bradley Opera House Saturday night, May 6. Admission 5c to all.

The film drama, "A Tale of Two Cities," is adapted from the novel of Charles Dickens and has been produced with a special cast of players and a wealth of scenic display beyond even the previous famous works of this company. It is described by the critics as a masterpiece. The producing company is the same one that issued the three-reel motion picture of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" a few months ago.

THE TRAVELING BIBLE

Masonic Circles are much interested in the Traveling Bible that is to be presented to the Adrian lodge this evening. The book is the property of the Equity lodge of Chicago and was presented by them to Yeatman lodge of Cincinnati in 1909, it then was taken with due ceremonies to the Mystic lodge of Dayton and after four months, took its next journey to Columbus. Springfield is the fourth city on its route to recieve it. It is estimated that it will take twenty-five years to make the whole journey through the principle cities in the U. S. On its return to Chicago, it will be placed in the archives of Equity lodge and will be a most valued treasure to the Masonic fraternity. At each lodge upon whose alter it has lain, the officers are to write an account upon its journey to them which is to be placed upon its records.

It is beautifully bound and of the finest product of the book-binders skill. It is kept in a handsome leather case, to protect it from injury on its journey through the states.

About 150 members of Anthony lodge of Springfield will convey the bible to Adrian to-day, representatives from other lodges will also be present, An interesting meeting is anticipated

SMITH BOUND OVER TO CIRCUIT COURT

Russell A. Smith, who created such an exitement in our town Monday was brought before Justice Hosmer Thursday morning, the complaint being changed to grand larency, he was again taken to the Adrian jail to appear at the Circuit court May 8th to answer the charge.

Young Smith is a boy about 17 yrs. of age, and has an innocent looking face, but has already been in the Reform school and is wanted in Hastings for jumping his board bill. Circumstances have been again'st him, as at the early age of 2½ years he was sent to the Coldwater school, and has virtually been a homless wanderer

As a product of our Coldwater school, we fell that the training has not been all that it should be, as not only he but the average of those who have been there, do not turn out satisfactorially.

ONE BIG FOOL
But He Dosen't Live in Tecumseh Nor Read the Herald

A man in Connecticut gave a doctor a specialist in catarrh, $50 to cure him of this common yet most obnoxious disease.

The specialist gave him a bottle of medicine and told him to use it.

The fool took the medicine home, took one dose, put it on a shelf and made no further effort to follow instructions.

Three months later with the medicine still on the shelf he told a friend that the specialist was a fake; that he had paid him $50 and still had catarrh.

HYOMEI (pronounce it High-o-me) won't cure catarrh if you don't breathe it; it will if you breathe it regularly.

Furthermore, you don't need to give a catarrh specialist $50 to cure you of catarrh, for the specialist is yet to be born who can write a better prescription than HYOMEI.

C. A. Wright & Son and druggists everywhere guarantee HYOMEI to cure catarrh or money back. A complete outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber inhaler and simple instructions for use costs only $1.00. Separate bottles of HYOMEI if afterwards needed cost but 50 cents.

OLIVER

EASIEST of all cultivators to guide, raise and lower—that's saying a good deal, but it's true.

The Olivers now make a Riding Cultivator. When you see it you will say they should have done it before.

It was used two years in all the big corn states before they said much about it.

Now they say—and it's a fact—that this new OLIVER implement absolutely guides, raises and lowers easier than any other cultivator on earth.

That it does better, easier, slicker work in all soils and conditions, and—

That it comes nearer making a day's cultivating seem like a picnic than any other cultivator.

Come and see it, and also take a look at Oliver Plows of various kinds—extra good this year.

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of mine? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and the pains soon disappeared "For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

BRITTON

PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Thursday at the pleasant farm home of Mrs. Mae Willis, three and one half miles east of Britton occurred the marriage of her daughter, Mildred, to Ray Pritchard of Jackson, in the presence of 50 guests. Promptly at 5 o'clock, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. L. Segar sister of the groom, the couple attended by Ada Sutton and John Willis, brother of the bride, took their places in the parlor where the ceremony was performed.

The bride was beautifully gowned in pale blue silk, trimmed in white lace and carried white roses, while the bridesmaid wore cream colored voile and carried pink roses.

After the ceremony the guests were ushered in the dinning room decorated with ferns and carnations, where a four-course supper was served.

The young couple will remain at the brides' home for a week, after which they leave for Jackson, where a newly furnished home awaits them. The out of town guests were Mr and Mrs. Ben Pritchard and Mr and Mrs. F. Segar of Jackson.

LIFELONG RESIDENT OF LENAWEE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Joseph Thackery died at her home in Britton Friday afternoon aged 71 years. The funeral services were conducted at the M. P. church Sunday afternoon at two o'clock.

Mrs. Thackery, formerly Charlotte Pines, was born Feb. 22, 1840 in Lenawee Co. being the eldest of a family of three children. April 16, 1860, she married Joseph Thackery, who died May 31, 1898. There were two daughters of this union, Mrs Wesley Lister of Holloway and Mrs. Wm. Nivison of Adrian, both of whom survive her. Two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren and two half-sisters, Mrs. John Lucas of Tecumseh and Mrs. Jess Rappyle of Portland, Ore, are also left to mourn the loss.

ODD FELLOWS GATHERING.

The Ninety Second Anniversary of The Independent Order of Odd Fellowship being Wednesday April 26th, Britton Lodge No. 546 celebrated the event on the evening of the 27th by uniting the Anniversary with the Contest supper which has been due for some time.

The evening was very profitably spent by the Odd Fellows wives and families at the K. O. T. M. M. hall the Odd Fellows hall also being used by the gentleman at cards and the ladies visiting.

Odd Fellows and familes began to gather about 7 o'clock and at 9:30 supper was served to about 125 in the K. O. T. M. M. Hall with Mrs. Ray Smith at the piano and Warren Underwood with the trap drums playing "Silver Bells." The dinning room was very prettily decorated for the occasion. Mrs. F. Brown acted as caterer and fourteen young ladies, daughters of the Odd Fellows, served the guests with a four course supper.

After all had done ample justice to the good things Rev. S. S. Main as toastmaster with very chosen remarks introduced Sister Hattie Jackson, President of the Rebekah Assembly of Michigan, who spoke of the good work of the order in Michigan and other places she had visited, both in the Rebekah Branch and Subordinate Lodges speaking especially of the I. O. O. F. home at Jackson, and the need of a Rebekah Lodge at Britton.

The Toastmaster then introduced Rev. E. L. Steffy a former member of the Britton Lodge who with very forceful words bespoke the "Good of Odd Fellowship as he knew it.' The male quartet composed of G. L. Gripton, C. Bert Smith, Arthur Gordon and Ernest Palmer rendered three slections which were greatly applauded as well as the solo of Miss Myrtle Lee and Mr Ernest Palmer. The I. O. O. F. gardners won the hearts of all present with the song "We are Merry Gardners" composed of Master Charlie Allen, Lawrence Zeluff, Vere Gill and Leland Smith

The company broke up at a late hour each declaring it a royal entertainment.

"Doan's Ointment cured me of eczema that had annoyed me a long time. The cure was permanent."—Hon. S. W. Matthews, Commissioner Labor Statistics, Augusta, Me.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up-stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alterative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anæmic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sane remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

CHINESE UPRISING IS SPREADING

Troops Still In Control, but Outbreaks Are Numerous.

Hong Kong—The anti-Manchu uprising at Canton is spreading to neighboring towns. Dispatches say that the prefect of Shuntung has been slain by the rebels, that a magistrate has been killed at Samshui, a few miles inland from Canton, and that the town of Fatshan has been partially burned.

The troops are reported to be still in control at Canton, but numerous outbreaks are still occurring there.

SECTION HAND IS BLAMED.

Failure to Place Signal Flags Is Said to Be Cause of Fatal Wreck.

Easton, Pa. (Special).—Failure of a section foreman to place a green flag to warn the engineer to proceed with caution, is alleged to have been the cause of a fatal railroad wreck at Martin's Creek, N. J., when eleven lost their lives. The section hands were repairing the track and while some say the regular caution signal was shown, others, including Fireman Parsons of the wrecked train, insist that no signal was set. The wreck was caused by the heavy train spreading the rails. The coroner and district attorneys are investigating.

All of the dead passengers were Utica school teachers.

MANY STRIKES RECORDED.

CONDITIONS STILL SERIOUS

Lull In Hostilities Signifies Nothing In Mexican Situation.

Washington (Special).—Confidential government reports which are being received at the White House from Mexico indicate that conditions in that country are still serious.

It is understood here that the insurgents are making preparations for a more aggressive campaign. The peace news from El Paso which followed the signing of an armistice by the federals and the revolutionists, does not appear to have relieved President Taft's apprehensions over the situation, The impression given at the White House was that the lull in the hostilities is entirely superficial, and does not signify substantial changes in internal conditions in Mexico.

Insurrectos Again Victorious.

Douglas, Ariz. (Special).—The capture of the important Pacific coast port of Topolobampo, in the state of Sinaloa, Mexico, by rebels has been reported here. This port is but a short distance from the cities of Fuerte and Sa Blas, recently taken by the insurrectos.

WASHINGTON LETTER

There was an interesting session of the Senate Finance Committe this week, and in a discussion concerning the United Shoe Machinery of Boston it is alleged that it has all the American shoe manufacturers under its thumb and Senator Bailey of Texas suggested that the question was one of which the attorney General of the United States rather than the Senate should take cognizance. The Senate Committee was in special session to hear Western Shoe Manufacturers from St Louis, Grand Rapids, Chicago and Milwaukee, who were protesting against placing their manufactured product on the free list. One witness testified that 48 per cent duty on shoe making machinery made it prohibitive and yet the royalty charged by the trust for the use of its machines he said was sufficient in less than one year to buy the English machine outright. Representative Weeks of Massachusetts declared on the other hand in a House investigation held simultaneously with that of the Senate, that the shoe machinery was a munificent monopoly inasmuch as it enabled one corporation to lease the machines at a very low rate to American manufacturers. Mr. Weeks used a number of samples of shoes to illustrate his argument against the Democratic measure. Mr. Diffendorfer of Pennsylvania introduced a resolution in the House calling upon the Navy and War Departments to furnish Congress information relating to shoe contracts for the army and navy. The inquiry was based upon charges that a single shoe concern has a monopoly to furnish the army and navy and has frozen out other competitors Congress is giving much attention to investigations. Inquiries into the affairs of the United States Steel Corporation, the American Woolen Company, the American Sugar Refining Company were placed on the list in the House and Senate Committees and will no doubt be an important part of the work of the summer season. Mr. Broussard of Louisiana introduced a resolution to appoint a special committee of three Senators and four Representatives to examine laws and departmental resolutions governing the methods of appointing diplomats and consuls. The resolution carries $25,000 for expenses and empowers the committee to hold sessions in foreign countries, if necessary. Of course, everyone knows that this is for the purpose of a foreign junket for the committee with their wives and daughters and others at the expense of the government. There will doubtless be other junkets proposed before the extra session is over, and the Democrats who are now in power will probably demonstrate in spite of their professions of honesty and economy, that they can get quite as much on the side from the government in the way of jaunts and junkets and plums and pork as their Republican confreres. There should be an outright appropriation by the government called "The Foreign Travels Bill."

THE FLOWER OF THE RANCH

For pure, wholesome fun, for laughter that will not be followed by the slightest tinge of regret for having brought your mother, sister or sweetheart to see it, is "The Flower of the Ranch," the Howard musical success coming to the Bradley Opera House on Thursday, May 11. Its sparkling comedy, its overflowing mirth, its pretty costumes and its excellent cast have combined to make it the most talked of play of the season. The marvelous little "Broilers" who do the wonderful dances which bring the audiences to their feet with such swiftness and dash, still work with the same enthusiam that has made these girls a revelation to the theatre goers who heretofore have been accustomed to the bored looking chorus girl. The musical numbers, "Just Say You Care," "Worried," "What's the Use of Dreaming," "The Pajama and the Nightie," "The Same Old Story," "California" and "The Days of '49" receive encore after encore.

ANNUAL MEETING

TOWN AND CIVIC IMPROVEMENT

Friday Evening May 5, Big Attendance, Much Enthusiasm Shown in Regard to the Fountains and Other Impovements.

The annual meeting of the Town and Civic Improvement Club was held Friday eve May 5 at the Presbyterian church. There was a full attendance and a very enthusiastic meeting, as matters of great importance to the town were being discussed and decided upon.

The meeting was called to order by the President Mrs. J. D. Shull and reports of the treasurer showed that there was $230 in the treasury. The several committees gave their reports. Following this came a discussion in regard to the sanitary fountains to be placed in our village the number and and price to be paid for each.

While many were in favor of having a handsome fountain in the center of village which would be an ornament, others inclined to the view from the sanitary point wishing to place several in different parts of the village. At the final vote it was decided that there should be two, one at the Public Library and the other on Evans St. near the Council building. It was also voted to place a dozen waste paper baskets in the public parks and the library grounds and other public places. An appropriation of $20 was made for the prizes to the children of whom there are about 100 who compete with their gardens.

Following the business meeting came a short program Mrs. C. A. Wright giving a short talk on the meeting of the County Federation, Rev. Weld on Civic Improvement and and the Moral uplift needed in our village. Music was interspersed by Mrs. Weld, Mrs. Kendrick and Miss Stella Brush.

The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted as follows:
President—Mrs. Shull
Vice President—Mrs. Wilson
Secretary—Mrs. Keyser
Treasure—Mrs. Finch
Cor. Secretary—Mrs. Freeman

HOW THE SECRET WAS REVEALED

CONCERNING THE BACON MANUSCRIPTS BELIEVED BY DR. OWEN TO BE HIDDEN IN THE RIVER WYE

Following up our article in our late issue concerning the Shakespere—Bacon controversy of which Dr. Owen of Detroit is an exponent. We have found a brief article on the manner in which the secret was revealed

The key came to Dr Owen in a peculiar manner sitting in the lobby of a hotel in New York he was approached by some friends from Boston who showed him the title page of "Arcadia" asking him if it could fit in his Baconian Cipher. On examination this proved to be an inportant Cryptogram by the aid of this and some others the Doctor was guided to the river Wye. Arcadia written by Sir Philip Sidney reveals the secret hiding place of the proofs of Bacons authorship. Dr. Owen claims to have found his authority for his belief in the interior of the book. In some of Lord Bacon books notably "St. Albans" a place of banishment is mentioned and many have thought the point designated was near London. Dr. Owen has proved that in reality it is in close proximity to the point where he is now located.

He found Wasp Hill, the Wye river, the castle and Roman road as outlined in the cipher. Various sentences in the plays of interest as bearing on this hiding place, "boxes like eels in the mud, boxes swrthed in Camlet and covered with tar" make a triangle of 123 feet due north and thirty paces." "I filled up the shallow water with mud and beams I cut down all the trees and turned the course of river."

It is believed that Bacon sought to hide these proofs in the bed of the Wye and sound a rift in the rock and using clay, wood and stone formed a triangular vault where he deposited the box. The work is progressing slowly as the Wye is a tidal river and it is impossible to work two hours a day.

The duke of Beaufort who is also an ardent Baconian is helping finance the quest. A box has been unearthed but as yet has not been opened as the duke and other students are to be present at the ceremony.

"THAT'S THE BEST SUIT I EVER HAD"

THAT'S what one of our customers, who bought his first Clothcraft suit six months ago, told us.

He said, "I have always paid pretty good prices for my clothes, but I never had a suit that fitted me as well or gave me as much satisfaction as this Clothcraft suit I paid $18.00 for."

"I have worn it for six months and it looks as good as the day I got it. It's my first Clothcraft suit, but it won't be my last."

We have a Clothcraft guaranteed all-wool suit that will give you the same kind of satisfaction.

D. T. & I. R. R.

Foreclosure proceeding for the D. T. & I. railroad were ordered by U. S. Judge John M. Killits May 7th.

Judge Killits gives five days from May 5, for the railroad to pay their obligations to the companies who hold their bonds. If the debts are not paid at that time then the D. T & I. property will be sold at auction to the highest bidder.

The Judge finds that the mortgages held by the trust companies as trustees for the D. T. & I. bonds are valid liens and that the trust concerns are entiteled to remunneration. He stipulates that special master Elmer W. Voorkels must not accept a bid of less than $2,500,000 for the railroad property and that any bidder must furnish a bond of $150,000 in cash. It is understood that the obligations to the trust companies will not be met therefore the property must be sold.

Judge Willets filed his order for foreclosure in the United States Circuit Court Friday with Jas W. Wilson deputy clerk. The railroad property is worth several millions of dollars and if settlement is not made in the allotted time it must be sold.

FOR GOOD ROADS

Several of the enterprising citizens who are interested in the good roads question are about to experiment with a preparation of Crude Oil on West Chicago St. for a space of two blocks.

The results will be watched with interest by the people of Tecumseh. This is done by individuals and is no expense to the village, but it is hoped that the success of the enterprise will be such that the Common Council will take it up for consideration.

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of mine? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

CHURCH BANQUET.

The banquet at the Christian church on Friday evening given to the church and their friends was a well planned affair and most heartily enjoyed by the large gathering. Supper was served from six o'clock until nearly nine o'clock before all had been served. After the supper the merry guests were called to the church auditorium where a well arranged program was rendered consisting of several selections by the big chorus choir of forty voices, a ladies trio, boys chorus, piano duet, and solo made up the musical part of the program; then the audience enjoyed two most excellent readings given by Miss Sylvia Pilbeam, and Miss Wanda Scott of the Pittsburg school of dramatic culture; both the readings were most excellent and most favorably received. The people departed at 10:30 for their homes well pleased with the social evening throughout.

Trick That Texas Hogs Know.

A few days ago two prominent citizens of Whitney, Major J. K. Dunn and Matt McGown, visited a large plum orchard situated four miles from town with the idea of gathering a basketful of the fruit. Upon arriving at the orchard they noticed that the bark of the trees was bruised and torn a foot or more from the ground. As all the trees seemed to be in this condition they began to wonder what could have been the cause.

Finally they noticed a number of hogs in the orchard and the truth began to dawn upon the amazed visitors that the hogs had been shaking the trees to cause the plums to fall. Upon further investigation they found that the smaller trees had been ridden down by the hogs and stripped of all their fruit. From the markings on the trees there can be no mistake but that the hogs had learned in some way or other that shaking the trees would cause the ripe fruit to fall—Dallas News.

A GREAT DIARY COW

Missouri Chief Josephine, has broken the record in her native state as a milk producer. At four years of age she produced 92.7 pounds of milk in one day, or the equal of forty-seven quarts. At the Missouri State Fair last fall, she was placed in a prettily decorated booth, with forty-seven quart bottles filled with milk, representing her day's production, arranged in pyramidal form above her. Her year's record is 15,474 pounds of milk. This is equal to 7,710 quarts of milk.

On this number of quarts twenty-one babies could subsist and thrive for one year. Made into butter it would supply five average families a year. The milk turned into cash would send the farmer's son to an agricultural college for two years. This fine cow is a Holstein.

A Long Root.

The length to which the roots of trees may grow is shown by a fragment of an elm root which was over fourteen feet long. It was only three-sixteenths of an inch in diameter at the large end. It was cut off by a plough at some distance from the tree, so that the size of the remainder is unknown.

The tree grew at the edge of a piece of woods, and the soil of the adjacent cultivated field is rather poor and dry. The American elm loves a rich, moist soil, and this slender root may have grown to this extreme length in an effort to find more favorable feeding conditions than those afforded by the poor soil in which it grew.—St. Nicholas.

Don't think that piles can,t be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense; simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

CHINESE FAN MAKING.

Writing of fanmaking in southern China, Consul Pontius, at Swatow, says:

"This industry was started centuries ago in the village of Pengchow, at Ampow, about three miles from Swatow. It was formerly confined to women in various householders, but for many years past every family in the village has been devoted to the work, all the members of the families being occupied in the manufacture. In the city of Chaochowfu itself the fan industry is also large, but the Pengchow district abounds in a particular kind of bamboo especially suitable for the ribs and handle, and to this fact is the large output of the latter place attributed.

"Only the open fan is manufactured in this district. For the frame the split bamboo is repeatedly rived until each piece is sufficiently slender and flexible. These thread-like pieces of bamboo are arranged in a row, attached to each other by a thread passed crosswise through the middle. This thread is fastened to a semi-circular strip of bamboo, giving the fan its shape. The ribs are then slightly heated and bent at the ends. The fan has now the peculiar and characteristic shell-like shape at the top. Very flimsy silk gauze is then pasted on the face and a kind of tissue-like paper on the back. After the handle is attached, the border of the fan is black varnished and the gauze is coated with a chalk and water mixture. The handles are made of bamboo, various kinds of hard wood bone and ivory. The handpainting on the fan is cleverly done, in some instances being works of art. The medium quality fan retails for 25 cents Mexican (10 cents gold,) better grades $1 to $4 Mexican (40 cents to $1.60.) The export syearly now amount to about $50,000. The fan trade of late has shown a decrease, due to the importation of Japanese straw fans, which have met with a favorite demand."

THE WEIGHT OF THE EARTH.

The earth weighs 13,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 pounds. In a strict sense of the word the earth has no weight at all, because the weight is really the pull of the earth itself on any other body.

And as the earth is thought to be pulling on all parts of itself equally in all directions, the net result is, of course, no pull at all. But if a large pair of scales be fixed at some point of the earth's surface, and if the earth could be brought up bit by bit, cubic foot by cubic foot, weighed and then returned to its place, it could be weighed. And the result would be as given. However, when we talk of the weight of the earth, we really mean its mass.

The possibility of finding the mass of the earth is due to Newton. For he taught that bodies pulled each other with force depending solely upon their mass and their distance apart. He showed the way, and ten years after his death the first real weighing experiment was made. A succession of experiments resulted in the density of the earth being determined at 4 1-2. Then came the investigations of Mitchell and Cavendish, and finally those of Prof. Boys, who found that the earth was 5.521 times the density of water.

The weight of a cubic foot of water is about 66 1-2 pounds. And the average weight of a cubic foot of earth is about 350 pounds, or about five and a half times as much as the cubic foot of water. But this is quite imaginary, for specimens of the earth can be obtained only by mere scratches upon its surface. It has been shown by the pendulum that the earth's pull varies at different points on its surface. By timing the same pendulum at different parts of the surface it can be found out how the weight varies from point to point.

PLAN YOUR GARDEN FOR BEST RESULTS

It is a grave mistake to suppose that a garden plot will go on forever raising the same vegetables. If we have only a small plot of ground it is impossible to move our garden bodily, but we can change our vegetables to another part of this little plot—and where we planted peas and beans last year plant lettuce this year.

A Plan for a Farm Garden Suggested by the Government.

In the fall it is a very good plan to cover the garden with stable-manure and have it spaded in lightly. In the spring cover the garden with a good supply of well-decayed manure and have it spaded in, early in the season. As one crop of vegetables of a certain kind is disposed of, plant something in a different order.

The Cost of Producing Eggs

Very few poultry-keepers know how much the eggs produced by their flocks cost them. They accept the common dictum that poultry is profitable but do not know how much it costs them to produce a dozen eggs.

On most farms it is impossible to arrive at a very exact estimate of the cost of caring for the fowls kept on it, because this work is a part of the general routine, but when it comes to estimating the "feed-cost" of eggs we have some very reliable figures on which to base estimates.

In the great Australian Laying Competitions the accounts kept show exactly how many eggs were produced and how much the feed consumed by the hens cost. In the several competitions from 300 to 600 hens were entered and kept in confinement for a year, strict account being kept with them.

In one there were 300 hens in the annual contest. These were divided into 50 pens of six hens each, no males being kept with them.

These 300 hens produced during the year 54,070 eggs, equal to almost exactly 180 each, or 15 dozen average to each hen. The cost of keeping them one year was as follows, counting the English pound Sterling at $4.86 American money: Bran and shorts, $194.40; grain-wheat and corn, mostly, $321.70; meat—largely ox livers, $14.58; green feed—chopped alfalfa, $19.44; shell, $19.44; sundries, $4.86; total feed—cost, $549.18.

The average price of eggs in Australia for the year was about 30¼ cents per dozen, the total receipts being $1,397.70. The feed cost of these eggs was almost exactly 12.6 cents per dozen, the price of feed not being very much different from prices for the same feeds in this country.

A series of experiments in Canada, where two flocks were used during a period of four months showed somewhat different results. In this experiment each flock contained twelve hens and a cock. One flock was pure-bred by Plymouth Rocks and the other was pure-bred Andalusians.

The Plymouth Rocks produced eggs at an average cost of 6 1-3 cents and the Andalusians at an average cost of 5 4-10 cents per dozen.

The feed was oats, wheat, meat, bone and a mash made of equal parts of shorts and ground oats, mixed with skimmed milk. The method was grain in the morning, scattered in deep litter; meat at noon four times a week. No noon feed was given on the days meat was not fed; mash at four in the afternoon and an hour before dark a little whole grain, scattered in the litter.

These hens were kept confined and the experiment was conducted during the most favorable time in the year for egg production. Those same hens at liberty on a farm would have produced the same number of eggs at about half the feed-cost.

It is quite probable that the farmer who feeds his hens properly and regularly produces eggs at a cost of about 8 to 10 cents a dozen. All he receives above this price he may reckon on as profit or as pay for his time in caring for his hens.

Asparagus and Rhubarb Easily Grown.

Asparagus and rhubarb are too delicious vegetables that even the most careless farmer may have in abundance if he gives them a chance to grow. Both contain medicinal qualities of the highest value. Asparagus is one of the best remedies for kidney troubles, and rhubarb takes the place of nauseous physic in putting the system in good working order without violently disturbing the functions. A small plot devoted to each of these will be a good investment, and there is time enough to make a start this year.

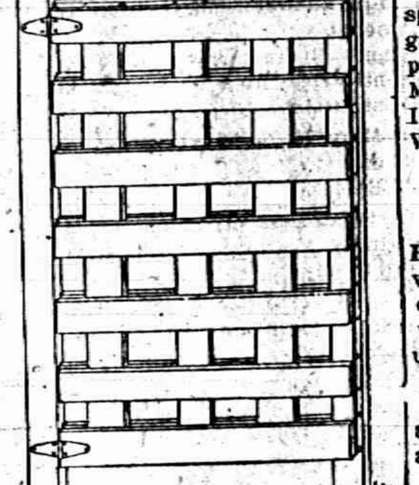
GOOD FARM GATE EASILY ERECTED

Take board strips one inch thick, three inches broad and the proper length and width you want your gate, nail them across each other as shown in the illustration, making about three inch cracks.

Then take the same size and width pieces and double the crosses, nailing securely. A half pound of No. 8 nails will do the work.



Use ordinary light hinges. Use seven cross pieces, and then by doubling these, which is absolutely necessary, you will have to use fourteen, with four pieces lengthwise, making a total of eighteen pieces. This makes a cheap and very durable gate. In making the latch, use any convenient method.

Improvement of Dairy Herds

Every farmer is interested in his herd of dairy cows because of the money the cows bring him. Very few farmers, however, have any knowledge of what their cows are doing. Most of the farmers judge of the quality of their cows from the amount of milk each one gives. If she gives a large mess of milk she is usually "the best cow on the farm," and if a small mess she is not a "very good cow." This is an unscientific way of judging of the individual cow or the herd. To help farmers upon a higher plane of dairying has been a study of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture for several years. Through a long series of experiments the department has found that the testing of individual cows, weighing their milk and testing it is practical and necessary if one is to breed up his herd intelligently. The department now recommends the organization of co-operative cow testing associations in any neighborhood where a sufficient number of cows is kept. This is not a hard matter to do. Let fifteen or twenty farmers join together in a neighborly way and sign an agreement to stand by each other for a year, agreeing to pay $1.00 or a $1.50 per year per cow for some one who shall make it his duty to appear at each farm once a month for a year, at milking time, see the cows milked, weigh their milk, test it, and make a record of each cow's work and leave it with her owner. In this way a practical man thoroughly acquainted with the work can be employed to give his experience to the dairyman at so low a cost as to make his employment a necessity to every owner of a considerable number of cows. Some may say they can't afford the cost. A few non-paying cows will in a year cost more than the expense of having the herd tested for a similar period. If a cow isn't worth the feed and care she requires the farmer should know it. If she is a paying cow he should know it and breed her to a sire of pronounced qualities and thus build up his herd to a standard of excellence and profit. Good dairy cows are seldom in the market. People as a rule do not sell such cows, or if so they sell at an exhorbitant price few farmers can afford to pay. So the really practical and economical way to get a paying herd is to breed up to it from sires of such excellence as to leave no question as to the dairy merit of their offspring, beginning with the best cows in the herd as mothers and discarding those of inferior quality.

The tester can visit one herd one day and then the farmer can take him to the next, and so on until he has gone the rounds of the neighborhood once each month. At the end of the year each farmer will have a record showing a losing or winning game on the part of each cow, besides having been educated in various branches of the industry. A limited number of cow testing associations have been organized in Minnesota and the farmers are pleased with the results.

FOREST FIRES RAGE IN U. P.

Fierce Flames Are Sweeping Four Counties.

Calumet, Mich., May 9.—Fierce forest fires are raging through parts of Houghton, Ontonagon, Keeweenaw and Baraga counties, especially about Rockland, Chassell and L'Anse villages and Otter Lake, in the center of a rich farming district.

Three farmers were burned out Monday at Otter Lake. Chassell was entirely surrounded by flames, but residents of the town succeeded in checking the conflagration at the edges of the town. Cinders falling in the village fired two residences and the railroad station, but the blazes were quickly extinguished. The fires at Chassell are believed to have been started by farmers clearing land. High winds fanned the flames two days. Wire communication was cut off.

At L'Anse a number of barns and other buildings were destroyed and considerable lumber burned.

Fires have started in the timber west of Calumet on the shores of Lake Superior. Lower Lake Superior is covered with dense smoke. No rain has fallen this spring in this district, and the woods are very dry

TWO COUNTIES DECLARED WET

Supreme Court Renders Decisions on Recent Elections.

Lansing, Mich., May 9.—Saloons will reopen in Genesee and Calhoun counties under the decision of the supreme court handed down here. In the Genesee case the question was as to whether the board could go back of the returns by the election inspectors. The court says the statute confers no such authority on the board, and directs the board to reconvene and announce the result in accordance with the returns, which gave a majority of 81 against the decree.

A similar question was raised in the Calhoun county case, and the court sustained the circuit court in holding that blank and rejected votes cannot be considered in determining the number of votes cast.

The wets won in Calhoun by a majority of 25.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY.

Domestic Swears Wife Put Powder in Husband's Coffee.

Rockland, Mich., May 9.—Sensational testimony was given Monday at the inquest into the death of Charles Stannard, who died two months ago. Grace Hames, a domestic in the Stannard home, testified that Mrs. Stannard had mixed some powder in the milk for her husband's coffee, saying it was to cure him of the drink habit. Stannard complained of the coffee being bitter, poured it out and found a pink sediment in the bottom of the cup. He said he believed he was poisoned and died shortly afterward in convulsions.

The examination of the viscera of the dead man by Dr. V. C. Vaughan of Ann Arbor showed the presence of strychnine in large quantities

ANNIHILATES OWN FAMILY

Wife, Two Children and Self Victims of Luther Man.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF DEED

Frenzied Man Had Been Drinking Heavily For Weeks—After Getting Son From School, Drove to Where Wife and Daughter Were Staying, and Tragedy Occurred There.

Luther, Mich., May 9.—In a fit of jealous frenzy, Casey Van Lieren, aged thirty-four, a farmer, two miles west of here, shot and killed his wife, his twelve-year-old son, Lloyd, and his six-year-old daughter, Thelma, and then shot himself in the head, dying instantly.

Van Lieren had been drinking heavily, and five weeks ago his wife left him. He drove to school and got his son and then drove to the farm home of Ruby Jubling, where his wife and daughter were staying.

After a spirited talk with his wife, in which it is supposed she refused to return and live with him, he shot her dead. He then turned his gun upon his son and daughter. Both children died almost instantly. He then placed the gun to his own head and sent a bullet through his brain. He was dead when picked up.

TWO CHILDREN DROWN IN CISTERNS

Little Tots Fall to Their Deaths Through Well Openings.

Vassar, Mich., May 7.—Ina Morse, four years old, and her brother, Tarbel, seventeen months old, while playing in the yard of their home here, fell into a cistern. The children's screams brought the father, Lee Morse, to the scene. He climbed into the cistern and took out both children. The girl was dead. Doctors saved the boy

Owosso, Mich., May 8.—When little Florence A. Nelson, the four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Clara Nelson, fell into a cistern here while sitting on the edge trying to reach the water with her bare feet, one of her playmates about the same age, clapped the cistern cover down and left the child to drown. When Mrs. Nelson missed her child and went to look for her, she was confronted by young Charles Fulz, who in answer to an anxious question, said: "Florence is in the water, but you mustn't take the cover off." Neighbors came to her aid, and the dead body was recovered from about eight feet of water.

The auditor general gave out figures showing that the state tax for the next two years will probably be $11,566,082 as compared with $10,558,719.81 for the previous two years.

MOURNING FOR KING EDWARD ENDS

Coronation Season Opens In London This Week.

London (Special).—The court mourning for King Edward was ended last Saturday, the first anniversary of the death of the monarch. The occasion was commemorated with a memorial service at Windsor, which was attended by the Queen Mother Alexandra, King George, Queen Mary and practically all of the royal family and the members of the late king's household. The accession of King George was celebrated with the customary naval and military salutes and the dressing of the warships.

The coronation year season, which it is expected will be the most brilliant in British history, opened Monday, when King George attended the Newmarket races for the first time since his accession. Tuesday and Wednesday their majesties held court at Buckingham palace. The festival of the empire will be opened at the Crystal palace by the king and queen on Friday.

The following week will witness the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the memorial to Queen Victoria and the visit of Emperor William and Empress Auguste Victoria. From then on until the middle of July there will be scarcely a day without some function in which the king and queen will participate.

TAFT DON'T SCARE.

Tells Hull Party Farmers Can Renounce Party if They So Desire.

Washington (Special).—President Taft indulged in some plain talk in explaining to 25 members of the national grange that he does not intend to play politics with the Canadian reciprocity agreement even if the enactment of that measure by congress costs him the farmer vote in 1912.

The president told his visitors bluntly that he was sorry to hear that Republican farmers would desert the party if the agreement goes through, but fear of such desertion would not change his conviction as to the wisdom of such legislation. He said that he believed reciprocity to be the best thing for the whole country and that he did not intend to argue it.

N. P. Hull, master of the Michigan grange, who was spokesman for the farmers, intimated strongly that the farmer doesn't like reciprocity and that Republican voters are likely to be lost if it is passed.

Consideration of Canadian reciprocity began in earnest Monday on the senate side of the capitol when the committee on finance took up the bill.

MEXICAN BULLETS HIT 17 AMERICANS

Many Other El Paso Citizens Narrowly Escape Death.

U. S. INTERVENTION, POSSIBLY

City of Juarez Partially Captured by Insurrectos, and Fighting Still Continues—Diaz Announces Intention of Resigning, "When Rebellion Is Ended."

El Paso (Special).—Five Americans have been killed and twelve wounded by Mexican bullets fired across the river during the desperate fighting at Juarez, Monday, between insurrectos and federal troops.

These seventeen American citizens were all on United States territory, and most of them were in the streets of this city or on private grounds.

Scores had narrow escapes and during many hours hundreds of bullets poured into the city, pattering against stone work and piercing wooden walls.

This city is in a state of terror, and there is a unanimous demand that United States officials do something to provide protection for peaceful Americans in their homes.

Colonel Steever, commanding the United States forces here, made repeated protests to the commanders of the Mexican federals and insurrectos, but without avail. He says he can do nothing more as his hands are completely tied by orders from Washington.

The president's attitude as to intervention is just what it has been since the troops were sent to Texas. Without action of congress there can be no intervention.

The insurrectos gained a partial victory in the battle Monday, occupying all the outskirts of the city and the bull ring, and captured the bridges and customs houses.

Juarez looks as if a hurricane had struck it. Wires are suspended from jagged telegraph poles and the streets are filled with plaster, adobe debris, window glass and splinters

Diaz Says He Will Resign.

Mexico City (Special).—President Porfirio Diaz issued a manifesto to the people of Mexico last Saturday declaring his intention to resign the presidency as soon as peace is restored. As to when peace actually is restored Diaz reserves the right to be the judge. In the words of the manifesto, it will be "when, according to the dictates of my conscience, I am sure that my resignation will not be followed by anarchy."

Substantially half the amount has been melted into bullion at the treasury office and the remainder is deposited in the sub-treasury. The gold is all of recent coinage

OUR STATE TAX FOR 1911

AS GIVEN OUT BY AUDITOR-GENERAL FULLER IS $11,566,082

As Compared With The 1910 Tax Which Was $4,729,000

LANSING, Mich., May 10.—Auditor-General Fuller has completed an estimate of the state tax which will be necessary as a result of the appropriation by the legislature as reduced by the cuts made by Gov. Osborn in several items. The auditor-general gave out figures yesterday showing that the state tax for the next two years will probably be $11,566,082, as compared with $10,658,719.81 for the previous two years.

The tax for 1909 was $5,929,719 and for 1910 it was $4,729,000. For 1911 it is estimated at $6,257,372.71 and for 1912 at $5,026,709.90. In addition the university is entitled to a three-eights of a mill tax on the equalized value of the state and the agricultural college to a one-tenth of mill tax. It is expected that the equalized value of the state will be increased to $2,000,000 this year, which will increase the tax levy for the benefit of these two institutions to $128,000.

There must also be added approximately $13,000 to provide the funds for a state aid of county schools of agriculture and for inspection of contagious diseases.

Approximately $536,000 was included in the budget to provide for the deficit in the state treasury. The auditor-general recommended a budget of $11,762,123.

SUPREME COURT DECIDES APPEALS

IDA B. HINKLEY AND SUIT OF SMITH AGAINST NELSON SUITS IN LITIGATION OF LONG STANDING

The case of Ida B. Hinkley against the Wabash has been in courts since 1908, in which she took action to recover for a fatal accident on a railroad crossing when her mother and lover, Mr. Stamp were killed. The decision handed down Monday confirms the judgement of $2100 to the defendant. In the case of Smith vs. Nelson, where a bill had been filed restraining the Nelson's from taking possession of a farm they had sold to Smith on contract and which he had failed to pay for. Judge O'Mealy in Circuit Court dismissed the bill and the upper Court sustained the ruling.

FOUND DROUND

Jackson, Mich., May 9.—The body of a man believed to be Donald Babcock, of Napoleon, Mich., was found in Michigan Center lake about nine miles east of Jackson today. The neck was broken and there was a bruise on the forehead. An autopsy will be held Wednesday and an inquest Saturday. It is thought the man may have been caused by jumping from a nearby bridge, Babcock, who is 65 years old, formerly lived near the lake with relatives, but the family moved away some time ago. His daughter was communicated with by telephone and she said that her father left a week ago for a for a visit with a relative at Tecumseh, Mich., and she had not heard from him since. There was $2.72 on the body when it was found.

—Detroit News

Mr. Babock is the father of Mrs Floyd Freeman and left Tecumseh on the 6:20 p. m. train Monday presumably for the home of his daughter near Napoleon. He was brought to Clinton for burial Thursday.

THE FRIENDLY TOWNSEND

GETS A SARCASTIC WRITE UP IN LAST WEEKS SATURDAY EVENING POST

In the last issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Senator Chas. E. Townsend was the subject of some very sarcastic remarks. Reforming to ex-senator J. C. Burroughs they go on to say "For 27 long years he has contributed to the support of the grand old tenets of the 'Grand Old Party' and was held forth in every place that demanded a noise Insurgency springing up in the party. Charles Elroy Townsend proceeded to do some spreading and eagling himself, 'Seek no farther', he cried 'What's the matter with me?'"

The article goes on to state that "Townsend handles himself very well when he is on his feet". "And it will be great to see him in the senate—with La Follette and Bristow and Bourne and the other irreconcilables raging on one side, and Penrose and Crane and Warren and Brandegee and the remaining regulars standing pat on the other—walking circumspectly down the middle of the road; smiling first on one hand and then the other; maintaining his equilibrium, no matter how he may be pulled or shoved; insurging on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays standing pat on Tuesdays, Thursday Saturdays; clinging to the best of the past and hoping for the future: appreciating the mighty responsibility that rests on a senator from Michigan; friendly to all and hostile to none; calmly nugacious and neutral." It is a bitter pill for Michigan Republicans to down this tirade against "our Charlie," but we have hopes that when he "travels down that aisle" between those soul awing senators he will be able to prove that he is It and Michigan I proud to own him.

People who have catarrh should use every effort to get rid of it, but should above all adopt a sensible method

Stomach dosing, sppays and doucees won't cure catarrh because it is a germ disease, and the germs must be destroyed before the disease can be quered.

HYOMEI is the one sensible cure for catarrh because it reaches every fold crevice and nook in the mucous membrane and gets where the germs are You breathe HYOMEI and as it passes over the inflamed membrane its soothing influence heals the soreness and destroys the germs

A complete HYOMEI outfit costs $1.00. This consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber inhaler. Pour a few drops of HYOMEI into the inhaler and breathe it a few minutes each day, that's all you have to do. It is guarantee by C. A. THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of mine? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and may induce deadly typhoid. Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense: Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

"Is there a preacher on this train?" asked a large, dark visaged man as he passed from one sleeper to another. At last, after he had loudly repeated his query for the fifth or sixth time, a grave-looking gentleman laid aside a book and rose up from a seat near one end of the car. "I have the privilege of being a minister of the gospel, sir," he said. "Can I be of any service to you?"

"Yes," said the large passenger. "A fellow back in the dining car has bet me $5 that it wasn't Lot's wife who got Joseph into trouble, and I thought you might have a Bible with you, so I could prove he was wrong and get the money."—Chicago Record-Herald.

It Did Not Pay.

"Son," called the farmer as the aroma of eggs and ham came up through the trapdoor, "why don't you get up?"

"What's the use?" yawned the college boy as he turned over for another nap. "Don't believe in early rising."

"Don't eh? Well, how about the early bird?"

"Oh, that's a chestnut. The early bird caught the early worm, and the early cat caught the bird, and the early dog caught the cat, and the early dog catcher caught the dog. So there you are. What's the use of getting up early? It doesn't pay."—Chicago News.

Just as Deserving.

"So you were deeply touched by the poem young Mr. Guffsum wrote to you?"

"Yes," answered Maymie.

"But it was not a good poem."

"I don't care. It was just as much trouble for him to write it as if he had been Shakespeare." — Washington Star.

Simple Answer.

A school teacher in one of the lower grades once asked her room, "What is wind?"

After a thoughtful pause, a small hand was raised. "Well, Robert, what is your answer?"

"Why-er, wind is the air when it gets in a hurry," answered Robert.—Delineator.

Her Disagreeable Ways.

"She's such an impolite child."

"Impolite?"

"Yes, and impudent. She is always correcting the pronunciation of persons older than herself."

"But isn't she generally right?"

"Yes, but that makes it all the more disagreeable, you know."

Of Course.

First Summer Girl—My physician told me never to go into the water after a hearty meal.

Second Summer Girl—Most people know that much without being told. When I want a hearty meal I hope I know enough to go into a restaurant after it."—Chicago News.

Pipe Dreams.

"My uncle used to smoke his pipe and blow smoke rings that would float across the room and ring the door-knob."

"My uncle," said the other liar, dreamily, "used to blow some that would ring the door-bell."—Puck.

Breaking It Gently.

Her—"Richard! Why on earth are you cutting your pie with a knife?"

Him—"Because, darling—now, understand, I'm not finding any fault, for I know that these little oversights will occur—because you forgot to give me a can-opener."—Cleveland Leader.

Probably.

"How do you suppose the Venus lost her arms?"

"She evidently dropped them to grab her bath robe which you can see is slipping off."—Houston Post.

Just as Good.

She—"Oh. George, you've broken your promise!"

The Cheerful One—"Never mind, dearie; I'll make you another!"—Comic Cuts.

MRS. TAFT ILL IN NEW YORK

Recurrence of Nervous Trouble She Has Had Before.

CHANGE IN HUSBAND'S PLANS

Executive Fills Engagement to Speak to Railway Trainmen in Harrisburg, Pa., but Cuts His Stay There Short.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 15. — The unfortunate recurrence of Mrs. Taft's nervous trouble while at the home of Henry W. Taft, in New York, caused a curtailment in the program arranged for the president's stay in Harrisburg as the guest of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

After delivering his address to the trainmen's convention the president returned to his private car and left for New York in order that he might be with Mrs. Taft. It had been Mrs. Taft's intention to accompany the president here, but her condition compelled her to remain in New York.

The president was at first inclined to cancel the engagement, but later decided to deliver his address to the convention and return at once.

The physicians assured the president that Mrs. Taft's illness was not serious and he feared that a sudden cancellation of his engagement might give ground to reports as to her condition. It was the president's intention to return from New York to Washington today, but this plan is entirely contingent upon Mrs. Taft's wishes.

She will probably stay in New York for three or four days and if she desires the president to remain with her, he will do so unless affairs in Washington make his presence there imperative.

Dr. Evans says Mrs. Taft's illness is nothing at all dangerous.

ALABAMA NEGRO SLAIN BY POSSE

Murderer Barricades Himself in Cabin after Pursuit.

OFFICERS SET FIRE TO SHACK

Desperate Man Shoots Down Five Pursuers and Is Himself Finally Torn to Pieces by Volley of Bullets.

Montgomery, Ala., May 15.—Barricaded in a cabin, Tom Benson, a negro, for long successfully defied a posse which sought to arrest him for killing Peter Folls, another negro. He shot down five of his pursuers and only ceased to fight when the posse finally set fire to the cabin.

Jake Primus, a negro, and Eugene Nobbel, Harry McCord, Owen Ellis and James Alford, white, deputy sheriffs, were wounded by Benson. Nobbel, McCord and Ellis and the negro Primus will die.

Benson killed Folls about twelve miles from Montgomery and fled. Sheriff Hood summoned a posse and chased Benson in automobiles. The negro took refuge in a cabin and the posse opened fire on the hut, the negro returning it and shooting down deputy after deputy.

After two hours of firing, a member of the posse managed to fire the cabin. As the flames leaped up the cabin, the negro, who was wounded, dashed through the door, being met by a volley. The negro fell just outside the cabin and as he fell shot Deputy McCord in the abdomen. The posse then poured in another volley, literally tearing the negro's body to pieces.

CITY OF MEXICO EXPECTS ATTACK

Likely to Come within Fortnight if Rebel Plans Prosper.

DEFENSE BOUND TO BE WEAK

Internal Uprising Is Practically Certain if Assault Is Made, and Rebel Sympathizers Have Imported Arms.

Mexico City, May 15.—The armistice arranged between the government and Figueroa, commanding the rebels in Guerrero, has been broken and there is a strong possibility of an attack upon Mexico City within two weeks if the rebel plans materialize.

Miranda, leading 4,000 rebels, left Buena Vista for Iguala, which is fifteen miles distant. He expected that little trouble would be encountered in taking the town as the garrison there is small. The rebels are well armed. As telegraphic communication has been interrupted it is expected that it will be several days before news of the battle will reach here.

One report has it that there are 800 rebels at Buena Vista, 3,000 at Huitzuco, and 6,000 coming from Acapulco. There are 2,000 more under the command of the Amazon La Neri. Her forces are stationed at Chilpancingo, awaiting reinforcements before attacking the town. There is a large number of women among La Neri's force and also a considerable number enlisted with Miranda as regular soldiers, who can shoot and ride almost as well as men.

Reports say that La Neri herself is worshipped by her men and comes of a high class family. She appears to be a natural leader and has absolute command of her forces.

It is acknowledged even in government circles here that if the city is attacked there will be an internal uprising to help the invaders. It is believed that there is a considerable number of army officers stationed here who are in communication with Madero and who when the word is given are ready to rise with their men against the government.

Besides this the police have been searching for a large consignment of arms known to have arrived here some weeks go. They have been unable to find the arms, but it is known that they are for use against the government in case the city is attacked.

As the garrison of Mexico City has been greatly depleted in order to send troops to various points in the republic where they are urgently needed, it seems impossible that Diaz will be able to make a strong opposition against a determined attack by a considerable army. Another serious menace is the fact that the rebels hold Huachinango, where are located the transmission lines that bring light and power to Mexico City, which they can shut off at pleasure if rebels desire to attack the city in darkness.

SON OF BAYARD DIES

Either Falls or Jumps from Window of Washington Hospital.

Washington, May 15. — Philip Bayard of Wilmington, Del., son of the late Thomas F. Bayard, secretary of state and ambassador to England under Cleveland died at Garfield hospital. Coroner Nevitt has ordered an investigation.

Mr. Bayard has been a patient at the hospital since Friday. He either jumped or fell from the window of his room on the third floor to the second floor veranda where he was found in a semi-conscious condition. Careful examination failed to indicate that Mr. Bayard had received any serious injury from his fall, but at 5:30 a. m. he suddenly collapsed and died. His ailment had been diagnosed as uremic poisoning.

FIREBUGS BURN "Q" YARDS

Barstow Scene of Sixth Mysterious Fire on Road's Property.

Sterling, Ill., May 15. — The stockyards and several boarding cars at Barstow were destroyed by fire. It is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

This makes the sixth fire of mysterious nature that has occurred to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy property in the western part of Whiteside county and the northern part of Rock Island county. The depot at Hillsdale was destroyed a week ago, and a new depot erected on the same site was burned Wednesday night. Two depots at Garden Plain have been burned recently. The destruction is said to be due to enmity against the company for hiring foreign section men.

RACING MACHINES CRASH

During the races a colored boy named George McRoberts, 19, went in bathing in the small lake in the center of the track and was drowned.

Vandals Destroy Art Books.

Marion, Ind., May 15.—Vandals have destroyed a number of costly art books in the local public library. Prosecutions will probably result.

Killed in Railway Collision.

Michigan City, Ind., May 15.—W. W. Bailey, a brakeman, was killed and John Deiderich, a farmer, and his daughter were seriously injured when a Lake Erie & Western freight train, northbound, struck the farmer's buggy at a highway crossing. Brakeman Bailey was riding on the engine pilot and the farmer's horse was thrown on him. His neck was broken.

Guilty of Attempted Murder.

Sullivan, Ind., May 15.—A jury in circuit court found Jesse Southerland guilty of attempting to murder Melvin Webster in a saloon at Star City five years ago, by stabbing him with a knife, and Judge Bridwell sentenced him to the penitentiary for from two to fourteen years.

FEW GOOD DON'TS FOR DAIRYMEN

Do not expect clean, pure milk, cream or butter, if you milk in a half-washed pail, with dirty hands.

Don't look for your cows to return you much milk when you throw them nothing but a few bunches of dry hay or fodder now and then. Mixed feed pays.

Don't hurry through with the milking in order to get at some other work about the farm. Nothing so quickly and surely ruins the dairy as slighting or neglecting it.

Do not allow strangers nor inexperienced persons to milk your cows. A cow soon gets used to a regular milker, and it is to that one person she reserves the right to pay her tribute in good, rich milk.

Don't dry the cow up by milking only once a day. Better to milk twice a day and shorten up on the amount each time. It will be much better for the cow. Feed less succulent feed.

Don't forget to keep tab on the milk pail. It is the individual cow that counts, not the name nor the breed.

The stomach of the young calf is easily ruined by slip shod methods of feeding it. Remember this when tempted to feed it milk too hot or too cold or in a bucket that is not sweet and clean.

SOME TIMELY HINTS FOR THE DAIRYMAN

The best thing for any dairying locality is the organization of cow test associations.

The animal that pays the best is bound to be in evidence as dairymen become better informed.

It is a mistake to suppose that a good cow of inferior breeding is qualified to drop a good calf.

Never feed hay, or sweep or in any way stir up dust just previous to milking time, for this will contribute to the introduction of bacteria, which contaminates and injures the quality of the milk.

Dirt always contains germs. Therefore wipe all dust from the cow's udder and flanks with a wet cloth before milking begins and see that no dirt has gained entrance to the milking pail.

Separate the cream while the milk is still warm and in cold weather first run hot water through the separator to warm it. Strain the milk into the separator through a wire gauze.

Market Hogs Lighter

The average weight of hogs marketed in recent years is much lighter than in former years; in the decade 1870-1879 the average weight of hogs killed during the winter month in western packing centers was about 275 pounds; in the decade 1880-1889 about 257 pounds; in the decade 1890-1899 about 239 pounds; and in the past decade 1900-1909 about 219 pounds. In other words, hogs marketed between 30 and 40 years ago averaged one-fourth heavier than those marketed in recent years.

FLYING BULLETS

There lived and preached for many years in Rhode Island Elder George Champlin, a colored man, possessed of much common sense, knowledge of his brethren's virtues and failings, and considerable wit.

He had many devoted admirers among his own people, but some of them felt that his sermons were apt to be a little too personal and pointed. One gentle sister was asked to remonstrate with him, and essayed to do so.

"Sister Lou Campton," said the elder firmly when she had made her plea, "when I am preaching I shoot right at de devil, and it's only when somebody gets between me and de mark dat he's liable to be hurt."—N. Y. American.

A LYIN,' ALL RIGHT.

"I was told this horse was like a lion."

"So he is, but in one respect only."

"What is that?"

"He is a roarer."

Clay is called a heavy soil and sand a light soil. This does not refer to weight, however. Light and heavy as applied to soils are terms which refer to the ease or difficulty with which they can be plowed or cultivated.

"My husband is suffering from polaritis."

"Polaritis! What sort of a disease is that?"

"It's a new disease. I'm beginning to doubt everything he tells me."—Detroit Free Press.

"I should say she did. Sixteen spoons, a silver sugar and creamer, a dessert fork and eight wine glasses, all from different hotels, too."—Detroit Free Press.

Husband—M'yes, p'raps she can; but she never does.—Tit Bits.

WOMAN, LOVELY WOMAN, REVOLTS

SHOWER DOWN SCATHING CRITICISM ON HEADS OF DR. SARGENT AND ALEXANDER.

HERE'S WHAT'S SAID

Their Critics Agree That Woman Is Simply Becoming Far Sweeter.

New York, N. Y.—The score today is in favor of "woman, lovely woman." Had they known what a storm they were going to let loose, it is not believed that Dr. Dudley Allen Sargent, director of gymnastics in Harvard university, and John W. Alexander, president of the National Academy of Design, would have made their criticisms of the "increasing mannishness of American women."

Latest reports are to the effect that Sargent is barricaded in his Cambridge, Mass., office and that Alexander is under lock and key in the academy of design building in this city to escape the flare back that is resulting from their attack on the feminity of women.

Following is an epitome of the criticisms by Sargent and Alexander of some of the many replies that they have called forth:

"Woman's physique has become revolutionized and already approaches that of the other sex."—Dr. Sargent.

"If woman continues her violent exercise and outdoor life, in a few years she will become so man-like in figure that she will look ridiculous in woman's attire."—John W. Alexander.

"Women on the street may appear to have larger feet; that is because they no longer wear shoes that pinch. Their waists may appear more ample; that is because they are not lacing themselves.

"Their hips may appear smaller; that is because it is fashionable to wear stays to make their hips flat. But woman is undergoing no actual change toward mannishness."—Harrison Fisher, artist, who has drawn 10,000 women in the past 10 years.

"Our American women may have more generous lines than the woman of 20 years ago—due to reform in dress and the care of their bodies—but they have all the charm of the woman of 20 years ago and of 200 years ago"—Dr. Mary Hoffman Jones.

"We women of today are just beginning to get back to our normal proportions. Of course our hands and feet are larger; we use them more. But the woman of today is just as charming in her feminity as her mother or grandmother."—Miss Elizabeth Burchenal, inspector of athletics of the girls' branch of the public school athletic league.

"Venus is much stouter than we are. We still have lots of room to develop before we acquire her proportions. We simply are arriving at the common sense age."—Miss Louisa Mann Wingate, treasurer of the public school girls' league.

"Dr. Sargent is talking rubbish. What he forgets is that as women develope the sense of the beautiful also develops and women will never let their figures reach the point where they cannot be made to conform to the lines of beauty."—Dr. Adelaide Wallerstein.

"More and more people seem to realize that all around development, mental and physical, makes the best mother, just as it does the best father. Twenty years ago women padded their hips. Ten years ago the straight front came in. Today they are padding their heads."—Miss Abastémia Eberle, the well known woman sculptor.

Mrs. Wise—So you're going to marry and go to housekeeping, eh? Why, you don't know the first thing about keeping house.

Miss Pert—Oh, yes I do.

Mrs. Wise—I'd like to know what?

Miss Pert—The first thing is to get a man to keep house for.

MOTHERS' DAY CELEBRATED

The Union meeting at the Baptist Church Sunday evening in the interest of Mother's Day drew a large audience Mr. Slater and Miss Metta McKinney sang a duet entitled "In the Cross of Christ I Glory."

The choir rendered an anthem in a creditable manner.

The decoration were under the direction of the G. A. R. flags and carnations were freely used. Rev. C. N Kennedy read the scripture, Rev. B. R. Weld offered prayer and Rev. W. B. Hartzog delivered the discourse on "An Ambitious Mother."

Dr. Hartzog paid a loving tribute to mothers and his address abounded in good things and was much appreciated by his audience. White carnations were worn by nearly everyone present as the typical flower for "Mothers' Day."

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

While practicing for the coming Field Meet, Young Ed Sales met with quite a serious accident, he was engaged in "pulling and hauling" and fell a distance of 8 feet, striking on his elbow and breaking the bone. Dr. Conklin made him as comfortable as possible but recommended his going to Ann Arbor for better treatment. He left Saturday morning, Mr. Joe Russell going with him, to render such aid as was needed. We hope he may soon be able to return to his school, as he is one of the June graduates.

Honors The Class of 1861 This Year in an Especial Manner of Decoration Day.

It is just 50 years ago on this day, when Lincoln made his first call for volunteers that his class was about to graduate, not hesitating a second even though there were but a few weeks before their college course would be ended practically the whole class enlisted and marched away, to fight for their country.

Many were killed in war, a few returned afterward to finish their courses. And in honor of these men the day will be fittingly observed with elaborate ceremony.

SCHOOL NOTES

The Hastings Herald gives under head of General News an extract from Pattengills Moderator Topics the following:—Guess we'll have to give the Hastings papers the blue ribbon for school notes. The copy is prepared by students under the direction of a competent teacher. It is crisp, newsy and bulging.

The Herald also gives some of the school notes which are written in good style, and show what can be done with a little practice. This is a good idea for other schools to follow. And if some competent teacher would superyise the writing of school items for the paper, it would be a fine practice for the student and the public would enjoy the school notes when ever printed.

SCHOOL MEETING

A Special Meeting has been called of the legal voters of District No. 7, for the evening of May 18, 1911, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting to be held at the Library Building. This meeting is to consider the proposition of building an addition to the West Branch School building, at an estimated cost of $2,000. Also to discuss such other business that may come before the meeting in this connection.

GOLLMAR BROS, CIRCUS PARADE REVEALS CHARACTER OF SHOW.

The Gollmar Bros. Show which exhibits in Jackson Monday, May 22, features everything connected with it, from the street parade to the concert. The press of other cities have made only the most favorable comment for Gollmar Bros. parade. Even when the show visits territory where it has never been, its magnificent street pageant so agreeably surprises the public that they are sure to crowd the immense tents.

It is in the parade that the management of a circus can show to good advantage the stability and character of the aggregation. If it is a cheap concern, giving only ordinary performances its parade will tell the tale. If it is really meritorious the street display will demonstrate the fact. The splendid equipment of the great Gollmar Bros. Circus is shown to excellent advantage in the big parade, and is always complimented. The horses are in fine trim, and the tableaux, wagons, dens, cages, and chariots are resplendently decorated with costly carvings, gilt and varnish. An unusually large number of dens are open in the parade, and the general public is given a free exhibition of a fine array of wild animals. All in all, it is pronounced by many, the finest and best circus display ever seen upon any streets. But it is in the circus performance that the show excels The parade of the Gollmar Bros. Show will start from the lot at 10 o'clock sharp and traverse the principal streets.

ABNER WILSON

Passed Away Sunday Morning at 1:30 O'Clock, of Valvular Heart Trouble. Aged 63 Yrs. Funeral Tuesday 2:00.

It is sad at anytime to stand beside the bed of the dying and watch life's ebbing tide drifting the loved one slowly, but surely into the great Ocean of Eternity, but especially when the loved one is a husband and father. This has been the sad experience of the past month of Mr. Wilson's loved ones.

Since his return from Florida he has been steadily failing in health until Sunday morning when he passed away at 1:30 o'clock.

Abner Wilson was born and has lived all his life in the vicinity of Tecumseh, and has made a host of warm friends. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, Superintendent in the Sunday school, a member of the Masonic fraternity, and the best neighbor and friend one could have, and few realized how much he gave in charity, many a time in the coldest weather carrying food and fuel to some desolate home, speaking words of comfort and cheer.

We who knew him so well can say, though he is gone his record has been made, and will remain with us as a lasting treasure. His life was gentle, but like the still waters it was deep. In his heart of hearts he carried those he loved, and his hand was never weary, his step never failed, in caring for and ministering to those that were in any way dependent upon him.

The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the house under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

SOMETHING NEW IN CARS

Something new in the car line has been installed on the Ann Arbor R. R. A gasoline motor car, the new car made its first trip from Frankfort to Toledo, a week ago Saturday and a large crowd of people were at the depot to watch its progress. The trip covered two days, as they made stops at all stations, to allow the people to inspect it. The new car is 80 ft. long, bright red, and entirely of steel. The new port hole windows and roof make it look like an inverted torpedo boat.

It is divided into three compartments and the entrance is in the middle of the side, 1 for passengers, 1 for the engine and the third for the smoker, it will accomodate 66 people.

Regular trips are now being made between Toledo and Ann Arbor and there will be a car on each of the five divisions.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE!

A new law is now in force making it obligatory for all rowboats or other crafts, where motors are run to show a white light. Persons who rent any rowboat or canoe, are held responsible The responsibility of the owner ends when he has placed a latern on the boat for the use of those who rent it.

In commenting on this the Manchester Enterprize remarks: "It is a safeguard against accident to those who e mind is far away when rowing, sailing, or paddling with just one other occupant in the craft." A violation of this law has been made a misdemeanor and a fine of not less than $25 or more than $250 can be imposed with a jail sentence if the violation is repeated. If the law is enforced as it should be this will prove a prevention of the serious accidents that so often occur.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs. Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since. Use this safe, sure remedy only 50c. at C. A. Wright & Son.

THE SPICE OF LIFE

The Balm That Failed.

"No, I don't go to church very often," a young man declared to the girl whom he had accompanied to a house of worship in Dauphin street, Sunday evening, "but when I do go I make up for my absences by slipping a five dollar gold piece in the offering.

"I don't think I have been to church in six months, so that sort of squares me," he whispered, when he dropped a coin about the size of a five dollar gold piece in the box as the usher passed it.

At the close of the service the minister arose and announced: "The collection for foreign missions this evening amounted to $3.25."

The young man didn't have much to say on the homeward walk.—Philadelphia Times.

Hot Finish.

The wise and industrous father was chiding his son about his procrastination.

"You are always late," scolded the senior. "Why don't you be like the early bird? You know, these days the first come are the first served."

"That may be pop," laughed the frivolous youngster, "but I don't want to be like the early bird. He generally gets served on toast."

Constipation Cure Free

With the first signs of constipation you resort to the home methods of relief, such as hot or cold water on arising, lots of stewed fruit with your breakfast, etc., but what do you do when these fail?

The majority then start on salts and purgative waters, then change to cathartic pills, etc. If you have gone through these various stages you know they were all useless, so far as permanent results go. Now you should try just once again, but try something practical and sensible, a remedy made and intended for the purpose you are trying to accomplish. Such a remedy, as thousands can testify, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is guaranteed to be permanent in its results. Its ingredients are such that by a brief use of it the stomach and bowel muscles are trained to again do their work normally, so that in the end you can do away with medicines of all kinds. That it will do this Mr. G. Y. Dodson of Sanville, Va., will gladly attest, and so will Mrs. S. A. Hampton of Portage, O.

To those who are still skeptical there is a way to prove these assertions without a penny of expense. Simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and obtain a free sample bottle. After using it, if you are then convinced it is the remedy you need, buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of your druggist and continue to use it for a brief time until cured. The directions are simple and the dose is small. It is pleasant to the taste, does not gripe and is promptly effective, and these statements are guaranteed or money will be refunded.

This remedy is over a quarter of a century old and is personally taken by more druggists than any other similar remedy on the American market. Because of its effectiveness, purity and pleasant taste it is the ideal laxative remedy for children, women and old folks generally.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

BIG BUILDING TIE-UP

Work on 1,200 Chicago Structures Is Halted.

Strike of the Brickmakers Causes the Supply To Be Exhausted—Other Trades Paralyzed.

Chicago, May 15.—Fifteen thousand men are idle in the busiest season of the year and buildings contracted for to cost $35,000,000 are practically tied up as the result of the petty jurisdictional war being waged between the plumbers and the steamfitters. Every trade in the building industry is paralyzed and work on 1,200 buildings is halted.

The strike of brickmakers also is adding greatly to the tie-up. Hundreds of men reported for work only to be told there was nothing to do.

"We have no brick," was the remark of the foremen.

The brickmakers' strike, which involves workmen in every brickyard within a radius of seventy miles from Chicago, began three weeks ago, when 2,500 men went on strike. At that time there was a two weeks' supply on hand. This supply has been exhausted.

Marshall, Mich., May 15. — Mrs. Charles Reid of this city, suing for a divorce, told the court she was the mother of thirteen children, eleven of whom she had to support. She asked the court for $3 per week alimony, which she said was enough to support them. She asked for divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

The court, without hearing further testimony after Mrs. Reid had agreed to support the family on $3 per week, ordered a decree with alimony.

FIND GAMES AT FRENCH LICK

Investigators Tell of Heavy Losses by Visitors at Al Brown's.

French Lick, Ind., May 15. — The state anti-gambling league, organized here three weeks ago, had two men in Al Brown's gambling hall last week, and they watched some heavy playing. Speaking of what they saw, one of the men said:

"There were at least 250 men and women present gambling with many devices. Several women and girls were at the tables. For about thirty minutes I watched an elderly gentleman, who was said to be an eastern manufacturer, play his game. During the thirty minutes I watched him I saw him lose $1,000, then win about $500 and lost that. I saw a woman who played at the same table lose, apparently, everything she had and then quit. I saw several lose small amounts and saw a few break about even. When I spoke to one of the leading business men there about it he said: 'Well, they don't let the people here gamble any, and most of the money that is lost is lost by people from other places, so most of our people don't take much interest in stopping it.'"

PHOEBE COUZINS IN NEED

Stranded in St. Louis and Living on Bread and Water.

St. Louis, Mo., May 15.—Phoebe Couzins, long recognized throughout the United States as a leader in the cause of woman suffrage and prohibition, but who changed her views and became their bitterest opponent, is stranded at the Terminal hotel with scarcely enough money to buy her luncheons. For the last few days she has subsisted mostly on bread and water.

Miss Couzins has been at the hotel more than three weeks and was forced to appeal to friends to lend her money to buy a ticket back to Washington. She is over sixty years old and an invalid.

Draft Will be Submitted to England by Ambassador Bryce.

Washington, May 15.—The first draft of the arbitration treaty between America and Great Britain is practically complete. Ambassador Bryce will transmit a draft of the treaty to the foreign office in London for consideration.

If the privy council acts promptly the senate may have the opportunity to approve the treaty during the present session of congress.

Pleads Guilty to Desertion.

Corunna, Mich., May 15. — Ray W. Crawford, the young Owosso man who was arrested in Portland, Ore., for wife desertion, and who has been in the county jail for several days awaiting trial, appeared in the circuit court and changed his plea to guilty. The court is investigating the circumstances before imposing sentence. The wife has information of Crawford's illegal marriage to a girl in the west, who nursed him through a serious illness.

Quincy, Ill., May 15. — Rev. G. W. Metzell, pastor of the German Methodist Episcopal church at La Prairie, was run down and killed by a Wabash train while driving across the track a short distance south of Chatten. He was 65 years of age.

FOUR MEN ARE KILLED

Cars Catch Fire in Railway Wreck and Cremate One Victim.

White River Junction, Vt., May 15.—Four men were killed and three others injured when two freight trains met head-on at Devil Curve, about two miles south of this town. The wreckage caught fire, destroying some of the cars and burning the bodies of one of the victims.

The accident was on a single line of track operated jointly by the Central Vermont and the Boston and Maine railroad, a train of each company being in collision.

KAISER IS IN LONDON

Comes with Kaiserin to See Victoria Memorial Unveiled.

London, May 15.—The German imperial yacht Hohenzollern, escorted by two German cruisers and four British destroyers, arrived at Sheerness last evening. The Kaiser and Kaiserin were aboard, coming to attend the unveiling of the Victoria memorial on Tuesday.

As it is a state visit salutes were exchanged and all warships dressed ship. The emperor and empress are in London today.

IN HONOR OF ANNE ROYALL

Addresses at Grave of Woman Once Convicted As "Common Scold."

Washington, May 15.—After nearly sixty years of oblivion the memory of Anne Royall, first American woman publicist, was honored when a tombstone was dedicated on her grave in the congressional cemetery. Several short addresses were made.

Anne Royall in 1826 began publishing a newspaper in Washington and was the only woman in the United States ever convicted of being a "common scold." She was a champion of masonry. Her sympathies for deafmutes were notable and she did much toward bringing them into the employ

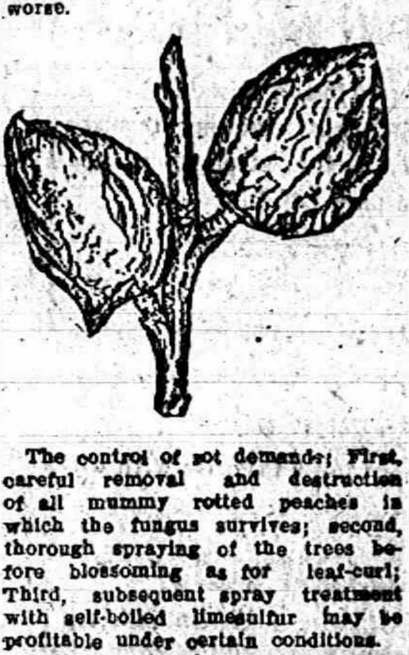
FUNGUS DISEASES OF THE PEACH

The brown rot fungus is among the most destructive of the fungi on the peach yielding place only at times to leaf-curl. Unlike leaf-curl the brown rot prevails during warm, showery weather, and with such a weather period is likely to occur at any time of the year.

In April, if the mummy peaches are permitted to remain on the trees from the preceeding year, the fungus may affect the twigs through the blossoms and thus cause serious twig blight.

It is a matter of common remark that the branches upon which rotted peaches are found often perish from effect of the rot fungus. The survival of the fungus in these "mummy" fruits and the production of ascospores from them are well proven.

No one variety seems more susceptible to rot than others, although some sorts are more liable to ripen during rainy weather and then rot worse.



The control of rot demands; First, careful removal and destruction of all mummy rotted peaches in which the fungus survives; second, thorough spraying of the trees before blossoming as for leaf-curl; Third, subsequent spray treatment with self-boiled limesulfur may be profitable under certain conditions.

Rotted and dried or mummy peaches collected on trees in spring. These mummies will produce growth of the rot fungus with showery, warm weather. They are dangerous.

The leaf-curl fungus is at times one of the serious pests of the peach grower. However destructive leaf-curl does not occur every year. The curl fungus survives in the buds from year to year. It is therefore present each season, though possibly in varying amount.

Leaf-curl usually comes when cool weather, with frequent rains, prevails during March, April, May and June. It is to the April weather that the most serious trouble seems attributable.

With low temperatures and frequent rains during the early half of that month we may safely predict an outbreak of leaf-curl.

During such weather the fungus develops rapidly and the new leaves are affected as they are protruded from the bud. In a modified sense the same takes place during May and in a still more limited sense during June.

Successful prevention of leaf-curl is secured by thorough early treatment with Bordeaux mixture. Indeed, it appears that a spraying at any time shortly before the blossoms open is several times more effective than any application afterwards.

It appears that more effective results are secured by spraying two weeks before blossoming than immediately before the blossoms open. In any event an application made just before the blossoms open is more effective than at any later date.

Lime sulfur applications for scale insects are effective to prevent leaf curl.

STANDARD OIL TRUST BROKEN

Supreme Court Decides Corporation Must Be Dissolved.

6 MONTHS' TIME IS GRANTED

Decision Was Almost Unanimous, Justice Harlan Alone Presenting a Dissenting Opinion—Case Was Begun In Missouri In 1906, and Was Brought In the Name of the U. S.

Washington (Special).—The Standard Oil company must be dissolved under the decision of the United States supreme court, affirming the decision of the United States circuit court of appeals of New York. The decision was handed down by Chief Justice White, and his rendering of it took nearly an hour.

The decision was eight to one, Justice Harlan alone presenting a dissenting opinion.

The decision of the court of appeals, which was that the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, the parent company, is an illegal corporation in restraint of trade, is upheld except in a few particulars. These modifications, Chief Justice White announced, were unimportant.

The points of law involved in the case are such as to affect hundreds of corporations throughout the United States, including most of the biggest of these. The progress of the suit has been watched with the greatest anxiety by financial interests, and the stock market has fluctuated with each shift in its fortunes.

The court held that the thirty days given by the lower court as the time within which the Standard Oil company was forced to dissolve was inadequate and announced that it would grant six months.

The suit which called forth the decision was instituted in 1906, in the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Missouri. It was brought in the name of the United States. The immediate object was to dissolve the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey.

STIMSON GETS DICKINSON'S PLACE

New York Republican Becomes Secretary of War.

Washington (Special).—Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson of Tennessee, the Democratic member of President Taft's cabinet, has resigned. Henry L. Stimson of New York, recently defeated Republican candidate for governor of that state, has been given the war portfolio by President Taft.

HENRY L. STIMSON.

In the letters exchanged between the president and Mr. Dickinson no reason, other than that of pressing private affairs, is given for the secretary's retirement.

Mr. Dickinson will go to his Tennessee home immediately on the qualification of his successor.

DIETZ GOES TO PRISON.

"Defender of Cameron Dam" Must Serve Life Sentence.

Hayward, Wis. (Special).—John Dietz, "defender of Cameron dam," was found guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of Deputy Sheriff Oscar Harp, one of the sheriff's posse in the "battle" of the dam.

Dietz's motion for a new trial was denied by Judge Reid, who sentenced Deitz to life imprisonment in the penitentiary.

House of Lords Passed Veto Bill.

London (Special).—The fight in the house of commons over the veto bill to curtail the powers of the house of lords, ended Monday night. An amendment to reject the whole bill was defeated, 363 to 243, and the measure was carried on its third reading, 362 to 241.

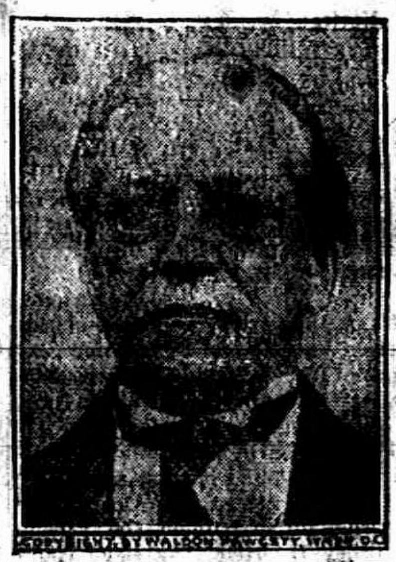
Jail Sentence Over Head of A. F. of L. President Removed by Supreme Court Decision.



LABOR LEADERS NEED NOT SERVE TIME

Supreme Court Decides Prison Sentences Unwarranted.

Washington (Special). — Holding that the imposition of jail sentences on Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, of the American Federation of Labor, was unwarranted by the nature of the contempt, and that the district supreme court should only have imposed a fine, the supreme court of the United States freed the labor leaders and directed that the cases against them be dismissed.

The decision of the highest court is considered by labor leaders as one of the greatest victories won by union labor in this country.

BUSY ON WOOL SCHEDULE.

Bill Will Be Submitted to Dem. Caucus in Week.

Washington (Special).—Democratic members of the ways and means committee of the house have began drafting the revised tariff schedule on wool which will b submitted to the Democratic caucus.

The wool bill will be ready within a week in the opinion of the leaders. Advocates of free raw wool are not so confident as heretofore that the revised schedule will place raw material on the free list. Extraordinary pressure has been brought to bear by conservative leaders to get a compromise bill. Such a bill might provide a tariff of five or six cents a pound on raw wool, with provision of a cent reduction each year until the raw product eventually went on the free list, and a cut of 40 to 50 per cent in manufactured woolen goods.

The senate finance committee has resumed the hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill.

Madero Announces All Will Be Serene in Short Time.

DALY MUST STAND TRIAL

Decision of Judge Landis' Overruled by Supreme Court.

PRINCIPAL IN PRISON SCANDAL

Another Chapter Will Be Added to Story of Corruption That Ended in Conviction of Warden Armstrong. Daly Has Fought Extradition Since 1909—Will Be Brought to Jackson.

Detroit, Mich., May 16.—Notwithstanding a long, hard fight he has made, Milton J. Daly of Chicago must come back to Michigan to stand trial on the indictments returned against him by the Jackson county grand jury two years ago. The United States supreme court has overruled the decision of Judge K. M. Landis of the district court of Chicago, in favor of Daly, and held that Daly must be returned to Michigan.

Daly will probably be in Jackson in the course of a week. The sheriff will leave there for Chicago, where Daly resides, as soon as extradition papers are received from Washington. Daly will probably be tried during the September term of circuit court.

The trial of Daly, who was indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses, will result in another chapter being added to the graft and corruption that characterized the administration of former Governor Fred M. Warner.

Daly was indicted in 1909, following the exposure of the pollution and graft that existed in Jackson prison, when former Warden Allen N. Armstrong was indicted for soliciting and accepting a bribe of $100. Armstrong has served a term in the Detroit house of correction for his offenses. During the investigation of Armstrong's case it was found that part of the binder twine plant which had been installed in the prison and bought through Daly was second-hand machinery.

ELEVEN INJURED IN LABOR RIOT

First Blood Is Shed In the Big Strike at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 16.—Serious rioting in which blood was shed broke out in the vicinity of the Widdicomb furniture factory in the north end of the city Monday.

Eleven persons, including rioters, firemen and policemen, were injured, some seriously, in the clashes between the mob and the police.

The strike committee has issued a formal statement deploring the rioting and promising the public to dismiss and withdraw all protection to all union men who engage in violence or destruction.

Marshal Beats Aged Prisoner.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 16.—John V. Tierney, a cement worker from Chelsea, is in the county jail, suffering from concussion of the brain, as a result of a beating he received at the hands of Marshal Charles Hepburn. Tierney, who is sixty years old, did not seem to be much hurt when he was brought in here, but later his condition became serious.

Grand Rapids—Lamont H. Reynolds, who disappeared recently after having been convicted of harboring girls in his rooming house on Canal street, has been arrested in Seattle for jumping his bail bond. Ethl Hart, seventeen years old, of this city, was picked up with him.

OSBORN WILL FIGHT FOR RECIPROCITY

Offers Aid to President Taft, and Is Accepted.

Lansing, Mich., May 17.—In response to a telegram sent by Governor Osborn to the executive department at Washington in which he volunteered to go to Washington and work in the interest of the reciprocity treaty if President Taft considered his services would be of any value, the governor received a message requesting him to come to Washington at once and has left for the national capital.

The telegram sent to President Taft by Governor Osborn reads as follows:

"Hon. William Howard Taft, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.:

"When will the vote on reciprocity probably be taken in the senate? If I can be of slightest service in favor of the treaty, I will go to Washington. The alleged representatives of the farmers of Michigan, who have been in Washington, giving their views, do not reflect, in my opinion, the dominant sentiment of Michigan, and do not represent all of the farmers, by any means. I am a full member of the Michigan grange, and know something of the farmer sentiment. The Michigan farmers are patriotic, and hold national welfare above dollars and cents, as has been often proven. In this instance there is no evidence that there are dollars at stake, and the national welfare is unquestionably involved. "CHASE S. OSBORN."

Governor Osborn's letter is generally considered as an indication that the issue is to be squarely drawn in Michigan, and that the governor will not only assist the president, but will aid in a campaign in this state to bring Michigan into line with the policy.

Sacrifices Life In Pursuit of Duty.

Detroit, Mich., May 17.—With a terrific roar, an explosion occurred in the building at 137-139 Bates street, in this city. The structure burst into flames immediately. One man was blown from a second-story window, and, although badly injured, he will recover.

Police Lieutenant Walpole, on duty during the fire, sacrificed his life to his duty. He dropped dead of heart failure after rushing into the burning building to warn the inmates.

Aged Man's Tragic Death.

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 16.—When overcome by the heat of a burning strawstack, Ami B. Riddle, aged seventy-four years, a resident of South Comstock, fell headlong into the blazing mass and received burns which, together with the shock, resulted in his death.

Pontiac—At 2 o'clock Sunday morning a call came to police headquarters from a woman who was troubled with insomnia, asking the chief to notify a local manufacturing plant to hush its whistle. She said that the noise kept her awake.

TECUMSEH BOY HEARD FROM

The following articles clipped from the late papers give one of Tecumseh's boys a good showing, and we predict a fine record for him in the future.

"Waring, a new man, was entered in the broad jump yesterday. Although he has next to no training he jumped 22 feet, which isn't so bad Broad jumpers are not plentiful anywhere this spring and if Waring can summon the ability to do a few more inches he ought to be good for a place at the big meet. If he cannot progress materially, it will mean that Michigan will have no entry in the broad jump, because Waring is the best here by several inches"

"At the intercollegiate track meet which took place last Saturday a Tecumseh boy, Roger Waring, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Waring, made a good showing. In the running broad jump, in which Michigan was met by Syracuse university team, Roger Waring was second. Distance jumped was 22 ft. 3 in. Syracuse man won first by one inch. Waring's record was 5½ inches better than Yale's record, who won from Harvard the same day in their meet at New Haven Conn. Waring's jump was made only after four times practicing."

"A new Star of unusual promise was also discovered in the person of Waring a high jumper."

CATARRH IS SURELY A DANGEROUS DISEASE

Thousands of people allow catarrh to slowly undermine the whole system until a serious disease developes, sometimes consumption.

People who have catarrh should use every effort to get rid of it, but should above all adopt a sensible method

Stomach dosing, sprays and doucees won't cure catarrh because it is a germ disease, and the germs must be destroyed before the disease can be quered.

HYOMEI is the one sensible cure for catarrh because it reaches every fold crevice and nook in the mucous membrane and gets where the germs are You breathe HYOMEI and as it passes over the inflamed membrane its soothing influence heals the soreness and destroys the germs

A complete HYOMEI outfit costs $1.00. This consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber inhaler. Pour a few drops of HYOMEI into the inhaler and breathe it a few minutes each day, that's all you have to do. It is guarantee by C. A. Wright & Son and druggist everywhere to cure catarrh, coughs, colds and sore throat or money back. Extra bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents Free trial sample on request. from Booth's Hyomei Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

GOLLMAR BROS. CIRCUS PARADE REVEALS CHARACTER OF SHOW.

The Gollmar Bros. Show which exhibits in Jackson Monday, May 22, features everything connected with it, from the street parade to the concert. The press of other cities have made only the most favorable comment for Gollmar Bros. parade. Even when the show visits territory where it has never its been, magnificent street pageant so agreeably surprises the public that they are sure to crowd the immense tents.

It is in the parade that the management of a circus can show to good advantage the stability and character of the aggregation. If it is a cheap concern, giving only ordinary performances its parade will tell the tale. If it is really meritorious the street display will demonstrate the fact. The splendid equipment of the great Gollmar Bros. Circus is shown to excellent advantage in the big parade, and is always complimented. The horses are in fine trim, and the tableaux, wagons, dens, cages, and chariots are resplendently decorated with costly carvings, gilt and varnish. An unusually large number of dens are open in the parade, and the general public is given a free exhibition of a fine array of wild animals. All in all, it is pronounced by many, the finest and best circus display ever seen upon any streets. But it is in the circus performance that the show excels. The parade of the Gollmar Bros. Show will start from the lot at 10 o'clock sharp and traverse the principal streets.

A word to the wise is sufficient, but a whole volume wouldn't convince the otherwise.

ABNER WILSON

The funeral services of the late Abner Wilson were very largely attended on Tuesday last, many friends from out of town being present. The high esteem in which he was held was shown by the large concourse of men who assembled for the occassion. The services at the house conducted by the Rev. Weld, who in a most feeling manner read, "The Lord is my Shepard I shall not Want," following the psalm he paid a touching tribute to the memory of Abner Wilson, taking the word "tribute" as his subject He spoke of the Masonic brothers, who turned out in such a large number to pay their tribute to his memory, of the host of friends, of the Sunday school who paid their tribute with baskets of wild purple violets that they had culled with loving hands for their Superintendent and friend. The wealth of flowers around the casket paid their tribute to him who loved them so dearly. And the highes tribute was paid by God, who said "Well done good and faithful Servant enter thou into the joys of thy Lord."

Miss Edyth Wilson and Mrs. Hodges sang in a very effective manner, "Shall we Meet Beyond the River," and "Does Jesus Care?"

At the close of the service the Masonic Fraternity assumed charge escorting the body to Brookside where it was laid to rest by the side of his daughter Christine, who proceeded him by just 5 years.

Poet or artist has never been able to portray the grave in colors of brightness and beauty, but if, such a thing were possible the Masonic ritual used in the burial of their dead, brings the best of human nature into perfect fullness crowding back the selfishness of men, and impressing them with beauty of recognition, and the value of friendship, in, this hour of seperation.

The Masonic lodge and the Order of Eastern Star each sent a floral piece emblematic of their order. The King's Daughters whom he assisted so often in their work, the neighbors and many friends sent floral offerings.

FARM HAND ARRESTED AND TAKEN TO ADRIAN ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Attempted Rape on 4 Year Old Child of His Employer

Chas. Allison. who has been working for Ned Wood, on the Russell farm southeast of town, was arrested and brought before Justice Hosmer Tuesday afternoon on a grave charge.

Missing her little girl Mrs. Wood made search for her and found her in a pitiable condition, and suspicion at once attached itself to Allison.

Word was spread quickly and officers Teachout and Smith drove out, and arrested Allison. He is a man about 40 years of age, and says little about himself. He demanded an examination before Justice Hosmer which was set for May 18th. He was taken to Adrian and lodged in the jail waiting examination.

MARY ADELLE HAZLETT

Mary Adelle Hazlett died in Addison on Tuesday May 16, after an illness of many weeks. She was a resident of Addison for many years, but was well known throughout the country as a public speaker, especially for the Republican National convention during the political campaigns. Her first public speech was before the Masonic Lodge of Adrian in 1870, and her political career began in 1872 when she delivered many speeches in the interest of U. S. Grant, and the remainder of the republican ticket. For 27 years she was actively engaged in the affairs of the Republican party.

She was later engaged in establishing lodges of the Order of the Eastern Star throughout the country. Many will remember her fine oratory, and enthusiam in her chosen work.

CHARLES IVES

It is with a feeling of regret that we chronicle the death of Charles Ives who died on the morning of May 17, at his home southwest of town.

Mr. Ives has been in poor health for a number of years, and had retired from active business, spending his summers at Wampler's lake, where he had several cottages, and kept a general store for the convenience of those who took their outings at the lake during the summer.

He leaves a widow and one brother Fred Ives, with a host of other friends to mourn his loss. The funeral is this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home the Rev. C. C. Kemp of the Episcopal church officiating, with burial at Brookside.

Supper in Methodist Church Thursday, May 25th.

The Athletic Association has endeavored to bring base ball games and other amusements to Tecumseh, but so far have not been patronized as fully as they would wish, and have fallen behind in their finances and will give a supper Thursday evening, May 25th, at the Methodist church to raise a little money. It is hoped that all interested in our boys, will lend a helping hand at this time, and give them a good benefit. Supper 20 cents. Everybody come.

NOTICE

Citizens of Tecumseh: A meeting will be held at the G. A. R. rooms on Monday evening May 22nd at 7:30 o'clock to make arrangements for Memorial Day service May 30th. It is hoped that all who desire to assist in making the day a successful one will attend this meeting. Kindly give this call your attention and be present. J. H. Smith, Village President.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie St., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell) of Lucama, N. MORE WAYS THAN ONE

From Texas comes the story of a farmer near Dallas, who discovered that his favorite turkey hen had left 15 eggs to cool off, and fearing that they would be spoiled he pressed a gobbler into service. The gobbler took kindly to the job from the start but after a week began to show signs of restlessness. The farmer supplied him with a ration of whiskey-soaked corn and with a comfortable jag on the gobbler consented to remain on the nest. The neighbors say that during the entire period of incubation the farmer kept the gobbler so tipsy that he could not leave his job.

Cement Protects the Spring

Concrete is displacing the barrel as a protection for springs on the farm. It never rots, it protects the spring and keeps the water free from surface impurities.

A young farmer recently invented an ingenious device for making concrete water barrels. He took two wooden barrels of different sizes, knocked the heads out of both, put the smaller inside the larger, and filled the space between them with concrete, and a concrete barrel was the result.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it as it cured them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dungan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

MINISTER SLAIN BY AEROPLANE

Startling Tragedy on French Aviation Field.

PREMIER MONIS FATALLY HURT

Train, New Aviator, Flying in Steel Monoplane, Swoops Suddenly Down in Midst of Group of Notables.

Paris, May 22. — Henri Maurice Berteaux, minister of war, was killed and Antoine Ernest Monis, premier and minister of the interior, is thought to be dying as the result of the start of the Paris aviation race at the drill ground at Issy Les Moulineaux at dawn.

In the cold of the morning 50,000 French with the holiday spirit awaited the start.

The first away was Naval Lieutenant Conneau, flying under the Pseudonym of Andre Beaumont, because he is on leave of absence. He ascended at 5:10. He was followed by Roland G. Garros, who has just returned from flying in the United States, who in turn was followed by Gilbert. All were using Bleriot machines.

The crowd was cheering the men who had got away when in the clearing morning light, Train, the new aviator, was seen to be approaching the drill ground with a passenger, Bonner, in his machine. He was flying a steel monoplane built and patented by himself, and as he circled to try his motor it was to be seen that something was wrong.

As Train arose the premier, the minister of war and the other notables, not being able to see from the stand of honor, moved nearer to the starting line. The crowd followed.

The crush was tremendous and it was necessary to call for another squadron of cuirassiers to ride upon the field and keep back the throng. Train was shutting off his motor and preparing to alight directly over the horsemen as they rode upon the field. In order to avoid striking the cuirassiers, Train shot into the air again. He was unable to see the group of notables just on the other side of the cavalry. Having cleared the cuirassiers Train started toward the earth again and dashed headlong into the crowd beyond.

Minister of War Berteaux was dead ahead of the machine. The propeller caught his right arm, which he had raised to fend off the blow, and in a second had torn the member from the body. M. Berteaux was killed instantly.

Premier Monis was hurled beneath the machine and was unconscious when lifted from the ground. Both bones of his right leg and all of the bones of his nose were broken, his scalp was frightfully torn, and upon examination it was found that he was suffering from internal injuries in the abdominal region. He was carried at once to his home.

The body of the dead war minister was taken to the ministry. The torn arm was sewn on and the body embalmed.

Premier Monis is reported to be bearing up bravely and though suffering intensely, he insisted on signing several urgent state papers, and although the race was ordered discontinued, M. Monis commanded that it go on.

Henry Maurice Berteaux, socialist millionaire and clever man of affairs, was a native of Saint Les Fosses, France, born June 3, 1852.

Premier Monis is a lawyer, the owner of important vineyards, and a man whose influence has been felt in politics for almost thirty years. Monis is a big man physically, with phlegmatic good humor and an inability to make up his mind with any particular rapidity.

He comes from the Gironde, where he was born in 1846.

Judge Grants Motions to Quash Indictments Against Him.

True Bills Found Defective in Substance, and Reindictment on Same Facts Is Barred.

Cincinnati, O., May 22.—Motions to quash the perjury indictments against George B. Cox, banker and politician, made by his attorneys two weeks ago, were granted by Judge William T. Dickson, of the common pleas court, who has announced his decision in the case.

Judge Dickson found the indictments defective in substance, this phase of the decision operating to free Cox not only from the indictments in question but also from reindictment on the same set of alleged facts by any subsequent grand jury.

MURRAY HAS NOT RESIGNED

Comptroller of Currency Will Hold Job for Time Yet.

Washington, May 22. — It was reported here that Lawrence O. Murray, comptroller of the currency, had tendered his resignation to the president to become president of the First National Bank of Pittsburg. When asked to confirm the report Mr. Murray declared that he expected now to serve out his term in the comptroller's office.

Several men had been suggested to the president as successor to Murray. William Barrett Ridgeley, who was comptroller before Murray, was under consideration and Secretary MacVeagh had, it is said, urged the appointment of George W. Roberts, director of the mint and formerly president of the Commercial National bank of Chicago. Owing to the fact that Mr. Murray said that he would not resign as comptroller, it is thought there is some hitch in the plan to place him in the presidency of the First National Bank of Pittsburg.

PUBLIC DANGER FROM THE DOGS

Department of Agriculture Issues Timely Warning.

CANINES SHOULD BE MUZZLED

Rabies Prevalent Among Dogs in Different Parts of the Country Who Are a Constant Menace to Human Life.

Washington, May 22.—The department of agriculture has put out a companion slogan to "Swat the Flies." It is "Muzzle the Dogs." It was the pathological division in the bureau of animal industry that originated the "Swat the Flies" command, and it is the same division that puts forth the appeal for the muzzling of all dogs.

The pathologists in the department declare that rabies in animals and hydrophobia in man is one of the most terrible maladies known to medical science, and yet, they say, it could be quickly eradicated if the dogs were only muzzled.

The scientists of this division have exerted sufficient influence here at the national capital to produce an order from the district authorities commanding the muzzling of all dogs during the heated season. They say they wish they could exert the same influence in every city and town in the United States.

In an appeal to the public to insist on the muzzling of dogs, the pathological division points out that rabies is prevalent among dogs in different sections of the country and that the presence of infected animals is a constant menace to human life.

The division says that the relative infrequency of deaths among people who have been bitten by rabid dogs is due to the protection afforded by the Pasteur treatment; even with this treatment, however, it is pointed out, considerable anxiety, suffering, hardship and expense are entailed on many people.

The department scientists say that any one who will take the trouble to look over the proceedings of the American Veterinary Medical association for the last twelve years will observe that rabies is reported as existing in a number of states each year, although there has been no special endeavor on the part of the resident state secretaries to ascertain the extent of this particular disease in their sections.

LUMBER CHIEF HOPEFUL

Babcock Says Wholesale Association Will Come Cut All Right.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Frank R. Babcock, president of the Pittsburg chamber of commerce and head of the National Wholesale Lumber Dealers' association, has issued the following statement in connection with the suit of the government against the lumber trust:

"The National Association of Wholesale Lumber Dealers has nothing to do with the control or output or prices, but does strictly association work. I believe it will come through this inquiry all right."

LYNCH NEGRO PREACHER

Mob of Georgia White Men Riddles Body with Bullets.

Leader of Colored People Had Shot Deputy Marshal While Resisting Arrest.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 22.—Rev. Ben Smith, the aged leader of the negro race in this section, was hanged to the limb of a tree and his body riddled with bullets by a mob of white men because he wounded Deputy Marshal Canady.

Smith had had trouble with his young wife and the latter had complained to the authorities. Deputy Marshal Canady went to the Smith home to arrest the preacher. The latter resisted and shot the officer, inflicting a serious wound.

Smith fled, but was pursued by a posse with bloodhounds and was captured about daylight in a swamp near the town. He was brought back to town and hanged to a tree in sight of his home.

Smith was very old, being white headed and toothless, but for years his word had been law to the negro population. He was noted for his oratory.

While the mob was chasing him, unknown parties dynamited the negro Odd Fellows Hall, entirely destroying it.

Smith is the second negro to be lynched in a week, the other being John McLeod, who killed Deputy Sheriff Woods. The lynchings and use of dynamite have terrorized the negroes and many are fleeing. A general exodus is threatened, which will work great damage to the planters.

Better buy one good book for the family than three or four cheap story papers. Boys and girls acquainted with great thinkers of great thoughts will not seek the society of loafers or read the frothy, enervating novels.

It is sometimes only a step from the ridiculous to the sublime.

There are some people to whom it is not courteous to be polite.

Some men are so shrewd that nobody can believe them honest.

It is not what you give, but the way you give it, that makes the gift.

A woman generally gains her point, unless it is the point of a joke.

Some self-made men look as though they forgot to sandpaper the job.

The man who suffers from dyspepsia never dies of a broken heart.

Self-love is the only romance that enters into the average man's life.

There is a kind of fellow who would like to be kicked by a millionaire.

Many people are busy mortgaging the future in order to acquire a past.

Wisdom is more to be desired than riches—and a good deal easier to get.

Some people shake your hand as though they wanted to shake you.

To the paying guest at the boarding house, home is where the hash is.

Literature is the kind of printed matter that only posterity will read.

A woman can get more by her weakness than a man can by his strength.

If there is anybody who deserves sympathy it is the girl who is trying

It hurts less to be cheated by a rogue than by a pillar of the church.

Why is it that the other fellow's errors always seem so funny to us?

Considering how good everybody says he is, this is a dreadfully wicked old world.

A woman's idea of fame is to refuse to let her name be mentioned in the newspapers.

Time flies, youth flies, money flies—and boarding-house flies are the worst of all.

With the average girl, father's front porch is merely a short cut to hubby's kitchen.

You would never suspect some people of being mean if they didn't try to conceal it.

Divorce represents a man's efforts to get out of the fire and back into the frying pan.

Just because a man is chicken-breasted it is no sign that he is chicken-hearted.

The funniest part of it is that the men who make fools of themselves seem to enjoy it.

Why is it that a man in his prime always thinks himself younger than a woman in hers?

W. M. HANDLEY

Former Editor of the Onsted News.

The Western Publisher under date of May 17 gives a brief sketch and a fine picture of W. M. Handley, a former editor of the Onsted News, and will be remembered by many in Tecumseh, as he made frequent visits here in the interest of his paper, securing advertizing.

His has been a romantic career. As he was the hero of his first news story written for the old Cincinnati Telegram, he eloped with the daughter of a wealthy citizen not withstanding the terrible threats of her father.

He was engaged in the mining business in Colorado and went broke, he then learned the printing trade on the Rocky Mountain Sun. After six months experience, he bought the Higginsport Enterprize which he run for four years, corresponding during the time with the big dealers. He responded to the call for soldiers for the Spanish American War. After his return he edited many papers and is now editing the Altavista Journal in Virginia.

THREE-FOURTHS OF CANAL DONE

What Uncle Sam Has Accomplished in Seven Years.

RAPID WORK ON THE ISTHMUS

Installing of the Enormous Lock Gates Is Begun and 70 Per Cent of the Gatun Dam Filling Has Been Accomplished.

Washington, May 22.—"Uncle Sam" has taken stock of what has been accomplished at Panama after seven years of hard work. May 4 ended the seventh year of canal construction by Americans.

Only one-fourth of the great task of excavation remains to be done, for the "ground hogs" have removed 138,000,000 cubic yards from the line of the canal. That leaves only 44,000,000 yards to be cut away.

The placing of the concrete in the locks is more than 52 per cent completed, the installing of the lock gates has begun and 70 per cent of the filling for the Gatun dam, which will feed the canal with water, has been accomplished.

The lock gates are staggering in their vast proportions compared with the timber gates of the canals of this country. Each leaf, of which there are two in a gate, is 7 feet thick, 65 feet long and from 47 to 82 feet in height, there being no less than ninety-two of these leaves. Special hoisting machinery has been installed to place these masses of steel.

One of the unexpected obstacles in the construction was the development of twenty-two slides in the Culebra cut within a distance of nine miles, but it is stated that these will not delay completion of the canal, as the earth can easily be removed by dredges after the water is turned on.

SIX ESCAPE FROM JOLIET

Make "Getaway" from Prison in Heavy Storm.

Convicts Break Ranks and Scale Fence—Two of Them Are Later Recaptured.

Joliet, Ill., May 22.—Under cover of a storm which drew a pall of darkness over the city and precipitated a deluge of rain amounting almost to a cloudburst, six convicts, at work in the stone yard, made their escape from the state penitentiary at Joliet.

Running from the ranks of fellow prisoners while the storm was at its height and blinding sheets of water fell they climbed an eight foot board fence surrounding the inclosure and disappeared in the railroad yards to the south.

Two hundred and forty fellow convicts marched back into prison on the orders of eight guards who had them in charge.

The men who escaped were: William Butsch, alias William Brown; sent up from Winnebago county April 3 for working a confidence game; R. A. Atkins, sent up from LaSalle county in November, 1910, for burglary; George Conners, sent up from Cook county July 18, 1906, for robbery; Joseph Folks, sent up from Cook county Jan. 14, 1909, for burglary; Edward Miller, sent up from Jo Daviess county for burglary and larceny; George Johnson, sent up for burglary.

An hour after the storm Miller and Johnson were found hiding in a coal car in the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad yards.

When the absence of the prisoners was discovered Warden Murphy was at once notified by the guard in charge and he in turn communicated with the police of Joliet and surrounding towns and asked that all railroad trains and other means of entrance and exit from Joliet be watched for the fleeing men.

Cow Moose in Unusual Haunts.

A lone cow moose far away from the usual haunts of the big game animal has for some time frequented the Cobbosseecontee Lake region of Maine. Deer are occasionally seen in that part of the state, which is in Kennebec county, about half a dozen miles west from Hallowell, Gardiner and Augusta.

Cow moose are perpetually protected, and not being legal game the have increased in recent years far in excess of the bulls. When not molested they become very tame and will walk into a farm yard just to mingle with the cows or join them in the pastures where the moose seek out any delectable browse that trees or shrubs may happen to offer.—Kennebec Journal.

MADERO TELLS OF GAINS MADE

Insurrectos Win All They Started Fighting For.

REBEL DEBTS ARE TO BE PAID

Diaz and Corral to Resign and Fair Elections to be Held—Provisional President Aids in Pacification.

El Paso, May 22.—Naming the concessions granted the insurrecto army by the federals in their plan of settlement recently agreed to, Francisco I. Madero, provisional president of Mexico, issued another statement.

Madero shows the army that the cause has won all that it started fighting for; that Diaz has agreed to resign, Corral has agreed to resign, and that Mexico is to have a fair election for the first time since Diaz got into power.

He also calls attention to the fact that all insurrecto debts are to be paid, even the I. O. U.'s given by the insurrectos when they seized stocks of goods They never gave these to their old oppressor, Don Luis Terrazas. All concessions are summed up for the benefit of the insurrectos, whom the provisional president wishes to thoroughly pacify.

He says there is little to discredit the faithfulness of the federals, but besides he says he is going to Mexico City on invitation of the federals to see that these things are carried out.

Madero told a good deal of this to the insurrectos when he delivered a farewell to the officers and men in front of the Juarez monument, on one side of which stands the burned city hall and on the other the burned library, both destroyed during the assault on the town. But later it was put on paper. The insurrectos had largely left, however, when it came out, but it will be sent them at Casas Grandes, where they are gathering in camp to await developments.

They are told by their leader that if all goes well they will soon be sent to their homes to return to the pursuits of peace, but if things do not go well,, Chihuahua is next to be taken, and then the "On to Mexico City" cry can be taken up. He does not believe this will be necessary, however.

Six hundred troops were sent south from Juarez to Casas Grandes. They were carried in box cars and appeared happy. The rebel troops remaining behind to garrison the town gathered at the station and cheered them on their way. One carload of departing men were former federals, who have now become faithful insurrectos. Those who did not embrace the insurrecto cause, are now handling pick and shovel on the national line south of here, repairing it through to Chihuahua.

Lapeer—Miss Pearl Smith, aged twenty-three, who came from Tuscola county and has recently been a familiar character around town, attempted suicide by twisting an apron around her neck. The cause of the girl's action is unknown.

Ionia—Mrs. Nellie Kniffen, who is charged with killing her husband, a street car conductor in Detroit, and is now a raving maniac, was brough to the state asylum at Ionia by Sheriff Gaston of Wayne county and the matron of St. Mary's hospital.

Ypsilanti—Miss Nina Munch of Ypsilanti has been awarded the Stoic scholarship at the Normal college. The scholarship is worth $50, and is bestowed upon students of exceptional merit as an inducement for their return for third year degree work.

Ludington—Sunday night's storm was one of the worst of the season. No vessels ventured out in the seas, which completely obscured the breakwater light at times. Freight trains are fast in the snow two miles east of this city. Ludington is completely cut off from the outside world.

"CAP NIGHT" AT THE U. OF M.

FRESHMEN RID THEMSELVES OF FIRST YEAR INSIGNIA

Annual Celebration at Sleepy Hollow

About 10,000 freshmen of the U. of M. celebrated "Cap Night" on Friday last. Each one tossing his little gray cap into the huge bon-fire in Sleepy Hollow. Now they will be treated as equals by the lordly sophs and will begin to lay plans for the discomfort of the class of 1912.

This was the largest event of the kind ever held. Ralph Block was master of ceremonies and robed in cap and gown introducing the speakers of the evening. Herbert Geotch led the cheering in season and out.

Prof. Robert Wenley was the first speaker and gave some fine advice to the youngsters. Fred Lawton was next on the program, he is a popular senior also in foot ball. Prof. B. M. Thompson of the Law faculty, Dean J. O. Reed and Prof. Claude VanTine of the Literary department followed. Then came "Hap" Haskins the most popular man on the campus. Following the speeches the freshmen formed into line and tossed their caps into the fire after carefully removing the button to be presented to their best girl as a souveuir. After this they formed into line for a snake dance to the campus. Where they cheered everybody from Prexy Angell down.

"Cap Night" is a distinctive Michigan event it was originated several years ago and thousands of people gather upon the hills surrounding Sleepy Hollow to hear the speeches, the music of the "Varsity band" and the fun generally.

AUSTRIA'S WAR ON SNAKES.

New Additions to the Empire Overrun With Reptiles.

Austria's new territory is undesirably rich in snakes, mostly of the poisonous varieties, and the Government is taking vigorous measures to exterminate them.

In the ten years from 1896 to 1905 the average yearly death roll from snake bites in Bosnia and Herzegovina was thirteen persons, and 1,338 head of cattle, horses and domestic animals. Besides this, hundreds of persons were bitten by snakes, but recovered.

Since 1906 the provincial authorities have given money premiums for the killing of snakes. In that year 30,056 dead snakes were brought in, of which 25,438 were poisonous. Next year, when the official reward system became more generally known, these figures increased enormously, no fewer than 280,718 snakes being killed, including 271,685 poisonous.

Last year's figures were very nearly the same, and it will be some years before the work of extermination can be anything like completed. But at the same time the number of persons reported bitten by poisonous snakes seems to be steadily decreasing—206 in 1907 and 140 last year.—Pall Mall Gazette.

AN OLD PENNSYLVANIA MILL.

An old landmark of Schuylkill county is Brown's mill, which has been grinding corn since the year 1800, hence running for 110 years. Nearly everybody between the Dauphin county line and the Little Schuylkill River knows John Adams Brown, who has run the mill for the last fifty-one years.

When this mill was started this section of country was a part of Berks county for Schuylkill county was not incorporated until 1811. John Adam Brown, grandfather to the present John Adam Brown, erected the mill and was succeeded by John Brown and now John Adam Brown has turned the business over to his son, John E. Brown, who represents the fourth generation of ownership of the mill. John Adam Brown was 71 years of age October 4.—Philadelphia Record.

WHERE WOMEN ARE NOT.

There are just nine occupations out of 233 classified by the Census Bureau in which women are not engaged. There are no women soldiers, sailors, marines, firemen in the fire departments, street car drivers, motormen, telephone or telegraph linemen or apprentices or helpers to steam boilermakers and brass workers. As there are no women blacksmiths, boilermakers, roofers, brakemen, switchmen, baggagemen and pilots there is no reason why any of the nine occupations named should be closed to the fair sex, except, possibly, that of soldier. In fact, the feminine soldier is a possibility of the future, if woman ever gets the ballot she may have to fight to exercise her suffrage.—Chattanooga Times.

WONDERFUL OREGON CLIMATE.

A curiosity that most people won't believe unless they see it is a bunch of grass-bearing sheep the property of John Cartwright. Several members of his flock have a luxuriant growth of tame grass growing on the back and well down the sides of their bodies, giving them the appearance of having a pretty, green fleece. It is accounted for from the fact that grass seed falling from the feed wagon and lodging in the wool sprouted when being continuously moistened by Oregon's copious showers.—Harrisburg Bulletin.

"I think we shall like our new neighbors."

"That so. Have you met any of them?"

"No, but I watched their furniture being carried in yesterday, and there wasn't a phonograph or music box in the outfit."

The only way to punish a woman is to make her mad; you don't dare talk back to her.

REUNION OF MICHIGAN 31st REGIMENT INFANTRY

Lansing May 17, 1911

There were over 200 in parade at Lansing Wednesday, of the members of the 31st Michigan Infantry, and a most enjoyable day was spent in recalling old times and scenes. The program was varied with an automobile ride around the city, a group picture taken on the Capitol steps, and a parade bringing up at the Armory where the business meeting was held

After this meeting the line of March led directly to the dining room of the Masonic temple where a fine dinner was in waiting. Col. Shubel was toast master and speechs were made by Hon. John Crotty, Ex Lieut. Patrick Kelly, General Stone as representative of the G. A. R., Col. Fox, Private, Tom Kyle and others. The reunion next year will be held in Detroit.

The officers of the association are:
President—Thos. Payne
Vice President—C. M. Fisk
Secretary—Herbert Dias
Treasure—Dr. V. J. Houpe
all of Detroit.

Several of the old members from Tecumseh were in attendance. John Blesing was showing one of the group pictures and seven of the old Co. were standing together. The picture is fine.

CHARLES IVES

The funeral of the late Chas. Ives was held on Friday afternoon at the home, the Rev. C. C. Kemp officiating. A large concourse of friends gathered to pay their last tribute to their friend and neighbor, and though mourning their loss, yet could but be glad that his sufferings were ended and rest was his at last.

For a number of years he has fought the dread disease consumption spending his summers at Wampler's lake, where in his delicate condition he made the best of life, and he will be missed by the many people whom he met, as well as by his home neighbors.

He leaves a wife and one brother and many other relatives to mourn his death. And hanging on Memory's wall will be the remembrance of his thoughtfulness, kindness and patience that he always observed toward these loved ones. He was laid to rest in Brookside that Silent City of the dead.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Webb Kay was the victim of quite a serious accident on Sunday, while out driving. Meeting a friend with whom he wished to talk, he alighted and stood at the head of his horse. A passing car frightened it and tossing Webb to the ground, trampled him under foot. While no bones were broken yet his injuries are quite bad.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay were notified and Mr. Ruthruff took them over to Ypsilanti in his auto. Mrs. Kay remained to help care for him. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Reboiled Eggs

Eggs which have been boiled and yet not used may be kept and reboiled again without becoming hard boiled. This is not generally known, but if the egg has been soft cooked it may be put into boiling water for a few minutes to warm through and served for breakfast the next day.

Hats Trimmed High

Many of the small hats are built up to a great height by the use of flowers, loops of ribbon and upstanding plumes. A great many plumes are seen and the majority of these are in lovely shaded effects and when used on the small hat almost invariably are attached upstanding.

In peace love tunes the shepherd's reed;
In war he mounts the warrior's steed.
In halls in gay attire is seen;
In hamlets dances on the green;
Love rules the court, the camp, the grove.
And men below and saints above,
For love is heaven, and heaven is

Don't Pay Damages to Your Refrigerator

A refrigerator should be an economy.

With a small amount of ice it should keep a great deal of food sweet and wholesome.

A wooden box is not a refrigerator. It does not keep cold air in or hot air out.

It melts ice rapidly because it is not built scientifically.

You pay it damages in the form of ice bills.

A scientific refrigerator is built up with layers of cork, wood and other non-conductors, so that the least possible heat can get in.

The ICE QUEEN Refrigerators are built scientifically.

They are low-priced at the start, and are not expensive to keep up.

KITCHEN FURNISHINGS

It is not many years since "Kitchen Furnishings" would have been a ridiculous phrase, for at that time there were no conveniences in kitchen furnishings. But today there are cabinets, and various articles that help to make a back number of the old adage, "Woman's work is never done." Besides, the kitchen is the heart of the home; and our health--our most valuable asset--is largely dependent upon this condition. We will take real pleasure in having you inspect our "Kitchen Cabinets" in our store.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of mine? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials. They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I did so and the pains soon disappeared. For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

DO GHOSTS HAUNT SWAMPS?

No, Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell of Lucama, N. "It connects New York and Brooklyn, my son," replied Baxter, Sr.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. TO SAIL ROUTE COLUMBUS TOOK OVER ATLANTIC

German Balloonist Has All Plans Made for Air Voyage.

BERLIN (Special)—Herr Joseph Brucker, the Originator of a new and daring scheme to sail across the Atlantic Ocean in an airship, makes the following statement of his detailed plans for carrying out the project which the American, Walter Wellman, disastrously failed to achieve:—

"It was in February, 1909, that I suddenly conceived the idea of traversing the Atlantic Ocean by airship. It was Washington's birthday and the whole country was celebrating the event, and I had been reading the reports of Wilbur Wright's remarkable aeroplane flights in France.

"I asked myself why the Atlantic ocean should not be crossed, not by a heavier—than—air aeroplane, but by a lighter—than—air airship. I had long studied meteorology, so that it was not difficult for me to choose a route along which, all the year round, east winds blow towards Central America, and where the navigator need not fear either fog or thunderstorm

The Spaniards name that belt of the Atlantic ocean the 'Sea of Ladies' because it is so calm there that a weak feminine hand could steer a boat. Columbus with small vessels, could never have reached America if he had not sailed along this route of favorable winds and currents.

"I returned to Europe and spent three months at the International Aeronautical exposition at Frankfurt-on-Main, where I had an excellent opportunity of studying all sorts of types of aerial craft, and of conversing with many distinguished experts in aerial navigation.

These exhaustive studies, combined with the advice given to me by practical aeronauts, led to the conviction that a flight across the Atlantic ocean by the favorable route I had in view was well within the bounds of possibility.

"From the outset, I intended to replace the usual car, suspended from the gas-bag of the balloon, by a motor boat, which while suspended in the air would serve the purposes of an ordinary balloon car, while possessing all the necessary qualities for navigation on the surface of the water.

"This motor boat will be equipped with two powerful motors, each of which will develop 100 h. p. and when in the air, the vessel will be propelled by these engines, which will be equally capable of propelling the detached motorboat if we should find it necessary to cut it loose from the gas-bag.

The motor boat is 33 feet in length and 10 feet in beam, and has been constructed in accordance with my own plans in such a way as to be most serviceable for the purpose in view.

"One of the principal difficulties in long aerial voyages is the expansion of the gas caused by the sun's rays during the daytime, and the rapid contraction which ensues during the cold hours of the night, whereby large quantities of gas are lost and the buoyancy of the balloon is diminished to a serious extent.

Thanks to the technical assistance of Dr. Alt, I have succeeded in preparing a system to counteract the effect of the sun's rays on the gas-bag by playing water all over its surface. This is achieved by a very clear device by means of which sea-water will be pumped into small tanks on our deck, and then pumped to the extreme summit of the balloon, from where it will be distributed by miniature pipes all over the surface of the gas bag.

"The balloon has been constructed by Messrs Riedinger of Augsburg, and the fabric is composed of three layers. The gas bag is nearly 200 feet in length, and has a diameter of 55 feet at the centre; the capacity is 9,400 cubic meters, so that it has a carrying power of at least 14,000 lbs. The balloon has been provided with a ballonette of 3,500 cubic metres capacity.

"After one or several trial trips in Germany, the whole balloon and the motor boat will be shipped in sections either to the Canary Islands or to the Cape Verde Islands, to whatever place I select as my starting point.

"I am inclined to start from the island of St. Vincent in the Cape Verde group, the distance from this point to the West Indies being more than 700 miles shorter than the distance from Teneriffe or Palma in the Canary Islands.

The economy of more than 700 miles is of course a very serious consideration, and may finally lead us to choose the Cape Verde Islands as a starting point.

Spanish Fritters

Cut the crust of a French roll into lengths as thick as a finger, soak them in cream flavored with nutmeg, pounded cinnamon and sugar and with an egg beaten up in it. When well soaked fry them in butter to a good brown color and serve very hot.

A charming frock for the young girl or young matron is made of brocaded white mousseline de soie, the design quaint little wreaths of wee pink flowers

Grapefruit is becoming more and more popular each season, and although formerly considered a luxury, nowadays there are very few housekeepers who do not have it occasionally served in some delicious manner

Probably the commonest mode of serving it is in halves at breakfast, but this is only one of the numerous methods in which it may be added to the menu.

The usual way of serving this fruit is to cut it in half, remove seeds and core and fill the center with powdered sugar. It is then set on ice until very cold.

When served on more formal occasions grapefruit may be dotted with maraschino cherries. Hostesses who have handsome grapefruit glasses cut the pulp into large pieces, cover it with sugar and maraschino cherries or bits of ginger and heap it in the small inner glass. The outer glass is filled with shaved ice.

Grapefruit salad is an excellent digester at the close of a heavy meal and it is much more delicious served with French dressing than mayonnaise.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

STORY OF THE OLD JUGDE

Everybody knows what it means to be born of poor though honest parents, receive a good education and graduate with honors from the law school when one is 23.

For some years one has to live by the eloquence that flows from one's lips like honey, for the famous lawyer who has been kind enough to take you into his office pays no salary.

I tried to exist on the least possible amount. I rubbed more ink on the edges of my old Prince Albert coats than I used in writing briefs.

The end of all these hardships came at last. I rented an office and began to become quite well known.

Everything was all right now if I could only find some rich girl to marry—money enough to settle near the Church of St. Madeline.

Every evening I dressed up and went into society. A bachelor is always a welcome guest, and I played bridge with old ladies, played games with the younger, flattered the fathers, patted the uncles on the back and complimented the old aunts.

People began to gossip about me and connect my name with those of several families and it really looked as if Fortune smiled upon me.

Then I was foolish enough to do a charitable deed. In a case in which I was sitting as a judge, I saved a young girl from my own part of the country from a very painful experience.

Like so many other young girls fresh from the country, she had been unfortunate enough to get a position in a gambling house. She knew one of my aunts, who came to see me, and who warmly pleaded her cause. She said the girl was fond of working absolutely honest, a splendid cook and a very economical housekeeper.

It happened that I was in need of a woman to keep my apartment in order.

My income had allowed me to keep a woman to clean, but no servant, but I was forced by my dear aunt to hire a room for Anna Marie Bechard and give her three square meals a day, so I was compelled to dismiss a kind of groom who had come for two hours every afternoon to impress my clients with his livery and bright brass buttons

Now the maid had to open the door and it was I who had to pay the laundry bill for her white caps and aprons

Anna Maria was neither pretty nor ugly. She was one of these stupid creatures whose brains remain unaffected by everything that happens around them, and if she ever had a bright idea she was sure to carry it out in the most awkward manner. Besides, her feelings were always hurt

At least a hundred times I had good reason to discharge her, and I ought to have done it, but I was young and inexperienced and felt a certain responsibility now that she had come to me. She was anything but a good housekeeper.

Being young, I stood all this without a complaint, perhaps hoping that it was not to last forever.

Occasionally she would write enthusiastic letters to my aunt, who congratulated me on having found such a precious pearl and told me to be sure to treat her well.

When I saw her walk around me with languishing eyes, I patted her on the shoulder and advised her to cheer up and get a "steady." She was indeed always hoping to get a "steady"—myself.

This did not trouble me very much, but what pleased me infinitely was that Mlle. Germaine Laguile had fallen in love with me, too.

She was young and pretty, had a fortune of nine hundred thousand in her own right, pearly teeth, sweet red lips, deep blue eyes—and was the sole heiress of three very old and very rich uncles.

All this at last made me fall in love with her, too. Germaine was indeed a charming girl; she loved me, although she knew I was poor. It cost many a hard struggle before she got her parents' consent to marry me.

Our engagement was mentioned in all the papers. They were very nice to me and mentioned several cases I had won.

I remembered how radiantly happy I was on that day. I was more amiable to Anna Marie than usual, but she did not answer my pleasant remarks and at last burst into tears. I thought this was because she was afraid of losing her position, and tried to cheer her up by promising her that I would keep her and that she should have much less to do when I was married.

"Never! Never!" she cried, rushing out of the room and slamming the door behind her.

Ten minutes later I had completely forgotten Anna Marie and her anger, but in the evening, as I was walking along the boulevard with Germaine, we heard the newsboys shout something about a sensational suicide.

I was terror-stricken to read that Anna Marie Bechard had shot herself. She had left a letter at my house in which she complained of my ingratitude and selfishness. She loved me and could not live without me, it said.

All that I might say in my defense was in vain. Nobody would believe the girl had killed herself without reason, and Germaine judged me harder than any one else. She had loved me, she said, because she thought I was a good and noble man, but now she hated me.

Perhaps she may happen to read this, but she will never be mine, for she has married another long ago.—By Jean Rosny.

Self tones are seen on street dresses of woolen or of cloth, and these are frequently brightened by the introduction of gay threads intertwined with gold or silver.

TAFT KEEPS COOL

Sits Over a Ton of Ice While Washington Sizzles.

Washington, May 22.—Congressmen who get in to see President Taft these days are not surprised to learn that he isn't worrying about the date of adjournment. While all Washington is sizzling with the mercury around the 100 mark, the president's office shows a temperature of about 80.

The president sits over a ton of ice each day, for the White House refrigerator plant is just beneath his desk. The cooled air is forced into the room by fans, and statesmen who wend their perspiring way to the executive offices find Mr. Taft smiling and comfortable.

FRENCH STATESMEN

One Killed and Other Injured When Aeroplane Falls to Earth.

FRENCH MINISTER OF WAR KILLED

Aeroplane Fall On Crowd of Spectators--Monis Hurt.

Paris (Special).—Henri Maurice Berteaux, minister of war, was almost instantly killed; Premier Monis, minister of the interior, was badly hurt; two others were hurt and many notables of France had narrow escapes when a monoplane plunged into the midst of a party of distinguished spectators at the start of the Paris-Madrid race.

Two hundred thousand persons were gathered on the field at Issy and saw the accident.

The monoplane was in charge of M. Train, who was endeavoring to avoid a detachment of cavalry that was galloping cross the field to restrain spectators who were breaking through the cordons.

Minister of War Berteaux was horribly mangled.

Aviator Train is heartbroken as a result of the accident. He declares that he risked the lives of himself and passengers to avoid the accident, and thought at first he had succeeded.

Berteaux will be buried with all the honors of war.

CYCLONE HITS MICHIGAN.

Buildings on Farm Near Howard City Demolished by Twister.

Howard City, Mich., May 23.—This locality had its first cyclone, when a large frame barn on the Sid Reynolds farm, two and one-half miles south of town, was demolished. Reynolds and a hired man were in the barn at the time with two horses, but all are unhurt except Reynolds, who sustained a minor scalp wound. The barn is a complete wreck.

The chimney was blown off a new house nearby and an apple orchard greatly damaged. On an adjoining farm a barn 40x60 was moved off its foundation six inches.

STATEHOOD BILL PASSED

House Favors Admitance of Arizona and New Mexico.

VOTE STOOD 214 TO 57

Resolution Requires Arizona to Vote on An Amendment Removing the Recall Provision As it Applies to Judges—Measure Will Now Go to the Senate.

Washington (Special).—By a vote of 214 to 57 the house of representatives adopted the joint resolution admitting the territories of Arizona and New Mexico to statehood.

The resolution now goes to the senate, and the president also will have to approve it before Arizona is admitted to the Union.

The resolution requires Arizona to vote on an amendment removing the recall provision as it applies to judges, and requires New Mexico to vote on an amendment making its constitution more easily amendable in the future.

Neither state is required to adopt the amendments proposed by congress.

NEW REVOLT IS BREWING IN MEXICO

Cientifico Party May Rise Up Against Madero.

Juarez, Mex. (Special).—Peace now reigns in northern Mexico, where news of the signing of a peace agreement has penetrated. The only disquieting reports come from Mexico City, to the effect that members of the "Cientifico" party, deposed because of the Maderista movement, are thinking of starting a revolution against the latter.

Trouble from the Cientifico element is expected, but whether it will take the form of armed revolt after Madero assumes power is not yet clear.

The insurrecto troops may be kept at the various garrisons in Mexico for a few months in readiness for trouble, but no definite plans along that line have been formed by Senor Madero. He intends to see that the guarantees are carried out by the installation of good governors and his intention at present is to keep the troops mobilized merely until complete order be restored.

The news that President Diaz might retire some time this week has increased the activity of Senor Madero in preparing for departure to the Mexican capital.

REBELS ARE MURDERING CHINESE RESIDENTS

Monterey, Mex. (Special).—Reports received here give accounts of the killing of Chinese in a number of towns in remote parts of the country by bands of rebels.

The Chinese quarter of Imuris, in the state of Sonoro, was raided by rebels and eight of the foreigners killed. At Mazatlan several Chinese were murdered, and in other smaller towns in Durango, Sinaloa and Sonora mobs of rebels put many Chinese to death for the mere pleasure of doing the bloody work.

Chinese Minister Will Protest.

Washington (Special).—As soon as the depredations against Chinese subjects at Torreon, Mex., are officially reported to the Chinese minister at Washington, who is also accredited to the Mexican government, he will take steps to protest to Mexico.

La Follette Arraigns Lorimer.

Washington (Special).—An immediate investigation of sweeping scope of the renewed charges that Senator Lorimer of Illinois is not entitled to his seat is provided for in two resolutions, by Senators Dillingham and La Follette. Senator La Follette called up his resolution and made a speech arraigning the Illinois senator, whom he charged with personal knowledge of the spending of money in behalf of his election.

O'HARA AND CLORE ARE ACQUITTED

Utah Judge Said Evidence of Guilt Was Lacking.

Ogden, Utah (Special).—Presiding Magistrate Murphy has ordered the discharge of Brian O'Hara and Victor Clore, accused of holding up the Southern Pacific train on Jan. 2. He declared that there was no sufficient ground for holding them.

Palms, in the Thumb district of Michigan, is the home of both the young men.

O'Hara was arrested in Palms and Clore in Warren, Macomb county, where he had gone to work.

Palms, Mich., May 23.—When word was received here that Bryan O'Hara and Victore Clore had been discharged by Judge Murphy at Ogden, Utah, by Judge Murphy, on the charge of murder in connection with the hold-up and robbery of the Overland Limited at Reese, Utah, on the night of Jan. 2 last, there was cheering and shouting by everyone, followed by the ringing of church bells and the blowing of whistles. The boys were held in such high esteem that everyone was interested.

Pontiac Will Bond For $100,000.

Pontiac, Mich., May 23.—At the special election the proposition to bond the city for $100,000 to take care of all outstanding indebtedness and provide the city with a working capital carried by a vote of 905 to 116.

Brandeis Will Head P. O. Inquiry.

Washington (Special).—Louis D. Brandeis of Boston has been in conference with the house committee on the postoffice department, which is to conduct an inquiry into that branch of the government service. Mr Brandeis probably will undertake the task of piloting the inquiry.

ELLIS REBUKES EMPLOYERS

Declares They Must Stop Intimidating Tactics.

STRIKE SITUATION UNCHANGED

Many Strikebreakers Are at Work, but Peaceful Conditions Prevail—Union Leaders Deplore Rioting of Last Week—Hearing on Injunction Petition Postponed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 23.—Mayor Ellis has made a scathing public reply to the Citizens' Alliance, which has passed petitions throughout the city asking him to preserve order. He declares pointedly that the alliance is "nothing more than the employers' union masquerading under another name." He points to the fact that while the unions have many of their number doing peace patrol duty, not an employer volunteered his services for special police duty.

He also declares that there is no necessity for even thinking of calling troops here and promises to preserve order if the employers will drop their intimidating tactics.

The hearing to show cause why the injunction against picketing factories should not be made permanent has been put over a week in Judge McDonald's court, by request of Attorney Wesselius for the union men.

Strikebreakers are still at work, and more are arriving daily, but there is no disorder.

The strike committee has issued a formal statement deploring the rioting and promising the public to dismiss and withdraw all protection to all union men who engage in violence or destruction.

SUMMER CAPITAL AT MACKINAC ISLAND

Movement on Foot to Persuade Taft to Select Michigan Site.

Washington (Special).—The idea of establishing the summer capital of the United States on Mackinac Island has made considerable headway here. The president gave practically a final promise to go there in August for a two day trial of the climate.

Secretary to the President Hilles, who has spent a season on the island is an enthusiastic advocate of Mackinac. To give the movement substantial impetus, therefore, remains with the state of Michigan.

On Visit to Mother; Finds Her Dead.

Owosso, Mich., May 23.—Having recovered from an attack of typhoid, Leon Johnson, who is stationed at the naval training school at Norfolk, Va., came home on a furlough, joyfully anticipating a surprise on his mother, Mrs. James Johnson. Neighbors told him his mother had been dead a month and that the survivors of the family had moved to Bancroft. Mrs. Johnson died as the result of burns. Leon Johnson was grief-stricken when informed of the mother's death and returned at once to the east.

Got More Than They Paid.

Lansing, Mich., May 23.—During the fiscal year which will end June 30, 1911, the state has sent out to the counties $1,355,369 more in primary school money than was collected from the counties in taxes. The total apportionment for the year was $6,081,369, while the total state tax for 1910 was $4,729,0[illegible]. Sixty-nine counties received more primary school funds than they paid in taxes, while fourteen were on the other side of the ledger.

Was in a Tight Place.

For many years old Colonel Lee resided in Ninth street, New York, near the Hotel St. Denis. He is still remembered hundreds of New Yorker for his bright manner and happy, apt remarks.

When the project for erecting an equestrian statue to General Washington in Union Square was proposed, Colonel Lee was intrusted with one of the subscription papers for circulation. Shortly after receiving it he approached a well-known citizen and asked for a subscription. But the citizen declined to subscribe, stating in a rather pompous manner:

"I do not consider, sir, that there is any necessity for a monument to Mr. Washington. His fame is undying; it is enshrined in the hearts of his countrymen."

"Is he enshrined in your heart?" softly inquired the colonel.

"He is, sir."

"Well, all I have to say," retorted Colonel Lee, "is that he is in a tight place."—New York Press.

In the World of Letters.

"What is literature?" said the person who tries to start arguments.

"Literature," answered the man at the typewriter, "is something to put around advertisements so that they can be more effectively displayed."

Couldn't Smell It.

A well known judge at present on circuit once complained that he could not hear in a certain court, and said to one of the officials:

"The acoustics are execrable."

"Really, my lord," was the reply, "you surprise me. I can't smell anything!"

To Get Back at the Surgeon.

"Read about the new anaesthetic? It's a good thing."

"What's it like?"

"Deprives you of feeling, but not of your senses. If you see the surgeon trying to sew a sponge or forceps up in you you get a chance to call him down."

The supper given by the Athletic Association on Thursday evening was a perfect success, the menu was most appetizing and judging by the crowd that filled the tables the weiters were kept busy.

The bright and smiling faces of the girls and boys as they flitted about the room gave an added pleasure to the occassion, and made one think of the days lange syne when they were young and merry. From a financial point of view the supper was also a great success and we congratulate the young people most heartily.

DECORATION DAY

The Following Address Given By J. W. Wightman Before the Men's Class at the M. E. Church May 21 is Given to the Public by Request of the Class and Others

It gives me great pleasure to try to tell you gentlemen how glad I am it came into the hearts of your committee to assign to me this subject; for nothing is nearer to my heart than the story of the men who laid down their lives that we, who have survived until this hour might enjoy the peace purchased with their blood.

To me decoration day is the grandest day set apart by our Congress, yet to me, it is a most solemn day, to me it is a festival of our dead, who gave their lives that our nation might live, might be one great indivizable union of states, and of peoples; We often speak of weary days, of the reconstruction of states, but we are prone to forget that it has taken more than three times as many years to reconstruct the people who were parties to the great conflict, as it put the states upon a legal and commercial basis

Have you stopped to think my brethren, what part decoration day has played in bringing the people of the United States together? It is my recolection that in the winter of 1865 Congress set apart May 30th as a legal holiday, and the legislature of Michigan, by act No. 124 of the session laws of 1865 made May 30th a Memorial day, but for many years no celebration could be held south of Masons & Dixons line, other than in the national cemeteries, the feeling was still so bitter that the few northern men in the south hesitated to decorate the graves of their fallen comrades, in a few years that bitterness began to wane, and a few of the confederate soldiers began to decorate the graves of their dead comrades. But the fire was not entirely quenched in the southern hearts, and on several decoration days in the smaller communites wordy wars between the union and confederate soldiers took place, and not until President Mc Kinley called for troups to stop that terrible reign of terror in Cuba did the dove of peace hover over the North and the south; Since that day under the providence of God, there is in the United States of America, no north, no south, no east, no west, just one magnificent Country and one flag; Thanks to God, that decoration day has been the stepping stone, on which or by which this nation has climbed to the highest place among the nations of the world.

We do not celebrate decoration day because of the heroic deeds of our comrades, but we will rejoice that God had raised up several millions of men who were willing to sacrifice their chances for education, their homes, their family ties, and their lives if need be, that our nation might live.

Now my brethren do not misunderstand me, I do not mean by what I now say that you are not capable of understanding the situation as it appears to you as myself or any other who wore a uniform in the sixties. But I do say that no man who was not in the conflict, can look at it from the same angle that those who participated see it, many of you older gentleman remember some dear play mate who went forth whose bones bleach in southern soil, whose friendship you could not forego, but gentlemen I feel that I must say to you, you have never felt the sundering of the ties of friendship and brotherhood that were welded in the fire of battle, no friendship ever existed between men that was so sacred as the friendship of men who were comrades in adversity; under our present surroundings, if your friend was indisposed you would hardly offer to do his work, knowing full well that in a few hours you would be called upon to do the same amount of labor as your part of the duty to be borne by each individual. If you knew that you had to do two days work instead of one, would you not be apt to say to your friend, you had better go to the doctor and get excused, I do not feel that I can do both your work and mine, every comrade who served at the front has seen many such examples of friendship. Every comrade who served at the front has seen men get up from a sick bed and go forward to battle. Many of whom on account of their physical condition fell by the wayside, and many fell into the hands of the confederates, and died in southern prison pens is it any wonder then that the survivores feel grieved at the desceration of our sacred holy day,

Do you know gentlemen that on decoration day more prayers are offered at the throne of grace than on any other day set apart as a festival day, prayers from aged mothers whose sons lie under those grassy mounds in yonder cemetery, or may-hap in a National Cemetery, or buried in a trench just outside some southern prison. Prayers from the survivors that God will put it into the hearts of our younger people to learn the significance of this blessed holy day; Prayers that God will help the younger people to feel when they desecrate this holy day they are trampling the hearts of men who made it possible for them to live in a land of the free, I fear that many are living today, who do not realize that the sacrifices made by their countrymen made it possible to live in a country where no slavery exists under the law, where the laboring man's rights are protected the same as employers rights are, a country where every man may worship God according to the dictates of his own conciense.

A story is told that will better illustrate the significance of Decoration Day than I can An old soldier entered a store in his neighborhood, and asked for credit for fifty pounds of flour until next pension payment. The merchant refused him credit. He wandered about the store, taking observations, until he aroused the curiosity of the merchant who asked the old fellow what he was doing. "Well," said the old man, "I have been taking a mental inventory of your stock, and I was trying to figure out about what it would have been worth if we had let the rebel army through our lines at Gettysburg." That is one of the things that Decoration Day stands for. The men who stopped the Confederate army at Gettysburg put a fixed value on your property; it put a moral value on your souls; it but an object lesson before you that you ought to emulate; it brings before you the thought of the men who dared to make a choice between right and wrong, who, when they saw that wrong was being done, dared rebuke it. The men of the sixties did not wink at wrong, they at once put their whole being into the word and stamped it out.

Don't you think gentlemen that we should get an inspiration from the principals for which Decoration Day stands? Don't you think we should not wink at the bribery, the theft, the perjury that today is so common among the people? Don't you think that instead of smiling at the men who are looting our treasuries and telling our neighbors that so and so is a bright shrewd fellow, that, in the presence of such men, we should shout in the ear of grafters and perjurers, "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." When we have brought ourselves to such a state of mind that we can do so with malice toward none and charity to all, we can realize the significance of Decoration Day.

"What joy it is to breath the name of Peace, a hallowed name divinely sent. Oh, who could wish her gracious rule to cease, or skies serene with raging storms gain rent. Peace, may the gladsome song of Christ's good will as gentle moves her wand of sovereign sway, thy heart with heavenly music fill this, our most hallowed Decoration Day."

"A mother in yon graveyard goes today where is one mound of precious dust; what than these tears a purer offering lay, on this her priceless gift to cause so just. Oh, one glad thought is hers, though sad she feels that her valorous loyal hearted son, above whose flowered resting place she kneels nothing for Country's sake did basely shun."

REV. SETH REED

A grand old worker in the M. E. church and now located at Flint, gave an address at the opening service of the 75th anniversary of the beginning of Methodism, at the Division street M. E. church in Grand Rapids, on Sunday morning.

Rev. Seth Reed will be 88 years old June 2, yet he has a good memory of early Methodism, and his address was full of interesting history of his struggles in the begining of his work. In 1842 and 1843 he taught school in Grand Rapids, and later when licenced by the M. E. Conference to preach, it was on the very site where the present church now stands: The 67th anniversary of his ordination will occur June 15

His connection with this Diamond Jubilee is made doubly interesting by the part he had in the early history of Grand Rapids. As a "Circuit Rider" he made his trip through Kent, Ottawa and Montclam Co. in four weeks when roads were only partly made or none at all.

Methodists everywhere have an interest in this grand old man, who has stood by the cause so bravely and so long.

TAKE NOTICE

The Delivery Wagons will make only two trips on Decoration day at 7:15 and 9:45 o'clock a. m. All stores will close at noon.

STRAW EMBROIDERY AN OLDTIME FASHION

Revivals of oldtime modes have been quite a common occurrence during the last few seasons, but the latest of these revivals is the use of straw embroidery. Quaint effects have been obtained by using this unique embroidery on sheer scarfs, although hats and parasols may also be decorated in the same way.

For summer use there is a set consisting of scarf, parasol and hat, the embroidery on each article being carried out in the finest and most supple of straw. The effect, however, is more interesting than beautiful, although some of [illegible]

Don't Pay Damages to Your Refrigerator

A refrigerator should be an economy.

With a small amount of ice it should keep a great deal of food sweet and wholesome.

A wooden box is not a refrigerator. It does not keep cold air in or hot air out.

It melts ice rapidly because it is not built scientifically.

You pay it damages in the form of ice bills.

A scientific refrigerator is built up with layers of cork, wood and other non-conductors, so that the least possible heat can get in.

The ICE QUEEN Refrigerators are built scientifically.

They are low-priced at the start, and are not expensive to keep up.

KITCHEN FURNISHINGS

It is not many years since "Kitchen Furnishings" would have been a ridiculous phrase, for at that time there were no conveniences in kitchen furnishings. But today there are cabinets, and various articles that help to make a back number of the old adage, "Woman's work is never done." Besides, the kitchen is the heart of the home; and our health--our most valuable asset--is largely dependent upon this condition. We will take real pleasure in having you inspect our "Kitchen Cabinets" in our store.

THIS IS CERTAIN

The Proof That Tecumseh Readers Cannot Deny

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time? Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

Home endorsement should prove undoubtedly the merit of this remedy. Years ago your friends and neighbors testified to the relief they had derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They now confirm their testimonials They say time has completed the test.

Mrs Charles Stevenson, Wyandott and Pottawatamie Sts., Tecumseh, Mich., says: "Sharp, shooting pains across the small of my back were the first symptom of my kidney trouble. Other difficulties set in later and I was made miserable. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I did so and the pains soon disappeared For years I had also been bothered by gravel, but Doan's Kidney Pills removed the troubl."

The above statement was given in 1906 and on December 9, 1908, Mrs. Stevenson confirmed it in detail, adding that her cure had been permanent.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and this these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will so strengthen and tone the stomach and bowel muscles that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was O. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R.500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.
